Decisions in any of the aforesaid proceedings adverse to our interests may have a material effect on our business, future financial performance and results of operations. If the courts or tribunals rule against our Company, our Promoters and Group Companies, we may face monetary and/or reputational losses and may have to make provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our liabilities.

2. Our Company operates under several statutory and regulatory approvals in respect of our operations. Failure to obtain or maintain licenses, registrations, permits and approvals may affect our business and results of operations.

We are governed by various laws and regulations for our business and operations. We are required, and will continue to be required, to obtain and hold relevant licenses, approvals and permits for doing our business. The approvals, licenses, registrations and permits obtained by us may contain conditions, some of which could be onerous. While we believe that we have obtained the requisite number of approvals, licenses, registrations and permits from the relevant authorities, we are yet to apply for Registration under Shop and Establishment Act for our marketing office at Ghaziabad and Mumbai. We have obtained ESI Registration for our Company but the same is not procured separately for each unit. Furthermore, we cannot assure you that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued to us will not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. Any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that has been or may be issued to us may affect our business and results of operations. Additionally, we will need to apply for renewal of certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permits, which expire or need to update pursuant to conversion of company from private to public Company.

These laws and regulations governing us are increasingly becoming stringent and may in the future create substantial compliance or liabilities and costs. While we endeavour to comply with applicable regulatory requirements, it is possible that such compliance measures may restrict our business and operations, result in increased cost and onerous compliance measures, and an inability to comply with such regulatory requirements may attract penalty. For further details regarding the material approvals, licenses, registrations and permits, which have not been obtained by our Company or are, pending renewal, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 225 of this Prospectus.

3. Any shortfall in the supply of our raw material or an increase in raw material costs or other input costs may adversely impact the pricing and supply of our products and have an adverse effect on our business.

Aluminium or Copper Rod, PVC & XLPE Compound, Armouring Strip and Copper Tape are the main raw material used to produce cables and conductors. These raw material are subject to supply disruptions and are very volatile due to price fluctuations resulting from, domestic and foreign trade policies, shifts in supply and demand, competition and other factors beyond our control. Any adverse movement in the price of the raw material will impact our cost of production which we may not be able to pass on to the customer which may affect our profitability of even lead to losses. Further our suppliers may be unable to provide us with a sufficient quantity of our raw material at a suitable price for us to meet the demand for our products. Additionally there is a risk that one or more of these existing suppliers could discontinue their operations, which could adversely impact our ability to source raw materials at a suitable price and meet our order requirements. Identifying a suitable supplier or any delay, interruption or increased cost in the supply of raw materials pertaining to our products arising from a lack of long-term contracts could have an adverse effect on our ability to meet customer demand for our products and result in lower revenue from operations both in the short and long term.

4. Our company has not complied with some statutory provisions of the Companies Act. Such non-compliance may attract penalties against our Company which could impact the financial position of us to that extent. Moreover few of our share transfer deeds are not traceable.

Our Company has not complied with certain statutory provisions under the Companies Act 1956 /2013, for instance Our Company had made an allotment of 7,80,000 Equity Shares on February 13, 2017 to Mr. Ashish Mangal by conversion of loan into equity under section 62(3) of Companies Act, 2013. The shareholders approval for conversion of loan into equity was approved in the shareholders meeting vide special resolution dated January 27, 2017. Our Company had inadvertently made error in disclosing the nature of allotment at the time of respective form filing. We have now filed the form MGT -14 for the special resolution passed for such conversion. Our Company is now in the process to file the revised Form of allotment. Although the share Capital of the Company is not disturbed due to erroneously form filing, we may have to bear penalties, interest or other charges as imposed by regulatory authority which will impact the financial position of company.

Further, there are certain discrepancies noticed in some of our corporate records relating to forms filed with the Registrar of Companies. Any penalty or action taken by any regulatory authorities in future for non-compliance with provisions of corporate and other law could impact the financial position of the Company to that extent. Our Company has made some clerical mistakes in documents and form filed in registrar of Companies, for instance, in Annual Returns filed by our Company in past years, some errors inadvertently made by Company in disclosure in respect of share transfers. Additionally, our Company has not complied with some Accounting Standards in the past such as AS-15 and AS-18. However, now the Company has made necessary compliance in the restated financial statements. Also, few of the Share Transfer deeds for transfers made during the FY 2008-09 are not traceable.

Although no show cause notice have been issued against our Company till date in respect of above, in the event of any cognizance being taken by the concerned authorities in respect of above, actions may be taken against our Company and its directors, in which event the financials of our Company and our directors may be affected.

5. We operate in the electrical equipment industry which is a highly technical and regulated sector and if we fail to comply with the regulations prescribed or standards set by our customers, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected.

Our operations of manufacturing cables and conductors, forming part of the electrical equipment industry, are operated in a highly technical and regulated sector and are subject to stringent quality standards. The products manufactured by us need to comply with certain standards as prescribed by the Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS). The registration requires our Company to comply with the specific provisions of the various acts enforceable by the BIS for electrical equipments, most of which are stringent and they may continue to be stricter in the future. The penalties for non-compliance with these regulations can vary from revocation or suspension of the registration to imposition of fines or confiscation of the products manufactured, stored or sold.

These regulations are not only required to be adhered to as part of our regulatory mandate but also technical specifications and pre-qualifications of our products is a substantial issue for our customers. Our customers, who are into the electrical, telecommunication and other industrial sector, prefer products that adhere to strict standards and regulations and hence variations in product quality could result in loss of a substantial customer.

We hold license from the Bureau of Indian Standards confirming that all our products meet the specified requirements. However, we cannot guarantee that these licenses will be available to us in future or they will be renewed in proper time. Consequently, there is an increased risk that we may inadvertently fail to comply with such regulations or procedures, which could lead to a variety of sanctions being imposed by the relevant authorities, as well as withholding or delay in further production process. Further, any adverse change in the regulatory environment or client procedures in the future may subject us to increased obligations and may adversely affect our business, cash flows and results of operations.

Our Company uses third party transportation providers for delivery of our raw materials and finished products. Though our business has not experienced any disruptions due to transportation strikes in the past, any future transportation strikes may have an adverse effect on our business. These transportation facilities may not be adequate to support our existing and future operations. In addition raw materials/ finished products may be lost or damaged in transit for various reasons including occurrence of accidents or natural disasters. There may also be delay in delivery of products which may also affect our business and results of operation negatively. An increase in the freight costs or unavailability of freight for transportation of our raw materials may have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

Further, disruptions of transportation services due to weather-related problems, strikes, lock-outs, inadequacies in the road infrastructure and port facilities, or other events could impair ability to procure raw materials on time. Any such disruptions could materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

26. Negative publicity with respect to our products or the industry in which we operate could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our business is dependent on the trust our customers have in the quality of our products. Any negative publicity regarding us, our products i.e., cables and conductors and industry generally could adversely affect our reputation and our results of operations. Challenges to the conflict-free status of cables and conductors used in our industry and sold by us may result in a negative change in consumer attitudes to cables and conductors and could result in negative publicity, having a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

27. Inventories and trade receivables form a major part of our current assets and net worth. Failure to manage our inventory and trade receivables could have an adverse effect on our net sales, profitability, cash flow and liquidity.

We are in the business of manufacturing of cables and conductors. Our Company's business is working capital intensive and hence, inventories and trade receivables form a major part of our current assets and net worth. The results of operations of our business are dependent on our ability to effectively manage our inventory (traded goods, raw materials and finished goods) and trade receivables.

To effectively manage our inventory, we must be able to accurately estimate customer demand / potential orders and supply requirements and purchase new inventory accordingly. However, if our management misjudges expected customer demand / potential orders, it could cause either a shortage of products or an accumulation of excess inventory. Further, if we fail to convert the inventory we purchase by manufacturing our products, we may be required to write-down our inventory or pay our suppliers without new purchases, or create additional vendor financing, all of which could have an adverse impact on our income and cash flows.

To effectively manage our trade receivables, we must be able to accurately evaluate the credit worthiness of our customers and dealers and ensure that suitable terms and conditions are given to them in order to ensure our continued relationship with them. However, if our management fails to accurately evaluate the credit worthiness of our customers, it may lead to bad debts, delays in recoveries and / or write-offs which could lead to a liquidity crunch, thereby adversely affecting our business and results of operations. A liquidity crunch may also result in case of increased working capital borrowings and, consequently, higher finance cost which will adversely impact our profitability.

28. Information relating to our production capacities and the historical capacity utilization of our production facilities included in this Prospectus is based on certain assumptions and has been subjected to rounding off, and future production and capacity utilization may vary.

Information relating to our production capacities and the historical capacity utilization of our production facilities included in this Prospectus is based on various assumptions and estimates of our management, including proposed operations, assumptions relating to availability and quality of raw materials, assumptions relating to operational efficiencies, as well as assumptions in relation to the average density of products manufactured by us. Actual production levels and utilization rates may differ significantly from the estimated production capacities or historical estimated capacity utilization information of our facilities. Undue reliance should therefore not be placed on our production capacity or historical estimated capacity utilization information for our existing facilities included in this Prospectus. For further information, see the section titled "Our Business" on page 88 of this Prospectus.

29. Our business operations may be materially & adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or those of our suppliers.

Although we have not experienced any major disruptions to our business operations due to disputes or other problem with our work force in the past, there can be no assurance that we will not experience such disruptions in the future. Such disruptions may adversely affect our business and results of operations and may also divert the management's attention and result in increased costs. India has stringent labour legislation that protects the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for the establishment of unions, dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment.

Although our employees are not currently unionized, there can be no assurance that they will not unionize in the future. If our employees unionize, it may become difficult for us to maintain flexible labour policies, and we may face the threat of labour unrest, work stoppages and diversion of our management's attention due to union intervention, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, results of operations and financial condition. We are also subject to laws and regulations governing relationships with employees, in such areas as minimum wage and maximum working hours, overtime, working conditions, hiring and terminating of employees and work permits. Shortage of skilled personnel or work stoppages caused by disagreements with employees which could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

30. We sell our products in highly competitive markets and our inability to compete effectively may lead to lower market share or reduced operating margins, and adversely affect our results of operations.

India is our primary market and we face competition in our business from local as well as nationwide manufacturers of cables and conductors. The products that we sell are of a industrial nature, i.e. there are a large number of players manufacturing same or similar products. Thus, competition in these markets is based primarily on demand and price. As a result, to remain competitive in our market, we must continuously strive to reduce our procurement, transportation and distribution costs, improve our operating efficiencies and secure our materials requirements. If we fail to do so, other manufacturers and suppliers of similar products may be able to sell their products at prices lower than our prices, which would have an adverse effect on our market share and results of operations. Increased consolidation in the electrical equipment industry means that many of our competitors may benefit from greater economies of scale, including the ability to negotiate preferential prices for products or receive discounted prices for bulk purchases of goods that may not be available to us.

Our export market is equally competitive and we compete with various international manufacturers based on quality, durability and pricing of our products. Further, we cannot assure you that our current or potential competitors will not offer products comparable or superior to our products. Failure to match our product quality and consistency accordingly might have an adverse effect on our operations and financial results.

31. Our Company has not entered into any formal job work contract or agreement.

We derive revenues from execution of Job work orders given by us from our Group Company, Mangal Electrical Industries Private Limited. Moreover we also give job work orders to third parties. We usually conduct job work assignments on case to case basis. There is no formal engagement between our Company and Mangal Electrical Industries Private Limited or between our Company and the third parties to whom job work is outsourced. Thus, any dispute or delay in getting the work done from the job workers could result into inventory mismanagement which could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition. Any disassociation or discontinuance of assignment by our group Company or the third parties would impact our revenues and productivity.

32. Our Promoters, together with our Promoter Group will continue to retain majority shareholding in our Company after the Issue, which will allow them to exercise significant control over us. We cannot assure you that our Promoters and Promoter Group will always act in the best interests of the Company or you.

The majority of our issued and outstanding Equity Shares are currently beneficially owned by the Promoters and the Promoter Group. Upon completion of the Issue, the Promoters and Promoter Group will own 1,61,70,000 Equity Shares, or 73.45% of our post-Issue Equity Share capital, assuming full subscription of the Issue. Accordingly, the Promoters and the Promoter Group will continue to exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs and all matters requiring shareholders approval, including the composition of the Board of Directors, the adoption of amendments to our constitutional documents, lending, investments and capital expenditures. This concentration of ownership also may delay, defer or even prevent a change in control of our Company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of these stockholders. The interests of the Promoters and Promoter Group as the Company's controlling shareholders could conflict with the Company's interests or the interests of its other shareholders. We cannot assure you that the Promoters and Promoter Group will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in the Company's or your favour.

33. We have experienced negative cash flows in the past. Any such negative cash flows in the future could affect our business, results of operations and prospects.

Therefore, although we take steps to ensure safety, accidents, including human fatalities, may occur and there can be no assurance that our safety measures and the precautions undertaken will be completely effective or sufficient. Further, if we fail to maintain adequate insurance cover in relation to the foregoing, a claim filed by us with our insurer is rejected, a loss occurs, which does not fall under the insurance cover maintained by us, or our claim is subject to any deductible or delay in settlement, amongst other things, our exposure will increase. Any accident at our area of operations could also harm our reputation. Such accidents may have an impact on our business.

36. We are subject to certain restrictive covenants in debt facilities provided to us by our lenders.

We have entered into agreements for availing debt facilities from lenders. Certain covenants in these agreements require us to obtain approval/permission from our lenders in certain conditions. In the event of default or the breach of certain covenants, our lender has the option to make the entire outstanding amount payable immediately. There can be no assurance that we will be able to comply with these financial or other covenants or that we will be able to obtain consents necessary to take the actions that we believe are required to operate and grow our business.

50. We have not independently verified certain data in this Prospectus.

We have not independently verified data from the Industry and related data contained in this Prospectus and although we believe the sources mentioned in the report to be reliable, we cannot assure you that they are complete or reliable. Such data may also be produced on a different basis from comparable information compiled with regards to other countries. Therefore, discussions of matters relating to India, its economy or the industries in which we operate that is included herein are subject to the caveat that the statistical and other data upon which such discussions are based have not been verified by us and may be incomplete, inaccurate or unreliable. We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Additionally, under some of our loan agreements, we are not permitted to declare any dividends, if there is a default under such loan agreements or unless our Company has paid all the dues to the lender up to the date on which the dividend is declared or paid or has made satisfactory provisions thereof. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details of our dividend history, see “Dividend Policy” on page 153 of this Prospectus.

52. We may require further equity issuance, which will lead to dilution of equity and may affect the market price of our Equity Shares or additional funds through incurring debt to satisfy our capital needs, which we may not be able to procure and any future equity offerings by us.

Our growth is dependent on having a strong balance sheet to support our activities. In addition to the IPO Proceeds and our internally generated cash flow, we may need other sources of financing to meet our capital needs which may include entering into new debt facilities with lending institutions or raising additional equity in the capital markets. We may need to raise additional capital from time to time, dependent on business conditions. The factors that would require us to raise additional capital could be business growth beyond what the current balance sheet can sustain; additional capital requirements imposed due to changes in regulatory regime or significant depletion in our existing capital base due to unusual operating losses. Any fresh issue of shares or convertible securities would dilute existing holders, and such issuance may not be done at terms and conditions, which are favourable to the then existing shareholders of our Company. If our Company decides to raise additional funds through the incurrence of debt, our interest obligations will increase, and we may be subject to additional covenants, which could further limit our ability to access cash flows from our operations. Such financings could cause our debt to equity ratio to increase or require us to create charges or liens on our assets in favour of lenders. We cannot assure you that we will be able to secure adequate financing in the future on acceptable terms, in time, or at all. Our failure to obtain sufficient financing could result in the delay or abandonment of our expansion plans. Our business and future results of operations may be affected if we are unable to implement our expansion strategy.

Any future issuance of Equity Shares by our Company may dilute shareholding of investors in our Company; and hence affect the trading price of our Company's Equity Shares and its ability to raise capital through an issue of its securities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of our Company's Equity Shares. Additionally the disposal, pledge or encumbrance of Equity Shares by any of our Company's major shareholders, or the perception that such transactions may occur may affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. No assurance may be given that our Company will not issue Equity Shares or that such shareholders will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

53. The Issue price of our Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue and the market price of our Equity Shares may decline below the issue price and you may not be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

The Issue Price of our Equity Shares has been determined by Fixed Price method. The price of the equity shares have been based on many factor and may not be indicative of the market price of our Equity Shares after the Issue. For further information please refer the section titled "Basis for Issue Price" beginning on page 74 of the Prospectus. The market price of our Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Issue, and may decline below the Issue Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to sell your Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

54. Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Amount) at any stage after submitting an Application.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Application (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Amount) at any stage after submitting an Application. While our Company is required to complete Allotment pursuant to the issue within six Working Days from the issue Closing Date, events affecting the Applicants decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including material adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operation or financial condition, may arise between the date of submission of the Application and Allotment. Our Company may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events limit the applicant's ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the issue or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

55. Economic, political and social conditions, some of which are beyond our control, may negatively affect the fortunes of the industry and harm our ability to do business and increase our cost.

Economic and political factors that are beyond our control, influence forecasts and affect level of consumer spending. These factors include interest rates, rates of economic growth, fiscal and monetary policies of governments, inflation, deflation, foreign exchange fluctuations, consumer credit availability, consumer debt levels, unemployment trends, terrorist threats and activities, worldwide military and domestic disturbances and conflicts, and other matters that influence consumer confidence, spending and tourism. Increasing volatility in financial markets may cause these factors to change with a greater degree of frequency and magnitude

56. If communal disturbances or riots erupt in India, or if regional hostilities increase, this would adversely affect the Indian economy and our business.

Some parts of India have experienced communal disturbances, terrorist attacks and riots during recent years. If such events recur, our operational and marketing activities may be adversely affected, resulting in a decline in our income. The Asian region has, from time to time, experienced instances of civil unrest and hostilities among neighboring countries. Since May 1999, military confrontations between countries have occurred in Kashmir. The hostilities between India and its neighboring countries are particularly threatening because India and certain of its neighbors possess nuclear weapons. Hostilities and tensions may occur in the future and on a wider scale. Also, since 2003, there have been military hostilities and continuing civil unrest and instability in Afghanistan. There has also recently been hostility in the Korean Peninsula. In July 2006 and November 2008, terrorist attacks in Mumbai in November 2008 and in July 2011 resulted in numerous casualties. Events of this nature in the future, as well as social and civil unrest within other countries in Asia, could influence the Indian economy and could have a material adverse effect on the market for securities of Indian companies, including our Equity Shares.

57. Natural calamities could have a negative effect on the Indian economy and cause our business to suffer.

India has experienced natural calamities such as earthquakes, a tsunami, floods and drought in the past few years. The extent and severity of these natural disasters determines their effect on the Indian economy. The erratic progress of a monsoon would also adversely affect sowing operations for certain crops. Further prolonged spells of below normal rainfall or other natural calamities in the future could have a negative effect on the Indian economy, adversely affecting our business and the price of the Equity Shares.

58. The nationalized goods and service tax (GST) implemented by the Government of India may have material impact on our operations.

The Government of India has implemented a comprehensive national goods and service tax (GST) regime that will combine taxes and levies by the Central and State Governments into a unified rate structure. GST is hoped to remove the cascading effect of various taxes and simplify the existing tax system. GST has special significance for the casting industry which is currently allowed a number of tax concessions/exemptions both at input and output levels. The impact on casting industry will depend on how these elements are treated under the proposed GST regime. Further amendments and developments shall have material effect on our operations.

59. The occurrence of natural or man-made disasters could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including hurricanes, floods, earthquakes, tornadoes, fires, explosions, pandemic disease and man-made disasters, including acts of terrorism and military actions, could adversely affect our results of operations or financial condition, including in the following respects:

Catastrophic loss of life due to natural or man-made disasters could cause us to pay benefits at higher levels and/or materially earlier than anticipated and could lead to unexpected changes in persistency rates. A natural or man-made disaster, could result in losses in our projects, or the failure of our counterparties to perform, or cause significant volatility in global financial markets.

Pandemic disease, caused by a virus such as the “Ebola” virus, H5N1, the “avian flu” virus, or H1N1, the “swine flu” virus “zika virus”, could have a severe adverse effect on our business. The potential impact of a pandemic on our results of operations and financial position is highly speculative, and would depend on numerous factors, including: the probability of the virus mutating to a form that can be passed from human to human; the rate of contagion if and when that occurs; the regions of the world most affected; the effectiveness of treatment of the infected population; the rates of mortality and morbidity among various segments of the insured versus the uninsured population; our insurance coverage and related exclusions; and many other variables.

60. Financial instability in Indian financial markets could materially and adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

The Indian financial market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly in emerging market in Asian countries. Any financial development in the countries in Asia, Europe, the United States and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Any adverse condition happening in the financial systems of other emerging markets may also affect the investors’ confidence in Indian Market which can cause increased volatility, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability, including further deterioration of credit conditions in the U.S. market, could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy.

61. Government regulation of foreign ownership of Indian securities may have an adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

Foreign ownership of Indian securities is subject to government regulation. Under foreign exchange regulations currently in effect in India, the RBI must approve the sale of the Equity Shares from a non-resident of India to a resident of India if the sale does not meet the requirements of the RBI Circular dated October 4, 2004, as amended by circulars dated April 22, 2009 and May 4, 2010. Additionally, any person who seeks to convert Indian Rupee proceeds from such sale into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India is required to obtain a no-objection or tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. The RBI is required to approve the price at which the Equity Shares are transferred based on a specified formula and a higher price per share may not be permitted. The approval from the RBI or any other government agency may not be obtained on terms favorable to a non-resident investor in a timely manner or at all. Because of possible delays in obtaining requisite approvals, investors in the Equity Shares may be prevented from realizing gains during periods of price increases or limiting losses during periods of price declines.

62. Any downgrading of India’s debt rating by a domestic or international rating agency could have a negative impact on our business.

India’s sovereign debt rating could be downgraded due to various factors, including changes in tax or fiscal policy or a decline in India’s foreign exchange reserves, which are outside our control. Any adverse revisions to India’s credit ratings for domestic and international debt by domestic or international rating agencies may adversely impact our ability to raise additional financing, and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial performance, ability to obtain financing for capital expenditures and the price of our Equity Shares.

63. If certain labour laws become applicable to us, our profitability may be adversely affected.

India has stringent labour legislations that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Any change or modification in the existing labour laws may affect our flexibility in formulating labour related policies.

SECTION III – INTRODUCTION

SUMMARY OF OUR INDUSTRY

Global Scenario

Global growth is projected to strengthen to 2.7 percent in 2017 and 2.9 percent in 2018-19, in line with January forecasts. In emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs), growth is predicted to recover to 4.1 percent in 2017 and reach an average of 4.6 percent in 2018-19, as obstacles to growth in commodity exporters diminish, while activity in commodity importers continues to be robust. Risks to the global outlook remain tilted to the downside. These include increased trade protectionism, elevated economic policy uncertainty, the possibility of financial market disruptions, and, over the longer term, weaker potential growth. A policy priority for EMDEs is to rebuild monetary and fiscal space that could be drawn on were such risks to materialize. Over the longer term, structural policies that support investment and trade are critical to boost productivity and potential growth.

Global growth is firming, contributing to an improvement in confidence. A recovery in industrial activity has coincided with a pickup in global trade, after two years of marked weakness. In emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs), obstacles to growth among commodity exporters are gradually diminishing, while activity in commodity importers remains generally robust. As a result, and despite substantial policy uncertainty, global growth is projected to accelerate to 2.7 percent in 2017, up from a post-crisis low of 2.4 percent in 2016, before strengthening further to 2.9 percent in 2018-19, broadly in line with January projections.

Activity in advanced economies is expected to gain momentum in 2017, supported by an upturn in the United States, as previously anticipated. In the Euro Area and Japan, growth forecasts have been upgraded, reflecting strengthening domestic demand and exports. Investment across advanced economies has firmed, while private consumption growth has moderated. As actual growth continues to exceed potential growth, increasing inflation and narrowing output gaps have raised the prospects of less accommodative monetary policy. Advanced economy growth is expected to accelerate to 1.9 percent in 2017, before moderating gradually in 2018-19. As usual, the outlook is predicated only on legislated fiscal and trade policies.

Growth is projected to gain strength in both advanced economies and emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs). Global trade growth has firmed and is expected to outpace GDP growth after two years of marked weakness. The pickup in global trade partly reflects a bottoming out of global investment, which is relatively import-intensive. Global financing conditions remain benign. The projected recovery in EMDEs is largely driven by expectations of diminishing obstacles to activity in commodity exporters

Global risks and policy challenges

Downside risks to global growth include rising protectionism, high policy uncertainty, and the possibility of financial market disruptions. U.S. monetary policy has tightened gradually so far, but a faster pace would impact global financing conditions. Inflation has eased among EMDE commodity exporters, allowing room for cuts in policy interest rates. With deficits prevailing across EMDEs, and debt on a rising path, especially in commodity exporters, fiscal space remains constrained.

Indian Economy Overview

Economic growth is projected to remain strong and India will remain the fastest growing G20 economy. The increase in public wages and pensions will support consumption. Private investment will recover gradually as excess capacity diminishes, and the landmark Goods and Services Tax and other measures to improve the ease of doing business are being implemented. However, large non-performing loans and high leverage of some companies are holding back investment.

Monetary policy is projected to remain tight as inflation expectations have still not fully adjusted down. The need to reduce the relatively high public-debt-to-GDP ratio leaves little room for fiscal stimulus. However, investing more in physical and social infrastructure is critical to raising living standards for all. This should be financed by a comprehensive reform of income and property taxes. Restoring credit discipline and cleaning up banks' balance sheets will be instrumental to support the credit growth needed to finance more business investment.

Trade openness has increased, partly driven by a competitive service sector. Manufacturing has lagged behind, with limited contribution to exports and job creation, leaving many workers in low-paid jobs. Promoting quality job creation in manufacturing would require reducing further restrictions on FDI and trade, modernising labour regulations and providing better education and skills. Better infrastructure, transport and logistics services would facilitate manufacturing firms' access to global markets, particularly from remote and poorer regions.

Global Power & Electrical Equipment Industry

The demand for electricity worldwide is projected to grow at an annual rate of 2.4% for the period 2009–2035, driven by economic and population growth. Over 80% of the growth between 2009 and 2035 is expected to be in non-OECD countries.

The global EE industry consists of the following two segments:

- a. The global heavy electrical equipment market, including boilers, turbines, generators, wind turbines, solar power systems, etc.
- b. The global T&D equipment market, including electric power cables, transformers, electrical switchgear, transmission line towers, conductors, control equipment, meters, etc.

The global EE market is expected to increase from a cumulative size of more than US$ 3 trillion (2008-15) to US$ 6.8 trillion (2016-30). This translates into around 2% CAGR over the long term.

Global Trade in Electrical Equipment:

1. Global trade in EE reached US$ 540 billion in 2011, with China being the leading exporter with over 16% share. India accounts for less than 1% of the total share of exports.
2. The US and China are the largest import markets in the world for EE. India imports more than 2% of total EE trade of the world. India has a trade deficit in EE trade, with imports higher than exports, consistently for the last many years.
3. Developed economies are witnessing a trend of slowing growth in electricity demand. Emerging economies such as China and India are expected to continue augmenting their existing power capacities and infrastructure, to meet their ever increasing demand for power. While thermal sources of power generation will continue to account for a major share of the global capacity addition, there is a visible shift towards renewable sources of energy in developed nations. Technological advancement in both power generation and T&D equipment remains a key focus area in global markets and is expected to drive the next phase of growth in the sector.

SECTION IV: ABOUT THE ISSUER COMPANY

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The information in this section has been extracted from various websites and publicly available documents from various industry sources. The data may have been re-classified by us for the purpose of presentation. Neither we nor any other person connected with the issue has independently verified the information provided in this section. Industry sources and publications, referred to in this section, generally state that the information contained therein has been obtained from sources generally believed to be reliable but their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their reliability cannot be assured, and, accordingly, investment decisions should not be based on such information.

Global Scenario

Global growth is projected to strengthen to 2.7 percent in 2017 and 2.9 percent in 2018-19, in line with January forecasts. In emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs), growth is predicted to recover to 4.1 percent in 2017 and reach an average of 4.6 percent in 2018-19, as obstacles to growth in commodity exporters diminish, while activity in commodity importers continues to be robust. Risks to the global outlook remain tilted to the downside. These include increased trade protectionism, elevated economic policy uncertainty, the possibility of financial market disruptions, and, over the longer term, weaker potential growth. A policy priority for EMDEs is to rebuild monetary and fiscal space that could be drawn on were such risks to materialize. Over the longer term, structural policies that support investment and trade are critical to boost productivity and potential growth.

Global growth is firming, contributing to an improvement in confidence. A recovery in industrial activity has coincided with a pickup in global trade, after two years of marked weakness. In emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs), obstacles to growth among commodity exporters are gradually diminishing, while activity in commodity importers remains generally robust. As a result, and despite substantial policy uncertainty, global growth is projected to accelerate to 2.7 percent in 2017, up from a post-crisis low of 2.4 percent in 2016, before strengthening further to 2.9 percent in 2018-19, broadly in line with January projections.

Activity in advanced economies is expected to gain momentum in 2017, supported by an upturn in the United States, as previously anticipated. In the Euro Area and Japan, growth forecasts have been upgraded, reflecting strengthening domestic demand and exports. Investment across advanced economies has firmed, while private consumption growth has moderated. As actual growth continues to exceed potential growth, increasing inflation and narrowing output gaps have raised the prospects of less accommodative monetary policy. Advanced economy growth is expected to accelerate to 1.9 percent in 2017, before moderating gradually in 2018-19. As usual, the outlook is predicated only on legislated fiscal and trade policies.

Global Prospects:

Growth is projected to gain strength in both advanced economies and emerging market and developing economies (EMDEs). Global trade growth has firmed and is expected to outpace GDP growth after two years of marked weakness. The pickup in global trade partly reflects a bottoming out of global investment, which is relatively import-intensive. Global financing conditions remain benign. The projected recovery in EMDEs is largely driven by expectations of diminishing obstacles to activity in commodity exporters

Global risks and policy challenges

Downside risks to global growth include rising protectionism, high policy uncertainty, and the possibility of financial market disruptions. U.S. monetary policy has tightened gradually so far, but a faster pace would impact global financing conditions. Inflation has eased among EMDE commodity exporters, allowing room for cuts in policy interest rates. With deficits prevailing across EMDEs, and debt on a rising path, especially in commodity exporters, fiscal space remains constrained.

A. Probability of a 1-percentage-point deviation from one-year ahead global growth forecasts

B. Global trade and tariffs

C. Economic policy uncertainty (EPU) and financial market volatility (VIX)

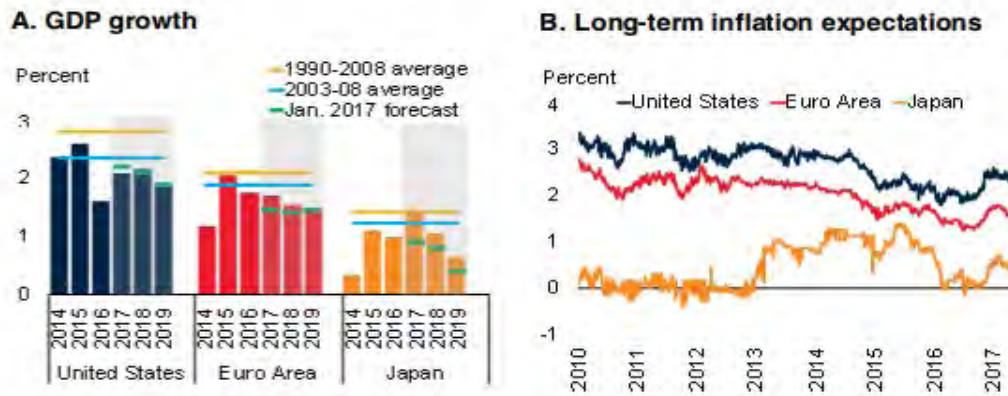

D. U.S. policy interest rates around tightening cycles

Advanced economies

Growth in the United States is expected to recover in 2017 and to continue at a moderate pace in 2018, as previously envisaged. The forecasts for the Euro Area and Japan have been revised upward, reflecting robust growth at the start of 2017. Inflation expectations have increased from 2016, albeit from low levels in the Euro Area and Japan.

Indian Economy Overview

Economic growth is projected to remain strong and India will remain the fastest growing G20 economy. The increase in public wages and pensions will support consumption. Private investment will recover gradually as excess capacity diminishes, and the landmark Goods and Services Tax and other measures to improve the ease of doing business are being implemented. However, large non-performing loans and high leverage of some companies are holding back investment.

Monetary policy is projected to remain tight as inflation expectations have still not fully adjusted down. The need to reduce the relatively high public-debt-to-GDP ratio leaves little room for fiscal stimulus. However, investing more in physical and social infrastructure is critical to raising living standards for all. This should be financed by a comprehensive reform of income and property taxes. Restoring credit discipline and cleaning up banks' balance sheets will be instrumental to support the credit growth needed to finance more business investment.

Trade openness has increased, partly driven by a competitive service sector. Manufacturing has lagged behind, with limited contribution to exports and job creation, leaving many workers in low-paid jobs. Promoting quality job creation in manufacturing would require reducing further restrictions on FDI and trade, modernising labour regulations and providing better education and skills. Better infrastructure, transport and logistic services would facilitate manufacturing firms' access to global markets, particularly from remote and poorer regions.

Global Power & Electrical Equipment Industry

The demand for electricity worldwide is projected to grow at an annual rate of 2.4% for the period 2009–2035, driven by economic and population growth. Over 80% of the growth between 2009 and 2035 is expected to be in non-OECD countries.

The global EE industry consists of the following two segments:

- The global heavy electrical equipment market, including boilers, turbines, generators, wind turbines, solar power systems, etc.
- The global T&D equipment market, including electric power cables, transformers, electrical switchgear, transmission line towers, conductors, control equipment, meters, etc.

The global EE market is expected to increase from a cumulative size of more than US$ 3 trillion (2008-15) to US$ 6.8 trillion (2016-30). This translates into around 2% CAGR over the long term.

Source: The International Energy Agency's World Energy Outlook 2009 report

Global Trade in Electrical Equipment:

- Global trade in EE reached US$ 540 billion in 2011, with China being the leading exporter with over 16% share. India accounts for less than 1% of the total share of exports.
- The US and China are the largest import markets in the world for EE. India imports more than 2% of total EE trade of the world. India has a trade deficit in EE trade, with imports higher than exports, consistently for the last many years.
- Developed economies are witnessing a trend of slowing growth in electricity demand. Emerging economies such as China and India are expected to continue augmenting their existing power capacities and infrastructure, to meet their ever increasing demand for power. While thermal sources of power generation will continue to account for a major share of the global capacity addition, there is a visible shift towards renewable sources of energy in developed nations. Technological advancement in both power generation and T&D equipment remains a key focus area in global markets and is expected to drive the next phase of growth in the sector.

India’s Electrical Equipment Industry

India’s Electrical Equipment Industry Comprises of two segments – generation equipment (boilers, turbines, generators) and transmission & distribution (T&D) and allied equipment like transformers, cables, transmission lines, switchgears, capacitors, energy meters, instrument transformers, surge arrestors, stamping and lamination, insulators, insulating material, industrial electronics, indicating instruments, winding wires, etc. The T&D equipment sector occupies 85% of the industry whereas generation equipment sector covers 15%.

Transmission & Distribution

Investment in new technology and modernization, like 1,200 kV transmission lines, +/-800 kVDC transmission, planning of smart grid projects and establishment of the national grid by the Power Grid Corporation of India are major steps towards efficient utilization of energy by evacuating electricity from power surplus regions to meet demand in power deficit regions.

The transmission segment plays a key role in transmitting power to various distribution entities across India. The inter-regional capacity at the end of the 11th Plan was 28 GW. During the 12th Plan, total transmission substation capacity addition is expected to be 270,000 MVA, while 110,340 circuit kilometres (ckm) of transmission lines are expected to be added. With this, the inter-regional transmission line carrying capacity at the end of the 12th Plan is expected to increase to 66 GW.

The lack of adequate T&D infrastructure and the need to modernise the existing infrastructure calls for significant funding in this sub-sector. Financial institutions such as the Power Finance Corporation (PFC) and Rural Electrification Corporation (REC) have been instrumental in providing funds for T&D projects.

India's electrical equipment industry is highly diverse and manufactures a wide range of high and low technology products. The industry directly employs around half million persons and provides indirect employment to another one million people. The industry can be broadly classified into two sectors – generation equipment and T&D equipment. For 2011-12, the industry size is estimated at ₹ 1.20 lakh crore (US$ 25 billion), of which generation equipment segment consisting of BTG contributed ₹ 31,000 crore (US$ 6.5 billion) while the major T&D equipment segment of transformers, cables, transmission lines, switchgears, capacitors, energy meters, etc., provided the larger share of ₹ 64,235 crore (US$ 13.4 billion). Other electrical equipment, including instrument transformers, surge arrestors, stamping and lamination, insulators, insulating material, industrial electronics, indicating instruments, winding wires, etc., contributed to ₹ 25,000 crore (US$ 5.2 billion).

Indian Electrical Equipment Industry – A SWOT Analysis

Strengths	Weaknesses
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ Diversified, mature and strong manufacturing base, with robust supply chain, fully equipped to meet domestic demand / capacity addition. ▶ Rugged performance design of domestic electrical equipment to meet tough network demand. ▶ Good mix of large private and public sector enterprises, multinational companies and small and medium companies. ▶ Domestic presence of major foreign players, either directly or through technical collaborations with domestic manufacturers. ▶ State-of-art technology in most sub-sectors at par with global standards. ▶ Domestic availability of low-cost skilled manpower. ▶ Emerging global reputation of Indian electrical equipment for sourcing products and components and also of Indian transmission and other EPC contractors. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ Upward volatility in raw material and other metal prices. ▶ High cost, poor quality and shortage of raw materials and other inputs. ▶ Dependence of some sub-sectors on import of critical inputs. ▶ Low investment in R&D and no structured long-term approach for basic research. ▶ Looming shortage of skilled technical manpower and low productivity. ▶ Inadequate and costly domestic testing and calibrating facilities for electrical equipment. ▶ Lack of standardisation of product specifications, design parameters and ratings for generation & distribution equipment across different utilities. ▶ Bunching of orders by utilities, because of factors beyond their control such as government approvals, release of funds, etc., resulting in sub-optimal utilisation of available domestic manufacturing capacity.
Opportunities	Threats
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ Domestic demand: to sustain the envisaged annual GDP growth rate of around 8-9% over the next 20 years, it has been estimated that India will require to increase its electricity generation capacity by around five times by 2032. ▶ Rapid growth in metros, airports and other infrastructure projects is expected to generate huge demand for matching BTG and T&D equipment. ▶ External demand: Currently, share of India's exports in the global market is less than 1 per cent. With the electricity sector being a sunrise sector across the entire developing world, there exists a significant export potential for the domestic industry. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ Problems of fuel linkages, land acquisition, environmental clearances, etc. are impeding growth in the country's power sector which may lead to less than anticipated growth in demand for electrical equipment. ▶ Absence of a level playing field for the domestic industry to compete with escalating imports of electrical equipment. ▶ Poor financial health of DISCOMs and very high AT&C losses may have a cascading effect on the growth of BTG as well T&D equipment industry. ▶ Rising global concerns on the trade-offs between economic growth, energy security and environmental sustainability.

For the rapid development of the domestic electrical equipment industry and to enhance its competitiveness, Mr. Praful Patel, Union Minister of Heavy Industries & Public Enterprises launched the Indian Electrical Equipment Industry Mission Plan 2012-2022 on 24th July 2013. The Mission Plan seeks to steer, coordinate and synergise the efforts of all stakeholders to accelerate and sustain the growth of the domestic electrical equipment industry.

Vision 2022 for the Indian electrical equipment industry as articulated in the Mission Plan is to make India the country of choice for the production of electrical equipment and reach an output of US$ 100 billion by balancing exports and imports. The Mission Plan has been evolved by the Department of Heavy Industry (DHI), Government of India, through an elaborate exercise involving all stakeholders and with the support of the Indian Electrical & Electronics Manufacturers' Association (IEEMA).

Detailed recommendations have been formulated for strategic and policy interventions in five critical areas that need to be addressed by the industry, with support from the government. These are industry competitiveness, technology up gradation, skills development, exports and conversion of latent demand. To carry forward the recommendations arising out of the Mission Plan, two Inter-Ministerial Groups, comprising of representatives of the Department of Heavy Industry and other concerned Ministries / Departments, IEEMA, industry and other stakeholders have been constituted for monitoring the implementation of the recommendations and for periodic follow-up of its status.

Assured availability of quality power at competitive rate is a sine qua non for industrial and economic development. For an efficient and developed power sector in a country of India's size, a strong domestic electrical equipment manufacturing base is essential.

Considering that the government plans to increase power generation capacity from 235 GW in 2013 to about 400 GW by 2022 with commensurate transmission & distribution capacity enhancement, Indian electrical equipment manufacturers not only have to meet demand of such huge capacity addition, but also that of metros, airports, railways, other infrastructure projects and increase in domestic consumer demand too.

Presently, the domestic electrical equipment industry size exceeds INR 1.30 lakh crore (US$ 24 billion) with the share of generation equipment being about one-fourth and that of T&D being three-fourth of the total. The domestic electrical equipment industry contributed 1.4% to the nation's GDP in 2012-13 and 9.9% to the manufacturing GDP. The industry provides direct employment to about 5 lakh persons and indirectly to about 10 lakh persons.

Considering the domestic electrical equipment industry's importance for the power sector, GDP growth and also employment, it is extremely important to ensure that the targeted growth of the entire electrical equipment industry is aligned with the 12th and 13th Five Year Plans.

To enhance industry competitiveness, the Mission Plan calls for providing a level playing field in the country to domestic electrical equipment manufacturers vis-à-vis foreign manufacturers, replacing the L1 criteria of procurement by power utilities in India with two part bidding, augmenting domestic testing facilities to cover the type testing of all equipment, mandating type testing of imported small equipment in Indian labs, supporting SMEs in technology up gradation and testing, standardisation of product ratings and specifications of electrical equipment, providing funds at globally competitive rates of interest to domestic manufacturers, establishing clusters of electrical and component manufacturers and providing them funds for technology up gradation.

For technology up gradation, the Mission Plan recommends a coordinated and collaborative effort by industries and utilities. For any R&D project, the user organisation or main beneficiary should be supported by the government for leading the research in a planned and committed manner. It also recommends public-private partnership (PPP) for fast development of new technology / systems.

Under skills development, it is suggested to set up a Sector Skill Council (SSC), which will undertake skill mapping and interact with the industry to provide training to the workers and also train the trainers / teachers, propose changes in curriculum, etc. It will also arrange for accreditation of the institutes and certification of the students. The Mission Plan calls for greater involvement of industry in the periodic review of the curriculum of technical institutes, summer training of students and for guest lectures by industry experts.

To boost exports of electrical equipment, the Mission Plan recommends providing policy support to domestic manufacturers to enhance their competitiveness in the global market and address issues of quality of the products, high transaction costs, non-recognition of test certificates of CPRI by some countries, high cost of production, high cost of finance, etc. The Mission Plan calls for more project specific lines of credit by the EXIM Bank to other countries with an emphasis on acceptance of equipment / material only from India for such projects.

To convert the latent demand for power in the country, the Mission Plan calls for timely completion of power generation projects and the downstream transmission projects for evacuation of power and improvement in the health of power distribution companies. It recommends the State Governments to acquire land, construct approach roads, and arrange construction power supply and other clearances, with the project developers reimbursing the costs. It suggests that urban areas with high aggregate technical & commercial losses be handed over to private sector on the input-based franchisee model with the provision for investment by the franchisee for system improvement, with the franchisee being asked to set up decentralised distribution-cum-generation (DDG) projects in identified rural areas.

OUR MANUFACTURING PROCESS

A) MANUFACTURING OF CABLES

STEPS INVOLVED IN CABLE MANUFACTURING:-➤ Procurement of Raw Material and Inspection

The major Raw Material used for manufacture of cables and conductors comprise of Aluminium, Copper or Alloys Rod. The first step involved is procurement of this raw material from various suppliers. Procured Raw Material is opened for inspection and testing of the quality and quantity check.

➤ Wire Drawing

Wire Drawing is a metalworking process used to reduce the cross section of a wire by pulling the rod through a single or a series of drawing die(s). There are many applications for wire drawing, including electrical wiring, cables etc. The rods once inserted into the wire drawing machine are passed through various sections of fixed dimensions. This is to gradually decrease the thickness of the rods turning them into wire.

The wires are then tested in the in-house laboratory for wire tensile strength. Testing process enables us to check that the wires are of good quality

➤ Stranding

A small wire before concentric stranding adds the most flexibility. Electrical cables may be made more flexible by stranding the wires. In this process, smaller individual wires are twisted together to produce larger wires and are more flexible than solid wires of smaller size. This Stranded group of wires is called conductor. The drawn wires are fed into the stranding machines. Here, a number of wires are stranded together on the stranding machines. These stranded wires are called conductors which are of specified cross- section area. The process of manufacturing conductor is finished at this stage. If a conductor is to be turned into cable, manufacturing process is continued and the below mentioned activities are carried out.

➤ Core Insulation

Core Insulation is a process of placing an insulating cover over the conductor to prevent current leakages. The quality and thickness of an insulation material depends on its voltage rating. Voltage test is used to ensure that there are no faults in insulation. Insulating process is carried out on a modern high speed extrusion line having installed spark testers and electronically controlled diameter/eccentricity indicators which ensure thickness and consistency throughout the length of product. The specially developed PVC Compound/ XLPE Compound used for insulation is resistant to moisture, oils, alkaline, grease and flames and has high insulation resistance values. If XLPE insulation required then it is cured in hot water tank under required temperature and time.

➤ Copper Tapping

The metallic shield is necessary to provide a low resistance path for changing current to flow to ground. It is important to realize that the extruded shield material will not survive a sustained current flow of more than a few milli ampere.

➤ Laying Up

In this process the cores so prepared are tied up together. In case of HT Cables PVC fillers are provided between the gaps to make the cable round.

➤ Inner Sheathing

The laid up cable is surrounded by a common covering either by extrusion or by wrapping of tapes. The normal practice is to use PVC either extruded or taped coverings, the grade of PVC being chosen to be compatible with the temperature rating of the cable.

➤ Armouring

Galvanized steel wires/ steel tapes is provided over the inner sheath cable for providing mechanical strength to the insulated cores. In case of single core cables, non-magnetic armour of Aluminium, Aluminium Alloy or copper wires are provided. In case of mining cables, double armouring of steel wires/ steel strips are provided.

➤ Outer Sheathing

Outer sheath is the outer polymer covering that protects the conductors and their insulation from external elements which may change their electrical properties and also from mechanical aggressions. Outer Sheathing is provided with soft flexible sheathing compound of specified thickness and specification to facilitate not only care in stripping but also to ensure toughness to withstand mechanical abrasions in use. Special PVC Compounds having different properties like fire resistance, fire resistance, low smoke etc. can be used for the outer sheath to suit a variety of environmental and fire risk conditions.

➤ Final Testing

In order to guarantee high quality required by customers, the cables undergo extensive quality control checks in laboratories, therefore ensuring that all cables are free from defects and ready to be sold. In case of conductors, the manufactured conductors are tested in our in-house laboratory as per relevant specifications and are then packed for dispatch. Whereas, in case of cables, the finished lot of cable samples are taken and tested for required physical, mechanical, chemical and electrical properties as per relevant IS specifications.

➤ Packing and Dispatch

If the cables meet the customer requirements and specifications, they are sent to the dispatch area for supply. The customer also sent their officials for checking the products before taking the delivery of the same.

B) MANUFACTURING OF CONDUCTORS

STEPS INVOLVED IN CONDUCTORS MANUFACTURING:-➤ Procurement of Raw Material and Inspection

The major Raw Material used for manufacture of cables and conductors comprise of Aluminium, Copper or Alloys Rod. Our manufacturing process is Aluminium or Cooper Rod. The first step involved is procurement of this raw material from various suppliers. Procured Raw Material is opened for inspection and testing of the quality and quantity check.

Wire Drawing is a metalworking process used to reduce the cross section of a wire by pulling the rod through a single or a series of drawing die(s). There are many applications for wire drawing, including electrical wiring, cables etc. The rods once inserted into the wire drawing machine are passed through various sections of fixed dimensions. This is to gradually decrease the thickness of the rods turning them into wire.

The wires are then tested in the in-house laboratory for wire tensile strength. Testing process enables us to check that the wires are of good quality.

➤ Intermediate Wire Drawing

For Solution Treatment of the material, the size of aluminium alloy rod is reduced.

➤ Solution Treatment

In this process, the coil is put into the furnace and heated at 500° C for required time and then put into water for cooling.

➤ Final Drawing

The final wire size is drawn as per the final size of the conductor.

➤ Ageing

It is a process wherein the drawn wires are put into an ageing furnace and temperature given is 150° C for required time to improve the tensile strength.

➤ Conductor Stranding

A small wire before concentric stranding adds the most flexibility. Electrical cables may be made more flexible by stranding the wires. In this process, smaller individual wires are twisted together to produce larger wires and are more flexible than solid wires of smaller size. This Stranded group of wires is called conductor. INDUSTRIAL LAWS

The Bureau of Indian Standards Act, 1986

The Act to provide for the establishment of Bureau for the harmonious development of the activities of standardization, marking and quality certification of goods and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto. The Bureau of Indian Standards (BIS) is the national Standards Body of India. The BIS product certification scheme is essentially voluntary in nature, and is largely based on ISO/IEC Guide 28 which provides general rules for third party certification system of determining conformity with product standards through initial testing and assessment of a factory quality management system and its acceptance followed by surveillance that takes into account the factory Quality management system and the testing of samples from the factory and the open market. All BIS certifications are carried out in accordance with Indian Standards, which are amenable to certification. A large number of operational elements of the BIS product certification scheme correspond with the requirements of ISO/IEC 17065.

The Electrical Wires, Cables, Appliances and Protection Devices and Accessories (Quality Control) Order, 2003 (the “Quality Control Order”)

The Quality Control Order, issued by the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, GoI (“DIPP”), prohibits the manufacture, storage for sale, sale and distribution of electrical wires, cables, appliances, protection devices (including low voltage switchgear and fuses) and accessories that do not conform to the standards specified in such order and that do not bear that standard mark issued by the BIS. The Quality Control Order directs a manufacturer of electric wires, cables and protection devices, amongst others, to commence manufacture of such electric equipment only after obtaining a license from the BIS for the use of standard mark. Further, it requires any sub-standard or defective electrical wires, cables, appliances, protection devices or accessories to be deformed by such manufacturer beyond use and disposed of as scrap. The Central Government is authorized to appoint an officer who shall be empowered to require any person engaged in the manufacture, storage, sale or distribution of electrical equipment to furnish information and samples in relation to the electric equipment manufactured, stored, sold or distributed, as the case may be, inspect any books or documents and search any premises and seize electric equipment in case of contravention of the Quality Control Order.

Central Electricity Authority (Measures relating to Safety and Electric Supply) Regulations, 2010 (“Safety and Electric Supply Regulations”)

The Safety and Electric Supply Regulations lay down general safety requirements with respect to electric supply lines and apparatus, including meters, switchgears, switches and cables. It requires all electric supply lines and apparatus to have adequate rating for power, insulation and estimated fault current and be of adequate mechanical strength for the duty cycle such apparatus may be required to perform and are required to be constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained in a manner that will ensure safety of human beings, animals and property. It further requires all electric material and apparatus to conform to the relevant specifications prescribed by the BIS or the International Electro-Technical Commission, as applicable. Further, the Safety and Electric Supply Regulations mandates the installation of suitable switchgear in each conductor of every service line within a consumer's premises, excluding earthed, earthed neutral or earthed external conductor and also requires that such switchgear be encased in a fireproof receptacle.

National Electric Code (“NEC”)

The NEC is an advisory framework prepared by the BIS in 1985 and subsequently revised in 2011, which contains various established codes of practice to provide assistance on the economic selection, installation and maintenance of electric equipment. The provisions of the NEC are presently not mandatory but are expected to serve as a model for adoption, promoting safety and economy, intending to keep Indian electrical installation practices on par with international best practices. The NEC provides guidelines on the general characteristics of electrical installations, supply characteristics and parameters, including those for switchgears and protection devices, service lines and meters. The NEC is applicable to electrical installations in, amongst others, domestic dwellings, commercial centres and industrial premises, and is applicable to circuits other than internal wiring of electrical apparatus. However, the NEC excludes the requirements falling under the purview of power utilities and tariff related guidance.

CE Marking

The letters ‘CE’ appear on many products traded on the extended Single Market in the European Economic Area (EEA). They signify that products sold in the EEA have been assessed to meet high safety, health, and environmental protection requirements. When you buy a new phone, a teddy bear, or a TV within the EEA, you can find the CE mark on them. CE marking also supports fair competition by holding all companies accountable to the same rules. By affixing the CE marking to a product, a manufacturer declares that the product meets all the legal requirements for CE marking and can be sold throughout the EEA. This also applies to products made in other countries that are sold in the EEA.

CORPORATE AND COMMERCIAL LAWS

The Companies Act, 2013

The Companies Act, 2013, has replaced the Companies Act, 1956 in a phased manner. The Act received the assent of President of India on 29th August 2013. At present almost all the provisions of this law have been made effective except a very few. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs, has also issued rules complementary to the Companies Act, 2013 establishing the procedure to be followed by companies in order to comply with the substantive provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Competition Act, 2002

The Competition Act, 2002 “prohibits anti competitive agreements, abuse of dominant positions by enterprises” and regulates “combinations” in India. The Competition Act also established the Competition Commission of India (the “CCI”) as the authority mandated to implement the Competition Act. The provisions of the Competition Act relating to combinations were notified recently on March 4, 2011 and came into effect on June 1, 2011. Combinations which are likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition in a relevant market in India are void under the Competition Act. A combination is defined under Section 5 of the Competition Act as an acquisition, merger or amalgamation of enterprise(s) that meets certain asset or turnover thresholds. There are also different thresholds for those categorized as Individuals and Group. The CCI may enquire into all combinations, even if taking place outside India, or between parties outside India, if such combination is likely to have an appreciable adverse effect on competition in India. Effective June 1, 2011, all combinations have to be notified to the CCI within 30 days of the execution of any agreement or other document for any acquisition of assets, shares, voting rights or control of an enterprise under Section 5(a) and (b) of the Competition Act (including any binding document conveying an agreement or decision to acquire control, shares, voting rights or assets of an enterprise); or the board of directors of a company (or an equivalent authority in case of other entities) approving a proposal for a merger or amalgamation under Section 5(c) of the Competition Act. The obligation to notify a combination to the CCI falls upon the acquirer in case of an acquisition, and on all parties to the combination jointly in case of a merger or amalgamation.

Indian Contract Act, 1872

Indian Contract Act codifies the way we enter into a contract, execute a contract, implementation of provisions of a contract and effects of breach of a contract. The Act consists of limiting factors subject to which contract may be entered into, executed and breach enforced as amended from time to time. It determines the circumstances in which promise made by the parties to a contract shall be legally binding on them. Each contract creates some right and duties upon the contracting parties. Indian contract deals with the enforcement of these rights and duties upon the parties. The Indian Contract Act also lays down provisions of indemnity, guarantee, bailment and agency. Provisions relating to sale of goods and partnership which were originally in the act are now subject matter of separate enactments viz., the Sale of Goods Act and the Indian Partnership Act.

Standards of Weights and Measures Act, 1976

This Legislation and the rules made there under apply to any packaged commodity that is sold or distributed. It provides for standardization of packages in specified quantities or numbers, in which the manufacturer, packer or distributor shall sell, distribute or deliver some specified commodity to avoid undue proliferation of weights, measures or number in which such commodities may be packed. The Act regulates interstate trade and commerce in weights and measures and commodities sold, distributed or supplied by weights or measures, pre-packed commodities sold or intended to be sold in the course of inter-state and commerce, inspection of weighing and measuring instruments during their use to prevent fraudulent practices. It also empowers the inspectors appointed under the provision of this Act to search, seize and forfeit non-standard weight or measure and to file case in the court for prosecution. Any person intending to pre-pack or import any commodity for sale, distribution or delivery has to make an application to the Director of Legal Metrology for registration.

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986 (the “Consumer Protection Act”) provides better protection to the interests of consumers. This is enabled with the establishment of consumer councils and other authorities for the settlement of consumers’ disputes and matters connected therewith. The Consumer Protection Act protects the consumers against any unfair/restrictive trade practice that has been adopted by any trader or service provider or if the goods purchased by him suffer from any defect or deficiency. In case of consumer disputes, the same can be referred to the redressal forums set up by the government such as the National Commission, the State Commission and the District Forums. Such redressal forums have the authority to grant various reliefs, such as removal of defects, replacement of goods, compensation to the consumer, etc.

Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881

In India, cheques are governed by the Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881, which is largely a codification of the English Law on the subject. The Act provides effective legal provision to restrain people from issuing cheques without having sufficient funds in their account or any stringent provision to punish them in the event of such cheque not being honored by their bankers and returned unpaid. Section 138 of the Act, creates statutory offence in the matter of dishonor of cheques on the ground of insufficiency of funds in the account maintained by a person with the banker which is punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine which may extend to twice the amount of the cheque, or with both.

The Registration Act, 1908 (“Registration Act”)

The Registration Act was passed to consolidate the enactments relating to the registration of documents. The main purpose for which the Registration Act was designed was to ensure information about all deals concerning land so that correct land records could be maintained. The Registration Act is used for proper recording of transactions relating to other immovable property also. The Registration Act provides for registration of other documents also, which can give these documents more authenticity. Registering authorities have been provided in all the districts for this purpose.

The Indian Easements Act, 1882 (“IE Act”)

The law relating to easements and licenses in property is governed by the “IE Act”. The right of easement has been defined under the Easements Act to mean a right which the owner or occupier of any land possesses over the land of another for beneficial enjoyment of his land. Such right may allow the owner of the land to do and continue to do something or to prevent and continue to prevent something being done, in or upon any parcel of land which is not his own. Easementary rights may be acquired or created by (a) an express grant; or (b) a grant or reservation implied from a certain transfer of property; or (c) by prescription, on account of long use, for a period of twenty years without interruption; or (d) local customs.

2. USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) requires the management of the Company to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported balances of assets and liabilities and disclosures relating to the contingent liabilities, if any, as at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of income and expenses during the year. Examples of such estimates include provisions for doubtful debts, employee retirement benefit plans, provision for income tax and the useful lives of fixed assets. The difference between the actual results and estimates are recognized in the period in which results are known or materialized.

3. FIXED ASSETS

Fixed assets are stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost includes purchase price and all other attributable cost to bring the assets to its working condition for the intended use.

Subsequent expenditures related to an item of tangible asset are added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Projects under which assets are not ready for their intended use are shown as Capital Work-in-Progress. Cost includes cost of land, materials, construction, services, borrowing costs and other overheads relating to projects.

Intangible assets are stated at acquisition cost, Net of accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets are amortized on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives.

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and recognized as income or expense in the Statement of Profit & Loss.

4. DEPRECIATION

Tangible Fixed Assets

Depreciation on tangible fixed assets is computed based on Written down Value (WDV) Method at the rate and manner prescribed in Schedule – XIV of the Companies Act, 1956.

Pursuant to Companies Act, 2013 ('the Act') being effective from April 1, 2014, the Company has revised depreciation rates on tangible fixed assets as per useful life specified in Part 'C' of Schedule II of the Act. And due to the same there has been a change in the estimated useful life of depreciable tangible assets which affects the depreciation in the current period and in each period during the remaining useful life of the assets. As the change is only in regard to accounting estimate requiring an adjustment of the carrying amount of tangible assets.

5. BORROWING COSTS

Borrowing cost includes interest and amortization of ancillary costs incurred in connection with the arrangement of borrowings. Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the respective asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period they occur.

6. IMPAIRMENT OF ASSETS

(i) The company assesses, at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's (including goodwill) recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's net selling price and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining net selling price, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used.

(ii) After impairment, depreciation/ amortization is provided on the revised carrying amount of the asset over its remaining useful life.

7. INVESTMENTS

Investments, which are readily realizable and intended to be held for not more than one year from the date on which such investments are made, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long-term investments.

Current investments are carried in the financial statements at lower of cost and fair value determined on an individual investment basis. Long-term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution in value is made to recognize a decline other than temporary in the value of the investments.

On disposal of an investment, the difference between its carrying amount and net disposal proceeds is charged or credited to the statement of profit and loss.

8. INVENTORIES

Cost of inventories comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Raw materials, packing materials and store & consumables are valued at cost determined on FIFO Basis.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. In the event of issue of bonus shares, or share split the number of equity shares outstanding is increased without an increase in the resources. c. Mangal Electrical Industries Pvt. Ltd. v. M/s IL&FS Engineering & Constructions Company Ltd.

MEIPL has brought a civil suit no. 1755/2014 against M/s IL&FS Engineering & Constructions Company Ltd. on May 28, 2012 before the District and Sessions Court, Jaipur for recovery of money to the tune of Rs. 65,08,792/- with interest @12% p.a. from date of suit till date of recovery of the amount. MEIPL is a company approved by Jaipur Vidyut Vitaran Nigam Limited (JVVN) for various electrical instruments and distribution transformers. The Rajasthan Government selected the defendant company for supply of distribution transformers and other electrical instruments for the expansion of electricity facilities to various village areas under the Rajeev Gandhi Grameen Vidyutikaran Yojana. During the course of this agreement, various differences and issues arose between the two and MEIPL contends that an amount of Rs. 65,08,792/- has become due to it along with interest. The defendant has filed a counter-claim in the matter for an amount of Rs. 71,75,382/- with interest @12% p.a. from date of counter-claim till date of recovery of the amount. RESTRICTIONS ON FOREIGN OWNERSHIP OF INDIAN SECURITIES

Foreign investment in Indian securities is regulated through the Industrial Policy, 1991 of the Government, the FDI Policy (as defined below) and FEMA. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are FIPB and the RBI.

The Government has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India (“DIPP”), issued consolidated FDI Policy, which with effect from June 07, 2016 consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DIPP that were in force and effect as on June 7, 2016. The Government proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI Policy once every year and therefore, the Consolidation FDI Policy will be valid until the DIPP issues an updated circular.

Subscription by foreign investors (NRIs/FPIs)

FPIs are permitted to subscribe to Equity Shares of an Indian Company in a public offer without the prior approval of the RBI, so long as the price of the Equity Shares to be issued is not less than the price at which the Equity Shares are issued to residents. SEBI registered FPIs have been permitted to purchase shares of an Indian company through offer, subject to total FPI investment being within the individual FPI/sub account investment limit of 10 per cent subject to the total sectoral cap of all FPIs/sub-accounts put together being 24 per cent of the paid-up capital of the Indian company.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a Non-resident does not require prior approval of FIPB or RBI, subject to fulfillment of certain conditions as specified by DIPP / RBI, from time to time. Such conditions include (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the foreign direct investment (“FDI”) Policy and the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the FDI policy; and (ii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI/RBI.
