14. An inability to recruit, train and retain qualified and experienced personnel who meet the staffing requirements of our clients may adversely affect our reputation, business prospects and future financial performance.

Our business largely depends on our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel who possess the skills and experience necessary to meet the requirements of our clients. Our business operations and financial performance may be adversely affected if we are unable to find sufficient personnel for our clients. In addition, we must continually evaluate and upgrade our database of available qualified personnel through recruiting and training programs to keep pace with changing client needs and emerging technologies. Competition for individuals with proven professional skills and experience is intense, and we expect demand for such individuals to remain strong in the foreseeable future. In particular, our IT staffing and consultancy business involves skilled personnel, and our success depends upon our ability to attract, develop, motivate and retain skilled IT consultants. Qualified personnel may not be available to us in sufficient numbers and on terms of employment acceptable to us. We may not be able to effectively meet the expectations of our clients due to our failure to identify personnel with the requisite skills, experience or other attributes, and our training programs may not succeed in developing effective skills in a timely manner or at all. Candidates generally seek temporary or regular positions through multiple sources, including us and our competitors. Any shortage of candidates could materially and adversely affect our business prospects.

16. Client contracts are generally of a short duration and contain termination provisions that could decrease our revenues and earnings.

Most of our client contracts can be terminated by the client on short notice without compensation or penalty. Majority of our client contracts are for a period of one year or less. Our clients, therefore, are not contractually obligated to continue to do business with us in the future. This creates uncertainty with respect of revenues and earnings from our client contracts.

17. Clients may delay or default in making payments for services rendered by us which could affect the cash-flows and liquidity of the Company.

As of September 30, 2018, we had receivables of Rs. 914.70 lakhs based on Restated Consolidated Financial Statements, which represented 58.77% of our total assets as of such date. Our business depends on our ability to successfully obtain payment from our clients for services provided. Recovery of our receivables and timely collection of client balances also depends on our ability to complete our contractual commitments and bill and collect our contracted revenues. If we are unable to meet our contractual requirements, we might experience delays in collection of and/or be unable to collect our client balances, and if this occurs, our results of operations and cash flows could be adversely affected. In addition, if we experience an increase in the time to bill and collect for our services, our cash flows could be adversely affected. Macroeconomic conditions could also result in financial difficulties, including insolvency or bankruptcy, for our clients, and as a result could cause clients to delay payments to us, request modifications to their payment arrangements that could increase our receivables balance or working capital requirements, or default on their payment obligations to us.

18. We operate in a highly competitive and fragmented industry with low barriers to entry and may be unable to compete successfully against existing or new competitors.

With the potential influx of new competitors, our ability to retain our existing clients and to attract new clients is critical to our continued success. As a result, there can be no assurance that we will not encounter increased competition in the future. Nor can there be any assurance that our Company will, in light of competitive pressures, be able to remain profitable or, if profitable, maintain its current profit margins.

19. We require certain approvals or licenses in the ordinary course of business. Any failure to obtain them in a timely manner or at all may adversely affect our operations.

We require certain approvals, licenses, registrations and permissions for conducting our business. However wherever applicable, if our approvals or licenses are not renewed on expiry or if the new approvals or licenses are not obtained in time, our business may be adversely affected. Also, few of our approvals obtained by us are still in the old name of our Company i.e. Mindpool Technologies Private Limited. We are in process of getting such approvals revised in the present name of the Company. For further details, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 166.

20. If we are unable to attract new clients or our existing clients do not renew their contract, the growth of our business and cash flows will be adversely affected.

To increase our revenue and cash flows, we must regularly add new clients. If we are unable to generate sufficient sales leads through our marketing programs, or if our existing or new clients do not perceive our services to be of sufficiently high value and quality, we may not be able to increase sales and our operating results would be adversely affected. In addition, our existing clients have no obligation to renew their contracts, and renewal rates may decline or fluctuate due to a number of factors, including customers’ satisfaction with our services, our prices and the prices of competing service providers. If we fail to sell our services to new customers or if our existing customers do not renew their contracts, our operating results will suffer, and our revenue growth, cash flows and profitability may be materially and adversely affected.

21. We may be unable to perform background verification procedures on our Associate Employees prior to placing them with our clients.

Our internal policies require us to perform background verification procedures on all our Associate Employees prior to employing them. However, due to increase in the volume of Associate Employees in any month, and the quality of sufficiently reliable information being unavailable in some cases, we may be unable to fully perform background verification procedures on each of our Associate Employees. Our inability to perform these procedures fully could result in insufficient vetting of our Associate Employees, which could in turn result in an adverse effect on our reputation, results of operations and business prospects if such Associate Employees engaged in illegal or fraudulent activities during the course of their employment.

- 22. We may not be able to implement our business strategies or sustain and manage our growth, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our growth strategy includes expanding our existing business and service portfolio. We cannot assure you that our growth strategies will be successful or that we will be able to continue to expand further or diversify our service portfolio. Our ability to sustain and manage our growth depends significantly upon our ability to manage key issues such as selecting, recruiting, training and retaining marketing representatives, maintaining effective risk management policies, continuing to offer services which are consumer centric, developing and maintaining our data base and ensuring a high standard of service quality. Our failure to do any of the preceding could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Our success depends heavily upon the continuing services of our Promoters and Senior Management who are the people in control of our Company. Their rich experience and vision have played a key role in obtaining our current market position and the growth of the business as a whole. We would depend significantly on our Key Managerial Persons for continuing our operation and executing the proposed expansion plan. If our Managing Director, Executive Directors or any member of the senior management team are unable or unwilling to continue in their present position, we may not be able to replace them easily or replace at all, and our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may be materially and adversely affected.

However, the audit committee of our Board will monitor the utilization of Issue proceeds in terms of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. As a result of the same, they will be able to exercise significant influence over the control of the outcome of the matter that requires approval of the majority shareholders vote. Such a concentration of the ownership may also have the effect of delaying, preventing or deterring any change in the control of our company. In addition to the above, our promoters will continue to have the ability to take actions that are not in, or may conflict with our interest or the interest of some or all of our minority shareholders, and there is no assurance that such action will not have any adverse effect on our future financials or results of operations.

28. Conflicts of interest may arise out of common business undertaken by our Company and our Subsidiary Company.

Our Subsidiary Company is carrying the similar activities as those conducted by our Company. As a result, conflict of interests may arise in allocating business opportunities between our Company and our Subsidiary in circumstances where our respective interest diverges. In cases of conflict, our Promoter may favour our Subsidiary in which our Promoter has substantial interests. There can be no assurance that our company or our subsidiary company will not compete with our existing business or any future business that we may undertake or that their interests will not conflict with ours. Any such present and future conflicts could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, result of operations and financial condition.

Our Company cannot assure you that the operation of our business will not be affected by any of the incidents and hazards. EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

- 36. *Terrorist attacks, civil disturbances, wars, regional and communal conflicts, natural disasters, fuel shortages, and epidemics may have a material adverse effect on our Company's business and on the market for securities in India.

Our Company is subject to operating risks, such as the risk of substantial disruption or shutdown due to natural disasters, storms, fires, explosions, earthquakes, floods and other catastrophic events, actual, potential or suspected epidemic outbreaks, terrorist attacks and wars, loss of services of our external contractors, and industrial accidents. The occurrence of any such event could result in a temporary or long-term closure of our manufacturing facilities which will severely disrupt our business operations and materially -and adversely affect our financial condition. Additionally, any of these events could lower confidence in India's economy and create a perception that investments in companies with Indian operations involve a high degree of risk, which could have a material adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares. Any discontinuation of business or loss of profits due to such extraneous factors may affect our operations.

- 37. *Political instability or a change in economic liberalization and deregulation policies could seriously harm business and economic conditions in India generally and our business in particular.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised and continues to exercise influence over many aspects of the economy, especially the defense, mining and aerospace sectors. The business and the market price and liquidity of the Equity Shares may be affected by interest rates, changes in Government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. The Government of India has in recent years sought to implement economic reforms and the current government has implemented policies and undertaken initiatives that continue the economic liberalization policies pursued by previous governments. There can be no assurance that liberalization policies will continue in the future. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies and other matters affecting investment in the securities could change as well. Any significant change in such liberalization and deregulation policies could adversely affect business and economic conditions in India, generally, and our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations, in particular.

- 38. *Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non -residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions), if they comply with the valuation and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If a transfer of shares is not in compliance with such requirements and does not fall under any of the exceptions specified by the RBI, then the RBI's prior approval is required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

- 39. *A slowdown in economic growth in India could cause our business to suffer.

We are incorporated in India. As a result, we are highly dependent on prevailing economic conditions in India and our results of operations are significantly affected by factors influencing the Indian economy. A slowdown in the Indian economy could adversely affect our business, including our ability to grow our assets, the quality of our assets, and our ability to implement our strategy.

- 40. *The price of the Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell the Equity Shares at or above the Issue Price.

Prior to the Issue, there has been no public market for the Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Indian Stock Exchange may not develop or be sustained after the Issue. The Issue Price of the Equity Shares may bear no relationship to the market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue. The market price of the Equity Shares after the Issue may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors, variations in our operating results, market conditions specific to the infrastructure sector in India, developments relating to India and volatility in the Stock Exchange and securities markets elsewhere in the world.

41. Any future issuance of Equity Shares by us may dilute your shareholding and adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Any future issuance of the Equity Shares or securities linked to the Equity Shares by us may dilute your shareholding in our Company, adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares and our ability to raise capital through an issue of our securities. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur could also affect the trading price of the Equity Shares. No assurance may be given that we will not issue additional Equity Shares.

42. Inflation in India could have a material adverse effect on our profitability, our business, results of operations and financial condition.

In the recent past, India has experienced fluctuating wholesale price inflation as compared to historical levels due to the global economic downturn. An increase in inflation in India could cause a rise in the price of raw materials and wages, or any other expenses that we incur. If this trend continues, we may be unable to accurately estimate or control our costs of production and this could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

43. Future sale of Equity Shares by our Promoters and Promoter Group may adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares.

After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters and Promoter Group will own, directly and indirectly, approximately 71.27% of our outstanding Equity Shares. Sale of a large number of the Equity Shares by our Promoters and/ or Promote Group could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. Similarly, the perception that any such primary or secondary sale may occur, could adversely affect the market price of the Equity Shares. No assurance may be given that our Promoters and Promote Group will not dispose of, pledge or encumber their Equity Shares in the future.

44. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares.

Under current Indian tax laws, capital gains arising from the sale of Equity Shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. However, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares on or before March 31, 2018 on a stock exchange held for more than 12 months will not be subject to long term capital gains tax in India if Securities Transaction Tax (“STT”) is paid on the sale transaction and additionally, as stipulated by the Finance Act, 2017, STT had been paid at the time of acquisition of such equity shares on or after October 1, 2004, except in the case of such acquisitions of equity shares which are not subject to STT, as notified by the Central Government under notification no. 43/2017/F. No. 370142/09/2017-TPL on June 05, 2017. However, the Finance Act, 2018, has now levied taxes on such long term capital gains exceeding Rs.100,000 arising from sale of Equity Shares on or after April 01, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such Equity Shares. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of STT, on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold.

Further, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

45. Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws and regulations, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, future prospects and cash flows.

Changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of tax laws and regulations, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, future prospects and cash flows.

There can be no assurance that the GoI may not implement new regulations and policies which will require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the GoI or other regulatory bodies or will impose onerous requirements and conditions on our business and operations. Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of the new regulations may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations and cash flows. In addition, we may have to incur capital expenditures to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also affect our results of operations and cash flows. For further details, see “Key Industry Regulations and Policies” on page 94 for details of the laws, rules and regulations currently applicable to us.

The regulatory and policy changes, may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and future prospects, to the extent that we are unable to suitably respond to and comply with any such changes in applicable law and policy.

46. Rights of shareholders under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

The Companies Act, 2013 and related rules, articles of association of our Company and the listing agreement that will be entered with the stock exchange govern the corporate affairs of our Company. Legal principles relating to these matters and the validity of corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may have more difficulty in asserting their rights as a shareholder than as a shareholder of a corporation in another jurisdiction.

47. QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Applications (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Application Amount) at any stage after submitting an Application and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Application after closure of the Issue.

Pursuant to the SEBI Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Application Amount on submission of the Application, and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Applications (in terms of quantity of equity shares or the Application Amount) at any stage after submitting an Application. Retail Individual Investors can revise their Applications during the Issue Period and withdraw their Applications until closure of the Offer. Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors would not be able to withdraw or lower their Applications, notwithstanding adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations or financial condition, or otherwise, between the dates of the submission of their Applications and the Allotment.

SECTION V: ABOUT THE COMPANY AND THE INDUSTRY

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The information in this section has been extracted from various websites and publicly available documents from various industry sources. The data may have been re-classified by us for the purpose of presentation. Neither we nor any other person connected with the issue has independently verified the information provided in this section. Industry sources and publications, referred to in this section, generally state that the information contained therein has been obtained from sources generally believed to be reliable but their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their reliability cannot be assured, and, accordingly, investment decisions should not be based on such information.

Global Scenario:

World growth strengthened in 2017 to 3.8 percent, with a notable rebound in global trade. It was driven by an investment recovery in advanced economies, continued strong growth in emerging Asia, a notable upswing in emerging Europe, and signs of recovery in several commodity exporters. Global growth is expected to tick up to 3.9 percent this year and next, supported by strong momentum, favorable market sentiment, accommodative financial conditions, and the domestic and international repercussions of expansionary fiscal policy in the United States. The partial recovery in commodity prices should allow conditions in commodity exporters to gradually improve.

Over the medium term, global growth is projected to decline to about 3.7 percent. Once the cyclical upswing and US fiscal stimulus have run their course, prospects for advanced economies remain subdued, given their slow potential growth. In emerging market and developing economies, in contrast, growth will remain close to its 2018–19 level as the gradual recovery in commodity exporters and a projected increase in India’s growth provide some offset to China’s gradual slowdown and emerging Europe’s return to its lower-trend growth rate. Nevertheless, 40 emerging market and developing economies are projected to grow more slowly in per capita terms than advanced economies, failing to narrow income gaps vis-à-vis the group of more prosperous countries.

Despite strong aggregate figures in the baseline forecast and buoyant market sentiment, the current momentum is not assured. Upside and downside risks are broadly balanced over the next several quarters, but risks farther down the road are skewed to the downside. With still-easy financial conditions and persistently low inflation that has required protracted monetary policy accommodation, a potential further buildup of financial vulnerabilities could give way to rapid tightening of global financial conditions, denting confidence and growth. The support to growth that comes from procyclical policies, including in the United States, will eventually need to be reversed. Other risks include a shift toward inward-looking policies that harm international trade and a worsening of geopolitical tensions and strife.

The current favorable juncture offers a window to enact policies and reforms that protect the upswing and raise medium-term growth to the benefit of all—strengthening the potential for higher and more inclusive growth, building buffers that will help deal more effectively with the next downturn, improving financial resilience to contain financial market risks, and fostering international cooperation.

Recent Developments and Prospects

An Investment-Led Pickup in Growth

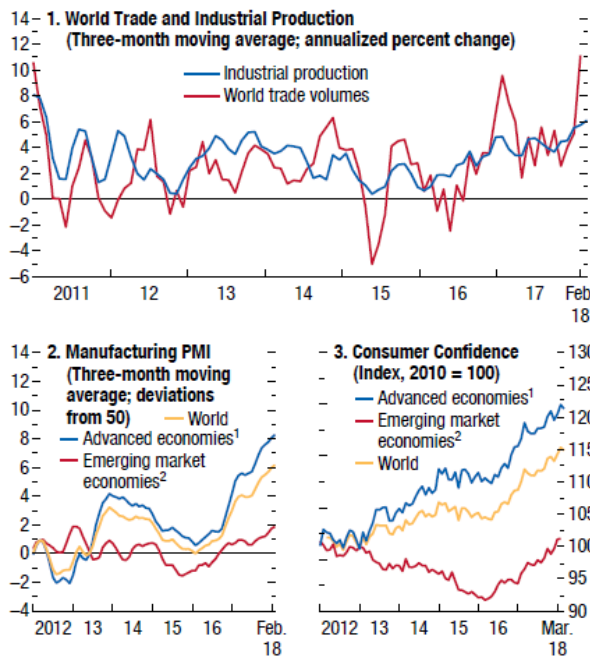

At 3.8 percent, global growth last year was ½ percentage point faster than in 2016 and the strongest since 2011. Two-thirds of countries accounting for about three-fourths of global output experienced faster growth in 2017 than in the previous year (the highest share of countries experiencing a year-over-year growth pickup since 2010). The preliminary outcome for global growth in 2017 was 0.2 percentage point stronger than forecast in the October 2017 World Economic Outlook (WEO), with upside surprises in the second half of 2017 in advanced as well as emerging market and developing economies.

Resurgent investment spending in advanced economies and an end to the investment decline in some commodity-exporting emerging market and developing economies were important drivers of the uptick in global GDP growth and manufacturing activity (Figures 1.1–1.3).

Across advanced economies, the 0.6 percentage point pickup in 2017 growth relative to 2016 is explained almost entirely by investment spending, which remained weak since the 2008–09 global financial crisis and was particularly subdued in 2016 (Figure 1.2, left column). Both stronger gross fixed capital formation and an acceleration in stock building contributed to the pickup in investment, with accommodative monetary policy, stronger balance sheets, and an improved outlook helping release pent-up demand for capital goods.

(Percentage points)

Stronger investment spending in advanced economies and an end to fixed investment contractions in commodity exporters were important contributors to the pickup in global growth.

Across emerging market and developing economies, the 0.4 percentage point pickup in 2017 growth came primarily from acceleration in private consumption (Figure 1.2, right column). But the picture is mixed within the group. Growth in China and India last year was supported by resurgent net exports and strong private consumption, respectively, while investment growth slowed. An end to fixed investment contractions in commodity-exporting countries that were severely affected by the commodity price downturn during 2015–16 (notably Brazil and Russia, but also Angola, Ecuador, and Nigeria) instead played an important role in their growth pickup in 2017. Higher fixed investment growth (2.3 percentage points above its 2016 level) also supported the growth performance of other emerging market and developing economies, alongside stronger private consumption.

Labour force

Population growth in advanced economies is slowing, life expectancy is rising, and the number of elderly people is soaring. As these trends gather steam, the United Nations projects that by the middle of this century, total population will be shrinking in almost half of advanced economies (Figure 2.1). The burden will fall on those currently considered to be of working age, who in a few decades will support close to double the number of elderly people they do now. Unless more people participate in labor markets, aging could slow advanced economies' growth and, in many cases, undermine the sustainability of their social security systems (Clements and others 2015). Increases in labor supply accounted for a significant share of advanced economies' potential growth during 1985–2000, but their contribution has since fallen.

Even though population aging is already exerting pressure on labor supply, considerable differences in the evolution of overall labor force participation are evident throughout the world's advanced economies (Figure 2.2).¹ In half of those economies, the aggregate participation rate has actually increased since the global financial crisis of a decade ago, which coincided with an acceleration of the demographic transition. Headline numbers also hide stark differences in the participation rates of different groups of workers. For example, male participation has declined almost everywhere, while female participation has increased. What underlies these strikingly divergent trajectories across countries and for different workers? Various forces are likely at play. Differences in the exact timing and pace of the demographic transition may explain some of the divergence. However, the disparity in participation trends across specific groups of workers suggests a potentially important role for policies and institutions that influence people’s decisions to join, remain in, or reenter the labor force. Differences in exposure and resilience to global forces such as technological advances and trade may have depressed long-term demand for workers with certain skill sets.² Identifying and ranking the key drivers of participation across population groups is necessary in designing policies that could enable those willing to work to do so and counteract the forces of aging.

Population growth is slowing in both advanced and emerging market and developing economies. In advanced economies, the number of elderly is rising precipitously relative to the working-age population, a process that accelerated significantly after 2008.

Indian Economy

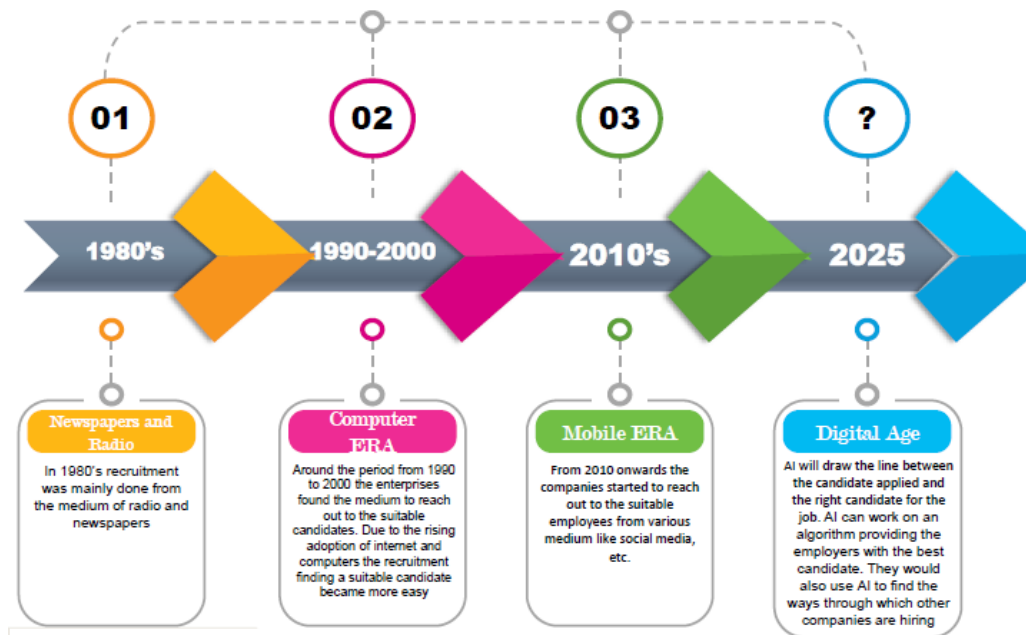

IT Staffing & Recruitment market definition

The report studies IT staffing & recruitment solutions and services market from the perspective of small, medium and large enterprises. Staffing & recruitment solutions are considered as important departments in organizations which are responsible for diverse applications such as hire management, bonus payment, benefit deduction, vacation leaves, salary hikes, recruitment, firing employees, time & attendance management, etc.

The IT staffing & recruitment market report provides an analysis of the India IT staffing & recruitment market for the period 2016 – 2026, wherein 2016 is the historic player, 2017 is the base year and the period from 2018 to 2026 is the forecast period.

The report covers all the prevalent trends and technologies playing a major role in the growth of the IT staffing & recruitment market over the forecast period. It also highlights various drivers, restraints, and opportunities expected to influence the market growth during the said period.

Technology Roadmap

Value Chain of IT Staffing & Recruitment Market

- The value chain analysis of IT staffing & recruitment market comprises of software vendors, RPC companies, other third party service providers and end users.
- Software vendors are those companies that provide the software solutions to the IT enterprises for their in-house recruitment process. These companies also provide their solutions to the RPO vendors and other third party service providers. Some of the software vendors are Lumesse, inc., Oracle Corporation, SAP SE, etc.
- IT enterprises either buy the software solution for their recruitment process or they outsource their recruitment functions to other companies (RPO's and third party service providers). RPO companies are the companies that provide either specific recruitment services or complete end to end service package to the enterprises. Some of the RPO vendors are Randstad Holding NV, The Adecco Group, Kelly Services, etc.
- Other third party service companies are those companies that provide services including employment placement, staffing services, account management, etc.
- End users analyzed in the report study are small & medium size enterprises and large enterprises.

Market Dynamics

Drivers and Restraints Analysis

Drivers

1. Increasing adoption of RPO
 - The IT staffing & recruiting market in India is majorly driven by the numerous advantages of outsourcing recruitment services as compared to the conventional internal recruitment process. RPO solution providers offer business organizations various benefits such as cost reduction in the recruitment process, reduced time to hire, increased quality of hired employees, and other scalability advantages. For instance, if an organization outsources all of its recruitment process to the RPO provider, the organization can reduce over 30% to 50% of its cost per hire.
 - This is the most significant advantage of RPO, thus boosting the demand for these solutions. RPO providers offer high scalability and flexibility in the recruitment process. In case of large numbers of hires, RPO providers deploy more resources for the contract. Similarly, if the number of employees to be recruited is less, the RPO providers employ fewer resources for the contract.
 - Additionally, partnering with an RPO provider enables organizations to focus on their core competencies effectively. RPO providers have efficient and streamlined processes for recruitment which ensures recruitment of the right person for the right position. Furthermore, some RPO providers offer guarantee periods to the organization for recruited employees. In such cases, if any recruited candidate leaves the organization in the specified guarantee period, the providers commit to replace such candidates free of cost. This makes outsourcing of the recruitment process highly feasible for business organizations.

Multiple advantages of RPO Services

Note: scale is from 1 to 5, wherein 5 represents highly advantageous for the enterprises

2. Economic development

- Demand for recruiting employees is proportional to the economic growth of any region. The IT Staffing & Recruiting market is expected to witness high penetration in the country due to high economic growth. Since the year 2000, India is among the fastest-growing economies, globally.
- The country is witnessing new job creation supported by the government initiatives such as Make In India, etc. Across various industry verticals, there is requirement for high skilled workforce who have knowledge about automation, cloud computing, and other related software. In order to find the best personnel, industry verticals are turning to staffing and recruitment solution & service providers who can tap the best talent for the firm.
- India has also emerged as a strong manufacturing and outsourcing alternative. This is largely due to lower labor cost and improvement in infrastructure.

Restraints

Cloud security and network transmission issues

- The staffing & recruiting solutions that rely heavily on the cloud services are susceptible to service impairment or control loss, data leakage, service loss including service interruption or in worse cases even service termination.
- The user experience may also be affected by unstable network transmissions at some places, this would limit the reach of cloud based services including cloud-based and hybrid services/solutions in the affected regions.
- This factor is predicted to have a moderate impact as a market restraint throughout the forecast period as the issues pertaining to the network transmission are already being addressed by improving the network infrastructure.

Lack of technical knowledge and developer skills

- Another restraint in the deployment of staffing & recruiting solutions is the IT abilities of most of the human resources management experts in the region which can be termed mediocre if not poor.
- Also, rich management knowledge along with good IT abilities are a must for turning structured or semi-structured management theories and various methods/tool into computer-coded problem solving processes.

- These factors combined together are predicted to have moderate impact on the overall market throughout the forecast period.

Opportunities

Growing Demand for Workforce Management

- The increase in demand for contingent labor, targeted talent strategies, mobile workforce, and workforce intelligence has led to the popularity of workforce management system.
- Also, in today's fast changing economies and government policies, reliable workforce data is needed to tackle the economic fluctuations and make effective staffing decisions.
- As a result, the enterprise (especially the large ones) now a days require a complete package which has an advanced workforce management solution along with payroll, compliance and attendance management.

Proliferation of cloud-based solutions

- In recent years, the cloud-based deployment of payroll and HR related solutions has gained mainstream acceptance in the country.
- This is primarily due to the development of cloud infrastructure in recent times that has made the availability of cloud storage easy along with affordable pricing.
- The SaaS-based deployment model is expected to dominate the overall market in terms of market share as compared with the on-premise deployment model.
- It is also estimated that these factors will sustain and be reflected throughout the forecast period.

Adoption Rate - by Accessibility or Interface Type (%)

Interface type	Adoption (%)	Median
Mobile	15-20%	17%
Web	25-30%	28%
Web + Mobile	45-50%	47%

The adoption rate is calculated after analyzing and tracking the various IT staffing & recruiting software solution features and deployment. It is expected that the demand for the solutions that can be accessed via web and mobile as well is going to increase due to ease of accessibility of such solutions.

Key Trend Analysis

GST is a destination based tax levied on supply of goods and services. GST is levied on all transactions such as sale, transfer, purchase, barter, lease, or import of goods and/or services. For inter-State transactions and imported goods or services, an Integrated GST (IGST) is levied by the Central Government. A person is free to contract on any terms he chooses. The Contract Act consists of limiting factors subject to which contract may be entered into, executed and the breach enforced. It provides a framework of rules and regulations that govern formation and performance of contract. The contracting parties themselves decide the rights and duties of parties and terms of agreement.

The Specific Relief Act, 1963

The Specific Relief Act, 1963 ("SR Act") is complimentary to the provisions of the Contract Act and the Transfer of Property Act, as the Act applies both to movable property and immovable property. The SR Act applies in cases where the Court can order specific performance of a contract. Competition Act, 2002

The Competition Act, 2002 ("Competition Act") aims to prevent anti-competitive practices that cause or are likely to cause an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India. The Competition Act regulates anticompetitive agreements, abuse of dominant position and combinations. The Competition Commission of India which became operational from May 20, 2009 has been established under the Competition Act to deal with inquiries relating to anti-competitive agreements and abuse of dominant position and regulate combinations. The Competition Act also provides that the Competition Commission has the jurisdiction to inquire into and pass orders in relation to an anti-competitive agreement, abuse of dominant position or a combination, which even though entered into, arising or taking place outside India or signed between one or more non-Indian parties, but causes an appreciable adverse effect in the relevant market in India.

The Consumer Protection Act, 1986

The Consumer Protection Act ("COPRA") aims at providing better protection to the interests of consumers and for that purpose makes provisions for the establishment of authorities for the settlement of consumer disputes. The COPRA provides a mechanism for the consumer to file a complaint against a trader or service provider in cases of unfair trade practices, restrictive trade practices, defects in goods, deficiency in services; price charged being unlawful and goods being hazardous to life and safety when used. The COPRA provided for a three tier consumer grievance redressal mechanism at the national, state and district levels.

It forms a basis for identifying the categories of property that are capable of being transferred, the persons competent to transfer property, the validity of restrictions and conditions imposed on the transfer and the creation of contingencies and vested interest in the property. It also provides for the rights and liabilities of the vendor and purchaser in a transaction of sale of land.

The Registration Act, 1908

The Registration Act, 1908, as amended, has been enacted with the objective of providing public notice of the execution of documents affecting, inter alia, the transfer of interest in immovable property. While the Industrial Policy, 1991 prescribes the limits and the conditions subject to which foreign investment can be made in different sectors of the Indian economy, FEMA regulates the precise manner in which such investment may be made. Under the Industrial Policy, unless specifically restricted, foreign investment is freely permitted in all sectors of Indian economy up to any extent and without any prior approvals, but the foreign investor is required to follow certain prescribed procedures for making such investment. The government bodies responsible for granting foreign investment approvals are the Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") and Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Government of India ("DIPP").

The Government of India, from time to time, has made policy pronouncements on Foreign Direct Investment ("FDI") through press notes and press releases. The Government proposes to update the consolidated circular on FDI policy once every year and therefore, FDI Policy 2017 will be valid until the DIPP issues an updated circular.

The RBI also issues Master Circular on Foreign Investment in India every year.  - (b) The pricing for the transaction is compliant with the specific/explicit, extant and relevant SEBI regulations/guidelines (such as IPO, Book building, block deals, delisting, exit, open offer/substantial acquisition/SEBI SAST); and Chartered Accountants Certificate to the effect that compliance with the relevant SEBI regulations/guidelines as indicated above is attached to the form FC-TRS to be filed with the AD bank; and
