If any or a combination of the following risks, or other risks that are not currently known or are not currently deemed material, actually occur, our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition could be adversely affected, the trading price of our Equity Shares could decline, and investors may lose all or part of their investment. Furthermore, some events may be material collectively rather than individually. To the extent the COVID-19 pandemic adversely affects our business and financial results, it may also have the effect of heightening many of the other risks described in this section.

In order to obtain a complete understanding of our Company and our business, prospective investors should read this section in conjunction with “Industry Overview”, “Our Business”, “Key Regulations and Policies”, “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations” and “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments” on pages 118, 165, 176, 353 and 383, respectively, as well as the other financial and statistical information contained in this Prospectus. In making an investment decision, prospective investors must rely on their own examination of us and our business and the terms of the Offer including the merits and risks involved. Potential investors should consult their tax, financial and legal advisors about the particular consequences of investing in the Offer. Potential investors should pay particular attention to the fact that our Company is incorporated under the laws of India and is subject to legal and regulatory environment which may differ in certain respects from that of other countries.

This Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involves risks, assumptions, estimates and uncertainties. Our actual results could differ from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of certain factors, including the considerations described below and elsewhere in this Prospectus. Risks in relation to our Business, Operational and Financial Performance

- 1. We are currently entirely dependent on Inox Wind Limited, our Promoter for our business and if they were to choose another service provider for operation and maintenance services of their wind turbine generators, our business, financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected.

Pursuant to an exclusivity agreement dated December 17, 2021, between our Company and Inox Wind Limited, our Promoter and largest shareholder, we provide exclusive O&M services for all WTGs sold by Inox Wind Limited through the entry of long-term O&M contracts between the WTG customer and ourselves which range between five to 20 years in term. Thus, we derive our revenues from O&M services offered to WTGs supplied by Inox Wind Limited.

While no such instance has occurred in the past, any dispute with Inox Wind Limited, including in relation to warranties and guarantees provided by them or the revocation of our exclusivity agreement, may have a material impact on future support and business we seek to derive from Inox Wind Limited. Further, we may not be able to find a suitable replacement for such business, if at all. Furthermore, the deterioration of the financial condition or business prospects of Inox Wind Limited could reduce the requirement of O&M services offered by us and result in a significant decrease in our revenues. Therefore, any adverse developments in our relationship with Inox Wind Limited may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and prospects.

2. We have entered into a business transfer agreement by which we divested our erection, procurement and commissioning business to one of the subsidiaries of our Promoter, Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“BTA”), which imposes certain contractual obligations on our Company.

On December 31, 2021, our Company has executed the BTA to divest and transfer the erection and commissioning services of WTGs (“EPC Business”) to one of the subsidiaries of our Promoter, Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“Resco”) as a going concern on a slump sale basis for an aggregate consideration of ₹46.98 million. Under the BTA, the EPC Business including intellectual property, contracts, insurance policies, employees, business information, accounts receivables, claims and benefits under warranties from suppliers, construction materials, project development, erection and commissioning work-in-progress, along with its liabilities such as trade payables and certain litigations (“Assumed Legal Proceedings”) (collectively, “Business Undertaking”) has been transferred to Resco. In terms of the BTA, our Company is contractually bound to bear the cost and expenses incurred in continuing, defending and enforcing all legal proceedings pertaining to the EPC Business, barring certain Assumed Legal Proceedings (as listed out in Schedule 1 to the BTA). Accordingly, in the event any such legal proceeding is adversely adjudicated against our Company, it may have an adverse impact on our business and financial condition. Further, in terms of the BTA, our Company is also obligated to discharge an indemnity obligation to Resco for losses attributable to a breach of a representation or warranty under the BTA as well as non-compliance with applicable laws by our Company.

Similarly, the Assumed Legal Proceedings in relation to the EPC Business are to be transferred to Resco pursuant to the BTA, however, those litigations will continue to be disclosed as litigations involving our Company till the respective judicial and quasi-judicial forums pass an order to substitute our Company with Resco. While we have an irrevocable and unconditional indemnity from Resco in relation to the claims arising out of breach of any covenants under the EPC contracts or a litigation related to the EPC Business, there can be no assurance that Resco will be able to indemnify us (wholly or in part) for such claims or litigation and we may incur additional expenses and losses in connection with such matters.

3. We along with certain entities have provided security in form of pari-passu charge on our movable fixed assets, guarantees and a shortfall undertaking against the term loan facilities availed by Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“Resco”), and failure by Resco to repay such loan facilities, could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operation and financial condition.

We, along with certain entities have provided security including a shortfall undertaking, guarantees, and have hypothecated our assets against loans availed by Resco, which is one of the subsidiaries of our Promoter. We have transferred two term loan facilities with outstanding amount aggregating to ₹650 million (“Outstanding Amount”), availed from Arka Fincap Limited (“Arka”) (“Loans I and II”), to Resco, pursuant to the novation agreements dated December 28, 2021 and the business transfer agreement dated December 31, 2021. For details, see risk factor number 2 - “We have entered into a business transfer agreement by which we divested our EPC business to one of the subsidiaries of our Promoter, Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“BTA”), which imposes certain contractual obligations on our Company” on page 31. We have provided guarantees and have hypothecated and charged our movable fixed assets (excluding current assets) (“Hypothecated Assets”) in terms of the deeds of guarantee and the deeds of hypothecation, pursuant to the novation agreements dated December 28, 2021, against Loans I and II. In terms of the deeds of guarantee for Loans I and II, if the Outstanding Amount is not paid by Resco, our Company will be liable to pay the Outstanding Amount to Arka. In case of default by our Company, Arka can levy a default interest of 2% per annum on the Outstanding Amount which will have to be paid by our Company along with the Outstanding Amount and other applicable charges. Further, under the deeds of hypothecation for Loans I and II, our Company has undertaken to pay the Outstanding Amount and other relevant costs and charges due to Arka and the payment has been secured by the Hypothecated Assets. In case of an event of default, the Hypothecated Assets can be, inter alia, sold, taken over or disposed off by Arka.

Resco has also availed a term loan facility amounting to ₹3,250 million (“Facility Amount”) (“Loan III”) (together with Loans I and II, the “Loans”) from Credit Suisse AG (together with Arka, the “Lenders”). We along with certain other entities have hypothecated and charged our movable fixed assets (excluding current assets) (“Charged Assets”) in terms of the deed of hypothecation dated May 27, 2022 (“DoH”) and have provided a shortfall undertaking in terms of the deed of shortfall undertaking dated May 27, 2022 (“DoSU”), against the Loan III. In terms of the DoH, our Company has undertaken to pay the Facility Amount and other relevant costs and charges due to Credit Suisse AG and the payment has been secured by the Charged Assets. In case of an event of default, a receiver can be appointed by the security trustee to, inter alia, take possession and collect all or any part of the Charged Assets. In relation to Loan III, Resco and our Promoter have also hypothecated their assets. Further, under the DoSU, our Company and our Promoter have undertaken to pay the Facility Amount and other relevant costs and charges to Credit Suisse AG. In the event Resco is unable to repay the Loans, the Lenders may invoke the security, guarantees and/or short fall undertaking towards fulfilment of our obligations as per the terms of the documentation entered into with the Lenders, which could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operation and financial condition. Further, in the event Resco is unable to repay us the amount paid by our Company, in relation to the Loans, it could have an adverse effect on our cash flows, business, results of operations and financial condition.

4. The sale of services may decrease in the future.

As of June 30, 2022, our O&M services portfolio consisted of an aggregate 2,792 MW of wind farm capacity and 1,396 WTGs. Of the 2,792 MW capacity, 1,964 MW was attributable to our contracts for comprehensive O&M services and 828 MW was attributable to our common infrastructure O&M contracts. In general, our comprehensive O&M contracts cover the provision of O&M services to both WTGs installed on a wind farm and the common infrastructure facilities, such as electrical substations and transmission lines, which support the wind farm; our common infrastructure O&M contracts relate only to the provision of O&M services on the common infrastructure facilities. These contracts are typically entered into for a term of between five to 20 years, with certain contracts stipulating an option to renew for a further period of 25 years. For three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020, our revenue from operations were ₹617.88 million, ₹1,721.66 million, ₹1,722.48 million and ₹1,653.15 million, respectively.

A decrease in the sale of our services resulting from, for example, more of our customers electing to terminate their WTG O&M contracts or common infrastructure O&M contracts or both i.e., comprehensive O&M contracts, with our Company or decrease in the margins we derive from the sale of our services could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

5. The renewal rate of service contracts may decrease in the future and customers may move from comprehensive O&M contracts to common infrastructure O&M contracts.

We have experienced recent instances where a few large independent power producers (“IPPs”), which had entered into comprehensive O&M contracts with us, have opted to terminate such contracts to internalise their WTG O&M services and have entered into new common infrastructure O&M contracts with us in respect of the common infrastructure facilities supporting their wind farm. These contracts are for an aggregate of 828 MW, as of June 30, 2022. However, such terminations have not had any significant impact on our business since the new common infrastructure O&M contracts have higher margins as compared to the original comprehensive O&M contracts. There can be no assurance that such instances will not occur in the future and this could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

There is also a risk that our customers may not renew their service contracts or that renewal terms may be less favorable to us than our current contracts with them or that competition from other service providers may negatively impact the prices at which we can successfully contract for our services. Additionally, certain turbine manufacturers, may expand their service capabilities to be able to service turbines from our portfolio. Further, a decrease in the sale of our services resulting from a decrease in the rate of service renewal could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

6. Orders in our Promoter, Inox Wind Limited’s order book may be delayed, modified or cancelled, and letters of intent may be withdrawn or may not translate to confirmed orders.

As indicated in risk factor number 1, we are entirely dependent on Inox Wind Limited, our Promoter, for our business and as of June 30, 2022, Inox Wind Limited's had entered into binding contracts for supply and erection of 2 MW capacity WTGs for an aggregate capacity of 964 MW. Further, Inox Wind Limited had also received letters of intent, which are non-binding and which therefore may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract from various customers for the purchase of its next generation 3.3 MW capacity WTGs for an aggregate capacity of 524.7 MW. While the executed contracts may be considered "firm", cancellations or unanticipated variations or scope or schedule adjustments of these agreements may occur. Due to changes in project scope and schedule, we cannot predict with certainty when, or if the wind projects in Inox Wind Limited's order book will be performed and consequently result in generating revenue for us. Any project cancellations or scope adjustments, which may occur from time to time, could reduce the amount of Inox Wind Limited's order book and the income and profits that we ultimately earn from the successful completion of these contracts. Any delay or cancellation could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

Further, before entering into a binding contract with Inox Wind Limited, some customers generally issue letters of intent/awards which they can withdraw at any time before entering into an EPC contract. As such, issued letters of intent/awards may not lead to confirmed orders, which could impact our operations and financial condition. While we have not faced situations where letters of intent/awards to Inox Wind Limited have been withdrawn, we cannot guarantee that customers will enter into a definitive contract with Inox Wind Limited after issuing a letter of intent/award.

7. There are outstanding legal proceedings involving our Company, Subsidiaries, Directors, Promoter and our Group Companies.

There are outstanding legal proceedings involving our Company, Subsidiaries, Directors, Promoter and Group Companies. These proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various courts, tribunals and appellate tribunals. Such proceedings could divert management time and attention and consume financial resources in their defense. Furthermore, an adverse judgment in some of these proceedings could have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations and future cash flows. In the past, Inox Wind Limited, had entered into settlement agreements with various third parties. Due to extenuating circumstances, few of these settlement agreements resulted in further litigations with the corresponding third parties. There can be no assurance that such instances may not arise in the future.

A summary of the outstanding proceedings (including such criminal matters that are at a pre-litigation stage i.e. police complaints and matters that are currently either at the investigation stage or at the FIR stage) involving our Company, Subsidiaries, Directors, Promoter and Group Companies in accordance with requirements under the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Materiality Policy, as disclosed in this Prospectus, to the extent quantifiable, have been set out below:

[^]Based on the Materiality Policy

^{*}To the extent quantifiable

[#]The amount involved in all the proceedings (except claims relating to direct and indirect tax proceedings) does not include the interest component, if any, claimed in the respective proceedings.

The above is inclusive of certain criminal matters comprising cases that are at the pre-litigation stage (i.e., police complaints and matters that are currently either at the investigation stage or at the FIR stage) and some matters, cognizance of which has been taken by the court. In the event that such criminal matters which are currently at the pre-litigation stages get converted into a litigation, they could divert our management's time, resources and also consume financial resources in their defense. Further, we cannot provide assurance that any of these proceedings will be decided in our favour or in favour of our Directors, Subsidiaries or our Promoter or no additional liability will arise out of these proceedings. An adverse outcome in any of these proceedings could have an adverse effect on our Company, our Directors, our Subsidiaries or our Promoter, as well as on our reputation, business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

For further details of such legal proceedings and notices involving our Company, Subsidiaries, Directors Promoter and Group Companies, see "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" beginning on page 383.

We cannot provide assurance that these legal proceedings will be decided in our favour. Further, we have provisioned for probable liabilities, to the extent quantifiable, arising out of outstanding litigation. The amount of ₹2,368.48 million is reflected as contingent liabilities with respect to outstanding litigation, as on June 30, 2022.

8. We have certain contingent liabilities, which if they materialize, may adversely affect our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

As of June 30, 2022, our Restated Consolidated Financial Information disclosed the following contingent liabilities as per Ind AS 37 – Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets:

Particulars	As of June 30, 2022 (in ₹ million)
Claims made by contractors	435.44
Claims made by customers	1,210.21
Claims made by vendors in the NCLT	102.95
Income Tax related matters	0.92
VAT/ GST related matters	225.48

Particulars	As of June 30, 2022 (in ₹ million)
PBG to Solar Energy Corporation of India	371.88
Other claims	21.60
Total	2,368.48

The contingent liabilities as a percentage of our net worth as of June 30, 2022, was 29.79%. Further, our contingent liabilities may become actual liabilities and if a significant portion of these liabilities materialize, it could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. However, in the past, whenever our contingent liabilities have materialized, the same have been appropriately settled through the provisions made in our books of account. Furthermore, there can be no assurance that we will not incur similar or increased levels of contingent liabilities in the current fiscal or in the future.

Furthermore, estimated amounts of contracts remaining to be executed on capital account and not provided for (net of advances) as of June 30, 2022 were ₹98.46 million and the estimated amounts of capital commitment for setting up wind farm projects as awarded by Solar Energy Corporation of India as of June 30, 2022 were ₹32,119.28 million.

9. Adverse change in credit ratings assigned to us may affect our ability to raise funds for future capital requirements.

Our Company's term loans from IndusInd Bank Limited, HDFC Bank Limited and ICICI Bank Limited are currently rated AA (CE)/ Stable by CRISIL and our term loan from YES Bank Limited is rated BBB/ Stable by CRISIL. In the past, we have faced changes in the credit rating assigned to certain debt instruments, however the same were insignificant in nature and had no adverse impact on our ability to raise funds. Such debt instruments issued by our Company were rated by CRISIL Ratings Limited based on the corporate guarantee(s) provided by Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited, one of our Group Companies. These ratings were in the nature of structured obligations (SO) and credit enhancement (CE) based ratings. Changes to the same in the past three years are as follows:

Date	Long Term	Rating Watch/Outlook
June 3, 2022	CRISIL AA (CE)	Stable
October 13, 2021	CRISIL AA (CE)	Negative
October 7, 2021	CRISIL AA (CE)	Negative
September 6, 2021	CRISIL AA (CE)	Negative
August 3, 2021	CRISIL AA (CE)	Negative
October 12, 2020	CRISIL AA (CE)	Negative
September 24, 2020	CRISIL AA (CE)/ PROVISIONAL CRISIL AA (CE)	Negative
May 27, 2020	CRISIL AA- (CE)	Negative
September 7, 2019	CRISIL AA (CE)	Stable

Notwithstanding the above, any adverse change in credit ratings assigned to our Company in the future may impact our ability to raise additional funds and/or the interest cost at which we borrow additional funds and could have an adverse effect on our business and results of operations. Certain additional restrictive covenants may also become applicable on a part of our indebtedness in case of downward revision of certain ratings. Further, we cannot assure you that we will not tie any of our future indebtedness that have linkages to rating levels changes which may result in an increase in pricing, restrictions on debt and other actions.

Further, any change in the credit rating of our Promoter, Inox Wind Limited and its promoter, Inox Wind Energy Limited may also result in an adverse change in our ratings or the rating of our existing debt. Furthermore, any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ratings, the rating of our existing debt and the terms on which we are able to finance future capital expenditure or refinance any existing indebtedness.

10. The demand for wind power projects and consequently our services is dependent on the cost of wind-generated electricity compared to electricity generated from other sources.

The growth in new wind installations and consequently our services may not be as per industry expectations and there can be no assurance that such expectations or management estimates in this regard will be accurate. According to CRISIL, wind capacity additions of between 17-20 GW are expected between Fiscal 2023 and 2027. However, factors such as sustainability at low bid tariffs, adequate transmission infrastructure, continued delayed payments from state-owned discoms, poor bid response and slow tendering/ auctioning activities may act as restraints to such addition. In addition, there have been several technological innovations within the renewable energy industry which could lead to other forms of renewable energy, such as solar or bio-diesels, emerging as more cost competitive, thereby taking market share away from wind technology, adversely affecting the future growth prospects of the wind energy industry in general and our growth prospects in particular as an O&M service provider in this sector.

Furthermore, notwithstanding the climate change commitments made by various countries made at various global conferences, the cost of oil, coal and other fossil fuels is a key factor in determining the effectiveness of wind and other forms of renewable energy from an economic perspective. In particular, cheaper and large supplies of fossil fuels favor non-wind energy generation, while more expensive and limited supplies of fossil fuels would favor wind energy generation. Discovery of new and significant oil, gas and coal deposits or a decline in the global prices of oil, gas and coal and other petroleum products, could result in lower demand for wind energy projects, which could limit our potential for growth, adversely impacting our business and financial condition.

11. Our Company has issued preference shares to our Promoter which are redeemable on demand at any time within a period of five years from the date of allotment.

Our Company issued and allotted cumulatively 200,000,000 0.01% non-convertible, non-cumulative, participating, redeemable preference shares of ₹10 each (“Preference Shares”) to our Promoter on November 3, 2021 and December 31, 2021. For further details, please see “Capital Structure – Preference Share capital history of our Company” on page 93. The Preference Shares are not convertible to Equity Shares, do not carry any voting rights and are redeemable at par at any time within a period of five years from the date of allotment. Our Promoter, as a holder of the Preference Shares, has the right to (i) receive dividend in priority to the Equity Shares; (ii) receive a participatory dividend in a financial year in which the Company pays dividend to its Shareholders, at the same rate as the dividend paid on Equity Shares; and (iii) demand the redemption of the Preference Shares at any time within a period of five years from the date of allotment. In the event, our Promoter demands the redemption of the entire Preference Share capital and our Company redeems the Preference Shares, it could adversely impact our cash flow, financial condition and prospects. Further, in the event our Company is unable to redeem the Preference Shares, it could adversely impact our operations, business and credit rating.

12. Our Company has availed an unsecured inter corporate loan from our Promoter, which may be recalled on demand.

In terms of a loan agreement dated April 1, 2019, our Company has availed of a short term business loan (bearing an interest rate of 12% per annum) in the nature of an inter corporate deposit from our Promoter and as on September 30, 2022, the amount outstanding under this inter corporate deposit was ₹766.72 million, including interest thereon. The repayment of the unsecured loan is not an object of the Offer. Further, this loan can be recalled at any time by our Promoter. While no such instance has occurred in the past, in the event our Company is unable to repay such loan upon recall, an event of default could be deemed to have occurred, which could adversely affect our business and operations.

13. We have in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future, which may potentially involve conflicts of interest.

In the ordinary course of our business, we enter into and will continue to enter into transactions with related parties (including inter corporate loans to our subsidiaries). As mentioned above, we derive a large part of revenues from O&M services offered to WTGs supplied by Inox Wind Limited, our Promoter and largest shareholder. These services are offered pursuant to an exclusivity agreement between our Company and Inox Wind Limited, which is a related party.

While we believe that all such transactions have been conducted on an arm’s length basis, we cannot assure you that we might have obtained more favorable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. While we will conduct all related party transactions post listing of the Equity Shares subject to the Board’s or Shareholders’ approval, as applicable, and in compliance with the applicable accounting standards, provisions of Companies Act, 2013, as amended, provisions of the SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable law, such related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest. Our Company will endeavor to duly address such conflicts of interest as and when they may arise, however, we cannot assure you that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, may not involve potential conflict of interest which will not have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition. Furthermore, it is likely that we may enter into related party transactions in the future. While no such instance has occurred in the past, related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest which may be detrimental to our Company and may have an adverse impact on our Company. In respect of loans or advances that our Company and subsidiaries provide to related parties, there can be no assurance that we will be able to recover all or any part of such loans or advances which, if unrecoverable, may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, cash flows and financial condition.

14. Our Company has entered into related party transactions under which we are required to pay rent, interest and royalty to the concerned related party. We may continue to enter into such related party transactions in the future.

For the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020, we had paid an interest amount of ₹27.48 million, ₹393.48 million, ₹676.12 million and ₹643.34 million, respectively. These amounts were on account of inter-corporate deposits, debentures, capital advances and preference shares issued/ provided to us by our related parties, including from Inox Wind Limited, our Promoter. In addition, our Company had entered into a lease agreement with Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited, one of our Group Companies, and for the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 the rent paid to Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited was ₹0.38 million, ₹0.30 million, ₹0.29 million and ₹0.32 million, respectively. Further, our Company entered into a trademarks and copyrights license agreement with Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited on February 2, 2022 which requires our Company to make annual royalty payments of ₹0.20 million in arrear to Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited for the use of the “Inox” and “Inox GFL” trademarks. Based on this arrangement, our Company will commence such royalty payments on December 31, 2022. There can be no assurance that we will not enter into or continue with such related party transactions in the future and we cannot assure you that we might have obtained more favorable terms had such transactions been entered into with unrelated parties. While we will conduct all related party transactions post listing of the Equity Shares subject to the Board’s or Shareholders’ approval, as applicable, and in compliance with the applicable accounting standards, provisions of Companies Act, 2013, as amended, provisions of the SEBI Listing Regulations and other applicable law, such related party transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest.

15. An action by regulatory or statutory authorities against our Promoter or Group Companies in relation to their wind power projects or pooling sub-stations could have an adverse impact on operation and maintenance (“O&M”) services provided by our Company for the relevant wind power project and in turn on our business, revenue from operations and financial condition.

Our Company provides O&M services for wind power projects set up by our Promoter and some of our Group Companies. In case, an action is taken by regulatory or statutory authorities against such companies in relation to their wind power projects, it could have an adverse impact on the O&M services provided by our Company. For instance, a notice dated August 10, 2021, was issued by Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut Prasaran Nigam Limited (“RRVPNL”) to The Chief Engineer (LD), RVPN, Jaipur to disconnect the temporary connectivity of 152 MW wind power project (“WPP”) of Inox Renewables Limited (now Inox Wind Energy Limited) (“IRL”), one of our Group Companies, from its Dangri pooling sub-station. The said notice was issued to also recover an amount of ₹87.00 million, in the matter relating to IRL, for violation of the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Unscheduled Charges and Related Matters) Regulations, 2009. For further details on the notice issued by RRVPNL, related litigations and further developments, please see “Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments- Other Pending Litigation” on page 394.

Our Company provides O&M services for the WPP and such directions for disconnection of temporary connectivity could have an adverse impact on our business, revenue from operations and financial condition. We cannot assure that such actions, including directions for disconnection of connectivity, will not be taken in the future and in case such actions are taken, our business, revenue from operations and financial condition could be adversely affected.

16. The coronavirus pandemic (“COVID-19”) could have a significant adverse effect on our business and operations.

The outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic in India and internationally has resulted in significant disruptions in the global economy. In response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the governments of many countries, including India, have taken and may continue to take preventive or protective actions, such as imposing country-wide lockdowns, restrictions on travel and business operations and advising or requiring individuals to limit their time outside of their homes. For example, the GoI imposed an initial nationwide lockdown on March 25, 2020, during which temporary closures of businesses were ordered and numerous other businesses were temporarily closed on a voluntary basis. The GoI thereafter gradually lifted the lockdown in phases. The resurgence of COVID-19 in India in April 2021 led to further lockdowns in various regions of India and the temporary closure of various businesses. While lockdowns have been progressively relaxed, the scope, duration and frequency of such measures and the adverse effects of COVID-19 remain uncertain and could be severe.

During the period of the initial lockdown in India (mainly in the first quarter of Fiscal 2021), only companies providing essential services were allowed to continue operations. Power generation, transmission and distribution units and services were declared essential services by the GoI and, on April 4, 2020, the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (the “MNRE”) issued a memorandum confirming the “must run” status for all renewable energy plants in India remained unchanged. Accordingly, projects serviced by us continued operations during the lockdown period, during which we put in place measures such as social distancing and hygiene requirements, in compliance with new government restrictions implemented to combat the spread of COVID-19. Although India’s power demand declined as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak, and the resulting decline in commercial and industrial activity, we have not faced material disruptions to our cash flow or operations. Most of the customers we service provide energy to central government agencies and state distribution companies pursuant to long-term fixed-price PPAs, and there was no significant adverse impact on their commercial operations.

Although the COVID-19 pandemic has not led to major disruptions to our operations, there is no assurance that we will not, in the future, be required to suspend or terminate our services at some or all of the projects serviced by us as a result of the pandemic. While we and our customers have put in place precautionary measures, such as establishing temperature screening checkpoints, temporary medical facilities and isolation areas at all our projects, as well as establishing COVID-19 testing facilities for the employees deployed there, we cannot assure you that such measures or any other actions we have taken to mitigate the effects of the pandemic on our business operations will be adequate. Any further spread of COVID-19 and efforts to contain the virus could impact demand for electricity, reduce the availability and productivity of our employees, result in the GoI naming one of the areas in which we operate a “containment zone,” increase our cost of operations, delay payments from our customers and uncollectible accounts, cause delays and disruptions in the availability and timely delivery of replacement materials and spare components used in our operations, cause a deterioration in the credit quality of our counterparties or impact our liquidity, among other effects.

Any disruption to supply chains as a result of COVID-19 may also result in an increase in the price of components that we require to maintain and update our customers’ projects. While we have entered into supply contracts for components at fixed prices, there is no guarantee that our suppliers will continue to deliver on their contractual obligations, and any contractual claim we may have against them may be limited. Some of our supply contracts also contain mandatory price change provisions, which allow for an increase in pricing due to a force majeure event that substantially interrupts performance by the supplier. A significant increase in the price of components may increase our maintenance costs which we may not be able to pass on to our customers due to the fixed pricing mechanism in our O&M contracts.

The COVID-19 pandemic may also adversely affect our ability to raise additional capital or require reductions in capital expenditures that are needed to implement our strategies. We intend to continue to execute our strategic plans and operational initiatives during the COVID 19 pandemic. However, the aforementioned uncertainties may result in delays or modifications to these plans and initiatives, which could have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

While the COVID-19 pandemic has not significantly affected our results of operations for Fiscals 2021 and 2022, the extent of the COVID-19 pandemic’s impact on our operational and financial performance will depend on future developments, including the duration, spread and intensity of the outbreak, including the discovery of more transmissible variants such as Delta and Omicron, government responses to control the spread of the pandemic and the roll-out of vaccination initiatives, all of which are uncertain and difficult to predict considering the rapidly evolving situation. Additional measures required to plan for and manage the disruption caused by the pandemic may increase our working capital costs. Our ability to manage and plan for such disruptions may depend on our ability to source additional financial support, which is itself subject to uncertainties.

17. Technology failures or advancements could disrupt our operations.

IT systems are critical to our ability to manage our operations and in turn, to maximize efficiencies and optimize costs. In particular, we are able to monitor and control the WTGs parameters in real time through the use of software technologies such as AMSC's proprietary Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition system ("wtSCADA"). wtSCADA is a system of software and hardware elements licensed from AMSC that enable us to: (i) control WTG processes either locally or at remote locations; (ii) monitor, gather, and process real-time data from the WTGs; (iii) directly interact with devices such as sensors and motors on the WTGs through human-machine interface (HMI) software; and (iv) record notable events into a log file. With the data collected, we are able to provide our customers with up-to-date analytical data on the performance of their WTGs which can inform future performance of their assets. Any disruption in wtSCADA, on account of a failure in IT systems may have a material and adverse effect on our O&M services. Similarly, any inaccuracies or malfunctioning in the wtSCADA or any other business critical software, may result in loss of data and disruption in our business, which may lead to a loss in customers and consequently revenue. In addition, such faults may require repair by third party experts, which will entail costs and there can be no assurance that such issues will be rectified in time, or at all.

Further, our IT systems enable us to support other business critical applications, human resource management systems and automated software for order collection. While no such instance has occurred in the past, if we do not allocate and effectively manage the resources necessary to build and sustain the proper IT infrastructure, we could be subject to transaction errors, processing inefficiencies, customer service disruptions and, in some instances, loss of consumers. Furthermore, the schedule maintenance undertaken by us is based on the analysis of previous data. While no such instance has occurred in the past, any disruption or loss of such data may impact the maintenance services we provide to our customers which may adversely affect our results of operation and financial condition. Our IT systems, and the systems of our third party IT service providers may also be vulnerable to a variety of interruptions due to events beyond our control, including, but not limited to, natural disasters, telecommunications failures, computer viruses, hackers and other security issues. IT interruptions and system failures could have a material and adverse effect on our ability to realize the anticipated improvements in productivity and efficiency.

In addition, technological advances from time to time may result in our systems, methods or operating facilities becoming obsolete. Failure to keep up to date with such changes could result in our competitors having an advantage over us, which could negatively impact our financial performance and reputation. Any significant upgrade to or replacement of our systems could require considerable capital expenditure, which could affect our results of operations and financial condition.

18. The demand for our services is primarily dependent on the demand for electricity.

The demand for electricity in India is closely linked to economic growth and level of electricity penetration, especially in rural parts of the country. As the economy grows, economic activities, such as industrial production and personal consumption, also tend to grow, which increases the demand for electricity. Conversely, in economic downturns, activities such as industrial production and consumer demand decline or stagnate, causing demand for electricity to decrease. If the Indian economy or the economies of major international markets, such as North America, Latin America, China, Australia and Europe, do not grow, or if any of them enter a period of recession, or if there is an economic downturn (such as the one caused by the global financial crisis beginning in 2007), demand for electricity, including the demand for renewable energy sources such as wind energy, is likely to stagnate or decrease, thereby reducing the demand for our services. A significant and sustained economic downturn would have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

19. We are dependent on external suppliers for spares and components.

The success of our existing and planned operations will depend on, among other things, our ability to source sufficient amounts of spares and components at competitive prices for carrying out our O&M services. WTGs require certain components, which are specifically designed for application in wind energy generation. The type and configuration of particular WTGs also require specifically designed components. We source materials such as steel, glass fibre and epoxy resin for wind turbines, as well as several key WTG components (such as gearboxes, yaw bearing, pitch bearings, gear rim, slewing rings, brake callipers and castings, as well as nacelle cover, tower and generator) from third party suppliers in India and overseas. The quality of our service (and consequently, the efficiency in our customers' operations) depends on the quality of the spares and components used by us and the ability of our suppliers to timely deliver such materials. Suitable alternative suppliers who can meet our technical and quality standards, and who can supply the necessary quantities, may be hard to find in the event of a supply failure.

While no such instance has occurred in the past, the failure of any of our suppliers to deliver these spares or components in the necessary quantities, our ability to adhere to the service schedules for O&M services, or to comply with specified quality standards and technical specifications, could adversely affect our O&M services and our ability to service WTGs on time and at the desired level of quality. This, in turn, could give rise to contractual penalties or liabilities for us, loss of customers and damage to our reputation. In the past, we have been subject to shortages in the supply of certain key components, due to the inability of component suppliers to meet demand. Further, our O&M and common infrastructure maintenance costs from our top five suppliers for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 was ₹135.62 million, ₹189.79 million, ₹104.76 million and ₹110.53 million, respectively, representing 35.04%, 29.35%, 18.37%, and 19.15% of our total O&M and common infrastructure facility maintenance expenses, respectively.

We rely on equipment and machinery that are built by third parties and may be faulty or susceptible to malfunction. Although, in certain cases, we are entitled to be compensated by manufacturers for certain equipment failures and defects, and while no such instance has occurred in the past, such arrangements may not fully compensate us for the damage and loss suffered as a result thereof.

20. We have received certain complaints from third parties including in relation to alleged non-disclosure/ concealment/ misappropriation of facts in the Draft Red Herring Prospectus. There can be no assurance that any of these complaints may not be received in future or result in initiation of legal proceedings by any other third party or any statutory or regulatory authority against our Company, Promoter, Directors, Subsidiaries or Group Companies, an adverse outcome in any of which could have an adverse effect on our reputation, business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We have received certain complaints from various third parties including in relation to alleged non-disclosure/ concealment/ misappropriation of facts in the DRHP. While we have duly, adequately, and timely responded to each of such complaints received therein, as appropriate, there can be no assurance that we will not receive more of such complaints in the future. Further, we cannot assure if any of these complaints will not result in initiation of any legal proceedings by any other third party or any court or statutory or regulatory authority against us or our Promoter, our Directors, our Subsidiaries and our Group Companies. Such proceedings could not only divert our management's time and attention but also consume our financial resources in their defense. Furthermore, an adverse outcome in any of these proceedings could have an adverse effect on our reputation, business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations."

For further details about the complaints received on the DRHP, please see "Material Contracts and Documents for Inspection" on page 469, wherein we have included all the complaints that we have received on the DRHP till the date of the Red Herring Prospectus along with their respective replies.

21. We may be liable for penalties and other liabilities under our operation and maintenance contracts in case of any deficiencies in the services provided by us.

We may be required to pay damages, amounting to a certain percentage of the total order value, if the operation of the WTGs serviced by us are subject to defects or disruptions caused by our negligence. In particular, under our O&M contracts we are required to ensure grid availability, which requires us to safely and effectively transfer the power generated from the WTG to the pooling stations for onward distribution.

Any inability to ensure complete and adequate transfer of power from the WTG to the pooling stations may lead to an event of default under our contracts, including the imposition of penalties. In the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2021 and 2020 our customers had levied penalties/ liquidated damages of ₹7.25 million, ₹136.48 million and ₹3.00 million, respectively. However, no penalties or liquidated damages had been incurred Fiscal 2022.

While in most cases, the OEM provides various types of warranties and guarantees in relation to its products, including in certain instances, performance guarantees, upon the expiry of the OEM warranty period and during the term of our O&M contract, we are liable for ensuring adequate availability of the WTGs serviced and maintained by us. While no such instance has occurred in the past, if the products covered under our O&M contract develop any defects or fail to meet their usual performance levels, due to a deficiency attributable to us, we may have to pay warranty claims, our customers could terminate our services or choose not to renew our O&M contracts, resulting in a material adverse effect on our business, cash-flows, financial condition and profitability.

While we believe we have made adequate provisions for expected credit loss over the expected life of trade receivables, there can be no assurance that the provisions we have made and will make in the future will be sufficient to cover such situations. In Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 we had made provisions of ₹14.70 million, ₹3.46 million and ₹6.71 million, respectively. We have made no provisions for the three months ended June 30, 2022. In the event that such provisions are insufficient, the amount of claims arising from any cancellations of orders, deferrals or other unanticipated delays, which arise on account of our fault, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

22. We are subject to the risk of additional costs because of an increase in the prices of spares and components.

The prices and supply of spares and components depend on factors that are not within our control. The costs of spares and components required for the O&M services could rise due to factors such as an increase in demand or commodity prices or shortages in supply. Furthermore, increasing inflation in India could also cause a rise in the price of transportation, wages, raw materials and other expenses. If any of these were to happen, we may be unable to pass on these additional costs to our customers by increasing the prices of our O&M services and may be unable to implement cost-saving measures in other parts of our business. Where possible, we include price escalation clauses in our agreements with customers. However, these clauses do not comprehensively protect us from an increase in the price of all of our key inputs. These factors could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Furthermore, due to the ongoing COVID-19 situation, global supply chains have not yet recovered to pre-pandemic levels, which has impacted both our imports of necessary spare parts and components, especially in relation to spare parts and components required for major maintenance. While no such instance has occurred in the past, there can be no assurance on when these supply chain disruptions would normalize and as a result we may face delays in imports of spare parts and components. In particular, we and our third-party transportation providers have also faced, and continue to face, an issue of availability of vessels for the transportation of these spares and components. This non-availability of vessels has resulted in an increase in our freight cost. Consequently, the delay in transportation has and continues to adversely impact our O&M services to our customers. We are unable to assure you that there will be a resolution of these logistic issues in the near future. Furthermore, these logistic issues continue to increase our costs thereby affecting our results of operations and financial condition.

23. We reported a restated loss in past fiscals and may incur additional losses in the future.

We reported a restated loss after tax of ₹115.84 million in the three months ended June 30, 2022 which was primarily on account of O&M and common infrastructure facility expenses and finance costs incurred during this period. Further, we also reported a restated loss after tax of ₹931.98 million, ₹1,535.22 million and ₹522.64 million in Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020. This was primarily due to the losses incurred by our EPC Business, which has been subsequently transferred to Resco, one of Inox Wind Limited's subsidiary by way of a BTA on December 31, 2021. The BTA is subject to closing conditions. For details, see risk factor number 2 - "We have entered into a business transfer agreement by which we divested our EPC business to one of the subsidiaries of our Promoter, Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“BTA”), which imposes certain contractual obligations on our Company” on page 31.

Further, the loss attributable to the EPC business was ₹882.46 million, ₹1,257.93 million and ₹539.40 million for Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 are accounted for under discontinued operations in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information. Furthermore, our finance costs relating to continuing operations for the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 was ₹179.93 million, ₹548.02 million, ₹605.27 million and ₹529.83 million in finance costs and a part of the proceeds from the IPO shall be used to reduce our indebtedness. For further details, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations – Overview of Our Results of Operations Based on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information” on page 361.

We may incur losses after tax in the future. Further, our failure to generate profits may adversely affect the market price of our Equity Shares, restrict our ability to pay dividends and impair our ability to raise capital and expand our business.

24. We have incurred significant indebtedness and may be unable to service our debt obligations in a timely manner or comply with various financial and other covenants and other terms and conditions of our financing agreements.

As of September 30, 2022, we had outstanding borrowings (on a consolidated basis), including both fund based and non-fund based borrowings, of ₹ 10,649.98 million. Our total borrowings could have several adverse consequences, including but not limited to the following:

- a portion of our cash flows may be used towards repayment of our existing debt, which will reduce the availability of our cash flows to fund working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions and other general corporate requirements;
- our ability to obtain additional financing in the future at reasonable terms may be restricted; and
- fluctuations in market interest rates may affect the cost of our borrowings, as some of our indebtedness is at variable interest rates.

Many of our financing agreements also include various conditions and covenants that require us to obtain lender consents prior to carrying out certain activities or entering into certain transactions. Typically, restrictive covenants under our financing documents relate to obtaining prior consent of the lender for, among others, change in the capital structure, availing additional borrowings, amendment of constitutional documents, change in ownership or management control, changes in shareholding pattern and management set-up, change in the constitution/composition of the board of directors, any merger, reorganization, dissolution, scheme of arrangement or compromise with creditors or shareholders or similar action. Our Company sought relevant consents in relation to the Offer, from the respective lenders. We have made applications and obtained consents from ICICI Bank Limited, HDFC Bank Limited, IDBI Bank Limited, IndusInd Bank Limited, Catalyst Trusteeship Limited, Credit Suisse AG and Yes Bank Limited to permit the Offer.

There can be no assurance that we will be able to comply with these covenants and a failure to observe the restrictive covenants under our financing agreements or to obtain necessary consents required thereunder may trigger an event of default which, if not cured or waived by our lenders, may lead to inter alia the imposition of penalties, conversion of debt into equity, withdrawal or cancellation of our credit facilities, acceleration of all amounts due under such facilities, appointment of a nominee director on the Board, invocation of corporate guarantees and/or the enforcement of any security provided. Our future borrowings may also contain similar or additional restrictive covenants. Furthermore, during any period in which we are in default, we may be unable to obtain further financing or any refinancing of our debt could be at higher rates of interest with more onerous covenants.

A failure to redeem the NCDs or to make payment of any principal, interest or costs or other amounts on due dates can lead to an event of default under our financing arrangements. In the past, there have been certain instances of breach of covenants and delay in servicing or discharging the financial obligations (including payment of interest and/or other financial obligations) on the term loans and working capital facilities availed by our Company. However, these delays have been cured by our Company by making the payment towards such financial obligations and none of the lenders have declared the delay in payment as an event of default. While we have cured these delays in payment and while as on the date of this Prospectus there are no such breaches, there can be no assurance that we will not delay in making payment of interest and/or principal amount in the future and if the delay is considered or declared as an event of default, then the lenders can exercise their rights under the financing arrangements, including the consequences of events of default indicated above. Our Company has not violated any restrictive covenants in terms of its financing documentation and has not rescheduled the repayment of its debt in the past three fiscals. For further details, see risk factor number 47 – “Our Statutory Auditors have included two emphasis of matters and remarks in connection with the Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2020/ Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2016 in their report on our financial statements” and “Financial Indebtedness” on pages 51 and 380, respectively.

Any fluctuations in the interest rates may directly impact the interest costs of such loans and could adversely affect our financial condition. Our ability to make payments on and refinance our indebtedness will depend on our ability to generate cash from our future operations. While no such instance has occurred in the past, we may not be able to generate enough cash flow from operations or obtain enough capital to service our debt. Any of these circumstances could adversely affect our business, credit rating, reputation, prospects, future cash flows, results of operations and financial condition and lead to initiation of adverse actions by our lenders. Moreover, any such action initiated by our lenders could result in the price of the Equity Shares being adversely affected.

25. We rely heavily on the ‘Inox GFL’ brand name for our business, the dilution of which could adversely affect our business.

We are a part of the Inox GFL Group and we believe that we have benefited directly from such association which has helped us maintain a market recognition and reputation in India and continue to attract customers in preference over those of our competitors.

We believe that continuing to develop awareness of our brand, through focused and consistent branding and marketing initiatives, is important for our ability to increase our revenues, grow our existing market share and expand into new markets. We also believe the ‘Inox GFL’ brand commands strong brand recall in India due to its long presence in the Indian market and the diversified businesses in which the Inox GFL Group operates. Our use of the “Inox” and “Inox GFL” trademarks stems from a trademarks and copyrights license agreement which our Company entered into with Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited on February 2, 2022 and which requires our Company to make annual royalty payments to Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited of ₹0.20 million in arrear. Based on this arrangement, our Company will commence such royalty payments on December 31, 2022. While no such instance has occurred in the past, there can be no assurance that our brand name will not be adversely affected in the future by actions that are beyond our control including customer complaints or adverse publicity by any third party. Any adverse publicity involving the ‘Inox GFL’ brand may impair our reputation, dilute the impact of our branding and marketing initiatives and adversely affect our business.

Further, while no such instance has occurred in the past, our brand could also be harmed if our services fail to meet the expectation of our customers, if we fail to maintain our established standards or if we become the subject of any negative media coverage. Our marketing and business promotion efforts may be costly and may fail to effectively enhance our brand or generate additional revenues. Our failure to develop, maintain and enhance our brand may result in decreased revenue and loss of customers, and in turn adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

26. We may be unable to effectively manage our future growth and expansion.

For the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020, we spent ₹575.39 million, ₹2,410.96 million, ₹705.09 million and ₹3,006.99 million, respectively, on purchase of property, plant and equipment which included expenses incurred towards development of common infrastructure facilities. Our future growth depends, amongst other factors, on continued support from Inox Wind Limited, further expanding our customer base and consistent contract renewals with our existing customers. In addition to external conditions such as the general economic and political condition of India, our ability to achieve growth will be subject to a range of factors, including:

- strategic partnerships with existing and new partners;

- optimising our service portfolio and increasing our market share;
- competing with existing O&M companies in our markets;
- establishing our presence in new markets and territories;
- strengthening our existing relationships with our customers and other stakeholders;
- ability to secure financing for our working capital and capital expenditure requirements;
- expanding our sales network; and
- continuing to exercise effective quality control.

While no such instance has occurred in the past, our expansion plans and business growth could strain our managerial, operational and financial resources (including future cash flows). Our ability to manage future growth will depend on our ability to continue to implement and improve operational, financial and management information systems on a timely basis and to expand, train, motivate and manage our workforce. While in the past our personnel, systems, procedures and controls were adequate to support our growth, this may not be the case in the future. Failure to effectively manage our expansion may lead to increased costs and reduced profitability and may adversely affect our growth prospects. There can be no assurance that we will be able to achieve our business strategy of expanding into existing or new territories and expanding our service portfolio.

27. The operation of wind energy projects has faced opposition from local communities and other parties in the past and there can be no assurance that our operations will not encounter similar opposition in the future.

The operation of wind energy plants has faced opposition from the local communities where these plants are located and from special interest groups. Some of our customers have faced protests at their wind farms across India and a number of their WTGs have been damaged in the course of these protests, requiring expensive and time-consuming repairs. While WTGs in India are generally located in remote locations with minimal disruption to public life, there may be claims that WTGs cause noise pollution and are considered by some to be aesthetically unappealing. Furthermore, certain environmental organizations have expressed opposition to WTGs based on allegations that wind farms affect weather patterns, kill birds and have other adverse effects on the environment. In the past, we have also faced requests for local sourcing for both employment and machinery at the sites where WTGs have been established. Such requirements, including any legislation to such effect, may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

28. The wind energy industry is highly competitive, which could limit our ability to grow.

The wind energy industry is intensely competitive. Important competitive factors in the industry affecting us include performance of WTGs, reliability, product quality, technology, price, scope and quality of services, and training offered to customers. Although we have expended considerable resources on the design, development and delivery of our services, some of our competitors have longer industry experience and greater financial, technical and other resources, as well as larger customer bases and greater brand recognition. Some competitors may also be able to react faster to technological developments, trends and changes in customer demand. Our competitors may be willing and able to spend more resources to develop O&M services and may be able to provide comparable services faster or at a price lower than us. Furthermore, if our competitors consolidate through joint ventures or co-operative agreements with each other, or otherwise, we may have difficulty competing with them. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully against such competitors, or that we will not lose potential customers to such competitors.

According to CRISIL, since equipment providers offering bundled O&M services charge a service cost which increases the overall operating cost of the generation plant and thereby result in higher levelized cost of electricity, renewable energy developers may shift to third party O&M service providers post warranty to save costs or reduce the dependency on equipment providers. There can also be no assurance that we will be able to renew our O&M services contracts and not lose our existing customers. Additionally, increased competition in the market for the offer of services by other O&M companies as well as from renewable energy developers conducting in-house O&M services, could result in a decline in our market share and which may also intensify price pressure leading to a reduction in the margin we derive from the sale of our services. As mentioned in risk factor number 5, we have experienced recent instances where a few large IPPs, which had entered into comprehensive O&M contracts with us, have opted to terminate such contracts to internalise their WTG O&M services and have entered into new common infrastructure

O&M contracts with us in respect of the common infrastructure facilities. There can be no assurance that we may not face such similar instances in the future.

29. Our Promoter holds Equity Shares in our Company and is therefore interested in the Company's performance in addition to reimbursement of expenses incurred or benefits and its distributions as a shareholder.

Our Promoter may be deemed to be interested in our Company to the extent of Equity Shares held by them, as well as to the extent of any reimbursement of expenses, dividends, bonuses or other distributions and benefits on such Equity Shares. Further, they are also interested in us as we service the products they sell and our inability to maintain the WTGs effectively may result in them choosing a different O&M vendor, which may adversely impact our business, financial condition and prospects. Furthermore, we share a common brand and any erosion of brand value on account of any of their actions may also adversely impact us.

We cannot assure you that our Promoter will exercise its rights as a shareholder to the benefit and best interest of our Company. For further details on the interest of our Promoter, see “Our Management” on page 195 and “Our Promoter and Promoter Group” on page 212.

30. Our Promoter has extended corporate guarantees in connection with certain of our debt facilities. There can be no assurance that such corporate guarantees will be continued to be provided by our Promoter in the future or can be revoked at any time.

Our Promoter has rendered corporate guarantees in connection with certain of our debt facilities. While no such instance has occurred in the past, if any of these guarantees are revoked or invoked, our lenders may require alternative guarantees or collateral or cancellation of such facilities, entailing repayment of amounts outstanding under such facilities. If we are unable to procure alternative guarantees satisfactory to our lenders, we may need to seek alternative sources of capital, which may not be available to us at commercially reasonable terms or at all, or to agree to more onerous terms under our financing agreements, which may limit our operational flexibility. Accordingly, our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and prospects may be adversely affected by the revocation of all or any of the corporate guarantees provided by our Promoter in connection with our Company's borrowings.

31. We depend on the skills and experience of our senior management team, Key Managerial Personnel and employees with technical expertise for our business and future growth.

Our future performance would depend on the continued service of our senior management, Key Managerial Personnel and persons with technical expertise, and while no such instance has occurred in the past, the loss of any such persons and the inability to find an adequate replacement may impair our relationship with key customers and our level of technical expertise, which may adversely affect our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects. In particular, we rely on the experience and business relationships of our senior management and our other business and state heads. Should their involvement in our business reduce or should our relationship with these persons deteriorate for any reason in the future, our business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected. For details of our management and Key Managerial Personnel, see “Our Management – Key Managerial Personnel” on page 209.

The continued operations and growth of our business is also dependent upon our ability to attract and retain personnel who have the necessary and required experience and expertise. We cannot assure you that we will be able to retain these employees or find adequate replacements in a timely manner, or at all. Our Company's performance depends largely on the continued efforts and abilities of these employees. Competition for skilled personnel in the wind O&M services industry is intense, and we may need to offer a more attractive compensation and other benefits package, including share-based compensation, to attract and retain them. Even if we were to offer higher compensation and other benefits, there is no assurance that these individuals will choose to join or continue to work for us. The attrition rate for permanent employees was 5% for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and each Fiscals of 2022, 2021 and 2020, respectively. We may also require a long period of time to hire and train replacement personnel when skilled personnel terminate their employment with us. We may also be required to increase our levels of employee compensation and benefits more rapidly than in the past to remain competitive in attracting skilled personnel. Loss of the services of our permanent employees could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

32. We have issued Equity Shares during the preceding twelve months at a price which may be below the Offer Price.

We have issued Equity Shares in the last 12 months at a price which may be lower than the Offer Price, as set out in the table below. For further information, see “Capital Structure” at page 90.

Date of allotment of Equity Shares	Number of Equity Shares allotted	Face value per Equity Share (in ₹)	Issue price per Equity Share (in ₹)	Nature of consideration	Reason of allotment
December 13, 2021	4,027,779	10	80.64	Other than cash	Preferential allotment in lieu of repayment of debt owed to the allottees on account of receipt of materials/services etc. by the Company from time to time

The prices at which Equity Shares were issued by us in the past year should not be taken to be indicative of the Price Band, Offer Price and the trading price of our Equity Shares after listing.

33. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate.

We maintain insurance coverage for primarily for our plant and machinery. As of June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020, the aggregate coverage for our plant and machinery under insurance policies obtained by us were ₹5,135.00 million, ₹5,135.00 million, ₹4,995.00 million and ₹5,160.00 million which represented 51.66%, 53.88%, 65.34% and 66.82% of our total assets, respectively. We have obtained Erection All Risk, Industrial All Risk (both for common infrastructure and our WTGs) and Machinery Break Down insurance policies to cover the risks against machinery breakdown and fire. In addition, we also maintain a commercial general liability insurance for our operations. While we have not faced any issues with claims under our insurance policies in the past, there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time. In addition, not all risks associated with our operations may be insurable, on commercially reasonable terms or at all.

Furthermore, our insurance may not provide adequate coverage in certain circumstances and is subject to certain deductibles, exclusions and limits on coverage. For instance, since our O&M sites are on customer’s premises, they are obligated to maintain various forms of insurance as owners of the said premises and there can be no assurance that our customers would maintain such insurance which may impact our ability to offer O&M services. While no such instance has occurred in the past, to the extent that we suffer loss or damage that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, our results of operations and future cash flows may be adversely affected. Natural disasters in the future or occurrence of any other event for which we are not adequately or sufficiently insured may cause significant disruption to our operations that could have a material adverse impact on our business and operations. The occurrence of an event for which we are not adequately or sufficiently insured could have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and future cash flows. If we are subject to litigation or claims or our operations are interrupted for a sustained period, we cannot assure you that our insurance policies will be adequate to cover the losses that may be incurred as a result of such interruption.

In addition, our insurance coverage is generally subject to annual renewal. While no such instance has occurred in the past, in the event that premium levels increase, we may not be able to obtain the same levels of coverage in the future as we currently have or we may only be able to obtain such coverage at substantially higher cost. If we are unable to pass these costs on to our customers, the costs of higher insurance premiums could have an adverse effect on our financial condition. Alternatively, we may choose not to insure, which, in the event of any damage or destruction to our facilities or operations, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. For example, currently we do not insure against warranty claims by our customers. For further details on our insurance arrangements, see “Our Business – Insurance” on page 174.

34. The Proforma Consolidated Financial Information included in this Prospectus to reflect the divestment of our erection, procurement and commissioning business by our Company is not indicative of our expected results or operations in the future periods or our future financial position or a substitute for our past results.

In order to concentrate on the provision of O&M services, our Company entered into a business transfer agreement dated December 31, 2021 with Resco to divest and transfer the EPC business to Resco (“Divestment”). For details on the Divestment, see risk factor number 2 - “We have entered into a business transfer agreement by which we divested our EPC business to one of the subsidiaries of our Promoter, Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“BTA”), which imposes certain contractual obligations on our Company.” on page 31. Our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information for the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 included in this Prospectus present a theoretical situation to demonstrate the effects of the Divestment on our Company, including the results of operations and the financial position that would have resulted as if the Divestment had taken place at the earliest of the periods presented (i.e. April 1, 2019). For further details, see “Proforma Consolidated Financial Information” beginning on page 325.

Our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information do not include all of the information required for financial statements under Ind AS and should be read in conjunction with the section “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations – Basis of Preparation of our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information” on page 363, as well as the notes to our Restated Consolidated Financial Information and Proforma Consolidated Financial Information included in this Prospectus. Further, our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information were not prepared in connection with an offering registered with the SEC under the U.S. Securities Act and consequently, it does not comply with the SEC’s rules on the presentation of proforma financial information.

Accordingly, our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information included in this Prospectus are not intended to be indicative of our expected results of operations in the future periods, our future financial position or a substitute for our past results. Investors should not place undue reliance on or base their investment decision solely on this information.

35. Any failure or delay in the transportation and logistics arrangements entered into by us could have a material adverse effect on our business and operations.

We are dependent on third party transportation and logistics providers of various forms of transport, such as air, sea-borne freight, rail and road, to receive spares and components necessary for carrying out our O&M services. While no such instance has occurred in the past, such transportation and logistics may not be adequate to support our future or continued operations. Further, while we have not faced any material disruptions of transportation and logistical operations because of weather-related problems, strikes, lock-outs, inadequacies in road and rail infrastructure and port facilities, lack of or vaguely defined regulations or other events in the past, there can be no assurance that we would not be vulnerable to such issues in the future. All of these factors could adversely affect our ability to provide continued and effective O&M services to our customers and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial conditions, cash flows and results of operations.

In particular, we and our third party transportation and logistics providers have also faced, and continue to face, an issue of availability of vessels for the transportation of spares and components. However, while such delay in transportation has not adversely impacted our O&M services to our customers, there can be no assurance that there will be a resolution of these logistic issues in the near future and that we will be able to continue to offer O&M services to our customers without disruption.

36. Certain of our Subsidiaries have incurred losses in the three months ended June 30, 2022 and Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020.

Note: The above list comprises our Subsidiaries as at June 30, 2022.

In the event that these Subsidiaries continues to incur losses, our consolidated results of operations and financial condition will continue to be adversely affected.

37. We will continue to be controlled by our Promoter after the completion of the Offer.

After the completion of the Offer, our Promoter, a listed company will hold 54.07% of our Equity Share capital. After this Offer, our Promoter will continue to exercise significant control or exert significant influence over us, and such control includes being able to control the composition of our board of directors and determine decisions requiring simple or special majority voting, and our other shareholders may be unable to affect the outcome of such voting. Further, while no such instance has occurred in the past, Promoter appointed directors may take or block actions with respect to our business, which may conflict with our best interests or the interests of other minority shareholders, such as actions with respect to future capital raising or acquisitions. Thus, we cannot assure you that our Promoter would always exercise their rights as a shareholder to the benefit and best interest of our Company.

38. The viability and level of wind energy generation is dependent on wind patterns, which are not constant and vary over time and may be subject to increasing extreme weather conditions due to climate change.

The viability of wind energy projects of our customers is primarily dependent on the wind patterns at project sites conforming to the patterns expected or projected by such customers or previously recorded to determine the suitability of these sites for wind energy projects. While no such instance has occurred in the past, there can be no assurance that wind patterns at a particular site will remain constant or consistent with our and our customers' projections. A lack of appropriate sites with favorable wind conditions or changes in wind patterns at sites that have been previously identified as suitable for wind energy projects could impact the demand for O&M services. Therefore, unavailability of locations that are suitable for the wind turbines would have a negative impact on the requirement for our services and thus materially adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. For example, extraordinary wind conditions, such as severe storms, may increase due to climate change and may affect the viability and predictability of wind production, as wind turbines automatically shut down in such situations. This uncertainty may make it less attractive for our customers to invest in new projects.

39. Disruptions affecting our operations could have a material adverse effect on our business.

Our O&M operations are serviced from remote sites. While no such instance has occurred in the past, any significant interruption in our operations because of labour unrest, industrial accidents, floods, severe weather or other natural disasters could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. There can be no assurance that such events or natural disasters will not occur in the future and the occurrence of such events will have a material adverse impact on our operation and O&M service ability and capacity and therefore our financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

We also require power for carrying out our O&M services. While no such instance has occurred in the past, industrial accidents, natural disasters or other factors may affect our ability to procure the necessary power to provide our services. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

40. Our operations could be adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands by our employees or any other kind of disputes with our employees.

As of June 30, 2022, we had a workforce of 401 full-time employees and also employ contract employees from time to time and based on our requirements. For the three months ended June 30, 2022 and Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020, the average number of contract workers was 230, 231, 242 and 293, respectively. While no such instance has occurred in the past, we cannot assure you that we will not experience disruptions in work due to disputes or other problems with our work force, which may adversely affect our ability to continue our business operations. Any labour unrest directed against us, could directly or indirectly prevent or hinder our normal operating activities, and, if not resolved in a timely manner, could lead to disruptions in our operations. These actions are improbable for us to forecast or control and any such event could adversely affect our business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition.

41. We appoint contract labour for carrying out certain of our operations, and we may be held responsible for paying the wages of such workers if the independent contractors through whom they are hired default on their obligations.

In order to retain flexibility and control costs, we appoint independent contractors who in turn engage on-site contract labour for performance of certain of our operations. The demand for such contract labour is not fixed and varies in accordance with our requirements from time to time. Although our Company does not engage these labourers directly and while no such instance has occurred in the past, we may be held responsible for any wage payments to be made to such labourers in the event of default by such independent contractor. Any requirement to fund their wage requirements may have an adverse impact on our results of operations and financial condition. Additionally, we are also required to ensure compliance with provisions of the Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970, as amended, and we may be required to absorb a number of such contract labourers as permanent employees. As a result, any order from a regulatory body or court may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition.

42. We may be unable to protect our intellectual property or knowhow from third party infringement and we may inadvertently infringe the intellectual property rights of others.

We have made applications for registration of  trademark under various classes before the Registrar of Trademarks. In the absence of obtaining a registration of this trademark, we may not be able to initiate an infringement action against any third party infringing on our trademark. Further, with respect to our trademark application, we cannot assure you that no objections will be raised. There can also be no guarantee that we will be successful in such a challenge and nor can we guarantee that the application for registration of such trademark will be successful. As a result, we may not be able to prevent infringement of our trademark and a passing off action may not provide sufficient protection until such time that this registration is granted.

Further, we cannot guarantee that any unregistered intellectual property rights or our know-how, or claims thereto, will now or in the future successfully protect what we consider to be the intellectual property underlying our business, or that our rights will not be successfully opposed or otherwise challenged. We also rely on technical knowledge, industry data, operating expertise and market “knowhow” that cannot be registered and is not subject to any confidentiality or nondisclosure clauses or agreements. While no such instance has occurred in the past, if such know-how is leaked to third parties, this could erode our competitive advantage, which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition.

Furthermore, the 'INOX GFL' mark is common mark and brand that is used among various other companies within the Inox GFL Group. While no such instance has occurred in the past, any negative publicity in relation to the INOX GFL brand, including on account of adverse developments in companies which share the common brand, may affect our reputation and, which in turn, affects our ability to attract and/or retain customers which may adversely affect our business and results of operations. For details, please see risk factor number 25 - "We rely heavily on the 'Inox GFL' brand name for our business, the dilution of which could adversely affect our business" on page 43. Similarly, any negative publicity concerning the 'INOX' brand may also adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Although we believe that our services and proprietary information do not infringe upon the intellectual property rights of others and that we do and will have all the rights necessary to use the intellectual property employed in our business, there can be no assurance that infringement claims, including the possibility of substantial monetary claims, will not be asserted against us despite not having any such instance in the past. Such claims may force us to alter our services and technologies, obtain licenses or cease some significant portions of our operations. Irrespective of their merit, these claims could: (i) adversely affect our relationships with current or future customers; (ii) result in costly litigation; (iii) cause operational delays or stoppages; (iv) divert management's attention and resources; (v) subject us to significant liabilities; (vi) require us to enter into potentially expensive royalty or licensing agreements; and (vii) require us to cease certain activities, including the provisions of certain services. Furthermore, necessary licenses may not be available on satisfactory terms, if at all. All of these factors could have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

43. Our funding requirements and proposed deployment of the Net Proceeds of the Offer have not been appraised by a bank or a financial institution and may be subject to change based on various factors, some of which are beyond our control.

We intend to use the Net Proceeds of the Fresh Issue for the purposes described in "Objects of the Offer" on page 102. The deployment of funds is based on management estimates, current circumstances of our business and prevailing market conditions. The deployment of funds has not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. We may have to revise our funding requirements and deployment from time to time on account of various factors, such as financial and market conditions, competition, business and strategy and interest/exchange rate fluctuations and other external factors, which may not be within the control of our management.

Our Company, in accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors from time to time, will have flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds. Furthermore, pending utilization of Net Proceeds towards the Objects of the Offer, our Company will have the flexibility to deploy the Net Proceeds and to deposit the Net Proceeds temporarily in deposits with one or more scheduled commercial banks included in Second Schedule of Reserve Bank of India Act, 1939, as may be approved by our Board of Directors or IPO Committee. Accordingly, prospective investors in the Issue will need to rely upon our management's judgment with respect to the use of Net Proceeds and there can be no assurance that we will earn significant interest income on, or that we will not suffer unanticipated diminution in the value of, such temporary deposits. Furthermore, various risks and uncertainties, such as economic trends and business requirements, competitive landscape, as well as general factors affecting our results of operations, financial condition and access to capital and including those set forth in this section, may limit or delay our efforts to use the Net Proceeds to achieve profitable growth in our business.

44. We may not be able to derive the expected benefits of the deployment of the Net Proceeds, in a timely manner, or at all.

Our Company intends to use the Net Proceeds for repayment and/ or pre-payment, in full or part, of certain borrowings availed by our Company and redemption of Secured NCDs in full. The amount utilized to prepay / repay these loans will, therefore, not be available for investment in our business and will not result in any immediate increase in the value of your investment in our Equity Shares. Further, we cannot ascertain whether such initiatives will result in increased sale of our services or reduced expenses or have an equivalent monetary impact. Furthermore, a part of the Net Proceeds shall also be used for general corporate purposes and our estimates for the proposed expenditure are based on several variables, a significant variation in any one or a combination of which could have an adverse effect on our results of operation and financial condition.

The details in this regard have been disclosed in the section entitled “Objects of the Offer” beginning on page 102.

45. Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, working capital requirements, capital expenditures and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements.

Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend on our earnings, financial condition, future cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants of our financing arrangements. The declaration and payment of dividends will be recommended by the Board of Directors and approved by the Shareholders, at their discretion, subject to the provisions of the Articles of Association and applicable law, including the Companies Act, 2013. Our Company has not declared or paid any dividend on the Equity Shares in the last three Fiscals. We may retain all future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of the business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board and will depend on factors that our Board deems relevant, including among others, our future earnings, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. We cannot assure you that we will be able to pay dividends in the future. Accordingly, realization of a gain on Shareholders’ investments may depend solely on the appreciation of the price of the Equity Shares. There is no guarantee that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details of dividend paid by our Company in the past, see “Dividend Policy” on page 223.

46. Our Company will not receive any proceeds from the Offer for Sale portion, and the Selling Shareholder shall be entitled to the Offer Proceeds to the extent of the Equity Shares offered by it in the Offer for Sale.

The Offer includes an offer for sale of such number of Equity Shares aggregating up to ₹3,700.00 million by the Selling Shareholder, which is also the Company’s Promoter. The Selling Shareholder is, therefore, interested in the Offer Proceeds to the extent of the Equity Shares offered by them in the Offer for Sale. The entire proceeds (net of offer expenses) from the Offer for Sale will be paid to the Selling Shareholder in proportion to their respective portions of the Offered Shares transferred pursuant to the Offer for Sale, and our Company will not receive any such proceeds. See “Capital Structure” and “Objects of the Offer” beginning on pages 90 and 102, respectively.

Risks in relation to Auditor Qualifications

47. Our Statutory Auditors have included two emphasis of matters and remarks in connection with the Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2020/ Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2016 in their report on our financial statements.

Our Statutory Auditors have included an emphasis of matter in their report on our financial statements for the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020. The emphasis of matter in the audit reports are in relation to the impact of COVID-19 pandemic and how it may impact property, plant and equipment, revenue, trade receivables, investments and other assets in future years. Further, for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and Fiscal 2022 there is an additional emphasis of matter in relation to balance confirmations sent to banks and parties and these are subject to confirmation/ reconciliation. The subject of both emphasis of matters i.e. the COVID-19 pandemic and its impact on the Company as well as confirmation/ reconciliation of balance confirmations are currently ongoing. For details, see, “Financial Information” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations” beginning on pages 224 and 353, respectively.

In addition, our Statutory Auditors are required to comment upon the matters included in the Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2020/ Companies (Auditor’s Report) Order, 2016 (together, the “CARO Report”) issued by the Central Government of India under Section 143(11) of the Companies Act, 2013 on the standalone audited financial statements as at and for the financial years ended March 31, 2020, March 31, 2021 and March 31, 2022, respectively.

For a complete reproduction of the statements/comments included in the CARO Report, which do not require any adjustments in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, please see “Restated Consolidated Financial Information – Note 55 – Statement of Restated Adjustment to Restated Consolidated Financial Information” on page 315.

We cannot assure you that our Statutory Auditors' observations for any future financial period will not contain similar remarks, emphasis of matters or other matters prescribed under Companies (Auditor's Report) Order 2020, and that such matters will not otherwise affect our results of operations.

Risks in relation to Regulatory Actions and Regulatory Compliances

48. There are certain defaults/ delay in payment of statutory dues by us. Any further default/ delay in payment of statutory dues may attract financial penalties from the respective government authorities and in turn may have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and cash flows.

We have had instances of defaults/delay in the payment of certain statutory dues. Further details are provided below:

Name of Statute	Nature of dues	Financial period to which the amount relates	Amount of delay/default (in ₹ million)
Income-tax Act, 1961	Interest on tax deducted at source	Three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021, 2020 and 2019	59.92
Employee Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952	Provident fund payable	Fiscal 2022	0.02
Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948	Employees' state insurance payable	Fiscal 2022	0.02
Labour Welfare Fund Act	Labour welfare fund	Fiscal 2022	0.06
Building and Other Construction Workers (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1996	Building and other construction workers' welfare	Fiscal 2019	25.68
Professional Tax Act, 1987	Professional tax	Fiscal 2012 onwards	2.21

There can be no assurance that such defaults/ delay may not arise in the future. This may lead to financial penalties from respective government authorities which may have a material adverse impact on our financial condition and cash flows. For further details, see "Restated Consolidated Financial Information – Note 55 – Statement of Restated Adjustment to Restated Consolidated Financial Information" on page 315.

49. A change in, or elimination of, government initiatives and incentives relating to renewable energy sources, and in particular to wind energy, may have a material adverse effect on the demand for wind energy thereby affecting our business.

In recent years, the Government of India, has enacted legislation and established policies that support the expansion of renewable energy sources, such as wind energy, and such support has been a significant factor in contributing to the growth of the Indian wind energy industry as a whole. Support for investments in wind energy is generally provided through fiscal incentive schemes or public grants to the owners of wind energy systems, for example through preferential tariffs on power generated by WTGs or tax incentives for promoting investments in wind energy.

In addition, some state governments also prescribe specified levels of electricity that utilities are required to obtain from renewable energy sources. Furthermore, globally, there has been an increasing focus on reducing dependence on fossil fuels and cutting carbon dioxide emissions, leading to additional taxes being imposed on those sources of energy. Such additional taxation has indirectly supported the expansion of power generated from renewable energy and, in turn, the wind energy industry in general. These policies have encouraged many of our customers to increase their installed capacities and attracted players to establish new wind farm projects.

However, faced with high fiscal deficits, rising levels of public debt and increasing electricity prices, many state governments have recently sought to scale back or eliminate completely some or all of these government support systems. In the past, the decrease in, or elimination of, direct or indirect government support schemes for renewable energy, including wind energy, has had a negative impact on the market for wind energy. For example, in 2017, the Indian Government withdrew the accelerated depreciation and generation based incentives which, in turn, had a negative impact on the wind energy market in India. There is also the risk that any such decrease in, or elimination of, government support may be imposed retroactively by the Government, thereby increasing the impact on the market of any such policy reversals. In addition, policy incentives may be available for a limited period, and there can be no assurance that the validity of such schemes will be extended.

State governments in jurisdictions where we operate may introduce more attractive incentives for other forms of renewable energy, such as solar or bio-mass, which might affect the wind energy industry generally and impact our business in particular. If direct and indirect government support for wind energy is terminated or reduced in any state which is material for our business, or if the government provides greater support to other sources of renewable energy, our customers will find producing electricity from wind energy less competitive and consider switching over to other government supported renewable energy businesses. In addition, there is a risk that government policies could change in a manner that makes it less attractive for investors to establish captive energy generating facilities in general, and wind energy projects in particular. The results of such changes may include attracting potential investors and customers towards other forms of renewable energy to benefit from investment tax credit schemes on other forms of renewable energy. Any reduction in the growth of the wind energy sector would have a direct impact on our business.

50. We may be unable to obtain, maintain or renew requisite statutory and regulatory permits and approvals for our business operations.

In respect of our existing operations we are required to obtain and maintain various statutory and regulatory permits, certificates and approvals including approvals under various applicable central and state labour laws in force in India for our employees and also various shops and establishments registrations under the applicable provisions of the shops and establishments legislation of relevant states for our offices. While we have applied for certain licenses under both the respective legislations and rules made thereunder, notified by the central government and adopted with such modifications as deemed necessary by the respective state governments, applicable to us in certain locations in which we operate, of which some are currently pending and some may also be subject to intermittent applications for renewal. While in the past we have been able to obtain the relevant licenses, there can be no assurance that we will obtain such licenses in the future in time or at all and will not be subject to any penalty. We have also obtained GST registration under the Central Goods and Services Tax Act, 2017 and the respective State Goods and Services Tax Act, to the extent applicable. For further details, see “Government and Other Approvals” on page 397.

Failure or delay in obtaining or maintaining or renewing the required permits or approvals within applicable time or at all may result in interruption of our operations. Furthermore, other than in the ordinary course of business, there have been no instances where the relevant authorities have initiated action against us, restrained our operations, imposed fines/penalties or initiated legal proceedings for our inability to renew/obtain approvals in a timely manner or at all. However, there can be no assurance that such issues will not arise in the future. Consequently, failure or delay to obtain such approvals could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and profitability. If there is any failure by us to comply with the applicable regulations or if the regulations governing our business are amended, we may incur increased costs, be subject to penalties, be required to alter our services and/or procurement operations or otherwise suffer disruption in our activities, any of which could adversely affect our business.

These registrations, approvals or licenses are liable to be cancelled or the scope of our services may be restricted. In case any of these registrations, approvals or licenses are cancelled, or its use is restricted, then it could adversely affect our results of operations, future cash flows or growth prospects.

51. Our industry is subject to changing laws, rules and regulations and legal uncertainties, including adverse application of corporate and tax laws.

Our business and financial performance could be adversely affected by unfavourable changes in, or interpretations of existing laws, or the promulgation of new laws, rules and regulations applicable to us and our business. Please see “Key Regulations and Policies in India” on page 176. The regulatory and policy environment in which we operate is evolving and subject to change.

There can be no assurance that the Government of India and state governments will not implement new regulations and policies that will require us to obtain approvals and licenses from the Government and other regulatory bodies, or impose onerous requirements, conditions, costs and expenditures on our operations.

Any such changes and the related uncertainties with respect to the implementation of the new regulations may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and future cash flows. In addition, while no such instance has occurred in the past, we may incur capital expenditures to comply with the requirements of any new regulations, which may also materially harm our results of operations and cash flows. Any changes to such laws may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations, future cash flows and prospects.

Furthermore, the Finance Act, 2020, had, amongst others things, notified changes and provided a number of amendments to the direct and indirect tax regime, including, without limitation, a simplified alternate direct tax regime and that dividend distribution tax (“DDT”), will not be payable in respect of dividends declared, distributed or paid by a domestic company after March 31, 2020, and accordingly, such dividends would not be exempt in the hands of the shareholders, both resident as well as non-resident and are subject to tax deduction at source. The Company may or may not grant the benefit of a tax treaty (where applicable) to a non-resident shareholder for the purposes of deducting tax at source from such dividend. Investors should consult their own tax advisors about the consequences of investing or trading in our Equity Shares.

Another example was the introduction of national goods and service tax (“GST”) in India, which replaced taxes levied by central and state governments with a unified tax regime in respect of the supply of goods and services for all of India, resulting in changes to India’s tax regime. Importantly, in order for us to utilize input credit under GST, the entire value chain has to be GST-compliant, including us. While we are and will continue to adhere to the GST rules and regulations, there can be no assurance that our relevant counterparties will do so. Any such failure may result in increased cost on account of non-compliance with the GST and may adversely affect our business, cash flows and results of operations.

Uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy in the jurisdictions in which we operate, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current business or restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. Furthermore, if we are affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of laws and regulations or any related proceedings or are required to bear any costs in order to comply with such provisions or to defend such proceedings, our business and financial performance may be adversely affected.

52. Compliance with and changes in safety, health, employment and environmental laws and regulations may adversely affect our operations.

We are subject to a broad range of safety, health, employment and environmental laws and regulations in India. These laws and regulations require us to obtain and maintain permits and approvals, undergo environmental impact assessments, review processes and implement environmental health and safety programmes, impose controls on our air and water discharges, storage, handling, discharge and disposal of chemicals, employee exposure to hazardous substances and other aspects of our operations and services. Since our O&M sites are operated on premises owned by our customers, they are also required to ensure compliance with safety, health and environmental laws for all workers operating on their premises. However, while no such instance has occurred in the past, there can be no assurance that our customers comply in all material respects with all applicable safety, health and environmental laws and regulations.

Further, some of our O&M processes are hazardous and require us to comply with stringent safety standards. We have incurred, and expect to continue to incur, operating costs and capital expenditure to comply with such laws and regulations. While we believe we are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable safety, health and environmental laws and regulations, we could be affected by the adoption or implementation of new safety, health and environmental laws and regulations, new interpretations of existing laws, increased governmental enforcement of environmental laws or other similar developments in the future. Safety, health and environmental laws and regulations particularly in India are becoming increasingly stringent and it is possible that they will become more stringent in the future. The costs of complying with these requirements could be significant. The measures that we implement in order to comply with these new laws and regulations may be deemed insufficient by governmental authorities and our compliance costs may significantly exceed current estimates. If we fail to meet environmental requirements, we may also be subject to administrative, civil and criminal proceedings by governmental authorities, as well as civil proceedings by environmental groups and other individuals, which could result in substantial fines and penalties against us as well as orders that could limit or halt our operations. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Recently, the GoI has introduced four labour codes which are yet to come into force as on the date of this Prospectus, namely, (i) The Code on Wages, 2019, (ii) The Industrial Relations Code, 2020, (iii) The Code on Social Security, 2020 and (iv) The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 which consolidate, subsume and replace numerous existing central labour legislations. These codes are expected to replace the existing legal framework governing rights of workers and labour relations. While the rules for implementation under these codes have not been notified, we are yet to determine the impact of all or some such laws on our business and operations which may restrict our ability to grow our business in the future. For example, the Code on Social Security, 2020 aims to provide uniformity in providing social security benefits to the employees which was earlier segregated under different acts and had different applicability and coverage. Furthermore, The Code on Wages, 2019 limits the amounts that may be excluded from being accounted toward employment benefits (such as gratuity and maternity benefits) to a maximum of 50% of the wages payable to employees. The implementation of such laws have the ability to increase our employee and labour costs, thereby adversely impacting our results of operations, cash flows, business and financial performance.

External Risk Factors

53. Financial difficulty and other problems in certain financial institutions in India could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition.

We are exposed to the risks of the Indian financial system which may be affected by the financial difficulties faced by certain Indian financial institutions whose commercial soundness may be closely related as a result of credit, trading, clearing or other relationships. This risk, which is sometimes referred to as “systemic risk”, may adversely affect financial intermediaries, such as clearing agencies, banks, securities firms and exchanges with which we interact on a daily basis. Any such difficulties or instability of the Indian financial system in general could create an adverse market perception about Indian financial institutions and banks and adversely affect our business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition.

54. We may be affected by competition laws, the adverse application or interpretation of which could adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

The Competition Act, 2002, of India, as amended (the “Competition Act”), regulates practices and seeks to prevent an appreciable adverse effect on competition in the relevant market in India (“AAEC”). Under the Competition Act, any formal or informal arrangement, understanding or action in concert between enterprises, whether formal or informal, which causes or is likely to cause an AAEC is considered void and attracts imposition of substantial monetary penalties. Furthermore, any agreement among competitors which directly or indirectly involves the determination of purchase or sale prices, limits or controls production, supply, markets, technical development, investment or the provision of services or shares the market or source of production or provision of services in any manner, including by way of allocation of geographical area or number of consumers in the relevant market or directly or indirectly results in bid-rigging or collusive bidding is presumed to have an AAEC and is considered void. The Competition Act also prohibits abuse of a dominant position by any enterprise. If it is proved that the contravention committed by a company took place with the consent or connivance or is attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other officer of such a company, that person shall also be guilty of contravention and may be punished.

On March 4, 2011, the Government notified and brought into force the combination regulation (merger control) provisions under the Competition Act with effect from June 1, 2011. These provisions require acquisitions of shares, voting rights, assets or control or mergers or amalgamations that cross the prescribed asset and turnover based thresholds to be mandatorily notified to and pre-approved by the Competition Commission of India (the “CCI”). Additionally, on May 11, 2011, the CCI issued Competition Commission of India (Procedure for Transaction of Business Relating to Combinations) Regulations, 2011, as amended, which sets out the mechanism for implementation of the merger control regime in India.

The Competition Act aims to, among others, prohibit all agreements and transactions including agreements between vertical trading partners i.e., entities at different stages or levels of the production chain in different markets, which may have an AAEC in India. Consequently, all agreements entered into by us could be within the purview of the Competition Act. Furthermore, the CCI has extra-territorial powers and can investigate any agreements, abusive conduct or combination occurring outside India if such agreement, conduct or combination has an AAEC in India. However, the impact of the provisions of the Competition Act on the agreements entered into by us cannot be predicted with certainty at this stage. If we pursue an acquisition driven growth strategy, we may be affected, directly or indirectly, by the application or interpretation of any provision of the Competition Act, or any enforcement proceedings initiated by the CCI, or any adverse publicity that may be generated due to scrutiny or prosecution by the CCI or if any prohibition or substantial penalties are levied under the Competition Act, it would adversely affect our business, results of operations, cash flows and prospects.

55. Our business is substantially affected by prevailing economic, political and other prevailing conditions in emerging markets.

The Indian economy and capital markets are influenced by economic developments, political and market conditions in India and globally, including adverse geopolitical conditions such as increased tensions between India and China. We are incorporated in India, and our operations are located in India. Further, investors' reactions to developments in one country may have adverse effects on the market price of securities of companies located elsewhere, including India. Adverse economic developments, such as rising fiscal or trade deficit, in other emerging market countries may also affect investor confidence and cause increased volatility in Indian securities markets and indirectly affect the Indian economy in general. For example, the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict has caused a significant increase and volatility in the price of crude oil and impacted fuel prices in India. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and restrict our access to capital, which could have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and reduce the price of our Equity Shares. Any financial disruption could have an adverse effect on our business, future financial performance, shareholders' equity, and the price of our Equity Shares.

We are also dependent on domestic, regional and global economic and market conditions. Our performance, growth and market price of our Equity Shares will be dependent to a large extent on the health of the economy in which we operate. There have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. Demand for our services may be adversely affected by an economic downturn in domestic, regional and global economies. Economic growth in the India is amongst other things, affected by domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements, namely export demand and movements in key imports, global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates, and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Consequently, any future slowdown in the Indian economy could harm our business, results of operations and financial condition. Also, a change in the government or a change in the economic and deregulation policies could adversely affect economic conditions prevalent in the areas in which we operate in general and our business in particular and high rates of inflation in India could increase our costs without proportionately increasing our revenues, and as such decrease our operating margins. Further, factors that may adversely affect the economy, and hence our results of operations and cash flows, may include:

- increase in interest rates may adversely affect our access to capital and increase our borrowing costs, which may constrain our ability to grow our business and operate profitably;
- political instability, resulting from a change in governmental or economic and fiscal policies, may adversely affect economic conditions in India. In recent years, India has implemented various economic and political reforms. Reforms in relation to trade barriers have led to increased incidents of social unrest in India over which we have no control;
- instability in other countries and adverse changes in geopolitical situations;
- civil unrest, local agitation, acts of violence, terrorist attacks, regional conflicts or situations or war;
- India has experienced epidemics, and natural calamities such as earthquakes, tsunamis, floods, and drought in recent years; and
- contagious diseases such as the COVID-19 pandemic, the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine. A worsening of the current COVID-19 pandemic or any similar future outbreaks of COVID-19, avian or swine influenza or a similar contagious disease could adversely affect the Indian economy and economic activity in the region.

Furthermore, any perceived slowdown in the Indian economy or the economy of any emerging market, or in specific sectors of such economies, may also adversely impact our business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition and the price of our Equity Shares.

56. It may not be possible for investors outside India to enforce any judgment obtained outside India against our Company or our management or any of our subsidiaries or affiliates in India, except by way of a suit in India.

Our Company is incorporated as a public limited company under the laws of India and all of our directors and executive officers reside in India. Furthermore, all of our assets, and the assets of our executive officers and directors, are located in India. As a result, it may be difficult to effect service of process outside India upon us and our executive officers and directors or to enforce judgments obtained in courts outside India against us or our executive officers and directors, including judgments predicated upon the civil liability provisions of the securities laws of jurisdictions outside India. It is unlikely that an Indian court would enforce foreign judgements if that court was of the view that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy, or if judgements are in breach or contrary to Indian law. In addition, a party seeking to enforce a foreign judgement in India is required to obtain approval from the RBI to execute such a judgement or to repatriate outside India any amounts recovered.

India has reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters with only a limited number of jurisdictions, which includes the United Kingdom, Singapore, United Arab Emirates and Hong Kong. In order to be enforceable, a judgment from a jurisdiction with reciprocity must meet certain requirements of the Indian Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (the “Civil Code”). The Civil Code only permits the enforcement of monetary decrees, not being in the nature of any amounts payable in respect of taxes, other charges, fines or penalties. Judgments or decrees from jurisdictions which do not have reciprocal recognition with India cannot be enforced by proceedings in execution in India. Therefore, a final judgment for the payment of money rendered by any court in a non-reciprocating territory for civil liability, whether or not predicated solely upon the general laws of the non-reciprocating territory, would not be enforceable in India. Even if an investor obtained a judgment in such a jurisdiction against us, our officers or directors, it may be required to institute a new proceeding in India and obtain a decree from an Indian court. However, the party in whose favour such final judgment is rendered may bring a fresh suit in a competent court in India based on a final judgment that has been obtained in a non-reciprocating territory within three years of obtaining such final judgment. It is unlikely that an Indian court would award damages on the same basis or to the same extent as was awarded in a final judgment rendered by a court in another jurisdiction if the Indian court believed that the amount of damages awarded was excessive or inconsistent with public policy in India. In addition, any person seeking to enforce a foreign judgment in India is required to obtain prior approval of the RBI to repatriate any amount recovered pursuant to the execution of the judgment and we cannot assure that such approval will be forthcoming within a reasonable period of time, or at all, or that conditions of such approvals would be acceptable. Such amount may also be subject to income tax in accordance with applicable law.

57. Financial instability in other countries may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets.

The Indian market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, including conditions in the United States, Europe and certain emerging economies in Asia. Financial turmoil in Asia, Russia and elsewhere in the world in recent years has adversely affected the Indian economy. Although economic conditions vary across markets, loss of investor confidence in one emerging economy may cause increased volatility across other economies, including India. Any worldwide financial instability may cause increased volatility in the Indian financial markets and, directly or indirectly, adversely affect the Indian economy and financial sector and us. Significant political, regulatory and economic uncertainty remains about how the precise terms of the relationship between the parties will differ from the terms before withdrawal, and more generally, as to the impact of Brexit on the general economic conditions in the United Kingdom and the European economies and any consequential impact on global financial markets. In addition, China is one of India’s major trading partners and there are rising concerns of a possible slowdown in the Chinese economy as well as a strained relationship with India, which could have an adverse impact on the trade relations between the two countries. The ongoing Ukraine-Russia conflict, has contributed to rising rates of inflation in the current financial year, including in India. It has caused a significant increase and volatility in the price of crude oil and impacted fuel prices in India. In response to such developments, legislators and financial regulators in the United States and other jurisdictions, including India, implemented a number of policy measures designed to add stability to the financial markets. However, the overall long-term effect of these and other legislative and regulatory efforts on the global financial markets is uncertain, and they may not have the intended stabilizing effects. Financial instability in other parts of the world could have a global influence and thereby negatively affect the Indian economy. Any significant financial disruption could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operation.

These developments, or the perception that any related developments could occur, have had and may continue to have a material adverse effect on global economic conditions and financial markets, and may significantly reduce global market liquidity, restrict the ability of key market participants to operate in certain financial markets or restrict our access to capital. This could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations and reduce the price of our Equity Shares.

58. Significant differences exist between Indian Accounting Standards (“Ind AS”) and other accounting principles, such as International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) and United States Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (“U.S. GAAP”), which may be material to investors’ assessments of our financial condition, result of operations and cash flows.

Our Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020 included in this Prospectus are presented in accordance with Ind AS and restated in accordance with the requirements of Section 26 of part I of the Companies Act, 2013, the SEBI ICDR Regulations and the Guidance Note on “Reports in Company Prospectuses (Revised 2019)” issued by the ICAI. Ind AS differs from accounting principles with which prospective investors may be familiar, such as IFRS and U.S. GAAP. Accordingly, the degree to which the Financial Information, which are restated as per the SEBI ICDR Regulations and included in this Prospectus, will provide meaningful information is entirely dependent on the reader’s level of familiarity with Ind AS. Any reliance by persons not familiar with Indian accounting practices on the financial disclosures presented in this Prospectus should be limited accordingly.

59. If inflation rises in India, increased costs may result in a decline in profits.

Inflation rates in India have been volatile in recent years, and such volatility may continue. India has experienced high inflation relative to developed countries in the recent past. Increasing inflation in India could cause a rise in the costs of rent, wages, raw materials and other expenses. High fluctuations in inflation rates may make it more difficult for us to accurately estimate or control our costs. Any increase in inflation in India can increase our expenses, which we may not be able to adequately pass on to our consumers, whether entirely or in part, and may adversely affect our business and financial condition. If we are unable to increase our revenues sufficiently to offset our increased costs due to inflation, it could have an adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. Furthermore, the GoI has previously initiated economic measures to combat high inflation rates, and it is unclear whether these measures will remain in effect. There can be no assurance that Indian inflation levels will not rise in the future.

60. Certain non-Generally Accepted Accounting Principles financial measures and certain other statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance like Earnings Before Interest, Tax, Depreciation and Amortization, net working capital and net debt have been included in this Prospectus. These non-Generally Accepted Accounting Principles financial measures are not measures of operating performance or liquidity defined by Indian Accounting Standards and may not be comparable with those presented by other companies.

Certain non-GAAP financial measures and certain other statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance like EBITDA, net working capital and net debt, have been included in this Prospectus. We compute and disclose such non-GAAP financial measures and such other statistical information relating to our operations and financial performance as we consider such information to be useful measures of our business and financial performance. These non-GAAP financial measures and other statistical and other information relating to our operations and financial performance may not be computed on the basis of any standard methodology that is applicable across the industry and therefore may not be comparable to financial measures and statistical information of similar nomenclature that may be computed and presented by other companies and are not measures of operating performance or liquidity defined by Ind AS and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. For details, see “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations – Non-GAAP Financial Measures and Other Data” on page 373.

61. Natural calamities, fires, epidemics, pandemics, acts of war, terrorist attacks, civil unrest and other events could have a negative effect on the Indian economy and cause our business to suffer.

Natural disasters (such as cyclones, flooding, storms, tsunamis, tornadoes, fires, explosions and earthquakes), epidemics, pandemics such as COVID-19, acts of war, terrorist attacks and other events, many of which are beyond our control, may lead to economic instability, including in India or globally, which may in turn materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. Our operations may be adversely affected by fires, natural disasters and/or severe weather, which can result in damage to our property or inventory and generally reduce our productivity and may require us to evacuate personnel and suspend operations. Any terrorist attacks or civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic and political events in India or countries from whom we import our spares and consumables could have a negative effect on us. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the price of our Equity Shares. A number of countries in Asia, including India, as well as countries in other parts of the world, are susceptible to contagious diseases and, for example, have had confirmed cases of diseases such as the highly pathogenic H7N9, H5N1 and H1N1 strains of influenza in birds and swine and more recently, the COVID-19 virus. A worsening of the current outbreak of COVID-19 pandemic or future outbreaks of COVID-19 virus or a similar contagious disease could adversely affect the Indian economy and economic activity in the region. As a result, any present or future outbreak of a contagious disease could have a material adverse effect on our business and the trading price of our Equity Shares.

Risks in relation to the Offer and the Equity Shares

62. Our Equity Shares have never been publicly traded, and after the Offer, the Equity Shares may experience price and volume fluctuations, and an active trading market for the Equity Shares may not develop. Furthermore, the price of our Equity Shares may be volatile, and you may be unable to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price, or at all. Investors bear the risk of fluctuation in the price of Equity Shares and there can be no assurance that a liquid market for our Equity Shares will develop following the listing of our Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges.

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for our Equity Shares, and an active trading market on the Indian Stock Exchanges may not develop or be sustained after the Offer. Listing and trading does not guarantee that a market for our Equity Shares will develop, or if developed, the liquidity of such market for the Equity Shares. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares is proposed to be determined through a book-building process and may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares at the time of commencement of trading of the Equity Shares or at any time thereafter. The Offer Price will be based on numerous factors, as described in the section “Basis for Offer Price” on page 111. The market price and liquidity for the Equity Shares may be subject to significant fluctuations in response to, among other factors:

- volatility in the Indian and other global securities markets;
- our financial condition, results of operation and cash flows;
- the history and prospects of our business;
- an assessment of our management, our past operations and the prospectus for as well as timing of our future revenues and cost structures;
- results of operations that vary from those of our competitors;
- announcements by us or our competitors of significant acquisitions, strategic alliances, joint operations or capital commitments;
- announcements of significant claims or proceedings against us;
- new laws and government regulations that directly or indirectly affect our business;
- additions or departures of Key Managerial Personnel;
- changes in interest rates;
- fluctuations in stock market prices and volume;
- general economic conditions.

- problems such as temporary closure, broker default and settlement delays experienced by the Indian Stock Exchanges;
- the performance and volatility of the Indian and global economy;
- financial instability in emerging markets that may lead to loss of investor confidence;
- risks relating to our business and industry, including those discussed in this Prospectus;
- strategic actions by us or our competitors or business partners;
- investor perception of the investment opportunity associated with our Equity Shares and our future performance;
- future sales of our Equity Shares by our Company or our shareholders;
- variations in our quarterly results of operations or cash flows;
- differences between our actual financial and operating results and those expected by investors and analysts;
- our future expansion plans;
- changes in the estimates of our performance or recommendations by financial analysts or failure of security analysts to cover the Equity Shares after the Offer;
- the public's reaction to our press releases and adverse media reports;
- significant developments in India's economic liberalization and deregulation policies; and
- significant developments in India's fiscal and environmental regulations.

The Indian stock markets have, from time to time, experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that have affected market prices for the securities of Indian companies. As a result, investors in the Equity Shares may experience a decrease in the value of the Equity Shares regardless of our financial condition, results of operations and cash flows. The Equity Shares are expected to trade on NSE and BSE after the Offer, but there can be no assurance that active trading in our Equity Shares will develop after the Offer, or if such trading develops that it will continue. Investors may not be able to sell our Equity Shares at the quoted price if there is no active trading in our Equity Shares. A decrease in the market price of our Equity Shares could cause you to lose some or all of your investment.

63. The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and the Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

The determination of the Price Band is based on various factors and assumptions and will be determined by our Company and the Selling Shareholder in consultation with the BRLMs. Furthermore, the Offer Price of the Equity Shares will be determined by our Company and the Selling Shareholder in consultation with the BRLMs through the Book Building Process. These will be based on numerous factors, including factors as described under "Basis for Offer Price" beginning on page 111 and factors included in the Price Band advertisement, and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Offer. The factors that could affect the market price of the Equity Shares include, among others, broad market trends, financial performance and results of our Company post-listing, and other factors beyond our control. We cannot assure you that an active market will develop or sustained trading will take place in the Equity Shares or provide any assurance regarding the price at which the Equity Shares will be traded after listing.

64. The Offer Price of the Equity Shares may not be indicative of the market price of the Equity Shares after the Offer.

The Offer Price will be determined by us, in consultation with the BRLMs, through the Book Building Process, in accordance with applicable prevailing regulations. This price will be determined on the basis of applicable law and various other factors, as described in the section "Basis for Offer Price" on page 111 and may not be indicative of the market price for the Equity Shares after the Offer. The market price of the Equity Shares could be subject to significant fluctuations after the Offer and may decline below the Offer Price. We cannot assure you that you will be able to resell your Equity Shares at or above the Offer Price. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the Equity Shares will be sustained after this Offer.

65. Qualified Institutional Buyers and Non-Institutional Investors are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid, and Retail Individual Investors are not permitted to withdraw their Bids after Bid/Offer Closing Date.

Pursuant to the SEBI ICDR Regulations, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors are required to pay the Bid Amount on submission of the Bid and are not permitted to withdraw or lower their Bids (in terms of quantity of Equity Shares or the Bid Amount) at any stage after submitting a Bid. Retail Individual Investors can revise or withdraw their Bids at any time during the Bid/Offer Period and until the Bid/Offer Closing Date, but not thereafter. Therefore, QIBs and Non-Institutional Investors will not be able to withdraw or lower their Bids following adverse developments in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or otherwise at any stage after the submission of their Bids.

While we are required to complete all necessary formalities for listing and commencement of trading of the Equity Shares on all Stock Exchanges where such Equity Shares are proposed to be listed, including Allotment, within six Working Days from the Bid/ Offer Closing Date or such other period as may be prescribed by the SEBI, events affecting the investors' decision to invest in the Equity Shares, including adverse changes in international or national monetary policy, financial, political or economic conditions, our business, results of operations, cash flows or financial condition may arise between the date of submission of the Bid and Allotment. We may complete the Allotment of the Equity Shares even if such events occur, and such events may limit the Investors' ability to sell the Equity Shares Allotted pursuant to the Offer or cause the trading price of the Equity Shares to decline on listing.

66. Under Indian law, foreign investors are subject to investment restrictions that limit our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

Foreign ownership of Indian securities is subject to Government regulation. Under foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions), if they comply with FEMA, FEMA Rules and the pricing and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If a transfer of shares is not in compliance with such requirements and fall under any of the exceptions specified by the RBI, then the RBI's prior approval is required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India require a no-objection or a tax clearance certificate from the Indian income tax authorities. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms, in a timely manner or at all. As provided in the foreign exchange controls currently in effect in India, the RBI has provided that the price at which the Equity Shares are transferred be calculated in accordance with internationally accepted pricing methodology for the valuation of shares at an arm's length basis, and a higher (or lower, as applicable) price per share may not be permitted.

Furthermore, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT, the Consolidated FDI Policy and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares a land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country, will require prior approval of the Government of India, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. These investment restrictions shall also apply to subscribers of offshore derivative instruments. We cannot assure you that any required approval from the RBI or any other governmental agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all. For details, see "Restrictions on Foreign Ownership of Indian Securities" on page 442.

Additionally, the Indian government may impose foreign exchange restrictions in certain emergency situations, including situations where there are sudden fluctuations in interest rates or exchange rates, where the Indian government experiences extreme difficulty in stabilizing the balance of payments or where there are substantial disturbances in the financial and capital markets in India. These restrictions may require foreign investors to obtain the Indian government's approval before acquiring Indian securities or repatriating the interest or dividends from those securities or the proceeds from the sale of those securities. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all. Due to possible delays in obtaining requisite approvals, investors in the Equity Shares may be prevented from realizing gains during periods of price increase or limiting losses during periods of price decline.

67. Investors may not be able to immediately sell any of the Equity Shares they subscribe to in this Offer on an Indian Stock Exchange.

The Equity Shares are proposed to be listed on the Stock Exchanges. Pursuant to Indian regulations, certain actions must be completed before the Equity Shares can be listed and commence trading, including the crediting of the Investors' "demat" accounts within the timeline specified under applicable law. Furthermore, in accordance with Indian law, permission for listing of the Equity Shares will not be granted until after the Equity Shares in this Offer have been Allotted and submission of all other relevant documents authorising the issuing of the Equity Shares. The Allotment of Equity Shares in the Offer and the credit of Equity Shares to the applicant's demat account with the relevant depository participant could take approximately five Working Days from the Bid/ Offer Closing Date and trading in the Equity Shares upon receipt of final listing and trading approvals from the Stock Exchanges is expected to commence within six Working Days of the Bid/ Offer Closing Date. There could be failure or delay in listing of the Equity Shares on the Stock Exchanges. Any failure or delay in obtaining the approvals or otherwise commence trading in the Equity Shares would restrict investors' ability to dispose of their Equity Shares. We cannot assure you that the Equity Shares will be credited to investors' demat accounts, or that trading in the Equity Shares will commence, within the prescribed time periods or at all which could restrict your ability to dispose of the Equity Shares. We could also be required to pay interest at the applicable rates if allotment is not made, refund orders are not dispatched or demat credits are not made to investors within the prescribed time periods.

68. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby may suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

Under the Companies Act, a public company incorporated in India must offer its holders of equity shares pre-emptive rights to subscribe and pay for a proportionate number of equity shares to maintain their existing ownership percentages before the issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by adoption of a special resolution. However, if the laws of the jurisdiction the investors are located in, do not permit them to exercise their pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such jurisdiction, the investors will be unable to exercise their pre-emptive rights unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for the investor's benefit. The value the custodian receives on the sale of such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. In addition, to the extent that the investors are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of the Equity Shares held by them, their proportional interest in our Company would be diluted.

69. Any future issuance of Equity Shares, or convertible securities or other equity-linked securities by us may dilute your shareholding and any sales of the Equity Shares by our major shareholders may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

We may be required to finance our growth, whether organic or inorganic, through future equity offerings. Any future equity issuances by us, including a primary offering, may lead to the dilution of investors' shareholdings in us. Any future issuances of Equity Shares, convertible securities or securities linked to the Equity Shares by us, including through exercise of employee stock options, if any, issued by us in future or the disposal of Equity Shares by our major shareholders or the perception that such issuance or sales may occur, including to comply with the minimum public shareholding norms applicable to listed companies in India may adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares, which may lead to other adverse consequences including difficulty in raising capital through offering of the Equity Shares or incurring additional debt. There can be no assurance that we will not issue further Equity Shares or that the shareholders will not dispose of the Equity Shares. Any future issuances could also dilute the value of your investment in the Equity Shares. In addition, any perception by investors that such issuances or sales might occur may also affect the market price of the Equity Shares. There can also be no assurance that any substantial shareholder, including our Promoter will not dispose of, encumber, or pledge their Shares or related securities which may also adversely affect the trading price of the Equity Shares.

70. Investors may be subject to Indian taxes arising out of capital gains on the sale of the Equity Shares and stamp duty payable on such sale.

Under current Indian tax laws, unless specifically exempted, capital gains arising from the sale of equity shares in an Indian company are generally taxable in India. The Income-tax Act, 1961 levies taxes on such long-term capital gains exceeding ₹100,000 arising from sale of equity shares on or after April 1, 2018, while continuing to exempt the unrealized capital gains earned up to January 31, 2018 on such equity shares subject to specific conditions. Accordingly, you may be subject to payment of long-term capital gains tax in India, in addition to payment of a securities transaction tax (“STT”), on the sale of any Equity Shares held for more than 12 months. STT will be levied on and collected by a domestic stock exchange on which the Equity Shares are sold. Any gain realized on the sale of Equity Shares held for more than 12 months, which are sold other than on a recognized stock exchange and on which no STT has been paid, will be subject to long term capital gains tax in India.

Furthermore, any gain realized on the sale of listed equity shares held for a period of 12 months or less will be subject to short term capital gains tax in India. Capital gains arising from the sale of the Equity Shares will be exempt from taxation in India in cases where the exemption from taxation in India is provided under a treaty between India and the country of which the seller is resident. Generally, Indian tax treaties do not limit India’s ability to impose tax on capital gains. As a result, residents of other countries may be liable for tax in India as well as in their own jurisdiction on a gain upon the sale of the Equity Shares.

The Government of India had announced the union budget for Fiscal 2023 and the Finance Bill, 2022 (“Finance Bill”) was introduced in the Lok Sabha on February 1, 2022. Subsequently, the Finance Bill received assent of the President of India on March 30, 2022 and became the Finance Act, 2022 (“Finance Act”). The Finance Act, has, among other things, provided a number of amendments to the direct and indirect tax regime. Investors should consult their own tax advisors about the consequences of investing or trading in the Equity Shares. There is no certainty on the impact that the Finance Act may have on our business and operations or on the industry in which we operate. We cannot predict whether any amendments made pursuant to the Finance Act would have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition, future cash flows and results of operations. Unfavourable changes in or interpretations of existing, or the promulgation of new, laws, rules and regulations including foreign investment and stamp duty laws governing our business and operations could result in us being deemed to be in contravention of such laws and may require us to apply for additional approvals. For instance, the Supreme Court of India has in a decision clarified the components of basic wages which need to be considered by companies while making provident fund payments, which resulted in an increase in the provident fund payments to be made by companies. Any such decisions in future or any further changes in interpretation of laws may have an impact on our results of operations.

Earlier, the Finance Act, 2019 amended the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 with effect from July 1, 2020 clarified that in the absence of a specific provision under an agreement, the liability to pay stamp duty in case of sale of securities through stock exchanges will be on the buyer, while in other cases of transfer for consideration through a depository, the onus will be on the transferor. The stamp duty for transfer of securities other than debentures, on a delivery basis is specified at 0.015% and on a non-delivery basis is specified at 0.003% of the consideration amount. Thus, uncertainty in the applicability, interpretation or implementation of any amendment to, or change in, governing law, regulation or policy, including by reason of an absence, or a limited body, of administrative or judicial precedent may be time consuming as well as costly for us to resolve and may impact the viability of our current businesses or restrict our ability to grow our businesses in the future.

Furthermore, our Company cannot predict whether any tax laws or other regulations impacting it will be enacted or predict the nature and impact of any such laws or regulations or whether, if at all, any laws or regulations would have a material adverse effect the Company’s business, results of operations, future cash flows and financial condition.

71. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of our Company because of anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may delay, deter or prevent a future takeover or change in control of our Company, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Such provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving actual or threatened change in control of our Company. Under the SEBI Takeover Regulations, an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. Although these provisions have been formulated to ensure that interests of investors/shareholders are protected, these provisions may also discourage a third party from attempting to take control of our Company. Consequently, even if a potential takeover of our Company would result in the purchase of the Equity Shares at a premium to their market price or would otherwise be beneficial to its stakeholders, it is possible that such a takeover would not be attempted or consummated because of the SEBI Takeover Regulations.

72. Rights of shareholders of companies under Indian law may be more limited than under the laws of other jurisdictions.

Our Articles of Association, composition of our Board, Indian laws governing our corporate affairs, the validity of corporate procedures, directors' fiduciary duties, responsibilities and liabilities, and shareholders' rights may differ from those that would apply to a company in another jurisdiction. Shareholders' rights under Indian law may not be as extensive and widespread as shareholders' rights under the laws of other countries or jurisdictions. Investors may face challenges in asserting their rights as shareholder in an Indian company than as a shareholder of an entity in another jurisdiction.

Details of objects of the Offer

I. Repayment and/or pre-payment of certain borrowings, in full or part, availed by our Company including redemption of Secured NCDs in full

As on September 30, 2022, our total outstanding fund-based borrowings (on a consolidated basis) amounted to ₹ 7,204.74 million. Our Company proposes to utilise an estimated amount of ₹ 1,800 million from the Net

Proceeds towards full or partial repayment or pre-payment of certain borrowings (excluding Secured NCDs) availed from the lenders by our Company and ₹800 million out of the Net Proceeds towards the scheduled redemption of Secured NCDs.

(i) Repayment and/or pre-payment of certain borrowings, in full or part, availed by our Company

Our Company has entered into various financial arrangements from time to time, with banks, financial institutions and other entities. The loan facilities availed by our Company include borrowing in the form of, inter alia, term loans and working capital facilities from various lenders. For further details, see “Financial Indebtedness” on page 380. Our Company proposes to utilise an estimated amount of ₹1,800 million from the Net Proceeds towards full or partial repayment or pre-payment of certain borrowings (excluding Secured NCDs), listed below, availed from the lenders by our Company. Pursuant to the terms of the financing arrangements, prepayment of certain borrowings may attract prepayment charges as prescribed by the respective lender. Such prepayment charges, as applicable, will be funded from the internal accruals of our Company.

Given the nature of these borrowings and the terms of repayment or prepayment, the aggregate outstanding amounts under these borrowings may vary from time to time and our Company may, in accordance with the relevant repayment schedule, repay or refinance some of their existing borrowings prior to Allotment. Our Company has availed certain loans from the lenders after the date of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus and may avail further loans from the lenders after the date of this Prospectus. Accordingly, our Company may utilise the Net Proceeds for part prepayment of any such refinanced facilities or repayment of any additional facilities obtained by our Company. However, the aggregate amount to be utilised from the Net Proceeds towards prepayment or repayment of certain borrowings (including refinanced or additional facilities availed, if any and excluding outstanding Secured NCDs), in part or full, would not exceed ₹1,800 million. We believe that such repayment/ pre-payment will help reduce our outstanding indebtedness, debt servicing costs, assist us in maintaining a favourable debt to equity ratio and enable utilisation of our internal accruals for further investment in our business growth and expansion. Additionally, we believe that the leverage capacity of our Company will improve our ability to raise further resources in the future to fund our potential business development opportunities and plans to grow and expand our business.

For the list of the borrowings availed by our Company (excluding Secured NCDs), which are proposed to be fully or partially repaid or pre-paid from the Net Proceeds, please refer to the table below.

Accordingly, we do not believe that there is any conflict of interest in terms of the SEBI Merchant Bankers Regulations, as amended, or any other applicable SEBI regulations.

Our Company may consider the following factors for identifying the loans (excluding Secured NCDs) that will be repaid out of the Net Proceeds:

Review of India’s economy

India’s gross domestic product (“GDP”) shrank 6.6% in fiscal 2021. As per the data released by the National Statistical Office (NSO), real GDP at Constant (2011-12) Prices in fiscal 2022 reached ₹147.4 lakh crore, as against the First Revised Estimate of GDP for fiscal 2021 of ₹135.6 lakh crore, which was published on January 31, 2022. The growth in GDP during fiscal 2022 was 8.7% as compared to a contraction of 6.6% in fiscal 2021.

In fiscal 2021, the Indian economy contracted 6.6% as per the NSO’s First Revised Estimate of GDP amid challenges heaped by the COVID-19 pandemic in the first half of fiscal 2021. The economy turned positive in the second half of the fiscal year, with fourth quarter GDP estimated to post a mild 1.6% uptick. However, a fierce second wave of the pandemic in the first quarter of fiscal 2022 once again buffeted the economy. While the lockdowns during this period were localized across the various states, it nevertheless took a toll on the economy. With a relaxation in COVID-19 induced restrictions, GDP at Constant (2011-12) Prices in Q4 of fiscal 2022 was ₹40.8 lakh crore, which, compared against ₹39.2 lakh crore in Q4 of fiscal 2021, shows growth of 4.1%.

That said, favorable demographics are expected to benefit the country’s long-term trajectory. Of the country’s 1.4 billion people, approximately 67.4% were in the working age group of 15-64 years, as of fiscal 2019 (Source: World Bank). In fact, India’s working population is more than the total population of Russia, Brazil and the US. A growing working population is expected to drive consumption over the long term.

Contact intensive services still feel the pinch

India’s real GDP grew at 8.7% in fiscal 2022, compared with 8.9% estimated as per the second advance estimates released by the NSO in February 2022. This is largely a reflection of a higher base (as the economy had shrunk 6.6% in fiscal 2021, less than 7.3% previously estimated). In fact, the real GDP in absolute terms for fiscal 2022 was ₹147.4 trillion was marginally lower than the ₹147.7 trillion estimated earlier in February 2022, suggesting that the downside from the Omicron variant of COVID-19 has proven to be mild so far. But it is also noteworthy that given the large output loss in fiscal 2021, GDP is still only 1.5% above the pre-pandemic (fiscal 2020) level.

While the overall size of GDP in fiscal 2022 is slightly better than that recorded in fiscal 2021, there has been a noteworthy compositional change. Private final consumption expenditure (PFCE) – the largest demand-side driver – which was hitherto estimated to be lagging the pre-pandemic level, recovered some of the lost ground. At ₹83.8 trillion in fiscal 2022, PFCE is now 1.4% above the fiscal 2020 level of ₹82.6 trillion. Given that PFCE growth still trails overall GDP growth, its share in GDP is marginally lower than that in fiscal 2020, led by a sharp slowdown in PFCE growth (to 1.8% in Q4 from 7.4% in Q3) suggesting that consumption recovery is expected to be gradual because of headwinds such as high inflation and limited direct support from the Government.

Meanwhile, other demand-side drivers, such as Government consumption expenditure, investment and exports, did well in fiscal 2022. While Government consumption continued to grow during both the pandemic years, the latter two returned to positive territory in fiscal 2022, after having declined in fiscal 2021. Exports, in particular, have done well and in fiscal 2022 were at 12.8% above the pre-pandemic level in real terms.

On the supply side, performance of the manufacturing sector stands out. At 9.8%, manufacturing GDP has grown the most compared with other supply-side components to above the pre-pandemic level (for fiscal 2022 over fiscal 2020). To some extent, this is a reflection of sharper focus on goods, and away from services, due to the pandemic. The latter, especially the contact-intensive ones, are still reeling under the impact of the pandemic, trailing 11.3% below the fiscal 2020 levels. Agriculture experienced a slight decline in growth from 3.3% in fiscal 2021 to 3.0% in fiscal 2022.

Agriculture maintained a robust performance (with real growth rising to 4.1% in Q4 from 2.5% in Q3), despite some negative impact of heat waves on crop output to an extent. Healthy growth in contact-intensive services also provided support to overall supply-side growth in Q4. These services, such as trade and hotels finally crossed the pre-pandemic mark (₹ 7.30 lakh crore in Q4 of fiscal 2020), growing 5.3% on-year in Q4 of fiscal 2022. That said, for full fiscal 2022 these were still 11.3% below pre-pandemic i.e., fiscal 2020 level which means greater resumption of these activities would provide a positive spin to growth this fiscal. On the other hand, the manufacturing sector contracted 0.2% on-year in Q4 (from 0.3% in Q3), largely reflecting a sharp rise in input prices owing to the surge in international commodity prices and supply disruptions due to the Russia-Ukraine war.

Going forward, growth for fiscal 2023 is hampered by multiple risks. As central banks in major economies withdraw easy monetary policies to tackle escalating inflation, global growth is estimated to be slow. Further, high commodity prices, particularly oil, translates to negative terms of trade shock for India. Revival in consumption is impacted by higher and broad-based inflation. Higher input prices may result in reduced government capex, which has already seen fiscal space shrink with attention shifting to tackling rising inflation. The forecast of a normal monsoon brings respite to the country's economy, in addition to gaining momentum in contact-intensive services.

With the third wave of COVID-19 (which had minimal economic impact) behind us, CRISIL Research foresees fewer supply disruptions from COVID-19 and a fuller resumption of services activity in fiscal 2023. As a result, contact-intensive services, which still trail the pre-pandemic levels of fiscal 2020, could start contributing favorably to growth. But slower global growth and high commodity prices, especially that of oil, if sustained due to the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict could put downward pressure on growth. The May 31 data of provisional estimate of GDP growth for fiscal 2023 also remains a monitorable. For now, CRISIL Research maintains its real GDP growth projection for fiscal 2023 at 7.3%, with downside risks.

Per capita power consumption

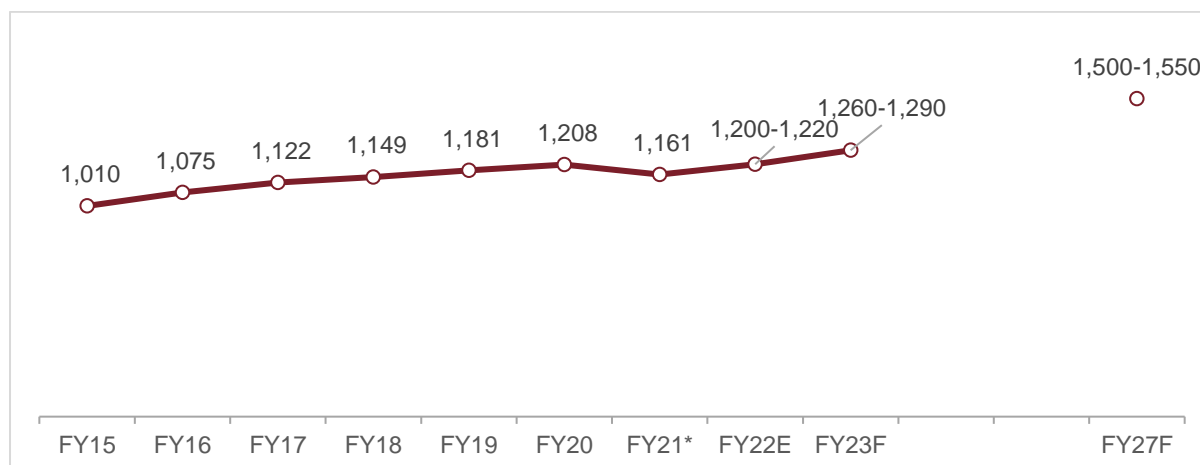

Electricity consumption per person rose from 1,075 kWh in fiscal 2016 to 1,161 kWh in fiscal 2021, a compound annual growth rate (“CAGR”) of 1.6%, primarily due to strengthening of the transmission and distribution (“T&D”) network along with large capacity additions. After year-on-year growth in consumption, fiscal 2021 saw a decline in demand, particularly from high-consuming industrial and commercial categories on account of weak economic activity due to the COVID-19 outbreak.

Fiscal 2022 saw a recovery in per capita consumption to 1,200-1,220 kWh on the back of power demand recovery, and a similar trend is expected to continue in fiscal 2023.

Between fiscals 2022 and 2027, India’s per capita electricity consumption is expected to grow at 4% to 5% CAGR over the low base in fiscal 2021. Per capita consumption is expected to gradually improve in the long term as power demand picks up due to improvement in access to electricity, in terms of quality and reliability, on account of intensive rural electrification and reduction in cost of power supply, resulting in realization of latent demand from the residential segment.

Consequently, CRISIL Research expects the per capita electricity consumption to reach 1,500-1,550 kWh by fiscal 2027.

Economic outlook (real GDP growth) of key economies

The global economy was in a reasonably strong position in the early months of 2022. The Omicron variant of COVID-19 had delivered a sharp but short-lived blow to activity and was in decline almost everywhere. The Russia-Ukraine conflict’s global macroeconomic effects for now seem moderate after a healthy start to 2022, including strong household balance sheets in the advanced economies. But risks are clearly on the downside: The conflict will influence direct trade effects, energy and commodity prices, confidence, and policy responses, particularly in China. S&P Global has lowered GDP growth forecast for U.S. to 2.4%, and for Asia-Pacific to 3.3%. Asia-Pacific is doing better than the rest of the world, except for China which is experiencing stringent COVID restrictions. U.K. inflation in May was at a multi-decade high of 9.1%. This will significantly lower household spending power, weaken spending, and contribute to negative GDP growth for Q3 and Q4 of this fiscal.

India’s economic outlook favorable vs global average

In Asia-Pacific, the most direct link to the Russia-Ukraine conflict is energy dependency. Most countries in the region run an energy trade deficit. Higher energy prices are the main impact variable from the conflict, hitting both growth and inflation. Overall, however, the effect of Russia-Ukraine on Asia-Pacific growth is modest. A more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve System (FRS) is also an important forecast driver in the region.

For India, the key impact from the conflict is via higher energy prices, which affect inflation and the current account. While financial markets would probably want to see the Reserve Bank of India lean toward tighter policy, whether it will do so remains to be seen, given its focus on growth. Risks to India’s economic outlook are still skewed towards the downside with an estimated growth of 7.3% in fiscal 2023 from 8.7% in fiscal 2022.

Global growth is expected to slow this year as major economies see a withdrawal of monetary and fiscal stimulus. It will have a direct bearing on India’s growth prospects as exports have been a key demand driver of domestic growth during the pandemic.

Energy prices, especially that of crude oil, are likely to continue firming up, partly owing to geopolitical issues and Brent crude will average up to USD 85 per barrel as against USD 70.44 in 2021, which will curtail growth, stoke inflation, and widen the current account deficit. In spite of this, India will see the fastest GDP growth in the Asia-Pacific region as well as global average growth. S&P Global has forecasted a 60-basis-point (bps) reduction in global GDP growth to 3.6% for calendar year 2022 relative to the previous quarterly update in December 2021, followed by a 20 bps fall in calendar year 2023.

Outlook on inflation, interest rates, balance of payment, and currency

Food fires up consumer inflation

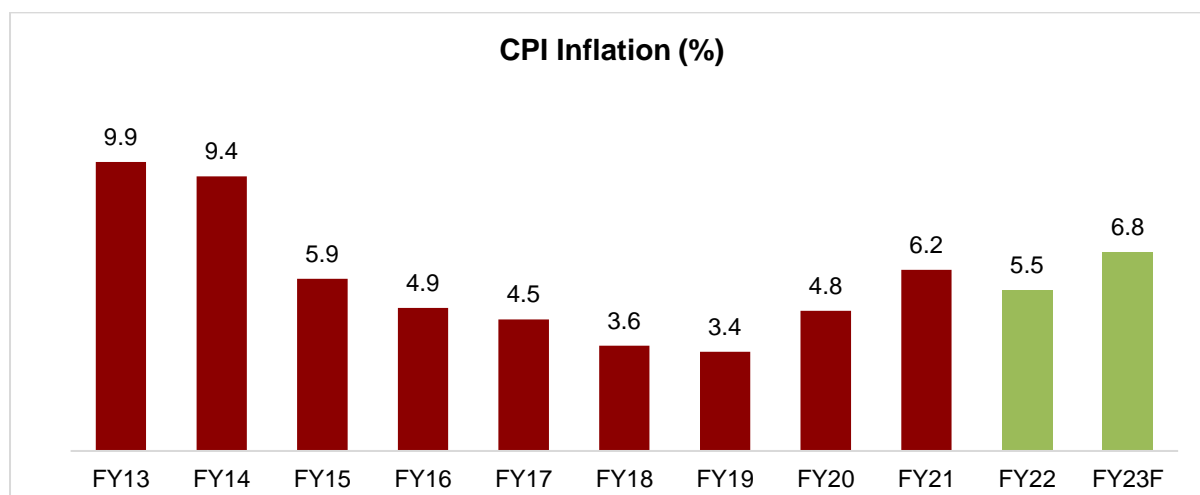

Inflation based on the Consumer Price Index (CPI), or retail inflation, rose 7% on-year in August, from 6.7% in July, and higher than 5.3% a year ago. Inflation rose after moderating between May and July, driven by surge in food inflation. CRISIL Research expects CPI inflation of 6.8% in fiscal 2023 from 5.5% in fiscal 2022.

Food inflation surged, largely due to 9.6% price jump of cereals in August from 6.9% in July due to increase in wheat/flour price. Vegetables saw inflation of 13.2% from 10.9% last month due to base effect as well as rise in prices of potato, leafy vegetables, cabbage and brinjal. Milk and milk product prices surged 6.4% on-year in August. Edible oil inflation slowed to 4.6% in August from 7.5% in July.

Fuel inflation slowed in August, due to fall in prices of LNG (22.5% vs 22.9%) and kerosene (87.2% vs 108.8%). Petrol and diesel prices also declined due to excise duty cuts in May along with fall in global crude prices in August. Brent crude prices averaged below $100/barrel for the first time since the Russia-Ukraine war, driven down by global slowdown concerns.

Core inflation declined marginally by 0.1% driven by transport and communication due to falling petrol and diesel prices. Prices of appliances like ACs, refrigerators saw slow growth in inflation. On the other hand, gold prices increased 6.4% on-year in August (vs 4% in July) due to the lag effect of duty hike on gold imports announced in July. Services inflation rose for the third month in a row (5.3% vs 5.2%), driven by education, medical and personal care costs.

Government bond yields eased in July due to a slide in US Treasury yields and international commodity prices. Yield on the benchmark 10-year Government of India securities (G-sec) averaged 7.39% in July – 9 bps lower on-month but 124 bps higher on-year. Yields on shorter-tenor G-secs (3-5 years) saw a sharper decline.

Decline in crude oil prices and US Treasury yields along with concerns of a global slowdown helped lower domestic bond yields. On the other hand, the Centre’s market borrowing was 25% higher on-month and 22% higher on-year, thus increasing the supply of G-secs for the month.

In April 2022, the RBI replaced the reverse repo rate with standing deposit facility (SDF) as the floor of the liquidity adjustment facility (LAF) corridor. The SDF would be kept 25 bps below the repo rate, compared with 65 bps for the reverse repo rate. The move meant that banks could now park funds with the RBI at the SDF rate of 4.15%, which is higher than the reverse repo rate of 3.35%. This pushed up interest rates, especially of short-tenor G-secs. G-sec yields also increased as the RBI announced it will focus on withdrawal of accommodation in the coming months. This essentially means an imminent hike in the repo rate. Yield on the 10-year G-sec rose 20 bps on the day of the monetary policy meet.

Peak oil to push current account deficit

India’s current account deficit (CAD) decreased to USD 13.4 billion (1.5% of GDP) in Q4 of fiscal 2022 from USD 22.2 billion (2.6% of GDP) in the previous quarter but was higher than USD 8.1 billion a year ago. The narrowing of CAD in Q4 of fiscal 2022 was on account slight reduction in goods trade deficit and increase in income surplus.

Net Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in Q4 of fiscal 2022 was the highest recorded since Q3 of fiscal 2021. However, due to large outflows by Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPIs), the overall financial account surplus was eroded. Whole of fiscal 2022 recorded a current account deficit of USD 38.7 billion compared with a surplus of USD 24.0 billion in the previous year. Net FPI outflows were at USD 15.2 billion, largely due to the Russia-Ukraine war, and the anticipated US Federal Reserve rate hikes, which resulted in a rush to purchase dollar assets. Net commercial borrowings were at USD 3.3 billion in Q4 of fiscal 2022, compared to USD 6.1 billion a year ago.

Even though FDI inflows and FPI outflows nearly cancelled each other, Q4 of fiscal 2022 recorded a financial account surplus of USD 14.2 billion. This is attributed to the drawdown in reserve assets to USD 16 billion (recorded as a credit item in Balance of Payments) due to the RBI's intervention in the forex market. There was a valuation loss of USD 10.3 billion as the dollar appreciated, which compared with a net accretion of USD 0.5 billion during Q3 of fiscal 2022. As a result, the recorded financial account surplus was higher than the CAD for Q4 for fiscal 2022.

In light of global developments in Q4 of fiscal 2022 and the consequent rise in crude oil and commodity prices, CRISIL Research has raised its CAD forecasts for both fiscal 2023. The primary reason is the surge in oil prices (India's largest import item), which will push import values up. CRISIL expects Brent crude oil prices to average USD 105-110 per barrel in fiscal 2023, compared with approximately USD 80 per barrel in fiscal 2022. Further, supply-chain disruptions from the Russia-Ukraine conflict and China's zero-COVID-19 policy are likely to result in high shipping / freight costs, driving up import values even more. On the other hand, external demand for India's exports will slow, as global growth is expected to moderate this year, with the Russia-Ukraine geopolitical tensions spilling over to Europe (because of the latter's dependence on Russian energy).

Hence, overall, CRISIL Research projects India's CAD at 3% of GDP in fiscal 2023, compared with an estimated deficit of 1.6% for fiscal 2022.

Raising the long-term potential

Domestic economic growth hinges on the revival in private consumption, lowering of banks' non-performing assets ("NPAs"), improvement in the investment climate and many more factors. The Central Government has taken the following steps in this regard:

- Post-pandemic policies to revive the economy: The Indian Government has initiated several measures to revive the economy from the pandemic stress including Small Industries Development Bank of India schemes for special liquidity support to micro, small and medium enterprises ("MSMEs"), state compensation schemes, increase in the threshold of default under Section 4 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016 ("IBC"), among others. These are short-term measures, but likely to support long-term growth of the country as the economy recovers from the pandemic.
- Union Budget 2022-23: The growth-centric and expansionary budget of 2022-23 focuses on improving India's mid-term growth trajectory. Some of the key announcements include:
 - PM Gatishakti: Completion of 25,000 km national highways in the current fiscal, adoption of modern, world class infrastructure, introduction of single platform to allow data exchange among all mode operators, multimodal connectivity between mass urban transport and railway stations.
 - Greater financial assistance for States: Outlay for "Scheme for Financial Assistance to States for Capital Investment" was increased to ₹15,000 crore in Revised Estimates from ₹10,000 crore in Budget Estimates, with States being allowed a fiscal deficit of 4% of GSDP, of which 0.5% would be tied to reforms in power sector.
 - Boost for MSMEs: Under Credit Guarantee Trust for MSEs, an additional credit of ₹2 lakh crore to be facilitated. Outlay of ₹6,000 crore to be rolled out via the RAMP (Raising and Accelerating MSME Performance) program.
 - Public Capital Investment: Outlay for capital expenditure increased to ₹7.5 lakh crore (by approximately 35%) in fiscal 2023, 2.9% of GDP. Effective Capital Expenditure for Central Government at ₹19.68 lakh crore, approximately 4% of GDP. Introduction of digital Rupee by RBI and Green Bonds to mobilise resources for green infrastructure.

- Improve the investment climate through the ease of doing business: The Central Government has initiated a number of measures to ease the business environment, such as Goods and Services Tax (GST) and the insolvency law, and a number of other steps such as introducing an online single-window model for providing clearances and filing compliances, establishing the Central Registration Center, removing the Foreign Investment Promotion Board for fast-track foreign investments, and setting up a National Investment and Infrastructure Fund. The country has adopted a carefully designed approach to reform, with an aim to improve the business regulatory environment over the course of several years and is now among the top 10 improvers. India's position in the World Bank's Ease of Doing Business ("EODB") rankings improved from 142 in 2015 to 63 in 2020; thus, it has maintained its position in the top 100 for the third straight year. However, it is still far behind large Asian economies such as China and other BRICS (Brazil-Russia-India-China-South Africa) countries. The EODB rankings of Russia and China have also improved impressively – from 62 and 90 in 2015 to 28 and 31 in 2020, respectively.
- Monetary policy: In its April 2022 monetary policy, the RBI had replaced the reverse-repo rate with a new SDF rate as the floor of the policy corridor under the LAF. The marginal standing facility (MSF) rate will remain at the corridor's upper end. The central bank restored the LAF policy corridor to the pre-pandemic symmetric width of 50 bps. Thus, the SDF will move 25 bps below, and MSF 25 bps above the repo rate.

By May 2022, however, the RBI raised policy rates, by a sizeable basis points. In September 2022, the repo rate is at 5.4% (from 4% in the past fiscal), SDF rate at 5.15%, and MSF rate to 5.65% (from 4.25% in past fiscal). The RBI also increased the cash reserve ratio (CRR) requirement by 50 bps to 4.50%, to take out a large quantum of liquidity from the banking system, since CRR is the share of deposits that banks are mandated to park with the RBI.

The sudden hike seems to have been spurred by a sharp rise in domestic inflation, and growing risks to financial stability from the FRS' monetary-policy tightening. The FRS is firmly set on the path of aggressive rate hikes, already having stacked up the rate by a cumulative 140 bps since May 2022. It will also begin reducing its balance sheet from June 2022. This has significantly tightened global financial conditions, causing FPI outflows from emerging markets such as India and putting pressure on the rupee.

- Passage of key bills: The Government has passed several key bills over the past few fiscals – the Companies (Amendment) Bill, 2020, which seeks to lower the penalties and peruse the need to decriminalize some offences by making recommendations to the Central Government; the Banking Regulation (Amendment) Bill, 2020, which strives to amend the act with regards to cooperative banks; and the IBC (Second Amendment) Bill, 2019, which aims at streamlining issues of troubled companies, protect corporate debtors and prevent unnecessary revocation of insolvency proceedings under the IBC.
- Boost infrastructure: After a sharp slowdown in the Indian economy in fiscal 2021 due to the pandemic, the outlay for capital expenditure in the Union Budget increased by 35.4% to ₹7.50 lakh crores in fiscal 2023 from ₹5.54 lakh crores in fiscal 2022. The Budget 2022-23 focuses on public investment to enhance and modernize infrastructure over the medium term with the help of the tech platform of Gati Shakti.
- Manufacturing thrust: The Government has made some progress in improving labor market efficiency through various programmes such as 'Skilling India' and 'Make in India'. The manufacturing sector has shown strong resilience despite the recent lockdowns and has remained above the 50 expansion mark. However, the overall reform process remains gradual in the manufacturing sector of India.
- Consumption growth: Given favorable demographics and rising disposable income, the increasing middle-class population is expected to help recover and eventually spur consumption growth in India. However, amid the raging pandemic, keeping inflation and interest rates in check is important to support consumption.
- Development of financial markets: To develop the financial markets, the Government has instituted steps such as Jan Dhan Yojana, a better monetary policy framework and the passage of bankruptcy code (amendment). Further, the Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI"), the capital market regulator in India, approved the framework for business trusts in India: real estate investment trusts ("REITs") and infrastructure investment trusts ("InvITs"), both of which are new asset classes for investors. While REIT is an investment vehicle that allows monetization of real estate assets, InvIT helps promoters monetize their completed infrastructure projects (having concessionaire/ development agreement). In the budget, the Government approved 100.0% FDI for insurance intermediaries and increased the FDI limit in the sector to 74.0% from 49.0%. This step, along with the emerging digital gold investment options and the platform for infra-debt financing, will help deepen Indian financial markets.

- Digitalization: The Government has been quick to board the technology bandwagon with its Digital India programme, which aims to speed up financial inclusion and deliver Government services electronically, by increasing internet connectivity and improving online infrastructure. Digitization and digitalization will create an efficiency-led growth spurt over the medium term. In the 2021-22 budget, the Government announced certain initiatives in the digital space, including including establishment of a digital university, introduction of digital Rupee in fiscal 2023, and delivery of digital and high-tech services to farmers.
- Atmanirbhar Bharat Abhiyan: PLIs in the 14 sectors for the Atmanirbhar Bharat vision received outstanding response, with a potential to create 60 lakh new jobs.

Demand and Supply Review of the Indian power sector

The total installed generation capacity at the end of July 2022 was 404 GW, of which approximately 97 GW of capacity was added from fiscals 2016 onwards. Coal and lignite-based installed power generation capacity has maintained its dominant position over the years and accounts for approximately 52% as of July 2022. However, renewable energy installations (including large hydroelectric projects) have reached approximately 161 GW capacity as on July 2022, compared with 25 GW as on March 2012 (Source: MNRE), constituting approximately 40% of total installed generation capacity as of date. In particular, this growth has been led by solar power, which grew at breakneck speed to approximately 58 GW from 0.9 GW over the same period.

The Electricity Act, 2003 coupled with competitive bidding for power procurement, implemented in 2006, encouraged the participation of private players who had announced large capacity additions. Moreover, the strong government thrust on renewable energy coupled with reducing tariffs (with falling capital costs and improving efficiency) also supported renewable energy capacity additions. Tepid rise in demand growth coupled with rising supply led to a drop in power deficit.

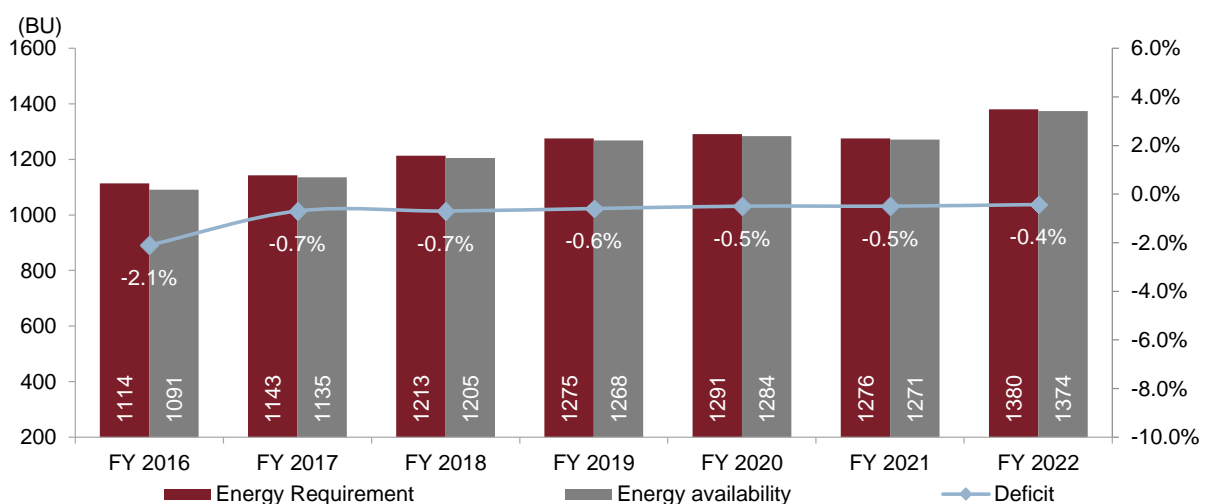

Trend in energy requirement

Source: CEA, CRISIL Research

The growth stood at 4.3% during fiscal 2016 and 2.6% in fiscal 2017 owing to slowdown in manufacturing activity. It improved to 6.1% in fiscal 2018, mainly driven by rising electrical connections under the rural electrification and SAUBHAGYA schemes. Power demand growth was subdued at 1.3% on-year in fiscal 2020 owing to a slowing economy, with an extended monsoon till October 2019 further dampening demand. The extended monsoon resulted in lower cooling demand from domestic consumers as well as reducing irrigation demand from agricultural consumers. Demand recovered slightly in January-February 2020 with the onset of summer, but the pandemic downed the shutters on economic activity in March 2020, thereby pulling power demand growth into negative territory. Power demand posted a decline of (1.0-2.0) % in fiscal 2021. Economic growth made a healthy comeback in fiscal 2022 coupled with a low base effect as well as Government spending on infrastructure. Consequently, power demand returned to positive territory during fiscal 2022, growing at 8.2%. Power demand surged in Q1 of fiscal 2023 due to severe heatwave and continued momentum in economic activity, thus registering a 18.6% on-year growth in the quarter. Subsequently, demand is expected to gradually pick up on the back of healthy recovery in economic growth, expansion in reach via strengthening of T&D infrastructure, and improved power quality, thereby registering a 5.0-6.0% CAGR over fiscals 2023 to 2027.

Aggregate power demand supply (in billion units)

Source: CEA, CRISIL Research

India's electricity requirement is estimated to have grown at a CAGR of approximately 3.6% between fiscals 2016 and 2022, while power availability rose quicker at approximately 3.9% CAGR on the back of strong capacity additions, both in the generation and transmission segments. As a result, the energy deficit declined to 0.4% in fiscal 2022 from 2.1% in fiscal 2016. The decline was sharp, particularly in fiscal 2017, on account of muted demand growth of 2.6%. The low demand was the result of a decline in consumption across categories owing to energy efficiency measures, T&D loss reduction in key states driven by adoption of the Ujwal Discom Assurance Yojana (“UDAY”) scheme.

In fiscals 2018 and 2019, power demand grew at 6.1% and 5.0% on-year, respectively, led by a low base and gradual pickup in consumption across categories with impetus from electrification of un-electrified households, transmission and distribution network expansions, healthy economic activity, etc. Strengthening of inter-regional power transmission capacity over the past five years has supported the rapid fall in deficit levels as it reduced supply constraints on account of congestion and lower transmission corridor availability, thereby lowering the deficit to 0.6% in fiscal 2019. However, in fiscal 2020, power demand grew at a slower 1.3% due to weakening economic activity and extended monsoon, where by the end of fiscal 2020, economic activity and capacity additions (both generation and transmission) slowed down due to the ongoing pandemic. Gradual recovery was experienced post fiscal 2021, as construction activity and demand recovered post the pandemic and lifting of COVID-19 restrictions.

After a minor (1.2)% decline in fiscal 2021, power demand has seen a strong rebound in fiscal 2022, registering approximately 8.0% y-o-y growth on the back of healthy revival in economic activity.

For fiscal 2022, the average energy deficit across states and union territories currently stands at 0.4%. Between five regions, two regions have a deficit higher than all India average; the northern and eastern region with a deficit of 0.8% and 0.6%, respectively. The top states with the highest deficit are Jammu & Kashmir (UT) and Ladakh (UT), Jharkhand, Bihar, Punjab and Uttarakhand.

However, this does not imply that the power deficit is negligible since off-grid untapped latent demand persists and intensive rural electrification as well as ‘24x7 power supply to all’ is yet to be achieved. Further, many towns and villages in the country are deprived of the 24 x 7 electricity supply on account of multiple technical (such as highly loaded power line frequently tripping) and commercial (theft and pilferage, subsidized consumers, etc.) issues. Thus, the lower power demand is on account of lagging rural electrification as well as sub-optimal distribution infrastructure, and absence of last mile connectivity in some cases.

Demand and Supply Outlook

Energy requirement growth over next five years (in Bn Units)

Source: CRISIL Research

CRISIL Research expects energy requirement to grow at 5-6% CAGR over fiscals 2022 to 2027, due to healthy economic growth and expansion of the power footprint. Power demand which was expected to bounce back in Q1 of fiscal 2022, was impacted by the second wave of COVID-19 infections which resulted in partial lockdowns in major states over April-May 2021. Infection rates began subsiding in June-July 2021 due to which industrial and economic activities went back to normal in various regions of the country. Later, a less severe third wave was caused by the Omicron variant, which translated to a power demand growth of 3.8% on-year in Q4 of fiscal 2022. Overall power demand during fiscal 2022 grew at 8.2%.

Q1 of fiscal 2023 saw a surge in power demand resulting from the severe heatwave in the country. This along with the continued momentum in economic activity resulted in an on-year power demand growth of 18.6% in Q1 of fiscal 2023, despite high base of Q1 of fiscal 2022. Going forward, demand is to be driven by industries due to improving utilisation levels and kick-start of the capex cycle in key sectors owing to buoyant customer sentiment. Commercial power demand is also projected to improve as offices and educational institutes resume operations, albeit in a hybrid scenario. Therefore, power demand growth is estimated to rise 6-6.5% on-year in fiscal 2023, over a high base.

Factors influencing power demand

Source: CRISIL Research

Gradual pick-up in GDP growth and infrastructure development to support power demand

India’s economy is expected to continue to grow after fiscal 2022, with a gradual pick-up in industrial growth over the medium term. Trickle-down effect of the Aatmanirbhar Bharat relief package, government spending on infrastructure through the National Infrastructure Pipeline, dedicated freight corridors infrastructure, service industry expansion, rapid urbanization, and higher farm income from agri-related reforms are key macroeconomic factors that will provide a boost.

Various government initiatives such as ‘Make in India’, ‘Smart Cities Mission’, dedicated freight corridors, metro rail projects, railway track electrification, etc., are expected to boost power demand in the country, albeit in the medium to long term.

T&D network augmentation to support demand growth

With the Government’s focus on alleviating congestion, transmission capacities are expected to witness robust growth. About 450-470 gigavolt ampere (“GVA”) transformation capacity (above 220 kilovolts (“kV”) level) is expected to be added between fiscals 2023 to 2027 to reach the cumulative transformation capacity of 1,500-1,600 GVA by fiscal 2027. In particular, CRISIL Research expects a robust growth in high voltage (“HV”) lines of 400 kV and 765 kV due to its importance in interstate transmission lines on account of the following Government targets:

- Inter-regional transmission capacity expansion to 145 gigawatts (“GW”) by fiscal 2024 from 112 GW in March 2020.

- Ultra-high-capacity green energy corridors with expected investments worth ₹430 billion.

Thus, the expected improvement in T&D infrastructure coupled with agricultural feeder separation and extensive rural electrification under the Deendayal Upadhyaya Gram Jyoti Yojana (“DDUGJY”) will drive power demand upwards over the next five years.

Grid integration of renewables is key to the growth of the renewable generation. Instances of delay in readiness of transmission infrastructure at solar parks have caused concern amongst developers. However, an aggressive roadmap to add an incremental approximately 100 GW via new schemes and existing available capacity to the grid should be adequate for the expected additions. The key is timely execution of the transmission projects.

Long-term reforms in distribution segment expected to aid improvement in quality of power

The power sector has long been impacted by the weak financial position of state utilities, especially in the distribution sector. The same was sought to be solved under the UDAY, which ended in March 2019. The programme provided temporary relief in the form of reducing the interest burden for distribution companies in India (“Discoms”) (as debt was taken over by State Governments), but Discoms have again piled up significant debt as of fiscal 2022. While weak power demand, especially from the industrial and commercial categories, weighed on Discoms’ collections in fiscal 2021, the relief package announced in the backdrop of COVID-19 is expected to provide some relief on the liquidity and debt-servicing front. The Government is expected to aid reforms on the distribution side, with strict targets for achieving infrastructure improvements and sustainable tariff revisions.

DDUGJY to boost rural demand

DDUGJY, which was launched in December 2014, covers works related to strengthening of rural power infrastructure and encompasses the erstwhile Rajiv Gandhi Grameen Vidyutikaran Yojana (“RGVY”) programme. The objectives of DDUGJY include separation of agricultural and non-agricultural feeders, strengthening and augmentation of the T&D infrastructure in rural areas, including metering of transformers/feeders/consumers and boosting rural electrification along with decentralized distributed generation. Going forward, the Integrated Power Development Scheme (“IPDS”) and DDUGJY are likely to be subsumed under the Reform Linked Revamped Distribution Scheme (“RLRDS”), thereby diverting designated funds towards the mega-reforms scheme.

Investments from Central Government schemes such as IPDS, DDUGJY and Sahaj Bijlee Har Ghar Yojana (“SAUBHAGYA”) led to the investments in the distribution space. Over the past 5 years, the segment has received investments worth ₹4-4.5 trillion.

Improving energy efficiency, reducing energy intensity and fall in aggregate technical and commercial losses (“AT&C Loss”) to restrict power demand

Although power demand is expected to be healthy, CRISIL Research believes some factors will partly offset this growth. The power generation segment grapples with overcapacity and debt pile-up, the distribution segment also faces the problem of rising dues to generation companies (“Gencos”) – dues of Discoms shot up from ₹386 billion as of March 2019 to ₹760 billion as of March 2020, and further increased to ₹1,010 billion as of March 2022. This is largely owing to historically high AT&C Losses, which indicates lower billing and collection efficiency, and the gap between the average cost of supply and average revenue realized (“ACS-ARR Gap”), which indicates lower profitability. This inability to service payments in a timely manner trickles down to Gencos, further adding to their financial burden.

The UDAY, which aims to gradually improve the financial position of Discoms, has seen reasonable traction with all major states (except Odisha and West Bengal) signing memoranda of understanding. With bonds worth ₹2.3 trillion being issued (86.3% of the target) as of February 2021, debt and interest burden on Discoms was supposed to have reduced, but the target achievement stagnated during fiscal 2020 with the bond issuance remaining at nearly the same level at the end of the fiscal. On the operational efficiency front, the ACS-ARR Gap and AT&C Losses – which had reduced to ₹0.3 per kWh and 21% in fiscal 2020 from ₹0.59 per kWh and approximately 23% in fiscal 2016, respectively – increased to ₹0.35 per kWh and 16.6% in fiscal 2022, respectively. However, most Discoms have failed to achieve the targets on the ACS-ARR Gap and AT&C Loss reduction, which is expected to result in deterioration of discoms’ performance over the medium term. Therefore, Discoms in states with higher AT&C Losses would prefer to bring down their share of electricity supply to agricultural and residential consumers and would support rooftop initiatives for such consumers.

Amid the pandemic, Discoms faced a double whammy of mounting dues and lower revenue because of falling power demand, especially from the high-paying industrial and commercial customers that resorted to a near-complete shutdown. The relief package worth ₹900 billion in the form of loans to be extended by Power Finance Corporation Ltd. (“PFC”) and Rural Electrification Corporation Ltd. (“REC”) was further enhanced to ₹1.35 trillion in the light of rising dues because of lower collections on account of the COVID-19 pandemic. The funding is expected to provide interim liquidity relief to Discoms and, consequently, to Gencos. The deferment and rebate on fixed charges are likely to ease liquidity concerns for Discoms, while reducing revenues for Gencos and power transmission companies, particularly in the central sector. As of November 2021, loans worth approximately ₹1.35 trillion have been sanctioned to Discoms, whereas disbursement to the tune of approximately ₹1.08 trillion has been completed as of March 2022. The fund disbursement from the package improved liquidity of beneficiary state Discoms, which was reflected by reduction in Discoms’ payables from approximately ₹1,000 billion as of November 2020 to approximately ₹882 billion as of March 2021. However, the impact of the package has started fading as the payables have started rising again in fiscal 2022, reaching approximately ₹1,110 billion as of March 2022.

The Government has also proposed significant long-term reforms in the power sector, namely the National Tariff Policy and the proposed Electricity (Amendment) Bill 2020. These are aimed at improving operational efficiency and alleviating financial stress in the sector, whilst promoting competition through private participation. The Union Budget 2021-22 announced the RLRDS with an outlay of ₹3.04 trillion, partly funded by the Central Government to the tune of ₹976 billion, aimed at alleviating Discoms’ financial stress, subject to achievement of reforms such as reducing ACS-ARR Gap and AT&C Losses of state Discoms, smart metering, upgradation of distribution infrastructure, and improving compliance through timely filing of audited annual accounts and tariff orders. However, the success of the scheme depends on the diligent implementation of the reform measures and timely disbursement of milestone-linked funds by Central and State Governments.

ACS-ARR Gap for UDAY states had reduced to ₹0.28 per kWh in fiscal 2018 from ₹0.37 per kWh in fiscal 2017 but expanded to ₹0.44 per kWh at the end of fiscal 2019 indicating reversal of some of the gains achieved through reduction in power purchase costs, interest burden and AT&C Loss reduction over last three years. ACS-ARR Gap stood at ₹0.3 per unit as of March 2020 and has further widened to ₹0.42 per unit as of March 2021, indicating further deterioration in Discom financial profile. However, for fiscal 2022, it has improved to ₹0.35 per unit.

All India AT&C Losses as on March 2019 as per the UDAY portal were estimated at 18.5% and increased to approximately 21.0% (as of March 2020) post UDAY. However, losses shot up to approximately 24.4% as of March 2021 since the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, which has led to deterioration of collections from a large section of the commercial and industrial consumers. However, it has improved in fiscal 2022 to 16.6%

As on March 2019, approximately ₹2.3 trillion worth of bonds had been issued (86.3% of target) which led to the debt and interest burden on Discoms being reduced, resulting in higher liquidity. However, the status remains the same as of September 2022. In addition to this, the debt burden of state distribution utilities has only mounted with estimates (CRISIL Ratings Press Release – May 6, 2019) of the same reaching back to pre-UDAY level by the end of fiscal 2020.

Distribution reforms planned by the Government to revive the sector

The Government plans to implement several policies to resolve the issues of the ailing distribution segment, as it impacts the entire value chain. Key announcements pertaining to the same are:

- Fresh trajectory for reduction of AT&C Losses to below 15.0%. Possible cumulation of targets and funds under DDUGJY and IPDS;
- Privatization of distribution circles - separation of content and carriage. Distribution utilities collect wheeling charges for power wheeled through their power distribution networks. However, privatization of distribution circles result in efficient power delivery. Tata Power has won the bid to service five circles within Odisha - roughly a consumer base of 2.5 million;
- Letter of credit (“LC”) mechanism was also implemented in August 2019. This order mandated Discoms to issue LCs or provide payments upfront before purchase of power. However, success of this scheme has been limited so far, due to various loopholes utilized by the Discoms and the lower bargaining power of private Independent Power Producers (“IPPs”);

- Ensuring 24x7 power supply on a sustainable basis across India; and
- A revised tariff policy to make tariff revisions more effective and cost encompassing but at the same time not passing on costs due to Discom inefficiencies.

Apart from the above, the Central Government also introduced a ₹900 billion stimulus for state distribution utilities within the economic relief package announced by the Government in relation to COVID-19 related negative impact, which was further enhanced to ₹1.2 trillion. The relief package will help Discoms clear a significant portion of their outstanding dues to power generators. The latter is expected to be provided in the form of concessional loans (moratorium, lower interest rates) to the state distribution utilities, secured by Discom receivables and state guarantees. PFC and REC have been identified as key lenders for this package. The package was eventually increased further to approximately ₹1.35 trillion with the full amount being sanctioned as of November 2021, whereas disbursement to the tune of approximately ₹1.08 trillion has been achieved.

While most of the reforms suggested by the Government are positive / neutral and are targeted towards solving long term issues plaguing the sector, implementation remains key for materialization of the improvements envisaged. Few of the proposals also need to be spelled out before their impact can be ascertained fully.

Stretched financials, delay in clearances, and lack of power purchase agreements (“PPAs”) to limit conventional capacity additions to approximately 33-34 GW over next five years

While there were approximately 52 GW of thermal power generation capacities under construction as of May 2022, CRISIL Research expects only 25 GW to commission between fiscals 2023 to 2027. In addition, approximately 5-6 GW of hydro and 3-4 GW of nuclear capacities are expected to be added during the same period.

Capacity glut, especially for thermal, weakens outlook for capacity additions. Power demand is estimated to have grown at a CAGR of 3.0-4.0% between fiscals 2017 and 2022, while conventional and renewable installed generation capacities are estimated to have grown at a CAGR of 1.4% and 14.3%, respectively. As a result, average plant load factors (“PLFs”) of coal-based power plants declined from approximately 60% in fiscal 2017 to 55% in fiscal 2022. However, due to strong power demand in fiscal 2022, PLFs recovered to 58.8%. On the other hand, PLFs for gas-based plants declined from 22-25% (between fiscals 2017 and 2021) to 16.5% in fiscal 2022 due to surge in gas prices and is expected to further deteriorate to 13% in fiscal 2023.

Power demand increased by 8.2% in fiscal 2022 due to recovery driven by economic revival, Government relief measures, and strengthening of T&D infrastructure, thereby forcing slower capacity additions.

Private sector power generation segment is under financial stress. Large capacity additions by the private sector (approximately 82 GW of conventional source-based plants between fiscals 2009 and 2022) without adequate off-take and fuel arrangement have put pressure on the financials of Gencos. With high gearing and low coverage ratio, the private sector is expected to slow down their capacity addition from that planned earlier. The trend has already been visible over the last three years when the private sector capacity additions declined to 5.3 GW in fiscal 2017, 4.5 GW in fiscal 2018, approximately 1 GW in fiscal 2019, and further down to a minuscule 45 MW and 99 MW in fiscals 2020 and 2021, respectively, compared with an average approximately 12 GW being added annually in the preceding five years (fiscals 2012 to 2016).

During fiscals 2023 to 2027, conventional capacity additions of approximately 33-34 GW are expected, in line with approximately 33 GW added over the past five years. However, investments in the segment are expected to increase on account of higher nuclear capacity additions to the tune of 3.5 GW over the forecast period coupled with higher capex per unit capacity across fuels. Investments are likely to have slackened in fiscal 2021 due to construction slowdown on account of the COVID-19 outbreak but are likely to pick up in fiscal 2022 onwards. In fiscal 2022, approximately 0.9 GW of private capacity additions took place, albeit from delayed projects, with 0.5 GW and 0.4 GW being added in coal and hydro respectively.

Source: CRISIL Research

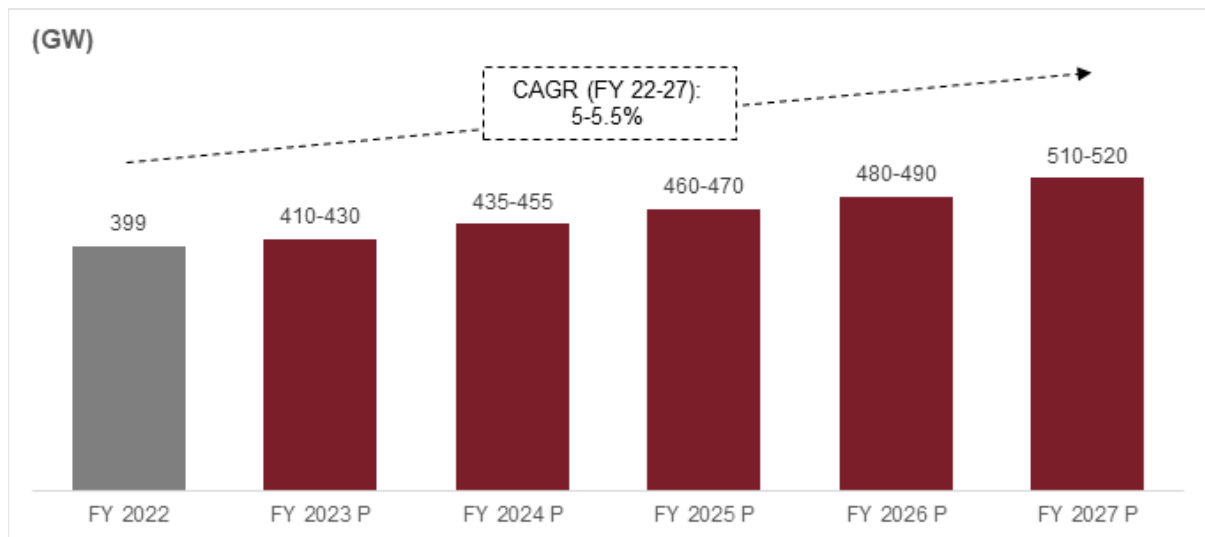

Coal-based capacities to account for approximately 70-75% of total additions. CRISIL Research expects 24-25 GW of new coal-based capacities to commission between fiscals 2023 and 2027, led by large number of planned projects and the fact that coal continues to remain the most widely available and economic source of fuel among the conventional sources. Moreover, the Government’s policy for flexibility in utilization of domestic coal, new linkage policy i.e. Scheme for Harnessing and Allocating Koyla Transparently in India (“SHAKTI”), and higher domestic coal production aimed at coal import substitution would lead to significant improvement in coal availability over the next three-five years for power plants.

All-India installed capacity to reach 510-520 GW by fiscal 2027, led by renewables

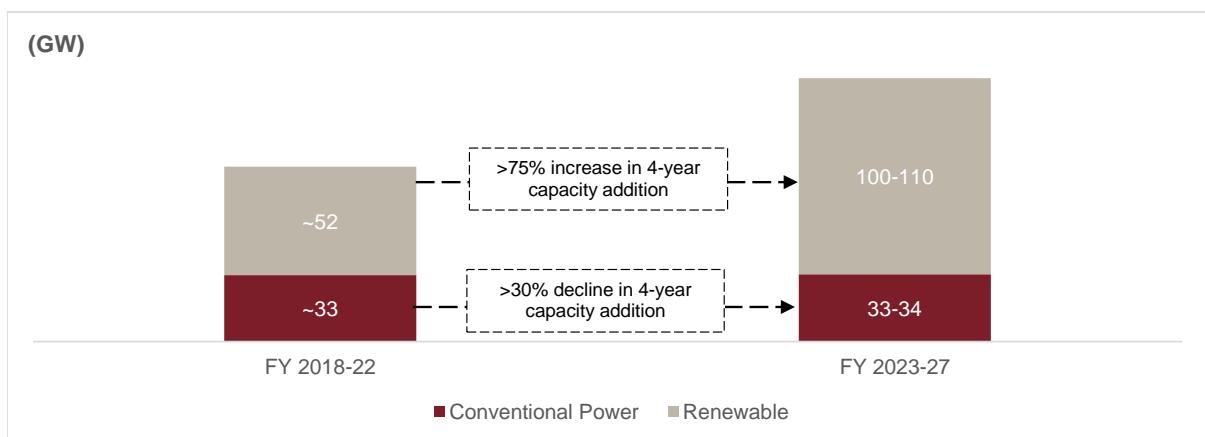

Source: CRISIL Research

Over the next five years (fiscals 2023-2027), 33-34 GW of conventional capacity is expected to be added in India. While there are approximately 52 GW of thermal power generation capacities under construction as of May 2022, CRISIL Research expects only approximately 25 GW of coal-based power to commission over fiscals 2023 to 2027. In addition, approximately 4 GW of hydro and 2-3 GW of nuclear capacities are expected to be added.

Strong growth in renewable capacity additions to continue

CRISIL Research expects 100-110 GW of renewable power generation capacities to be added between fiscals 2023 and 2027. Capacity additions in the renewable energy segment are expected to witness robust growth. Additions in both wind and solar power are expected to be driven by strong Government focus, which is evident from the fiscal and regulatory incentives, viability gap funding and execution support in terms of land and evacuation infrastructure. Improved availability of low-cost finance through various instruments / sources would also support renewable energy capacity additions.

Expected trend in power generation capacity addition

Note: Renewables consists of Solar and Wind power capacities only.

The scheme for flexibility of generation introduced by the Ministry of Power in April 2018 is aimed at promoting renewable and hydro power generation, facilitating adequate and uninterrupted supply to consumers and ensuring financial viability in the sector. It proposed bundling of power from conventional thermal plants whose PPAs have expired or plants have completed their useful life with renewable plants through bidding process. This would reduce the overall power purchase cost for utilities and provide them with the option of round-the-clock power supply to match with demand. Additionally, it proposes state regulators to adopt the renewable purchase obligations (“RPO”) trajectory issued by the Central Government. Thus, formalizing the RPO mandate will enable stricter compliance by the Discom, which would further drive renewable capacity additions. The National Tariff Policy, 2006, that mandated states to procure power requirements through competitive bidding was extended to central and state utilities in January 2011 to secure PPAs for power offtake.

Low power demand and increased focus on renewable result in lower focus on conventional capacity addition

Power demand grew at a CAGR of 3.8% between fiscals 2017 and 2022, while conventional and renewable installed generation capacities grew at a CAGR of 1.4% and 14.3%, respectively. Average PLFs of coal-based power plants declined from 59.6% in fiscal 2017 to approximately 55% in fiscal 2021 but recovered to 58.8% in fiscal 2022. PLFs of gas-based plants which were at 22.0-25.0% during fiscals 2017 to 2021, declined to 16.5% in fiscal 2022.

Lower power demand and the Government’s focus on increasing the share of renewables in the nation’s energy mix are likely to prod Gencos to go slow on new conventional capacity addition plans over the subsequent years. Major thermal Gencos such as NTPC and Tata Power Company have floated separate ventures to add renewable energy (“RE”) capacity, signaling a decisive shift towards incremental RE capacity going forward.

Power demand increased by 8.2% in fiscal 2022 due to recovery driven by economic revival, Government relief measures, and strengthening of T&D infrastructure, thereby forcing slower capacity additions. Q1 of fiscal 2023 saw a power demand surge of 18.6% and is estimated to grow at a CAGR of approximately 5% till fiscal 2027.

Investments in power sector

Share of investments across power sector value chain

Source: CRISIL Research

Investments for the generation sector are estimated to increase from approximately 56% to approximately 72%, majorly due to renewable energy capacity additions, and conventional capacity additions led by coal accounting for 70-75% of conventional capacities. Investments for the distribution sector are expected to increase due to reforms and RDSS (Revamped Distribution Sector Scheme) envisaged from fiscals 2023 to 2027.

CRISIL Research projects investments of ₹15.5-16 trillion over the next five years. Share of investments in generation are expected to increase, resulting in a fall of share for the distribution segment over the next five fiscals.

Sector-wise break-up of total investments

Source: CRISIL Research

The share of private sector in overall power sector investments during fiscals 2023 to 2027 is expected to increase to 39% as against 30% over the past five years. This can be attributed to large renewable capacity additions, which are majorly financed by private investors. The share of central sector would decrease marginally to 24% over fiscals 2023 to 2027, as compared to 26% over the previous five years. Despite there being a growth in investment in absolute terms, share of central investments will decline due to doubling of private investments and increase in state investments due to RDSS. State sector's share will account of more than 35% of power investments, led by RDSS, along with moderate investments in the generation segment.

Generation segment investments to be dominated by private sector

During fiscals 2023 to 2027, investments in generation will be driven by renewable energy capacity additions, followed by investments in conventional capacities and FGD installations, thus indicating a shift in investment flow towards clean energy supply. Capacity additions for the next 5 years are estimated at 100-110 GW for renewable energy sources and 33-34 GW for conventional sources. Investments in renewable energy will constitute over 50% of overall investments in generation segment. Conventional generation investments are estimated to increase by 25% over the next 5 years as coal-based plants will be set up to meet peak load demand.

Outlook on investments in generation segment (fiscals 2023-2027)

Source: CEA, CRISIL Research

Coal-based capacities will account for approximately 25 GW (70-75% of the conventional capacity additions) over the next five years as coal continues to be the most abundant fuel for power generation, while 5-6 GW of hydro capacities will also be added. Nuclear capacity additions will see an uptick to over 3.5 GW with major capacities from central utilities, NPCIL and Bharatiya Nabhikiya Vidyut Nigam Limited, nearing completion, thereby pushing generation investments upwards due to the higher capital cost per MW associated with nuclear power.

Transmission segment investments to rise to ₹4.0-4.5 trillion over next five years

To service a large generation installed base, the estimated investment in the transmission sector is expected to be ₹4.0-4.5 trillion over the next five years. Investments in the sector are expected to be driven by the need for a robust and reliable transmission system to support continued generation additions and the strong push to the renewable energy sector as well as rural electrification. Also, strong execution capability coupled with healthy financials of Power Grid Corporation of India (“PGCIL”) will drive investments. Moreover, rising private sector participation with favorable risk-return profile of transmission projects will also support growth in investments. Transmission investments are estimated to have slowed down in fiscal 2021 due to the COVID-19 outbreak but are expected to rebound strongly in subsequent years.

Transformation capacity of 330-350 GVA is expected to be commissioned in the next five years. In the transmission line segment, CRISIL Research expect moderate growth in HV lines of 400 and 765 kV due to their importance in inter-state transmission lines. Higher voltage level enhances power density, reduces losses and efficiently delivers bulk power and it reduces requirement of right of way, a key challenge facing the transmission sector. Thus, CRISIL Research believes the Mega Volt Ampere : Mega Watt (MVA:MW) ratio would further improve to approximately 2.8 by fiscal 2026.

Outlook for transmission capacity addition

Inter-regional transmission capacity to rise led by regional system strengthening schemes

CRISIL Research believes that the northern and north-eastern regions would be required to import power and the other three regions (i.e. the western, eastern and southern regions) would be in a position to export power in fiscal 2026. To cater to this import/export requirement, a number of inter-regional transmission corridors have been planned, and some of these high-capacity transmission corridors are in various stages of implementation. Newly sanctioned projects under the North-Eastern System Strengthening Scheme and system strengthening schemes focused in the Ladakh region are also expected to augment investments in the transmission segment.

In addition, the following schemes in the North-East and Kashmir are funded by the Central Government, with an estimated cumulative cost of ₹116 billion:

- North-Eastern region power system improvement project;
- Comprehensive scheme of transmission and distribution system in Arunachal Pradesh and Sikkim; and

- 220 kV transmission system from Alusteng (Srinagar) to Leh (via Drass, Kargil, Khalsti and Leh Substations in Jammu and Kashmir).

Overall, the inter-regional transmission capacity is expected to increase from approximately 104 GW in March 2020 to approximately 145 GW by fiscal 2024.

Inter-connection with neighboring countries to boost investments

In order to ensure effective utilization of regional resources, India is actively planning to inter-connect the national grid with neighboring countries like Nepal, Bhutan, Sri Lanka and Bangladesh. Nepal is radially connected with India through 11, 33 and 132 kV lines. India and Bhutan have transmission lines of 400, 220 and 132 kV to import approximately 2,850 MW of power. Further, for transfer of power from upcoming hydroelectric projects in Bhutan, India is implementing two cross-border inter-connection lines of 400 kV each. Between India and Bangladesh, 400 kV DC line connecting Baharampur (India) to Bheramara (Bangladesh) and 765 kV direct current (“DC”) line connecting Katihar (India) to Parbotipur (Bangladesh) along with 500 MW HV DC back-to-back terminal at Parbotipur are planned. A feasibility study has been carried out for two 500 MW bi-pole lines between Madurai (India) and New Anuradhapura (Sri Lanka) including submarine cable for the sea portion. Implementation of these transmission projects is expected to support investments in T&D segments over the next five years.

Rising private sector participation to support transmission segment investments

With a view to encourage participation of the private sector in building transmission capacity in India, procurement of transmission has been made mandatory on competitive bidding basis, except for urgent projects, which are required to be commissioned within 2-3-years and continue to be allotted on a cost-plus basis to PGCIL. Under Tariff Based Competitive Bidding (“TBCB”), interested parties are required to quote a levelized tariff through the life of the asset. Transmission schemes including 765 kV and 400 kV transmission system strengthening schemes in the northern, western, southern, north-eastern regions, would facilitate transfer of power from power surplus states such as Chhattisgarh and Odisha and new hydro-electric projects in Bhutan.

As of July 2021, of the 59 transmission projects envisaged under TBCB, 33 have already been commissioned/ready for commissioning, while 22 are under construction/ partly commissioned. Construction of two projects could not be started due to litigation, while one project has been cancelled by the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (“CERC”) and another one was cancelled as per the request of the transmission service provider.

Along with such inter-state projects, there will be steady investments in transmission from the state sector as well, primarily driven by the construction of associated transmission systems for upcoming power projects. States such as Maharashtra, Gujarat, Rajasthan, Chhattisgarh, Andhra Pradesh, and Karnataka are expected to witness significant investments in the transmission space.

Distribution investments to be bolstered by RDSS spending

Discoms, the major drivers of investments in the distribution space, have been reeling under severe financial burden for the last few years on account of collection inefficiencies and mounting receivables to Gencos. Revenue is likely to have dipped in fiscal 2021 due to a fall in demand from high-paying industrial and commercial consumers on account of reduced economic activity as a fallout of the COVID-19 outbreak. This will lead to increased financial stress for Discoms, although the Government's relief package of providing loans worth ₹1.35 trillion by PFC / REC for clearing Gencos' dues is expected to ease Discoms' liquidity problems over the short term. The relief package is, however expected to increase the debt profile of Discoms, forcing them to curb investments over the medium term. In the union Budget 2021-22, the Government also announced a RDSS worth ₹3.04 trillion for state discoms to be allocated over the next five years.

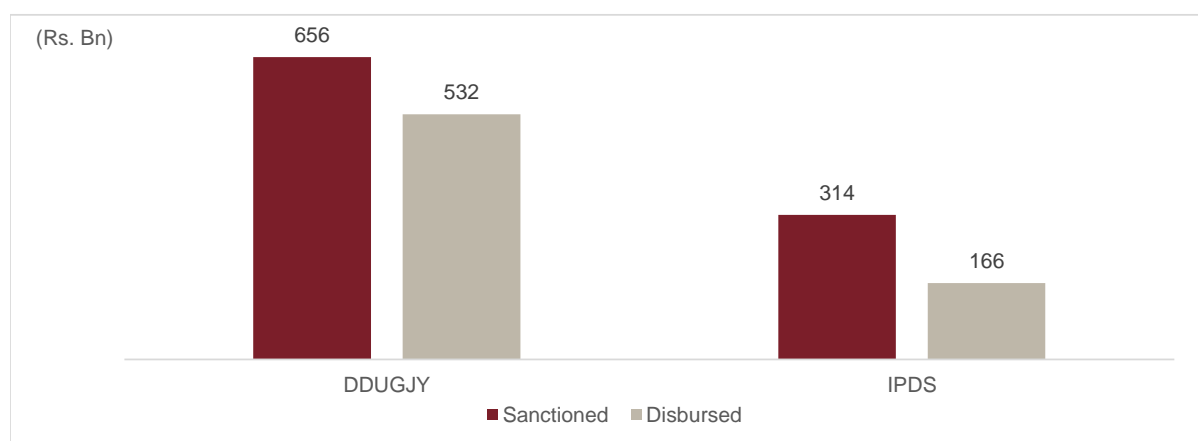

Investments in the segment are likely to gradually pick up in fiscal 2023 onwards with Central / State Government(s) expected to provide the required funding support. The distribution segment is expected to attract investments worth ₹4.0-4.5 trillion over fiscals 2023 to 2027, led by the Government's thrust on improving access to electricity and providing 24x7 power to all. Central Government schemes such as IPDS and DDUGJY will support development of the segment further.

IPDS was launched with the objectives of strengthening of the sub-transmission and distribution network in urban areas, metering of distribution transformers/feeders/consumers in urban areas and IT enablement of the distribution sector. The component of IT enablement of the distribution sector and strengthening of the distribution network, approved by the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) in June 2013 in the form of Restructured Accelerated Power Development & Reforms Program (R-APDRP) for 12th and 13th plans, have been subsumed under this scheme. The total cost of projects envisaged under this scheme during 12th and 13th plans is approximately ₹700 billion.

DDUGJY, which was launched in December 2014, covers works related to strengthening of rural power infrastructure and encompasses the erstwhile RGGVY programme. The objectives of DDUGJY include separation of agricultural and non-agricultural feeders, strengthening and augmentation of the T&D infrastructure in rural areas, including metering of transformers/feeders/consumers and boosting rural electrification along with decentralized distributed generation.

Over the past five years, the segment has witnessed approximately ₹4-4.5 trillion worth of investments. State Discoms invested in the distribution setup to bring down AT&C Losses. Also, investments from Central Government schemes such as IPDS, DDUGJY and SAUBHAGYA led to the investments in the distribution space.

Snapshot of central funding under DDUGJY and IPDS (till March 2022)

With all major states (except West Bengal) having joined the UDAY scheme and ₹2.3 trillion worth bonds being issued (86.3%) as of February 2021, debt and interest burden on Discoms had reduced, resulting in higher liquidity. Improved liquidity enabled Discoms to invest in strengthening of distributions networks, which aided a reduction in AT&C Losses to 18.5% as on March 2019 from approximately 21.0% as on March 2016.

However, post UDAY, Discom financials have again started deteriorating, slowing investments and pushing up AT&C Losses again due to higher system losses and weakened collections on account of stretched financial profile of consumers. The Government’s reform-linked Discom package, which is likely to subsume the erstwhile UDAY scheme, is expected to lay down stringent criteria to encourage improvement in AT&C Losses.

Several foreign institutions such as the Japan International Cooperation Agency and the Asian Development Bank (“ADB”) are also expected to extend credit to the distribution sector. For instance, the ADB approved a U.S.$48 million loan to finance the expansion and upgrading of the power distribution system in Assam, and strengthen institutional capacity of Assam Power Distribution Company Ltd. It covers a part of the state’s power sector road map for enhancing the sub-transmission and distribution capacities to improve operational efficiency and electricity supply to end users.

Some states such as Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, Punjab, and Chhattisgarh are also expected to continue to receive State Government funding in the form of equity infusion for system up-gradation projects, as witnessed in the past.

Outlook on investments in distribution segment (fiscals 2023-2027)

Source: CEA, CRISIL Research

CRISIL Research believes that a confluence of the above-mentioned measures will improve electricity access and in turn boost power consumption.

Electric vehicles to support demand growth, but over the longer term

The Government of India is focusing on building charging infrastructure and creating a conducive policy environment for faster adoption of electric vehicles (“EVs”) so as to reduce dependence on fossil fuels for transportation. India aims to increase the share of electric vehicles to 30.0% by 2030. Under the National Electric Mobility Mission plan, the Government envisages to promote electric vehicle adoption through demand-side incentives in terms of subsidies, promoting charging infrastructure and encouraging research and development in battery technology, power electronics, battery management and system integration, etc.

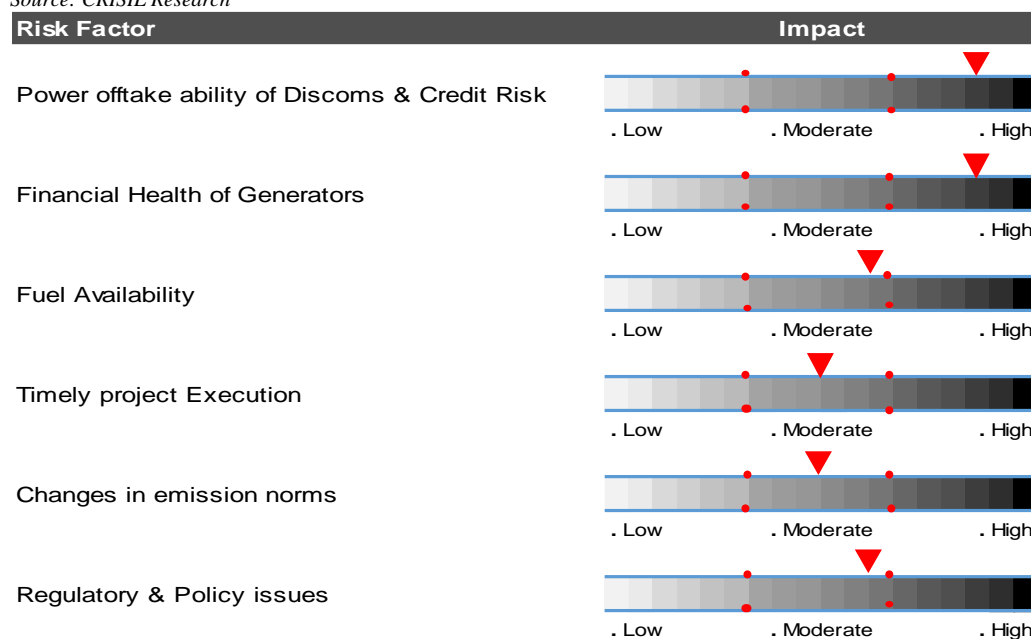

The EV market faced strong headwinds in fiscal 2021 as buyers cut down on big-ticket purchases, thus impacting sales of EVs which are typically costlier than conventional vehicles. However, with Government incentives such as Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Hybrid and Electric Vehicles (FAME) II worth ₹100 billion and spurred by elevated fossil fuel prices, sales rebounded strongly in fiscal 2022. CRISIL Research estimates that under the base case scenario, adoption of electric vehicles will boost power demand by 4–5 billion units annually on an average over the period of fiscal 2023 to 2027.

This is to be supported by expansion of charging infrastructure across major cities as well as the concomitant growth in distribution infrastructure in addition to an appropriate tariff structure for charging of electric vehicles. In fact, the Government in Budget 2019-20 announced ₹10 billion in subsidies for building a nationwide EV charging infrastructure as a part of the FAME-II scheme. Charging stations will be installed on major highways such as Delhi-Mumbai, Delhi-Chandigarh, Mumbai - Surat - Pune, etc. with plans to having a charging station every 25 km on these highways. Several states like Gujarat, Maharashtra, Delhi and Karnataka have announced policies to boost EV adoption which will aid power demand through EV charging over the medium term.

Overview of the key challenges and risk factors in the sector

Key risk factors

Source: CRISIL Research

Power off-take ability of Discoms and credit risk

Despite significant availability of power (reflected in the low PLFs of coal-based plants of approximately 58.0% over last two years), offtake by Discoms in various Indian states is low on account of their weak financial position. In fact, there are Discoms that opt for load shedding instead of buying power as they have a revenue under-recovery (gap between average cost of supply or ACS and average revenue realized or ARR, also called the ACS-ARR Gap) at all India level being ₹0.55 per unit as of March 2021.

Energy efficiency measures such as demand side management; replacement of incandescent lamps with more efficient LED bulbs; increased use of energy efficient household appliances; and reduction in transmission and distribution loss are curtailing power demand which may affect power offtake from private generators. This is likely to impact their operational performance. Increasing capacity of renewable energy is also expected to affect utilization levels of conventional energy plants going forward.

Financial health of generators

Private sector coal-based plants without long-term PPAs are stranded due to low offtake. Their overall PLFs in fiscal 2021 stood at 54.2%, only marginally higher than 54.0% in fiscal 2020. Their financial position has deteriorated, with declining sales, reduced net margins and rise in gearing ratio.

With their financial health remaining weak despite the implementation of UDAY, Discoms are not expected to sign fresh long-term PPAs over the medium term owing to excess tie-ups in the past. Thus, debt servicing ability of private players is expected to remain weak, which would be a challenge for operational and under construction projects.

Fuel availability

For thermal plants which form 80.0% of installed capacity of conventional energy, fuel accounts for a large proportion of operating cost – approximately 75.0-80.0%. Over fiscals 2011-2014, domestic coal availability was a major issue as total non-coking coal production grew a mere 1.7% owing to stringent environmental regulations. This partly contributed to a decline in PLFs from 75.0% in fiscal 2011 to approximately 55% in fiscal 2021. Also, players were compelled to rely more on expensive imported coal (approximately 110.0% costlier than comparable grade of domestic coal), which saw its share rise to approximately 24.0% in fiscal 2018 from approximately 11.0% in fiscal 2011. This, in turn, adversely impacted the returns of players.

However, over the last 18-24 months, coal production has improved with faster clearances and speedier land acquisition. While the Government announcing the SHAKTI scheme to improve coal supplies to the power sector, signing of fresh PPAs (pre-condition for domestic coal linkage) and discount to be offered by Gencos on existing PPAs would be a key monitorable.

Despite the increased domestic coal availability to power plants over the past year due increased supply from Coal India Ltd. to power plants, the sector faced an acute shortage during fiscal 2022. This was particularly in light of the surge in coal prices caused by international supply disruptions. As a result, the share of imports in coal supply to the power sector fell to a measly approximately 4.0% in fiscal 2022, since imported coal plants refrained from stocking expensive coal, thereby limiting power generation.

On the gas front too, there are challenges. Availability of domestic gas sharply reduced after production from Reliance Industries' KG-D6 field plummeted. Consequently, gas based PLF reduced significantly to approximately 23.0% in fiscal 2021 from approximately 40.0% in fiscal 2013. To alleviate stress, the Government announced a scheme for utilization of gas-based power generation capacity. However, it did not provide an impetus as expected and PLFs continue to languish. Thus, debt servicing ability of most gas-based power plants has eroded.

Timely project execution

Power projects are highly capital intensive and have a long gestation period. Therefore, completion of projects in a time bound manner is very critical for developers to avoid the huge time and cost overruns. In the past, thermal power projects have witnessed significant cost overruns on account of delays in getting clearances, land acquisition and achieving financial closure. In fact, certain projects saw cost overruns as high as 67.0% resulting in total project expenditure escalating to ₹75 million per MW from initial estimate of ₹45 million per MW.

Hydro power projects have also been crippled due to execution challenges. Securing necessary approvals (environmental and forest clearances); land acquisition; relocation of project-affected people; inadequate infrastructure for power evacuation; and other logistical issues have constantly hampered the pace of project execution in the sector. Moreover, any delays in commissioning date of projects further raises the cost of the project. This, in turn, escalates the power tariff, thereby increasing power purchase cost of Discoms, making them reluctant to buy electricity from such projects.

Changes in emission norms

The coal-based plants need to adhere to the emission norms prescribed by the Ministry of Environment, Forest & Climate Change. There is additional capital expenditure associated with the equipment to be installed for keeping emissions below prescribed levels. Thus, any revision in such norms will have a cost impact on the generators.

In December 2015, the Union Government notified the revised standards for coal-based thermal power plants in the country, aimed at minimizing pollution and limiting water usage. The standards were more stringent for recent plants than for the earlier ones. They were the most stringent for the plants to be set up in future.

Upgradation of ESP (electrostatic precipitator); installation of FGD plant and modification of combustion system; and upgradation of cooling towers to reduce specific water consumption, etc. would escalate the capital cost of coal-based plants by ₹1.5-2.0 million per MW, that too if adequate land is available for the expansion. If land is not available, the cost could go higher still. Although the capital expenditure incurred towards these modifications can be passed on to Discoms, it requires approval from respective regulatory commission and PPA clause should also allow it. Thus, change in emission norms are one of the key factors possessing moderate impact on power generation projects.

Around 48 GW of coal plants missed the December 2019 deadline to meet emission norms. An update for these projects is still awaited. The deadline for another approximately 166 GW of coal plants was extended for a period of three years to December 2022 from the previous deadline of December 2019.

Regulatory and policy issues

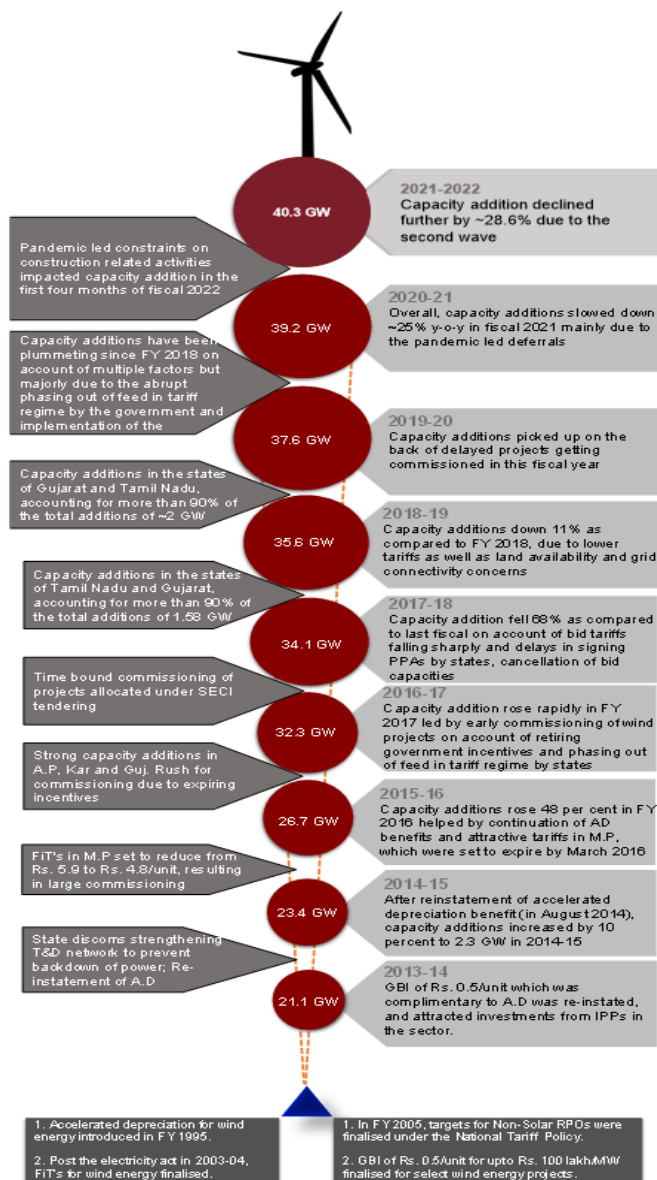

The Electricity Act, 2003, promoted competition in the power sector and provided for the de-licensing of thermal power generation. Also, while power deficit levels were as high as approximately 8.4% in fiscal 2006, the generation segment was given thrust through competitive bidding (Case-I and Case-II) for PPAs and allocation of coal blocks / signing letters of assurance for coal supply. As a result, the share of the private sector in the total installed capacity (thermal) witnessed the highest traction.

However, after the cancellation of coal block allocation in September 2014, a number of plants were stalled due to lack of fuel. Although the latest coal linkage policy notified in May 2017 – SHAKTI – aims to resolve this bottleneck, it has added a clause of providing discount on existing PPA tariffs which would hurt project returns. Also, denial of compensatory tariff on account of international price changes, cancellation of PPA bids by Uttar Pradesh, backing down of wind and solar generation despite its ‘must-run’ status, and re-negotiation of PPAs are some of the key risks the generation sector is facing.

Wind power market

Evolution of wind power in India

Rise of Wind energy Power in India (Government support and other key factors)

Reverse e-auction: In February 2017, the Government had conducted the first reverse e-auction for wind power, which led to tariffs falling to ₹3.46 per unit. This was in fact 17.0% lower than the lowest wind feed-in tariff (“FiT”) of ₹4.16 per unit in the state of Tamil Nadu. With such sharp drop in tariffs, several State Discoms like Gujarat, Andhra Pradesh, Rajasthan and Karnataka expressed their unwillingness to buy power under the FiT regime even for approved and under-construction projects as PPAs were not signed.

Accelerated Depreciation: The Government has halved the accelerated depreciation benefit (40.0% from project commissioning post-March 2017). This, coupled with competitive bidding, reduces the prospects of higher returns for accelerated depreciation-based players, which has led to a shift in investment focus to other avenues.

Review of overall grid connected wind energy capacity additions (2016-22)

Second wave of COVID-19 led restrictions delayed capacity addition in fiscal 2022

As per CRISIL Research, pandemic led constraints on construction related activities impacted capacity addition in fiscal 2022. While India added approximately 1 GW of wind energy capacity during fiscal 2022, capacity additions nevertheless declined in fiscal 2022 owing to surge in commodity prices, supply chain disruptions, and challenges in acquiring locations in windy regions, leading to issues of project viability. Additions were weak when also compared with historical long-term trends.

Source: MNRE; CRISIL Research

In fiscal 2021, approximately 1,553 MW was added, lower than the approximately 2,068 MW added during fiscal 2020. This comes on the back of a pickup in additions in fiscal 2020 from subdued fiscals 2019 and 2018, post the FiT regime change. Capacity additions had picked up by 31.0% y-o-y in fiscal 2020 compared to the 1,580 MW and 1,766 MW added in fiscals 2019 and 2018, respectively.

This increase in fiscal 2020 was largely attributed to the commissioning of delayed projects under SECI Tranche I, II and III as well as state auctions of Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra and Gujarat.

However, the sector continues to face severe delays, grappling with several execution challenges on the ground. Post 2017, SECI has allocated approximately 121 GW of inter-state transmission system (ISTS) connected wind capacities of which approximately 6.5 GW (31%) has been commissioned and approximately 3 GW cancelled. With commissioning timelines of 18-24 months, capacities are now lined up for commissioning from fiscal 2023 onwards. Fiscal 2023 faces new challenges such as locating land in windy areas, monsoon-related disruptions, surge in prices for cement (4% on-year) and steel (21% on-year). However, momentum is expected to pick up in the second half of fiscal 2023 when commodity prices are expected to stabilize.

To provide relief to the wind developers, the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (“MNRE”) had also previously permitted extension in scheduled commercial operation dates for wind projects facing difficulties, subject to certain conditions and adequate proof. The extension may be granted due to:

1. any change in land policy for a state post bidding or any delay in handing over of land by State Government as per policy;

2. modifications in the land and building rules of Tamil Nadu (for projects with PPAs signed post July 2018);
3. extension of 60 days post operationalization of the concomitant ISTS infrastructure;
4. any delays in approval of request from Ministry of Defense (“MoD”) beyond a period of 60 days and subject to the condition that request to the MoD must have been applied within 30 days of effective date of the PPA;
5. financial closure timelines will also be extended according to the extensions given to the final commercial operational date; or
6. any other extension request which can be sent by SECI to MNRE.

Apart from this, the MNRE granted two and half months’ time extension for RE projects which have their scheduled commissioning date on or after April 1, 2021. In fiscal 2021, the MNRE also provided an extension of five months in addition to its initial blanket extension of lockdown plus 30 days amidst the COVID-19 related lockdown, apart from clarifying that any delays from constraints related to the virus outbreak will be treated as force majeure. The latter can be applied for via petitions in front of the respective state regulatory commissions.

CRISIL Research expects these factors to cause a further deferral in the execution of the delayed pipeline, though some recovery is expected from fiscal 2023.

Review of competitive bidding

Based on their analysis, CRISIL Research believes that a levelized tariff of ₹3.0-3.2 per unit is required for an equity IRR of approximately 9.0-11.0%. CRISIL Research’s analysis is based on ₹75-80 million per MW capital costs (sans land charges) considering surge in commodity prices, PLFs of 35.0% and an interest rate of 8.0% p.a. These tariffs are significantly higher when compared to solar tariffs of ₹2.5-2.9 per unit. These and more would constraint wind additions in the medium term. This is also evident from the fact that cancellations have gone up in the sector with only 31% commissioned for existing tenders after introduction of competitive bidding.

OEM-wise market share for wind capacity addition (till fiscal 2022)

According to the Directory Indian Wind Power 2022, Suzlon had the maximum number of turbines supplied accounting for 9,169 turbines followed by Siemens Gamesa, Vestas Wind and Inox Wind. Out of the total 36,538 turbines in fiscal 2022, 17,290 turbines were supplied by players that are currently inactive. These turbines pose an opportunity for the O&M service providers as the players in the current market especially the OEMs, which hold the largest share of the O&M services in Indian market. The typical O&M contract period is 2+8 or 2+10 or 2+12 years with initial two years of free service with the purchase of equipment. Therefore, most of the turbines supplied by the now inactive players will require renewal of such contracts or newer contracts. The O&M contracts are structured mostly for 2+8 or 2+10 years to incorporate the price escalation of the services over the years. Post the tenor the contracts are then renewed for another 8 to 15 years. If the contracts are done for more than 15 years, there are clauses to renegotiate the service cost in between the term.

On the other hand, contracts are sometimes terminated by the parties owing to the following clauses:

- Breach of material supply obligations – this clause is invoked when a O&M service provider is not able to fulfil its obligation to render services and supply replacement equipment resulting in loss of generation.
- Payment delays from power producer – This clause is invoked when the power producer is unable to clear the dues of the O&M service providers in the committed time.
- Mutual termination – when both parties reach a consensus to terminate the contract for reasons not stipulated in the contract.

Usually, the termination of the contract takes 3-6 months to come into effect along with prior intimation to the parties associated.

In 2022, Suzlon added 160 turbines with a cumulative capacity of 343.5 MW followed by Siemens Gamesa, Inox Wind, Nordex and Vestas Wind with 151 (324 MW), 71 (142 MW), 49 (147 MW), and 47 (97 MW) turbines added, respectively. The total additions stood at 509 turbines and approximately 1.1 GW of capacity.

Brief on the region-wise generation of wind energy in India

Capacity additions remain subdued post change in regime, fiscal 2020 was seen as a recovery

Capacity additions have been plummeting since fiscal 2018 on account of multiple factors but majorly due to the abrupt phasing out of the FiT regime by the Government and implementation of the competitive bidding mechanism at the end of fiscal 2017. Moreover, halving of the accelerated depreciation benefit (from 80.0% in fiscal 2017 to 40.0% in fiscal 2018) and elimination of generation-based incentives (“GBI”) of ₹0.5 per unit also reduced investments in the sector from non-IPPs players.

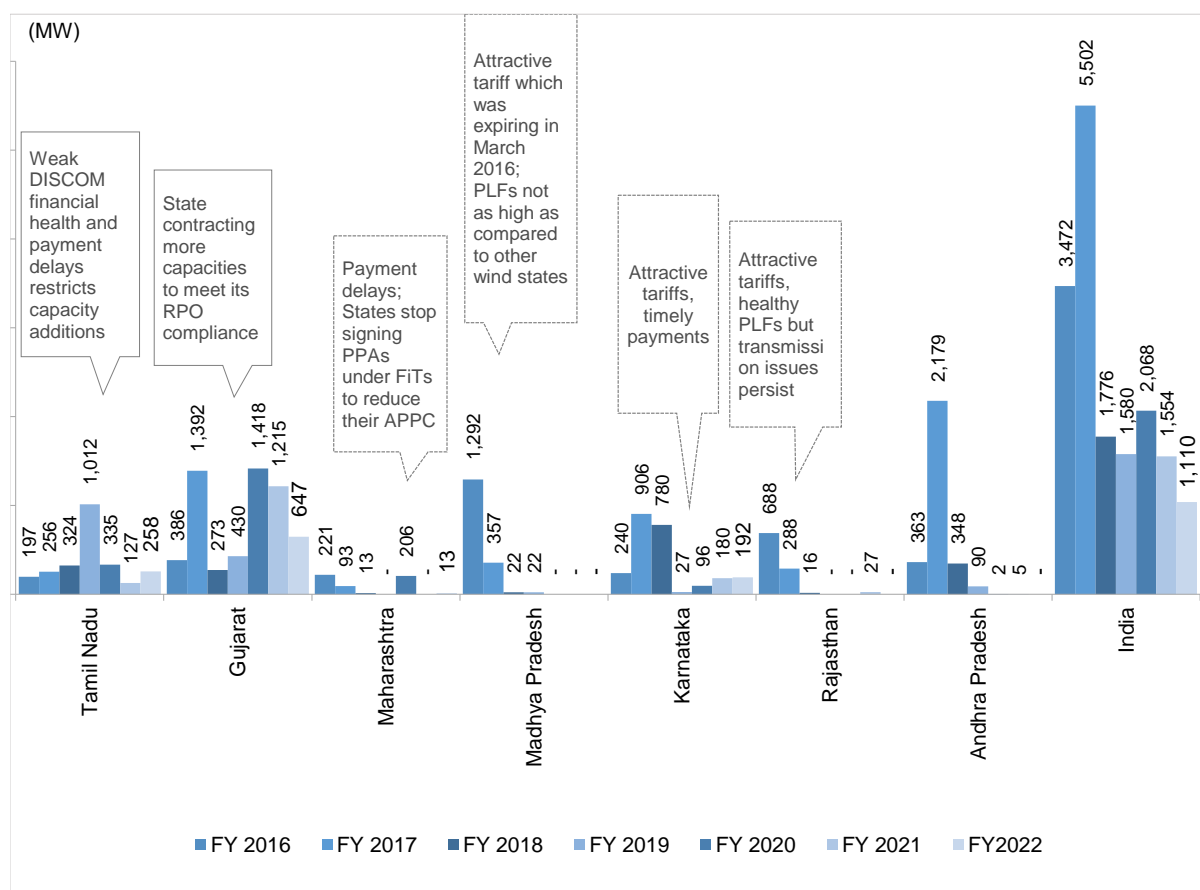

In February 2017, the Government conducted the first reverse e-auction for wind power, which led to tariffs falling to ₹3.46 per unit. This was in fact 17.0% lower than the lowest wind FiT of ₹4.16 per unit in the state of Tamil Nadu. With such sharp drop in tariffs, several State Discoms in Gujarat, Andhra Pradesh, Rajasthan and Karnataka have expressed their unwillingness to buy power under the FiT regime even for approved and under-construction projects as PPAs were not signed.

Capacity addition stayed muted in most states amidst second wave of the COVID-19 pandemic.

In the first two months of fiscal 2023, Rajasthan and Gujarat added capacities of approximately 169 MW and approximately 139 MW, respectively. In fiscal 2022, Gujarat added highest wind capacity of approximately 647 MW followed by Tamil Nadu (approximately 258 MW) and Karnataka (approximately 192 MW). Similarly, in fiscal 2021, most of the wind capacity additions had happened in the states of Gujarat, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and Rajasthan with Gujarat adding highest wind capacity of approximately 1,200 MW, Karnataka (approximately 180 MW), Tamil Nadu (approximately 120 MW) and Rajasthan (approximately 30 MW).

Source: Directory Wind Power in India, 2022

Slower additions lead to tepid tender and bid momentum

Auctioning has been slow since fiscal 2019 owing to tepid bid response from developers in several large tenders. Developers have been raising concerns regarding lack of adequate grid infrastructure, either due to delay in construction or lack of connectivity due to congestion. Out of 26 substations for wind evacuation, only six are viable for new bids as rest of them are either at uncompetitive wind resource sites or are fully occupied by the existing pipeline. Further, lower availability of Type I wind sites in suitable locations is also a cause for concern. Consecutively, projects bid out at low tariffs earlier, are now facing execution challenges as project returns get impacted at increased costs due to delays.

Tariff ceilings were a cause for lower subscription, removal is a positive policy change for the segment

A continuous lowering of tariff ceilings in tenders had left little flexibility to developers who were already coping with execution challenges on the ground.

Tariff caps vs weighted average tariffs (Rs./Unit)

Note: Tariff caps for approximately 6.1 GW auctioned over the period considered. approximately 8.5 GW auctioned did not have tariff caps, hybrid tenders excluded here (included in solar energy section).

Lower state targets and concentration of wind projects in fewer states pulls overall compliance to approximately 65-70%

Non-solar RPO targets vs estimated off-take (2021-22)

Source: MNRE; SERCs; CRISIL Research

CRISIL Research estimates that non-solar RPO compliance was approximately 65-70% in 2021-22 based on the RPO target (weighted average of approximately 8.3%) set by the respective states. However, as per the notification provided by the Ministry of Power in June 2018, it had set the Non-Solar RPO target of 10.5% by fiscal 2022 and 10.25% for fiscal 2021.

RPO Trajectory set up the Ministry of Power under its revised tariff policy

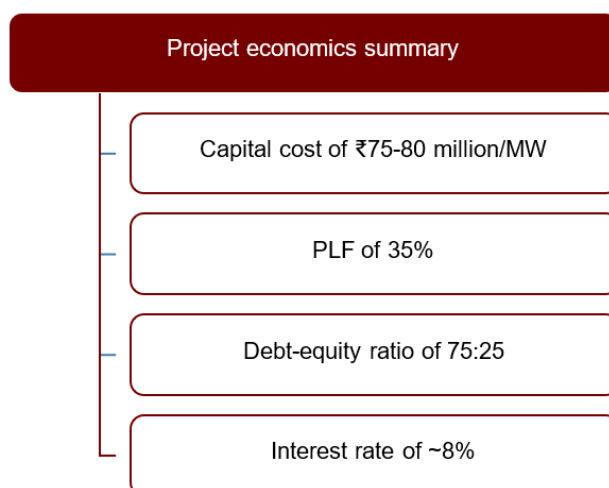

Source: Ministry of Power (Order No. 23/023/2016-R&R; dated June 14, 2018); CRISIL Research

The RPO compliance in 2021-22 was mostly driven by a few states, namely – Karnataka, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Gujarat. This was due to their large installed capacity base, set up on account of attractive wind FiTs, high industrial tariffs and favorable state policies towards renewable energy. On the other hand, despite high renewable energy potential, large states like Uttar Pradesh, Haryana and West Bengal are significantly lagging in terms of RPO achievement owing to low installed base and poor financial health of the Discoms.

Despite continuing non-compliance by most states, there has been limited enforcement on obligated entities – Discoms and open access and captive power users – to meet RPO targets. This is primarily on account of the weak financial health of State Discoms and lack of uniform imposition of penalties, with imposition cases being far and few. While few states have taken some action, the success has been limited. For instance, in October 2019, state distribution utilities of Delhi were penalized by the Delhi Electricity Regulatory Commission to the tune of ₹45.9 crores for defaulting on the RPO targets for three financial years, this however, is under dispute currently. Maharashtra Electricity Regulatory Commission had directed all obligated entities to meet their solar RPO targets for 2011-15 cumulatively by 2015-16. Despite that, Maharashtra State Electricity Distribution Company Ltd failed to purchase renewable energy certificates to fulfil its RPO. Punjab Discom earmarked funds of ₹800 million and ₹1 billion for 2012-13 and 2013-14 respectively to buy renewable energy certificates, but utilized the fund to buy non-solar renewable energy certificates only.

Review of project economics and levelized tariffs for wind power plants in India

Tariff of ₹3.0-3.2 per unit required for equity IRRs of approximately 9.0-11.0% for wind power projects

Source: CRISIL Research

CRISIL Research has assumed a capital cost of ₹75-80 million / MW considering the current rise in wind turbine costs due to a surge in commodity prices and also in the current scenario of competitive bidding where IPPs are managing most of the activities (such as land selection, governmental approvals, evacuation infrastructure, etc.) themselves on which a premium used to be charged earlier. Interest rate of approximately 8.0% has been assumed due to the current lower interest rate regime.

PLFs of 35.0% have been assumed given that new projects are deploying higher rated turbines with longer hub height exceeding 100 meters, however, on an average PLFs may vary significantly depending on location and age of machine.

Based on their analysis, CRISIL Research believes that a levelized tariff of ₹3.0-3.2 per unit is required for equity IRRs of approximately 9.0-11.0%. In their computations, CRISIL Research did not factor in the available accelerated depreciation benefit of 40.0% as well as GBI (applicability of these benefits varies as per PPA conditions and type of project – FiT or non-FiT).

This tariff range of ₹3.0-3.2 per unit is also supported by various financial metrics as analyzed at different tariff ranges below:

Tariff Range
Ratio analysis	2.4	2.6	2.8	3	3.2
ICR	3.9x	4.4x	4.9x	5.4x	5.9x
Net Debt/EBITDA	3.9x	2.5x	1.4x	0.5x	0.2x
DSCR	0.6x	0.7x	0.9x	1.0x	1.2x
Equity IRR	1%	3%	6%	9%	11%

Source: CRISIL Research

As highlighted in the above chart, financial metrics are weaker at tariffs below ₹3.0 per unit, with Net debt/EBITDA being high, Debt-Service Coverage Ratio (DSCR) being below approximately 1 times and Interest Coverage Ratio (ICR) also witnessing a declining trend, coupled with low equity IRRs below ₹3.0 per unit.

Further below, CRISIL Research has assessed the sensitivity of equity IRR to two critical factors, PLF and tariffs. IRRs are estimated to be very sensitive to both PLFs and tariffs, where every 20 paise hike in tariff improves equity IRR by 190-200 bps. While for every 100 bps change in PLFs, equity IRRs improves by 180-190 bps.

Sensitivity of equity IRR to PLF and tariff

PLFs (%) / Tariff (₹ per unit)	2.6	2.8	3	3.2
28%	-3.6%	-1.6%	0.5%	2.6%
30%	-1.7%	0.5%	2.7%	5.1%
33%	1.2%	3.7%	6.3%	8.8%
35%	3.1%	5.9%	8.6%	11.2%

Source: CRISIL Research

CRISIL Research believes, sub ₹3.0 per unit projects are viable only at high PLF ranges, above 35.0%, which is provided by Type I wind sites only. However, currently, lower availability of Type I wind sites in preferred locations along with congested transmission infrastructure has forced developers to move to Type II wind sites which have a lower average PLF range of 28.0-32.0%.

Hence, tariff of ₹3.0-3.2 per unit would be required for equity IRRs of approximately 9.0-11.0% for such wind power projects.

According to the National Institute of Wind Energy's India's Wind Potential Atlas at 120m above ground level (agl) which was published in October 2019, only a handful states have a capacity utilization factor ("CUF") above 35.0%. The detail list of states and potential for wind (at 120 m) at various CUF is given below:

States	State-wise detailed Wind Potential at 120m agl (MW)					Total

Wind sector witnessed pressure on returns led by competitive bidding; access to high wind density sites and low-cost financing critical

Previously, the discovered tariffs for competitively bid projects reached as low as at ₹2.43 per unit as against ₹3.0-3.2 per unit tariff required for earning 9.0-11.0% equity IRRs. However, post December 2017, when this low benchmark was reached, tariffs started to rise again. For instance, the weighted average tariff of allocations in fiscal 2022 (April 2021 to February 2022), have averaged at ₹2.8 per unit, providing an indication that developers are factoring in increased tariffs to adequately manage risks. The latest auction held in May 2022 witnessed tariffs of ₹2.92 per unit.

CRISIL Research believes that projects were aggressively bid even when availability of developed land banks (availability of wind micro siting data and proximity to the transmission) with high wind density sites were not tied up prior or finalized before bidding. This has caused execution challenges for several projects in the sector, for e.g. the SECI ISTS III projects were previously not able to acquire required wind sites in the preferred region of Gujarat. This has deterred further interest / developer response. Additionally, authorities had set pricing expectations near the ₹2.8 per unit mark, making it difficult for capacities to be auctioned at higher tariff ranges. However, the tariff cap removal in March 2020 provided an opportunity for developers to factor in the added execution challenges, leading to higher bid tariffs in successive auctions.

Capacity addition to witness moderate growth over the next five years

CRISIL Research expects capacity additions to grow, albeit at a slow pace over the next 5 years mostly driven by the allotment of central transmission utility connected capacities. However, the previous change in the bidding mechanism has caused the entire industry to slow down due to a significant fall in tariffs, where both bid response and profitability for OEMs has dropped. Extended project timelines alongside non-availability of grid and land related challenges would be impacting installations.

Wind capacity addition outlook

(GW)

Source: CRISIL Research

CRISIL Research expects capacity additions of 17-20 GW over the next five years (fiscals 2023-2027) entailing investments of approximately ₹1.4 trillion over the period. Lower interest rate remains a key driver for capacity additions in the near term. Approximately 19 GW in the pipeline is expected to be commissioned by fiscal 2027 factoring in delay due to cost escalation, evacuation infrastructure, etc. Owing to a 60 GW target by 2022 and a healthy pipeline build-up for the same, fiscal 2023 could witness approximately twice the capacity additions, as compared to fiscal 2022. Additionally, the removal of tariff ceiling has removed the execution hurdles, resulting in faster commissioning of pipeline projects.

Capacity additions over the long term will be driven by increased hybrid tenders coupled with storage, Central Government (SECI) allocations under relatively stronger off takers like SECI and PTC India Ltd. (formerly Power Trading Corporation of India Limited) (PTC), which also reduces risk as compared to direct exposure to State Discoms. State auctioning, on the other hand, has slowed as several have instead signed power sale agreements with PTC and SECI for procurement of wind power to help fulfil their non-RPO targets.

Mounting challenges have led to a slowdown in additions for wind

Additions have been slow since fiscal 2018 where authorities took time to release competitive bidding guidelines and establish a mechanism. Thereafter, auctions gradually took place with only four state auctions so far i.e. by Gujarat (awarded 500 MW wind in Q3 of fiscal 2018), Tamil Nadu (500 MW in August 2017), Maharashtra (500 MW in Q4 of fiscal 2018) and Gujarat (1,000 MW but only 203 MW allocated in Q1 of fiscal 2020).

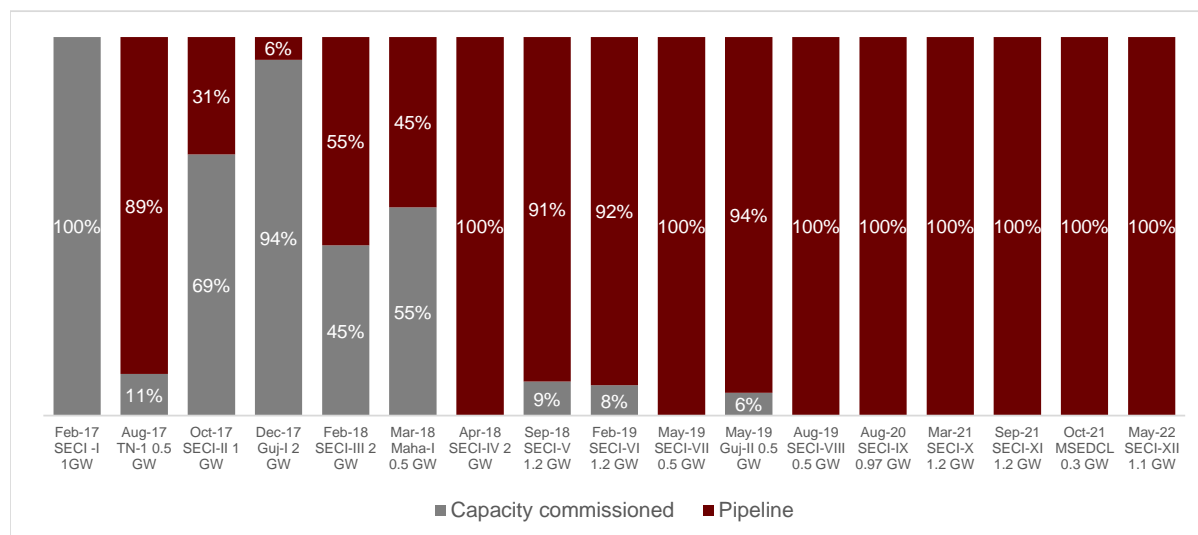

A shift to a competitive bidding mechanism in the wind energy sector has caused a slowdown in capacity additions as participants are yet to adjust. Tariffs had fallen from a range of ₹4.0-4.5 per unit, under the FiT regime to ₹2.4-2.6 per unit range under competitive bidding mechanism, later correcting to the ₹2.8-3.0 per unit mark (low returns even at this tariff). Such low realizations remain unviable for the entire value chain at current capital costs of ₹7.0-7.2 crores per MW.

Existing pipeline continues to face bottlenecks

Capacity additions remained weak with approximately 1,100 MW installations witnessed during fiscal 2022 owing to the second wave of the pandemic. Fiscal 2021 had also witnessed a reversal of the slowdown in capacity additions seen over fiscals 2018 and 2019, with approximately 1.5 GW of additions in the year.

There remain almost 10 tranches of SECI led wind only allocations which have been auctioned but are currently under construction. Most of the capacities were expected to come online over fiscals 2021-2022. However they continue to face bottlenecks in the form of delay in receiving regulatory approvals, delays in grid evacuation, land acquisition, transmission LTA, etc.

SECI Tranche wise – commissioning status

Source: SECI, MNRE, CRISIL Research

As a result, only approximately 1.1 GW was added in fiscal 2022 considering the lockdown in most parts of the country during Q1 of fiscal 2022. Moreover, MNRE has announced a two and half month extension for projects which have scheduled commissioning date on a case-to-case basis due to monsoon and supply chain disruptions. However, with approximately 69% of capacity in pipeline, capacity additions are expected to bounce back in fiscal 2023.

Constraints/risks for wind power addition

With regard to this the following constraints/risks have emerged which may be a restraining factor to additions:

1. Sustainability at low bid tariffs

The initial competitively bid wind auctions, which took place in fiscals 2018 and early fiscal 2019, witnessed bid tariffs of approximately ₹2.5 per unit. This had led to regulatory authorities (Discoms / SECI) considering those as the benchmark. However, prevailing market dynamics are not conducive to such realizations. Those tariffs were achievable at low capital costs of ₹6.3-6.5 crores per MW, which had resulted from an inventory build-up with OEMs.

However, currently capital costs are ranging between ₹7.5-8.0 crores per MW, which cannot be supported by tariffs as low as ₹2.5-2.8 per unit. While, on the other hand, counterparties were not ready to accept tariffs above a certain mark causing a pricing impasse in the sector. However, the removal of the tariff ceiling as announced by MNRE in March 2020 is a key positive in this regard. Following the same, the auctions held in fiscal 2022 have averaged ₹2.85 per unit, indicating that developers are factoring in increased tariffs to adequately manage risks. The latest auction held in May 2022 also witnessed tariffs of ₹2.93 per unit.

2. Poor bid response and slow tendering / auctioning activity

The sector witnessed an initial spurt of auctions over February 2017 to December 2017 with tariffs reaching ₹2.44 per unit by the end of December 2017. Auctions saw a brief lull period post April 2018, with two tenders of NTPC 2 GW and SECI 2 GW delayed over a prolonged period due to poor bid response. These tenders were then revised to 1.2 GW of capacities post which they were allocated. The next wind auction took place in February 2019 after a brief lull period from April 2018 to September 2018. Post this, three auctions have been held in May 2019, one in August 2019 and one in August 2020, all of which have been grossly undersubscribed. Fiscal 2022 saw allocation of approximately 1.7 GW with limited allocation activity in Q3 and Q4 of the fiscal. However, fiscal 2023 saw a recovery with approximately 1.1 GW already allocated under SECI Tranche XII. This is in contrast to the approximately 40-60 GW of tender and under construction pipeline in solar. The slowdown in tendering/ auctioning would extend the time period for commissioning further, hence, limiting the pipeline for the sector.

3. Concentration of projects in high wind density zones

The top five states make up approximately 80.0% of the installed wind capacity (as of May 2022), with particular regions within these states accounting for most of the projects. This leads to lower wind site availability in Type I wind sites or key windy regions (especially with increasing scale of project capacity), rising land costs and problems in arranging connectivity.

For instance, Tamil Nadu with the highest installed wind capacity of 9,866 MW, sees concentration of projects in districts of Tirunelveli, Nilgiris, Erode, Coimbatore and Tiruppur. Similarly, for Gujarat with an installed wind base of 9,348 MW, most of the projects are located in or near the Rann of Kutch region apart from coastal sites and select locations of Jamnagar, Porbandar, Morbi and Bhavnagar. Similarly, for Karnataka (5,171 MW) – Chitradurga, Bellary, Davengere and Tumkur; Rajasthan (4,496 MW) – Barmer and Jaisalmer; and for Andhra Pradesh (4,097 MW) – Ananthapur, Nellore and Kurnool are the key regions where projects are concentrated.

To be sure, there would be other sites across states which would also be suitable for wind projects, however, they may be of a lower wind density (Type II and Type III wind sites), may not have adequately linked grid infrastructure or may have a paucity of contiguous land parcels as required for the current scale of 200-300 MW of wind installations.

As a consequence, players are finding it difficult to acquire contiguous land with good quality (Type I) wind sites concomitant to adequate transmission connectivity. This has also led to poor bid response.

4. Adequate transmission infrastructure

The rapid addition of renewable capacities requires adequate grid infrastructure so as to evacuate incremental power. This has emerged as a concern, with developers lowering participation in bids (SECI 2 GW, NTPC 2 GW) where this has been a key issue. Specifically for wind, majority of the best wind sites are concentrated in few states such as Gujarat, Tamil Nadu, AP and Karnataka which causes increased congestion in specific regions of these states. However, nodal agencies (PGCIL, SECI) have planned various schemes to alleviate grid congestion and improve connectivity to RE projects.

The grid capacity additions will come under two main schemes, namely the Green Energy Corridor (“GEC”) Scheme and Renewable Energy Zones (“REZ”), both of which are to be implemented over the medium term. This would add approximately 80 GW of transmission grid capacity to an existing approximately 24 GW, taking grid capacity planned for RE integration to approximately 100 GW.

The GEC Scheme is aimed at developing specific evacuation corridors for renewable energy in key renewable rich states. The Government has planned to integrate RE into the national grid by setting up inter-state and intra-state schemes for evacuation of power from wind and solar projects, termed as ‘green energy corridors’. The interstate component of the scheme was completed in March 2020 while the intra-state level is facing delayed execution, which is expected to be completed by 2022. A total of 8,434 km of transmission lines has been constructed under the intra-state scheme as on November 2021 with states like Madhya Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh and Rajasthan leading the execution. PGCIL has also come up with a scheme for setting up grid infrastructure in identified REZ. Under this, key areas with concentration of existing / planned RE projects have been identified in the western and southern regions of the country. Out of this, 8 GW of grid capacity will be added for wind projects in the western region and 9 GW in the southern region. These would be known as wind energy zones.

In conclusion, these schemes give comfort against the estimate of approximately 17-20 GW of wind to be added by fiscal 2027. However, timely execution of planned capacities is key as RE projects take only 1-1.5 years to come online while transmission capacities take roughly 2-3 years.

5. Continued payment delays from state-owned Discoms

Payment delays from debt-ridden state-owned Discoms continue to remain a major concern for power generators especially RE power generators. Discoms had a total overdue of ₹210 billion by the end of June 2021, with the seven key states having majority of wind resources witnessing total dues outstanding of approximately ₹173 billion.

Drivers for wind power addition

1. Wind solar hybrid

Harnessing the potential of renewables in India has resulted in the co-location of wind and solar generation sites. This results round the clock generation thereby leading to higher utilization of the system. The added benefit of consistent power generation compared to standalone wind or solar generation has attracted the central public sector such as SECI to invite capacities for hybrid generations. This could lead to higher adoption of wind in the next five years compared to standalone wind.

Although the exact split of wind and solar for hybrid projects is based on developer choice and technical design, they tend to have a higher share of solar energy, due to lower capital costs and ease of installation. In order to be considered a hybrid project, at least 33.0% of the project must consist of and use a secondary technology. As such and in order to maintain the cost effectiveness of the project, 33.0% of the rated power capacity of hybrid projects typically consists of wind energy. Similarly, round-the-clock and peak power supply project also generate substantial demand for wind capacity addition as developers require a good mix of source (solar, wind and/or energy storage) to get maximum possible efficiency.

Solar-wind hybrid tenders are estimated to result in capacity addition of 3-4 GW over the next five years with existing schemes. With fresh hybrid tenders in the industry, additions will increase gradually over the long term.

2. MNRE's removal of tariff ceiling:

In March 2020, the MNRE announced the removal of a tariff cap from all future tenders, including wind. This bodes well for the segment especially in light of the low viability of projects previously auctioned off at tariff below ₹2.8 per unit and the increasing execution hurdles being faced by developers. Consequently, the removal of the tariff cap would help developers price in the additional risk / cost associated with these challenges, which is also expected to improve subscription rates in the sector. As per CRISIL's analysis, this could provide a fillip of up to 2 GW over the medium term to subscription rates, though only once the negative impact from COVID-19 related constraints subsides.

3. Improved technology

Newer wind turbines are being launched which have higher rated capacity and higher hub height (over 100 m), which can be set up at low quality wind sites, otherwise considered economically unattractive. Technological advancements have allowed players to set up wind turbines in states / sites with lower wind density. The higher hub height would not only increase the generation capacity of the turbine but also boost the PLF of the plant considerably. Based on CRISIL Research's estimates, for every 100-bps change in PLFs, equity IRRs improve by 100-150 bps.

4. Large scale central allocations

Post competitive bidding of 1 GW by SECI in February 2017, SECI has further allocated approximately 10.5 GW of capacities over March 2017 to June 2022. The MNRE has outlined further plans to bid out approximately 5-6 GW of capacities each year, of which a majority portion should be expected from SECI/PTC. This bodes well as central sector PPAs have lower counter party risk as compared to PPAs directly with Discoms. The latter are known to delay payments to developers and have poor financial ratings while SECI/PTC are better rated and provide various payment security mechanisms (LCs, payment security fund and SECI being part to the tripartite agreement).

5. Upward revision in RPO targets

The Discoms are expected to revise their non-solar RPO targets and provide a long-term trajectory based on the new Ministry of Power (“MoP”) guidelines, which proposes a target of 10.5% of non-solar renewable energy mix by fiscal 2022 for individual states.

Currently, most of the states in India have set lower RPO targets (pan-India average non-solar RPO target in fiscal 2022 was 8.4% versus 10.5% required as per MoP) which have resulted in higher compliance vis-à-vis the set targets. To fulfil increased targets, states would have to procure more RE either via the REC route (which still leads to capacity additions) or via competitively bid out capacities, however, trading on the REC market has been restricted over the past fiscal year. Waiver of ISTS transmission charges by CERC for all projects until fiscal 2025 also provides states with low renewable potential the option to procure renewable power from states with higher renewable potential. However, RPO compliance is dependent on strict enforcement by regulatory authorities. Amendments to the Electricity Act, 2003 have been proposed to include stricter provisions on penalization for non-compliance, however, this is yet to be passed.

6. Accelerated depreciation

Historically, particularly in 2014-15 and 2015-16, accelerated depreciation had been a key driver for capacity additions. However, going forward CRISIL Research expects capacity additions under this mode to be restricted only to large conglomerates in other unrelated business but seeking tax breaks. While accelerated depreciation was halved to 40.0% from April 2017, it will continue to support additions in open access capacities.

7. High industrial tariffs

In states such as Maharashtra, Karnataka, Tamil Nadu and West Bengal where industrial tariffs are high in the range of ₹6-6.5 per unit, wind power is an attractive option since generation costs are about ₹3.0-4.0 per unit. Capacities can be set-up via the open access mode i.e. bilateral agreement directly with consumers such as commercial/industrial entities.

Operation and Maintenance services for Wind Energy and other renewables

Operations and maintenance (“O&M”) cost form a critical component in the Levelized Cost of Electricity (“LCOE”) of wind energy. Therefore, renewable power producers adopt various strategies to lower this cost and improve the reliability of the services. In order to make the LCOE competitive with other producers and technologies. Typically, O&M costs account for 20.0-25.0% of the LCOE involving five categories, namely, insurance, regular maintenance, repair, spare parts, and administration. These costs generally rise with the years of operation however, with more experience, various approaches have been formulated that generators follow to keep a check on the O&M costs.

The industry started with reactive maintenance mostly resulting in downtime and major service or overhaul. The major reason behind this was late detection of the fault or part failure. The cost of service due to this late detection increases compared to early detection and repair. Moreover, with increase in the life of the generation plant the cost of major repairs escalates. Currently, the O&M service providers offer solutions to minimize the major repairs and replacements while moving towards predictive maintenance. As a result, the cost of maintenance has decreased by more than 50.0% for onshore wind and by more than 50.0% for offshore wind generators in the past 10 years, as reported by the International Renewable Energy Agency.

Key components of wind turbine that require service includes

- Hydraulic Pitch
- Transformer
- Generators
- Gearbox

- Blades
- Grease oil and Lubricating Oil
- Electrical components
- Contactor/ Circuit Breaker/Relay
- Controls
- Safety
- Sensors
- Pumps/Motors
- Hub
- Heaters/ Coolers
- Yaw System
- Foundation/Tower/Mast
- Power Supply/Converter
- Services

Value chain for O&M services for wind energy

There are three channels to obtain the operation and maintenance for wind energy generators

1. Original Equipment manufacturers

- O&M services are usually acquired along with the components of the wind turbine generation unit. These services are acquired for a time of two to five years as a part of annual maintenance packages. The key providers of these services are the OEMs, which include guarantees and preventive and corrective maintenance that could be extended after the expiry of the contract period. These are preferred globally due to ease of procuring spare parts or replacement equipment from OEMs compared to other O&M service providers.

2. Renewable Energy Developers

- Large renewable energy developers have also started to maintain their own capacity instead of traditionally OEM based O&M contracts. Currently, there is limited capacity from some of the key renewable energy developers being maintained in house. The major reason for this is to increase the control over the operations of the generation and further reduce the dependence on the OEMs. This also reduces the risk of extended periods of shutdowns resulting in no drop in availability of the plant. Moreover, due to financial hurdles for OEMs, IPPs have opted to carry out O&M activities in-house to avoid dependence on the any other entity.

3. Third-party or Independent Service Providers (“ISP”)

- O&M services are also offered by third-party / independent service providers. This is usually taken at the time of warranty expiration the annual maintenance contracts with the OEM or when the OEMs are not preferred with the equipment acquisition due to financial constraints.

Key technological advancements/innovation and trends in O&M services

Predictive maintenance versus reactive maintenance

Major components such as nacelles, turbines, generators, hydraulics, and electronics require constant monitoring to ensure smooth operability. Traditionally, reactive maintenance was carried out when the equipment had shown severe operational faults or complete failure or during scheduled maintenances. The failure or reactive maintenance resulted in longer shutdowns and low availability of the generators.

On the contrary, predictive maintenance accurately forecasts the component failures before they occur based on historical data. This is a critical service in wind generation as it addresses the issues associated with reactive maintenance as described above. Furthermore, the proactive maintenance reduces the operational cost by reducing the wear and tear of the equipment in the system. As a result of implementation of predictive maintenance techniques replacements and major repairs in the wind energy have declined considerably over the past years. Therefore, more and more developers are going for predictive maintenance as compared to reactive and scheduled maintenance.

The disadvantage of solely relying on historical data is that some of the assets will be flagged for maintenance despite being functionally sound and performing well. This drives the maintenance cost of the assets in good operational conditions. Hence it needs another layer of technological intervention that segregates, analyses and prioritize the activities. Thus, minimize the unwanted spends on maintenance of assets that are in healthy condition. Artificial intelligence (“AI”) and Internet of Things enablement can solve this purpose and lead to cost savings especially in the case of power plants having assets spread across large areas. For instance, in large solar parks predictive maintenance using AI can lead to significant saving of inspection and maintenance planning of the assets. Moreover, it also aids capacity planning and addition over the years. In case of distribution networks, precision mapping of the assets leads to proper identification and location of the assets in the network for maintenance and addition of the consumers.

Condition monitoring

A key element of the predictive maintenance suite, condition monitoring is used to monitor the health of the turbine and related electrical systems. Its purpose is to predict maintenance issues so site operators can conduct repairs and replacements only when needed to avoid unnecessary and costly up-tower jobs. Although the intent is to cut time and cost from O&M tasks, condition monitoring systems have become rather detailed in accumulating and analyzing data and hence can become expensive. The system can supply the failure rate of the turbine and related equipment for up to 20 years along with simulations to predict the future failures thereby reducing the costs considerably by avoiding major replacements.

Impact of technology implementation on O&M services

Technology driven solutions are constantly evolving and are being deployed across the sector. For instance the implementation of AI-based predictive analytics solutions can help analyze real-time operational data at scale, identify any underperformance, and recognize failures using machine learning. The most advanced implementation of technology across wind energy includes digital twin. Digital twin is a virtual representation of the actual asset for remote interaction by the trained professional. Digital twin minimizes the need of human team diagnosing the faults, instead engineers can analyze and identify problems remotely. Thus saving the efforts of personnel to specific instances. Applications such as demand response management, hybrid energy storage systems, vehicle-to-grid, virtual power plant, etc. are being tested across the clean energy sector involving implementation of new technologies. Machine learning (“ML”) and AI can also be applied to recognize patterns, predict faults and highlight important variables that could otherwise be missed.

Challenges

- Overdependence on OEMs

In India the O&M service space is dominated by the OEM players resulting in delays in accessing valuable data. This, along with spare parts unavailability, impacts power generation and revenues for plant owners. Some of the players have also seen a few cases of bankruptcy in the past on the OEM side. Thus, the industry is leaning towards adoption of technologies to de-risk the operations. Further, the availability of spare parts is very specific to OEMs. There is also the issue of forecasting and scheduling resulting the additional deviation settlement charges to be borne by the generator only in case of unavailability of the system.

Moreover, countries ahead in the wind energy race such as the US have a very buoyant service market with a lot of independent service providers providing alternative services to OEMs. This results in reduction of dependence on OEM and raises the competition among the service providers, gives greater visibility, saves resources and improves the accuracy of prediction. Therefore, for ISPs and renewable energy developers the cost of O&M services are expected to remain high until they reach economies of scale and there is better spare part availability.

- Slower adoption of new-age technologies

The adoption of technologies such as AI and ML is comparatively slower which restrains the sector from reaping the benefits of such innovations. The implementation of these technologies is likely to scale up in the coming years with increased participation from the ISPs along with the major developers entering the O&M space rather than just limiting to performance monitoring of machines. The standard practices among the wind capacities in the country such as SCADA is not as advanced as AI and ML and hence requires upgradation to minimize the risk exposure pertaining to equipment failure.

Review of O&M services market for wind energy in India (fiscals 2016-2022)

O&M services for wind energy is dominated by the equipment manufacturers in the country. A typical wind turbine O&M cost ranges from ₹2,500-3,500/kW of capacity. The type of services offered as a part of O&M contracts include:

- Supply of equipment
- Large equipment supply
- Sundry or small equipment supply
- Consumables
- Repair services
- Regular repair and maintenance
- Major repair or overhaul
- Equipment replacement

The wind energy market grew at a healthy rate with capacity additions picking up pace in fiscal 2020 after a low in 2019 on account of the FiT regime change. This has also positively impacted the demand of O&M services which grew from ₹84 billion in 2016 to more than ₹130 billion in 2022. Capacity additions declined in fiscal 2021 due to COVID-19 pandemic led lockdowns and mobility restrictions. However, this might have positively impacted the remote monitoring capabilities and technological implementation across the wind energy sector.

CRISIL Research expects the wind capacity addition to be in the range of 17-20 GW during the forecast period thereby taking the total installed capacity over 50 GW. The growth is likely to be on account of hybrid capacity allocation along with an existing pipeline of 10-11 GW for pureplay wind. As a result of this, the demand for O&M services is expected to be in the range of ₹170-210 billion by fiscal 2026.

Key competitors and comparison of service offerings

The O&M service offered by the OEM dominated the market with up to 70.0% of market share. ISPs and renewable energy developers contributed to 20.0-25.0% and 5.0-10.0% respectively in fiscal 2021.

Advantages of O&M service providers

Original Equipment Manufactures (OEM)

- Better availability of spare parts for replacement or upgrade due access to technological advancements and large pool of surplus equipment
- Availability of authorized trained professionals
- Easy warranty claims and extended cover

Renewable Energy Developers (RED)

- Reduced cost of maintenance
- No drop in performance or availability
- Reduced third party risk with dependence on OEM/ISP

Independent Service Providers (ISP)

- Lowered dependence on OEM or building in-house expertise
- Can offer diversified package compared to OEM, however, this can result in increasing the cost of OEM in the country due to limited availability of technology and spare parts with ISPs

Equipment provider offering bundled O&M solutions

OEMs hold the largest share of wind O&M services in India. Most of the operators or turbine owners prefer OEMs pre and post warranty. This is because OEMs have the advantage of better spare part availability which is crucial to maintain high generator availability. In addition to this some of the OEMs offer upgrades along with equipment acquisition or O&M service contracts. These bundled offerings are what separates the OEMs from ISPs. The bundles offerings are beneficial in case of equipment failure resulting in timely rectification of the faults and easy availability of spares.

On the other hand, the service costs from OEMs sometimes increases the overall operating cost of the generation plant and thereby resulting in higher LCOE. Therefore, RE developers / equipment owners might shift to third party service post warranty to save O&M costs or reduce the dependency on OEMs. However, this shift can result in increasing the cost of O&M due to lack of long-term supply tie ups.

OEMs can target the capacity available from the inactive OEMs. As reported in Directory Indian Wind Power 2021, more than 14,000 turbines were supplied by OEMs that are out of operations.

O&M service providers

Third-party service providers offer independent service contracts to wind asset owners and can result in a reduction in the fixed O&M services cost. India has seen an increase in the independent service providers with multiple instances of OEMs filing for bankruptcy. This has resulted in revisions in the O&M strategies of wind asset owners and shifting the focus towards the ISPs or in-house maintenance by the owners themselves.

Some of the ISPs associate themselves with multiple OEMs to leverage the confidence that the operator/asset owner has built with the OEMs. Traditionally, OEMs have been a key stakeholder in the O&M strategies of asset owners, however, for asset owners who use equipment from multiple OEMs, ISPs are able to offer a single point of contact for all their O&M needs thereby eliminating the need to contact various OEMs for each equipment. This will eventually lead to reducing turnaround time and downtime.

View on technology sourcing by WTG and OEM players operating in India

Most of the WTG and OEM players offering O&M solutions in India are global giants having consistent offerings across geographies. The technologies are developed at their global R&D centers and then supplied across the globe. On the other hand, the smaller players who have lower market penetration develop the equipment based on their experience or by having international tie ups. These tie ups are either to utilize the technology and manufacture equipment at domestic locations or to import the manufactured equipment and assemble it with the system in India.

Opportunities for wind energy O&M service providers

Wind-solar hybrid segment

New opportunities have emerged in the wind sector in India with SECI coming up with newer kinds of project tenders in the form of hybrid, round-the-clock, and peak power supply projects. Although the exact split of wind vs solar for hybrid projects is based on developer choice and technical design, they tend to have a higher share of solar energy due to lower capital costs and ease of installation. In order to be considered a hybrid project, at least 33.0% of the project must consist of and use a secondary technology. As such and in order to maintain the cost effectiveness of the project, 33.0% of the rated power capacity of hybrid projects typically consists of wind energy. Similarly, RTC and peak power supply projects also generate substantial demand for wind capacity addition as developers require a good mix of sources (solar, wind and/or energy storage) to get maximum possible efficiency.

So far SECI has auctioned 3,600 MW hybrid tenders, under ISTS Tranches I, II, and III of which approximately 2,800 MW were allocated. Similarly, 1,200 MW peak power supply and 400 MW of RTC tender has been allocated with 2,500 MW RTC tender in the pipeline. As per industry interaction, these new tenders combined are expected to add 1-1.5 GW wind capacity. Thus, offering new areas for O&M service providers to utilize their existing capabilities for maintaining larger and hybrid capacity.

Aging capacity

Wind turbines are expected to lose 1.0-1.5% of their output per year thereby requiring consistence optimization, service and upgrades. In India, Tamil Nadu has the oldest wind energy capacity which requires the repowering of turbines. Repowering refers to replacement of a high number of old and smaller turbines with newer high-capacity and larger turbines. This increases the efficiency of the system and further reduces the generation losses.

The aged fleet also boosts the need for condition-based monitoring pre and post repowering. There is already a policy in place for the repowering of turbines by the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy. Moreover, compared to a new project, repowering would cost less, since existing land and infrastructure are being used. It also reduces the risks associated with worn out assets. Thus, aged assets and repowering poses a great opportunity for O&M service providers.

Until fiscal 2002, wind generation accounted for 1,666.8 MW of installed capacity, with Tamil Nadu having more than 50.0% of this capacity. This capacity had an average service life of 15 years and sizes well below 1 MW. These turbines, if replaced with modern day turbines, could easily derive 30.0% or more CUF from the current 10.0-14.0% CUF. Furthermore, the capacity additions post 2002 involved low-capacity turbines below 1 MW which are or can become eligible for repowering thereby increasing the overall opportunity of repowering of turbines. States like Gujarat, Andhra, Karnataka, and Tamil Nadu have come up (or are under advisement) with policies for the repowering of wind turbines. However, repowering policies do not address key concerns such as model, mandatory repowering and incentivization. Therefore, the repowering scheme has seen low traction/activity till date.

Moreover, the capacity of turbines supplied by the inactive OEM players accounted for more than 9 GW or 14,633 turbines. These accounted for 41.0% of the cumulative capacity by the end of fiscal 2021 thereby posing an opportunity for the O&M service providers in the country.

Solar segment

Wind O&M service providers utilize various techniques for continuous monitoring of the assets. These techniques or technologies can be implemented on other renewable generation assets such as solar or battery systems. In the case of hybrid or RTC systems the monitoring, diagnostics, etc. such services can be employed. While the services relating to hydraulics or mechanical parts can be implemented if required. Furthermore, technological driven basic solutions for forecasting and scheduling involving the implementation of AI and ML are common to various sources of generation in the renewable energy space. Hence, wind O&M service providers can enter the solar segment with the help of hybrid capacities and further develop a specific service suite for it. Along with this, large OEMs offering O&M services for wind can utilize their presence and supply chains to target solar capacities as well.

Global demand for O&M service for renewable energy

Wind energy generation is likely to reach 938 GW of the installed capacity by 2022 globally. Wind generation O&M service demand is likely to follow the same trend to reach ₹2,900-3,100 billion by 2022. Compared to solar photovoltaics (PV), the maintenance cost of the wind generators is higher due to continuous wear and tear of the movable parts resulting in higher replacement of equipment.

Key players and business model adopted: Global vs India

Global O&M service market for RE consists of ISPs offering similar services as OEMs. Easy availability of spare and availability of trained professional has resulted in increasing the ISPs contribution in the service market. Furthermore, OEMs operating the global market offer package deals along with the equipment acquisition. These package offerings include discounted upgrades for equipment covered under the scheme, warranty for the system, and easy availability of replacements.

ISPs usually perform affiliated services and third-party services. Affiliated services are performed with authorization from the OEMs resulting in the leveraging of supply channels and customers of the OEMs, while third party services are performed on assets regardless of OEM. Affiliated services are performed pre and post warranty period; third party services are usually availed after warranty period.

On the contrary, in India, OEMs dominate the O&M service market due to lack of the abovementioned factors and limited number of ISPs present in the market. Moreover, due to the control over the infrastructure, OEMs have an upper hand in the market and are likely to remain in the same position for the coming years.

Some of the key OEMs offering services in the global market are listed below along with their offerings.

Overview

We are one of the major wind power operation and maintenance (“O&M”) service providers within India. Our Company is engaged in the business of providing long-term O&M services for wind farm projects, specifically the provision of O&M services for wind turbine generators (“WTGs”) and the common infrastructure facilities on the wind farm which support the evacuation of power from such WTGs. We have stable annual income owing to the long-term O&M contracts that we enter into with our customers. We are a subsidiary of Inox Wind Limited (“IWL”), a company which is listed on the National Stock Exchange of India Limited and BSE Limited, and part of the Inox GFL group of companies (“Inox GFL Group”). Our subsidiaries are engaged in the business of power generation through renewable sources of energy with Nani Virani Wind Energy Private Limited being the only subsidiary which has commenced power generation as of the date of this Prospectus.

We enjoy synergistic benefits as a subsidiary of IWL, which is principally engaged in the business of manufacturing WTGs and providing turnkey solutions by supplying WTGs and offering a variety of services including wind resource assessment, site acquisition, infrastructure development, EPC of WTGs, and, through our Company, providing long-term O&M services for wind power projects. Pursuant to an exclusivity agreement between IWL and our Company, we provide exclusive O&M services for all WTGs sold by IWL through the entry of long-term O&M contracts between the WTG purchaser and ourselves for terms which typically range between five to 20 years. Due to this exclusivity agreement, IWL’s order book is an important indicator of future revenue and growth for our Company. As of June 30, 2022, IWL had entered into binding contracts for the supply of 2 MW capacity WTGs with an aggregate capacity of 964 MW. Further, IWL had also received letters of intent, which are non-binding and which therefore may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract, for its new 3.3 MW capacity WTGs with an aggregate capacity of 524.7 MW.

Set out below is a diagram which summarizes the general process from the manufacturing of a WTG by, for example, IWL, to the point where the provision of our O&M services commences.

As of June 30, 2022, our O&M services portfolio consisted of an aggregate 2,792 MW of wind farm capacity and 1,396 WTGs. This included a total capacity of 1,220 MW for various customers in Mahidad, Rojmal, Sadla, Savarkundla, Rajkot and Dayapar in Gujarat; a total capacity of 632 MW for various customers in Kukru, Nipaniya, Jaora and Lahori in Madhya Pradesh; a total capacity of 560 MW for various customers in Dangri, Rajasthan; and a total capacity of 196 MW for various customers in Vaspeta, Bhendewade and South Budh in Maharashtra. Of the 2,792 MW capacity, 1,964 MW was attributable to our contracts for comprehensive O&M services and 828 MW was attributable to our common infrastructure O&M contracts. In general, our comprehensive O&M contracts cover the provision of O&M services to both WTGs installed on a wind farm and the common infrastructure facilities, such as electrical substations and transmission lines, which support the wind farm; our common infrastructure O&M contracts relate only to the provision of O&M services on the common infrastructure facilities.

Our presence in the wind-resource rich states in India as of June 30, 2022, as well as a breakdown of our wind power capacity portfolio, is indicated on the following map:

Effective from December 31, 2021, our EPC business was transferred to a different subsidiary of IWL. For more information, see “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Details of material acquisition or divestments in the last 10 years” on page 180.

As set out in our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, our total revenue (from our continuing operations i.e. our O&M business) was ₹617.88 million, ₹1,721.66 million, ₹1,722.48 million and ₹1,653.15 million for the three months ended June 30, 2022, Fiscals 2022, 2021 and 2020, respectively. Our profit/(loss) after tax from our continuing operations for each period was ₹ (115.84) million, ₹(49.52) million, ₹(277.29) million and ₹16.76 million, respectively.

Our Competitive Strengths

We believe that the following are our principal competitive strengths:

- Strong and diverse existing portfolio base. As of June 30, 2022, our portfolio of O&M contracts (consisting of both comprehensive O&M contracts and common infrastructure O&M contracts) covered an aggregate of 2,792 MW of wind projects spread across eight wind-resource rich states in India with an average remaining project life of more than 20 years. The counterparties to our O&M contracts feature a mix of independent power producers (“IPP”) (approximately 72%), public sector undertakings (“PSU”) (approximately 14%) and corporates (approximately 14%), as on June 30, 2022. Further, certain individual wind project sites which we have developed in collaboration with IWL have significant capacity to support the installation of additional WTGs which will further grow our portfolio base. Such capacity exists due to the nature of wind project site development which requires the construction and installation of supporting infrastructure such as pooling substations and transmission lines in advance of the installation of WTGs

(which are thereafter installed on a plug-and-play basis). In addition, with the transition from the feed-in tariff regime to the auction based regime having had a few years to bed in, we believe that there will be an increase in the number of WTG installations in the coming years as compared to the suboptimal number of WTG installations for the past few years which will further expand our portfolio base.

- Established track record, favourable national policy support and visibility for future growth. We have an established track record in the wind energy O&M industry of more than nine years due in large part to the synergistic relationship we share with our parent company, IWL, which commenced operations in the wind energy space in the financial year ended March 31, 2010.

As set out on in the graph below, our operating portfolio of O&M contracts (both comprehensive O&M contracts and common infrastructure O&M contracts) has grown at a compound annual growth rate of approximately 40.16% in the past nine years since our commencement of operations.

* Data (MW) as at March 31 of each identified year.

According to the International Energy Agency (“IEA”), India is the third largest energy consuming country in the world and has become one of the largest sources of energy demand growth globally. In its recent India Energy Outlook 2021 report published in February 2021, the IEA predicts that by 2040, India could add 900 GW of wind and solar capacity. This is buttressed by the commitment made by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in the recent COP26 global climate summit held in Glasgow in November 2021 to have 50% of India’s power generated by renewable energy by 2030 and for India to achieve carbon neutrality by 2070. Therefore, the growth prospects of the wind sector in India are promising with capacity additions of 17-20 GW expected over the next five years (i.e., between fiscal years 2023 to 2027) which would entail investments of approximately ₹1.4 trillion over the period (Source: CRISIL Report). The growth is likely to be on account of hybrid capacity allocation along with the existing pipeline of 10-11 GW for pureplay wind. As a result of this, the demand for O&M services is expected to be in the range of ₹170 to 210 billion by fiscal year 2026 (Source: CRISIL Report). IWL’s wind energy extraction technology and access to wind sites coupled with strong industry growth prospects enable us, through our exclusive arrangement with IWL, to provide O&M services for the WTGs they manufacture and to forecast a steady growth in our O&M business over the coming years.

- Reliable cash flow supported by long-term O&M contracts with high credit quality counterparties. We enter into long-term O&M contracts with our customers which range from five to 20 years (in which the first two to three years of O&M services are generally provided for free for IWL supplied WTGs) with a renewal option provided in most cases. Such contracts provide us with full revenue visibility as the price for our O&M services is pre-determined for each year of the contract. Furthermore, such contracts feature a built-in fixed price escalation formula of approximately 5% per annum (compounded on the previous year's charges for a contractually specified number of years) which provides both our customers and us with price certainty and guarantees us a level of steady growth and inflation protection. Moreover, as O&M services are critical for the functioning of WTGs, there exists a low risk of non-payment from our customers who in any event are large IPPs, PSUs and corporates. As of June 30, 2022, we have not encountered any payment defaults from our customers. Our ability to maintain and renew our O&M contracts throughout the useful lifecycle of each WTG is further secured given our experience and expertise in servicing the proprietary components which make up the WTGs manufactured by IWL as well as the common infrastructure facilities developed by IWL. With confidence that our O&M contracts will be maintained or renewed throughout the useful lifecycle of a WTG which is approximately between 20 to 25 years, we believe that the weighted average remaining term of the O&M contracts in our existing portfolio is more than 20 years.

- Supported and promoted by our parent company, IWL. Our parent company, IWL, together with its group companies, is one of India's notable WTGs manufacturers which provides wind energy turnkey solutions across India. Its service offerings include wind resource assessment, wind site acquisition, infrastructure development, EPC and it has an installed capacity of approximately 2,792 MW as of June 30, 2022. IWL has manufacturing facilities in Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh and Madhya Pradesh and clientele which includes various IPPs, PSUs and corporates. Our parent also has exclusive licenses and agreements in place to manufacture WTGs in India using WTG technology developed by American Superconductor Corporation ("AMSC"), a NASDAQ listed company, and is backed by a management team with extensive experience in the renewable energy sector. We benefit from a synergistic relationship with our parent pursuant to an exclusivity agreement which enables us to provide O&M services to all customers who purchase WTGs from our parent company during the relevant warranty period as part of a "one-stop shop" / turnkey solution and who, after such period, often retain us to continue providing O&M services due to our expertise in operating and maintaining IWL's proprietary WTGs and the common infrastructure facilities. This enables us to build our portfolio alongside our parent. As a result, the order book of IWL is an important indicator for us as it provides us with visibility on future O&M contracts and revenue.

Furthermore, our parent has an order book with notable customers. For example, in November 2021, IWL secured a 150 MW wind power project order at Dayapar, Kutch, in Gujarat, valued at approximately ₹9,000 million from a notable Indian statutory corporation and PSU ("PSU Order"). As part of our exclusive arrangement with IWL, our Company is contracted to provide comprehensive O&M for the lifetime of this project. Set out in the table below is a breakdown of our Promoter, IWL's order book (which includes the PSU Order) as at June 30, 2022.

Particulars	WTG Capacity (MW)	Order Book Capacity (MW)
Binding Contracts
SECI 1	2	50.0
SECI 2	2	200.0
SECI 3	2	200.0
SECI 4	2	100.0
Maharashtra	2	50.0
PSU Order	2	150.0
PSU Order - II	2	200.0
Others	2	14.0
Total Binding Contracts	-	964.0
Non-Binding Contracts
Letters of intent to purchase new 3.3 MW WTGs*	3.3	524.7

*The letters of intent are non-binding and may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract.

Our Promoter, IWL's order book currently consists of executed binding contracts and letters of intent which are non-binding and which therefore may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract. As of June 30, 2022, IWL had entered into binding contracts for the supply of 2 MW capacity WTGs with aggregate capacity of 964 MW. Further, IWL had also received letters of intent, which are non-binding and which therefore may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract, for its new 3.3 MW capacity WTGs with an aggregate capacity of 524.7 MW. The expansion of IWL's product offerings to include its new 3.3 MW capacity WTGs is expected to increase its market prominence and market share which we believe, in turn, will lead to growth in our O&M business. However, there can be no assurance that the orders will be confirmed, that binding contracts will be executed, and that binding contracts or other orders will not be cancelled or reduced. Furthermore, the binding agreements may be subject to contingencies, such as the timing and receipt of necessary government authorizations, or financing conditions which provide that the agreements can be terminated without penalty in the event the customer cannot obtain financing for the project.

We are a member of the Inox GFL Group, which principally operates in the speciality chemicals and renewable energy sectors and has historical connections with the wider Inox Group which commenced operations in 1923. The Inox GFL Group includes three publicly listed companies, namely Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited (“GFL”), Inox Wind Energy Limited and IWL. The Inox GFL brand and generally, Inox, are recognized in India and we believe that its long operating history and business relationships instil confidence in our customers who prefer dependable and established service providers for capital intensive and long-term projects such as wind farms.

- Established supply chain in place. We have an established relationship with our suppliers for the parts, components and tools we require in our provision of O&M services. As part of our synergistic relationship with IWL, we believe that we are able to obtain proprietary components and spare parts for the IWL manufactured WTGs directly from IWL and as for the other tools and parts we employ, we have an established network of external suppliers.
- Strong and experienced management team. As of June 30, 2022, we have a team of 401 employees which include managers who have extensive experience in the O&M of WTGs and in the wind industry generally. Our senior managers in charge of, among others, project management, business development, customer relationship management, project coordination, wind farm management, testing of turbines and process improvement are well educated in the fields of engineering, design and business management and have an average of more than 10 years of experience in their respective fields and considerable experience in the wind energy industry.

To ensure that our O&M team remains up to date with industry best practices, we conduct regular trainings to sharpen their technical, safety and behavioural skills. We organise workshops which cover, among others, technical skills such as generator alignment and lubrication systems, hydraulic systems, WTGs, and blade and generator maintenance. With the safety of our employees as our top priority, especially for our technicians who service the WTGs at great heights, we organise workshops aimed at improving our employees’ skills in, among others, electrical safety, material handling, working at heights and providing first aid. In recognition of the importance of social and behavioural skills at the workplace, we organise workshops to increase HR awareness, assist our employees with managing stress and to educate our employees on the medical policies which are available to them.

Our Business Strategy

We seek to establish ourselves as a leading provider of O&M services for wind farm projects in India alongside our parent, IWL. We intend to accomplish this by:

- Exploring opportunities to expand our portfolio and scale our operations. In addition to growing our portfolio through the entry of new long-term O&M contracts with customers who purchase IWL’s WTGs, we plan to expand our portfolio to also provide O&M services for WTGs which are not manufactured by IWL. We intend to do this by leveraging on both our and our parent company’s existing customer base who use both IWL’s WTGs as well as WTGs manufactured by other wind OEMs and adopting a targeted approach to win contracts for the provision of fleet-wide O&M services for all WTGs in their portfolio (manufactured by IWL or otherwise) on the basis of our competitive strengths and the cost savings which this entails.

Our plans also include the recovery of contracts for the provision of WTG O&M services (which is part of our comprehensive O&M contracts and amounts to an aggregate of 1,964MW in wind power capacity) from a few large IPPs which had previously entered into comprehensive O&M contracts with us but have recently opted to internalise their WTG O&M services. Notwithstanding this, these IPPs have retained our O&M services for the common infrastructure facilities supporting their wind farm. This is due to the nature of the wind farming business where the entire wind project site and common infrastructure is first developed by an OEM such as IWL and smaller parcels / wind farms are apportioned to investors such as IPPs based the level of their capacity investment. Even if such investors bring the O&M of the WTGs on their wind farm in-house, they nevertheless require OEM’s O&M services for the common infrastructure. We aim to recover such contracts by advocating our expertise and knowledge in providing O&M services to WTGs generally and specifically for WTGs which are manufactured by IWL, our ready stock and established supply of replacement parts and components for IWL WTGs and most importantly, the cost savings which these large IPPS may benefit from.

We also intend to continue looking for opportunities to strategically acquire the O&M portfolios of other wind OEMs, especially smaller scale wind OEMs or third party and independent service providers which we believe are currently unable to compete effectively, to further grow our portfolio base.

We believe that there are also opportunities for us to provide our O&M services in connection with the replacement of aged turbines with new ones as part of the policy drive in some states towards the repowering of aged turbines (Source: CRISIL Report). Repowering refers to the replacement of a high number of old and small turbines with newer and larger high-capacity turbines which are more efficient and reduce generation losses (Source: CRISIL Report). With certain states such as Tamil Nadu having a large number of aged turbines pushing for repowering (Source: CRISIL Report) due to, among others, the cost advantages over commissioning new projects, we believe this presents possible opportunities for IWL and for us to explore in providing replacement WTGs and O&M services, respectively.

In order to meet the demands of an expanded portfolio and increased scale of operations, our Company intends to hire and train more staff as well as add to our existing pool of experienced managers.

- Transitioning to an asset-light model with minimal capital expenditure which we believe will result in higher EBITDA and profit margins. Under our current business model, we develop common infrastructure facilities such as pooling substations and transmission lines and have incurred significant capital expenditure in doing so. This was partly as a result of successful project bids which required us to develop such infrastructure prior to securing investors to establish wind farms on a plug-and-play basis. While most of our common infrastructure capacity is currently utilized by such investors, there still exists some unutilized capacity for the installation of WTGs as of June 30, 2022, which we intend to fill.

While such capital expenditure is expected to continue in the short-term as a result of our ongoing prior commitments, we intend to transition to an asset light model with minimal capital expenditure by, among others, reducing such project bids and investments into the wind power assets of our subsidiaries. Moreover, we have seen a gradual increase in large wind players such as IPPs bidding for wind projects and taking on the responsibility of developing the common infrastructure facilities thereby reducing the need for us to do so or compete in this space.

Moving forward, we believe that our business model of entering into long-term O&M contracts, which allows us to generate steady and predictable income, coupled with future low capital expenditure and costs, among others, will enable us to enjoy higher EBITDA and profit margins which we can utilize to fund our future expansion plans and/or for dividend payments.

- Continuing and enhancing our focus on predictive maintenance over reactive maintenance. We focus our efforts on practicing predictive maintenance in order to avoid the negative impacts of reactive maintenance such as downtime stemming from the need to effect major service, repairs or overhaul which translates into lost power generation and revenue for our customers. Major components of WTGs such as nacelles, turbines, generators, hydraulics and various electronic systems require constant and diligent monitoring to ensure they operate as efficiently as possible in order to deliver a high yield of power generation for our customers. Ensuring high performance of the WTGs and common infrastructure facilities translates into higher revenues for our customers and a favourable impression of our Company which in turn increases the likelihood of our customers renewing our existing O&M contracts or entering into new O&M contracts. Using predictive maintenance, we are able to accurately forecast potential component failures before they occur based on both live and historical data and take steps to repair or replace such components. This enables us to reduce our operational costs by reducing the wear and tear of the equipment and components in the system.
- Provide analytics and asset performance forecast services. We are keen adopters of new technologies to assist us in the provision of our O&M services which ultimately helps our clients in optimizing the use of their WTG assets. To this end, we employ the use of various software technologies such as AMSC's proprietary Supervisory Control and Data Acquisition system ("wtSCADA") to monitor 250 WTG parameters. With the data collected, we are able to provide our customers with up-to-date analytical data on the performance of their WTGs which can inform future performance of the assets.

Services

Operation Services

We have a dedicated onsite O&M team to provide 24/7 operation services for our customers' wind farms to help ensure that their WTGs are generating the highest yield possible under prevailing weather conditions as well as a dedicated Client Relationship Management team which provides our customers with a direct point-of-contact with our Company. In addition, to provide our customers with peace of mind in relation to the security of their WTG assets as well as to maintain the security of the common infrastructure facilities, we provide round the clock watch and ward security services which include conducting surveillance through CCTVs which are centrally monitored. Our team operates the wind power plant's infrastructure (which includes the WTGs) and the power evacuation facilities. In particular, we are able to monitor and control the WTGs in real time through the use of wtSCADA. wtSCADA is a system of software and hardware elements that enable us to: (i) control WTG processes either locally or at remote locations; (ii) monitor, gather, and process real-time data from the WTGs; (iii) directly interact with devices such as sensors and motors on the WTGs through human-machine interface (HMI) software; and (iv) record notable events into a log file.

With wtSCADA, we always have an overview of WTG power production at any time and in real-time. This enables us to monitor the status of and, if necessary, control the WTGs remotely for all wind projects. From an operational standpoint, the ability to monitor and remotely control the WTGs cannot be understated as it enables quick adjustments to be made to the WTGs to ensure the highest yield possible by, for example, optimising the direction in which the WTG is facing relative to wind direction (yaw adjustments) as well as to adjust the angle of attack of the turbine blades to control the amount of air flow and turbine speed (pitch adjustments). This remote ability also enables swift action to be taken to protect the WTGs and its components from damage during extreme weather conditions such as excessive wind. This dual effect of being able to maximize output and minimize damage ultimately increases revenue for our clients and saves costs.

Furthermore, with wtSCADA and other software we use, we are able to send each customer a daily generation report with a snapshot description of daily, monthly and year-to-date performance. Details of any failure of a WTG or the power grid are also shared with our customers on a daily and monthly basis.

We apply various safety systems to identify and preclude hazardous situations during the operation of the wind energy converter caused by faults in the control system. A few of these safety systems that we have incorporated include emergency stops, overpower protection, short circuit supervision, worn brake pads supervision and over speed protection. The safety system is designed with a safety logic controller as its central unit which is completely independent from the control system to ensure that faults in the control system will not affect the functionality of the safety system.

As part of our operations, we also liaise, on behalf of the WTG owner, with nodal agencies for joint meter reading, billing and invoicing matters. We also provide our assistance and support for our customer's Clean Development Mechanism audits and validation exercises.

Maintenance Services

The maintenance of WTGs (i.e., WTG O&M) is generally categorised into predictive and reactive maintenance. In reactive maintenance, repairs are undertaken once a component fails and often results in long downtimes for the affected WTG. In predictive maintenance, efforts are taken to detect potential component failures in advance so as to be able to resolve any issues early and minimize such downtime. Our Company focuses on predictive maintenance through the scheduling of regular inspections and maintenance (which are enhanced during peak wind seasons) as well as employing advanced tools such as wtSCADA to monitor the conditions of the WTGs and common infrastructure facilities in our portfolio to allow for early detection and resolution of issues.

A typical WTG consists of various components such as blades, nacelles, gearboxes, sensors, generators, drivetrains, hydraulics, unit substations and other electrical components. In the course of conducting our maintenance, our technicians thoroughly work through extensive checklists which include:

- conducting visual inspections of the nacelles, gearbox, generators, yaw system and brakes;
- inspecting and assessing the turbine blades and pitching mechanism;
- examining and tightening bolts;
- surveying the tower foundation;

- measuring oil and lubrication levels;
- checking the alignment of the drivetrain;
- checking ventilation, air filters and shock absorbers;
- repairing any cracks and corrosion; and
- inspecting bearing and connections.

To maintain overall health of a WTG we strictly follow any manuals provided by the WTG's OEM. We also maintain lubrication charts to record the lubrication levels of the WTGs and use manual and hydraulic torque wrenches, laser alignment tools and electric grease guns to ensure smooth running of the WTGs.

As a crucial component of a WTG, it is imperative that the WTG gearbox is functioning at full capacity to ensure maximum efficiency from WTG. We therefore constantly monitor the oil and lubrication conditions and levels in the gearbox. We achieve this by regularly drawing oil samples from the gearbox which we then send for laboratory analysis to check on cleanliness, moisture content and other parameters. If corrective action is deemed necessary, swift steps will be taken to maintain optimum oil condition in the gearbox.

We use sky lifts and binoculars to inspect the outer blade surface and we conduct visual inspections of the blades from the inside through opening inspection windows. Further, blades are either repaired / retrofitted on the tower using the sky lift or at the bottom of the tower in case of serious damage. We also regularly clean soiled blades. Similarly, we use sky lifts and binoculars to carry out general tower inspection and maintenance which includes paint repair and removal of other defects to prevent corrosion / rusting of tower plates.

Common infrastructure facilities (i.e., common infrastructure O&M), on the other hand, include pooling substations, high-tension lines, transmission cables and metering points. Maintenance on the common infrastructure facilities is also subject to similar checklists as above. In addition to the scheduled and ad hoc maintenance that we conduct, our customers are able to submit requests for unscheduled maintenance as and when required which we typically respond to within 48 hours.

In respect of WTGs in our O&M portfolio which have been in operation for more than seven years, on an annual average, we conduct minor refurbishment works to approximately 1% of the WTG blades and repair approximately 0.5% of gear boxes.

Where major corrective work is required in case of major breakdowns, we employ the use of, among others, auxiliary lifting equipment such as sky lifts and bring in resources which may not be maintained onsite. We maintain some resources onsite to conduct minor corrective work in the case of minor breakdowns. Certain WTG spare parts and components are also kept onsite for use in the event of emergencies to ensure the continuity of operations.

Marketing

As part of a holistic group marketing strategy, we market our O&M services in collaboration with and alongside IWL which markets its WTGs under the Inox GFL group brand. Through this process, we, together with IWL, participate in various tenders and bids rolled out by PSUs, IPPs and retail customers where we collectively offer, among others, the supply and erection of WTGs and the long-term O&M of such WTGs and the common infrastructure facilities which support them.

Customers

We have a diversified customer base, some of whom we have enjoyed business relationships with between five and nine years, comprising private companies, independent wind power producers, power utilities and government organizations in India, to whom we provide wind farm O&M services. Our customers comprise large IPPs, PSUs and retail customers, such as Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited, Continuum Power Trading (TN) Private Limited, Gujarat Industries Power Company Limited, Torrent Power Limited, Shree Cement Ltd., Integrum Energy, Sri KPR Infra & Projects Limited, Markdata Green Energy Private Limited, Roha Dyechem Pvt. Ltd. and Amrit Bottlers Private Limited Ltd.

Competition

The Indian wind farm O&M services market is characterized by strong concentration among a small group of service providers which are either (i) linked to or are a part of the OEM WTG manufacturers such as our Company;

(ii) third-party / independent O&M service providers (“Independent Service Providers”); or (iii) renewable energy developers such as IPPs (Source: CRISIL Report). The market share of each of the above is approximately 70%, 20-25% and 5-10%, respectively (Source: CRISIL Report).

Similar to the arrangement between our Company and IWL, there are several other WTG OEMs which provide O&M services for the WTGs which they manufacture based on contracts for annual maintenance. This arrangement is generally preferred globally primarily due to the ease of procuring spare parts or components from the OEMs compared with other O&M service providers (Source: CRISIL Report). We believe our primary competitors in India who are in this category to be Siemens Gamesa Renewable Energy, S.A., Enercon GmbH, GE and Vestas India (Source: CRISIL Report).

Independent Service Providers are typically engaged by WTG owners at the expiry of the OEM’s initial O&M on the WTGs or for other reasons relating to costs (Source: CRISIL Report). In this category, we believe Renom Energy Services LLP, SKF Limited, Windcare India Pvt. Ltd. and Kintech Engineering to be among our primary competitors (Source: CRISIL Report).

Renewable energy developers include large IPPs which have opted to carry out the O&M activities of the WTGs in their fleet in-house instead of traditional OEM-based O&M contracts. The major reason for this is for such IPPs to increase control over the operations of power generation and reduce their dependency on the OEMs (Source: CRISIL Report).

We compete on the basis of the scope and quality of our O&M services, training offered to our employees, technical factors including industry experience, technical ability, past performance, reputation for quality, safety record and the size of previous contracts executed for similar projects. We believe that our low operational cost model, financial backing from the Inox GFL Group and the established reputation of the Inox GFL Group are the primary factors that distinguish us from our competitors. Please refer to “Risk Factors – 28. The wind energy industry is highly competitive, which could limit our ability to grow” on page 44.

Intellectual Property Rights

Our applications to the Registrar of Trademarks for the registration of our  trademarks under various classes are pending. We license the mark “Inox GFL” on a non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-sub-licensable and limited license basis from GFL pursuant to a trademarks and copyrights license agreement entered into on February 2, 2022 (“Agreement”) and which agreement shall continue to be in force unless specifically terminated in accordance with the terms set forth therein. Further, as per the terms of the Agreement, our Company is required to pay to GFL a royalty of ₹0.20 million per annum in arrear or such other royalty as maybe mutually agreed between the parties to the Agreement. Based on this arrangement, our Company will commence such royalty payments on December 31, 2022. For more information, see “Risk Factors- 25. We rely heavily on the ‘Inox GFL’ brand name for our business, the dilution of which could adversely affect our business” and “Risk Factors- 42. Environmental, Health and Safety Regulation and Initiatives

We are subject to extensive, evolving and increasingly stringent environmental, health and safety laws and regulations governing our provision of O&M services. Such laws and regulations address, among other things, air emissions (particularly volatile organic compounds), the generation, handling, storage, transportation, treatment and disposal of chemicals, materials and waste, and workplace conditions. We have incurred, and expect to continue to incur, operating costs to comply with such laws and regulations. In addition, we have made and expect to make capital expenditures on an ongoing basis to comply with safety, health and environmental laws and regulations. We believe we are in compliance in all material respects with all applicable safety, health and environmental laws and regulations.

To help maintain the health and safety of our employees, we provide employees with periodic health check-ups and safety equipment and training, and continually update and distribute safety manuals. Our commitment of safety has contributed to us attaining international safety certifications such as ISO 45001:2018. While minor accidents occur from time to time, no accidents which are reportable under Indian regulations have occurred since we commenced our operations.

Environmental laws

The Environment (Protection) Act, 1986 ("EPA")

The EPA has been enacted for the protection and improvement of the environment. It stipulates that no person carrying on any industry, operation or process shall discharge or emit or permit to be discharged or emit any environmental pollutant in excess of such standards as may be prescribed. Further, no person shall handle or cause to be handled any hazardous substance except in accordance with such procedure and after complying with such safeguards as may be prescribed. EPA empowers the Central Government to take all measures necessary to protect and improve the environment such as laying down standards for emission or discharge of pollutants and hazardous wastes, providing for restrictions regarding areas where industries may operate and generally to curb environmental pollution. The EPA is applicable to our Company in general and to the extent of applicability of the Hazardous Waste Rules (as described and defined below).

Hazardous and Other Wastes (Management and Transboundary Movement) Rules, 2016 (the "Hazardous Waste Rules")

The Hazardous Waste Rules regulate the management, treatment, storage and disposal of hazardous waste by imposing an obligation on every occupier and operator of a facility generating hazardous waste to dispose of such waste without harming the environment. The term "hazardous waste" has been defined in the Hazardous Waste Rules and any person who has, control over the affairs of the factory or the premises or any person in possession of the hazardous waste has been defined as an "occupier". Every occupier and operator of a facility generating hazardous waste must obtain authorization from the relevant state pollution control board. Further, the occupier, importer or exporter is liable for damages caused to the environment resulting from the improper handling and disposal of hazardous waste and must pay any financial penalty that may be levied by the respective state pollution control board. The Hazardous Waste Rules are applicable to our Company only to the extent of maintenance services provided to our customers and the arrangements entered into with recyclers to treat the hazardous waste.

Labour laws

In addition to aforementioned legislations, certain labour laws are also applicable to our Company, including:

Shops and Commercial Establishment Legislations

The provisions of shops and establishments legislations, as may be applicable in a state in which establishments are set up, regulate the conditions of work and employment and generally prescribe obligations in respect of inter alia registration, opening and closing hours, daily and weekly working hours, holidays, leave, health and safety measures and wages for overtime work. All establishments must be registered under the shops and establishments legislations of the state where they are located. There are penalties prescribed in the form of monetary fine or imprisonment for violation of the legislations.

The employment of workers, depending on the nature of activity, is regulated by a wide variety of generally applicable labour laws, including the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Employee's State Insurance Act, 1948, the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965, Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961 and the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013.

In order to rationalize and reform labour laws in India, the Government has enacted the following codes:

- (a) Code on Wages, 2019, which regulates and amalgamates wage and bonus payments and subsumes four existing laws namely – the Payment of Wages Act, 1936, the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965 and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976. It regulates, inter alia, the minimum wages payable to employees, the manner of payment and calculation of wages and the payment of bonus to employees.
- (b) Industrial Relations Code, 2020, which consolidates and amends laws relating to trade unions, the conditions of employment in industrial establishments and undertakings, and the investigation and settlement of industrial disputes. It subsumes and simplifies the Trade Unions Act, 1926, the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946 and the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.
- (c) Code on Social Security, 2020, which amends and consolidates laws relating to social security, and subsumes various social security related legislations, inter alia including the Employee's State Insurance Act, 1948, the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, the Maternity Benefit Act, 1961, Building and Other Construction Workers' Welfare Cess Act, 1996 and the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. It governs the constitution and functioning of social security organisations such as the Employee's Provident Fund Organisation and the Employee's State Insurance Corporation, regulates the payment of gratuity, the provision of maternity benefits and compensation in the event of accidents that employees may suffer, among others.
- (d) The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020, consolidates and amends the laws regulating the occupational safety and health and working conditions of the persons employed in an establishment. The Code on Wages, 2019, The Code on Social Security, 2020, The Industrial Relations Code, 2020 and The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020 (enacted by the Parliament of India and assented to by the President of India) will come into force as may be notified in the Official Gazette by the Central Government of India, different dates may be appointed for different provisions of the Codes.*

Intellectual Property Laws

Trade Marks Act, 1999 (“Trademarks Act”)

The Trademarks Act provides for the application and registration of trademarks in India for granting exclusive rights to marks such as a brand, label and heading and obtaining relief in case of infringement. The Trademarks Act permits registration of trademarks for goods and services and prohibits any registration of deceptively similar trademarks or compounds, among others. 2. Statement of compliance and basis of preparation and presentation

2.1 Statement of Compliance

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information comply in all material aspects with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") and other relevant provisions of the Act.

2.2 Basis of Measurement

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information are presented in Indian Rupees ("Rs."), which is also the Group's functional and presentation currency. All amounts have been rounded off to the nearest millions, unless otherwise indicated.

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the significant accounting policies.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these Restated Consolidated Financial Information is determined on such a basis, except for leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in Ind AS 2 or value in use in Ind AS 36.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;

Notes to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

2.3 Basis of Preparation and Presentation

“The Restated Consolidated Financial Information of the Group and its Subsidiaries (together known as the "Group") and its associates comprises of the Restated Consolidated statement of Assets and Liabilities as at 30 June 2022, 31 March 2022, 31 March 2021 and 31 March 2020, the related Restated Consolidated Statements of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Restated Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows, the Restated Consolidated Statements of Changes in Equity for the period/year ended 30 June 2022, 31 March 2022, 31 March 2021 and 31 March 2020 and the Significant Accounting Policies and explanatory notes (collectively, the ‘Restated Consolidated Financial Information’ or ‘Statements’).

These Statements have been prepared by the Management for the purpose of preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information to be filed by the Holding Company with the Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”) in connection with its proposed initial public offering of equity shares of face value of INR 10 each of the Holding Company comprising a fresh issue of equity shares and an offer for sale of equity shares held by the selling shareholders (collectively, the “Offering”)

- ii. Relevant provisions of The Securities and Exchange Board of India (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2018, as amended (“the SEBI ICDR Regulations”) issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India ('SEBI') on September 11, 2018 as amended from time to time in pursuance of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992.
- iii. Guidance Note on Report in Company Prospectus (Revised 2019) issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (referred to as ‘the Guidance note’).

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information has been compiled from the audited consolidated financial statements of the Group for the three-month ended 30 June 2022 and audited consolidated financial statement for the year ended 31 March 2022, 31 March 2021 and 31 March 2020 which have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (referred to as “Ind AS”) as prescribed under Section 133 of the Act read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules 2015, as amended from time to time, other accounting principles generally accepted in India and presentation requirements of Division II of Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013, (Ind AS compliant Schedule III), as applicable, which have been approved by the Board of Directors at their meetings held on 13 May 2022, 25 June 2021 and 27 June 2020 respectively.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared after incorporating adjustments for the changes in accounting policies, material errors and regrouping/reclassifications retrospectively in the financial period/years ended 30 June 2022, 31 March 2021 and 31 March 2020 to reflect the same accounting treatment as per the accounting policy and grouping/classifications followed as at and for the year ended 31 March 2022. These Restated Consolidated Financial Information do not reflect the effects of events that occurred subsequent to the respective dates of board meeting on the audited consolidated financial statements mentioned above. These audited consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis.

The accounting policies have been consistently applied by the Group in preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information and are consistent with those adopted in the preparation of Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the period ended 30 June 2022.

Any asset or liability is classified as current if it satisfies any of the following conditions:

- the asset/liability is expected to be realized/settled in the Group’s normal operating cycle;
- the asset is intended for sale or consumption;

Notes to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

- the asset/liability is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- the asset/liability is expected to be realized/settled within twelve months after the reporting period
- the asset is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date;
- in the case of a liability, the Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

All other assets and liabilities are classified as non-current.

For the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabilities, the Group has ascertained its normal operating cycle as twelve months. This is based on the nature of products and services and the time between the acquisition of assets or inventories for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents.

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information were authorized for issue by the Holding Company's Board of Directors on ****.

3. Basis of Consolidation and Significant Accounting Policies

3.1 Basis of consolidation

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information incorporate the financial statements of the Holding Company and its subsidiaries.

Control is achieved when the Group:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Holding Company reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Holding Company obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Holding Company loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss from the date the Holding Company gains control until the date when the Holding Company ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

Restated Consolidated Financial Information are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances. If a member of the group uses accounting policies other than those adopted in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information for like transactions and events in similar circumstances, appropriate adjustments are made to that group member's Financial Information in preparing the Restated Consolidated Financial Information to ensure conformity with the group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses, and cash flows relating to transactions between subsidiaries of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information of all entities used for the purpose of consolidation are drawn up to the same reporting date as that of the parent company, i.e., the period/year ended on 30 June 2022, 31 March 2022, 31 March 2021 and 31 March 2020.

3.1.1 Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's interest and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interest in the subsidiaries. Any difference between the amount that the non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to the owners of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as a difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the previous carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary and any non-controlling interests. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e., reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable Ind AS). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when the control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under Ind AS 109, or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate.

3.2 Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange of control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities, and assets or liabilities related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with Ind AS 12 Income Taxes and Ind AS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with Ind AS 102 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date; and
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with Ind AS 105 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed.

In case of a bargain purchase, before recognising a gain in respect thereof, the Group determines whether there exists clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as a bargain purchase. Thereafter, the Group reassesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and recognises any additional assets or liabilities that are identified in that reassessment. The Group then reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts that Ind AS requires for the purposes of calculating the bargain purchase. If the gain remains after this reassessment and review, the Group recognises it in other comprehensive income and accumulates the same in equity as capital reserve. This gain is attributed to the acquirer. If there does not exist clear evidence of the underlying reasons for classifying the business combination as a bargain purchase, the Group recognises the gain, after reassessing and reviewing (as described above), directly in equity as capital reserve.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the entity's net assets in the event of liquidation may be initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at fair value or, when applicable, on the basis specified in another Ind AS.

When the consideration transferred by the Group in a business combination includes assets or liabilities resulting from a contingent consideration arrangement, the contingent consideration is measured at its acquisition-date fair value and included as part of the consideration transferred in a business combination. Changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration that qualify as measurement period adjustments are adjusted retrospectively, with corresponding adjustments against goodwill or capital reserve, as the case may be. Measurement period adjustments are adjustments that arise from additional information obtained during the 'measurement period' (which cannot exceed one year from the acquisition date) about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date.

The subsequent accounting for changes in the fair value of the contingent consideration that do not qualify as measurement period adjustments depends on how the contingent consideration is classified. Contingent consideration that is classified as equity is not remeasured at subsequent reporting dates and its subsequent settlement is accounted for within equity. Contingent consideration that is classified as an asset or a liability is remeasured at fair value at subsequent reporting dates with the corresponding gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss.

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to its acquisition-date fair value and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in profit or loss. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss where such treatment would be appropriate if that interest were disposed of.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognised to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed at the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised at that date.

3.3 Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business (see Note 3.2 above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units (or groups of cash-generating units) that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination.

A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually, or more frequently when there is an indication that the unit may be impaired. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the unit and then to the other assets of the unit pro rata based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. Any impairment loss for goodwill is recognised directly in profit or loss. An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the profit or loss on disposal.

3.4 Investment in associates

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates are incorporated in these CFS using the equity method of accounting, except when the investment, or a portion thereof, is classified as held for sale, in which case it is accounted for in accordance with Ind AS 105. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate is initially recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate. Distributions received from an associate reduce the carrying amount of the investment. When the Group's share of losses of an associate exceeds the Group's interest in that associate (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate.

An investment in an associate is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate. On acquisition of the investment in an associate, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised directly in equity as capital reserve in the period in which the investment is acquired.

After application of the equity method of accounting, the Group determines whether there is any objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the net investment in an associate and that event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows from the net investment that can be reliably estimated. If there exists such objective evidence of impairment, then it is necessary to recognise impairment loss with respect to the Group's investment in an associate.

When necessary, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with Ind AS 36 Impairment of Assets as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with Ind AS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

The Group discontinues the use of the equity method from the date when the investment ceases to be an associate, or when the investment is classified as held for sale. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate and the retained interest is a financial asset, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition in accordance with Ind AS 109. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate at the date the equity method was discontinued, and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of a part interest in associate is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate on the same basis as would be required if that associate had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income by that associate would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) when the equity method is discontinued.

The Group continues to use the equity method when an investment in an associate becomes an investment in joint venture. There is no remeasurement to fair value upon such changes in ownership interests. When the Group reduces its ownership interest in an associate but the Group continues to use the equity method, the Group reclassifies to profit or loss the proportion of the gain or loss that had previously been recognised in other comprehensive income relating to that reduction in ownership interest if that gain or loss would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

When a Group transacts with an associate of the Group, unrealised gains and losses resulting from such transactions are eliminated to the extent of the interest in the associate.

3.5 Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the group expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

- Revenue from time and material and job contracts is recognised on output basis measured by units delivered, efforts expended, number of transactions processed, etc.

Notes to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

- Revenue related to fixed price maintenance and support services contracts where the Group is standing ready to provide services is recognised based on time elapsed mode and revenue is straight lined over the period of performance.
- Revenue from services rendered is recognised in profit or loss in proportion to the stage of completion of transaction at the reporting date and when the costs incurred for the transactions and the costs to complete the transaction can be measured reliably, as under:
 - Revenue from EPC is recognised on the basis of stage of completion by reference to surveys of work performed.
 - Revenue from operations and maintenance and common infrastructure facilities contracts is recognised over the period of the contract, on a straight-line basis w.e.f. signing of contracts.
- Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Revenue is net of returns and is reduced for rebates, trade discounts, refunds and other similar allowances. Revenue is net of goods and service tax.
- Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer.
- Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers. Revenue from subsidiaries is recognised based on transaction price which is at arm's length. Contract assets are recognised when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts.
- Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.
- Unearned and deferred revenue ("contract liability") is recognised when there is billing in excess of revenue.
- The billing schedules agreed with customers include periodic performance-based payments and / or milestone-based progress payments. Invoices are payable within contractually agreed credit period.
- In accordance with Ind AS 37, the Group recognises an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.
- Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. The Group reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation, a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

Use of significant judgments in revenue recognition

- The Group contracts with customers could include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. The Group assesses the products / services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.
- The Group uses judgement to determine an appropriate standalone selling price for a performance obligation. The Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on the basis of the relative standalone selling price of each distinct product or service promised in the contract. Where standalone selling price is not observable, the Group uses the expected cost-plus margin approach to allocate the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation.
- The Group exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. The Group considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the asset as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.
- Revenue for fixed-price contract is recognised using percentage-of-completion method. The Group uses judgement to estimate the future cost-to-completion of the contracts which is used to determine the degree of completion of the performance obligation.
- Contract fulfilment costs are generally expensed as incurred except for certain software licence costs which meet the criteria for capitalisation. Such costs are amortised over the contractual period or useful life of licence whichever is less. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgement, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recovered.

3.5.1 Other income

- Interest income from a financial asset is recognised on time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate which exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.
- Insurance claims are recognised to the extent there is a reasonable certainty of the realizability of the claim amount.
- Dividend income is recorded when the right to receive payment is established. Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method.

3.6 Leasing

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases. The leasing transaction of the Group comprise of only operating leases.

3.6.1 The Group as lessee

Payments made under operating leases are generally recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless such payments are structured to increase in line with the expected general inflation to compensate for the lessors' expected inflationary cost increases. Contingent rentals arising under operating leases are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.

3.7 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

3.8 Employee benefits

3.8.1 Retirement benefit costs

Recognition and measurement of defined contribution plans:

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plan viz. government administered provident funds and pension schemes are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Recognition and measurement of defined benefit plans:

For defined benefit plan, the cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each reporting period. Remeasurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the effect of the changes to the asset ceiling (if applicable) and the return on plan assets (excluding net interest), is reflected immediately in the balance sheet with a charge or credit recognised in other comprehensive income in the period in which they occur. Remeasurement recognised in other comprehensive income is reflected immediately in retained earnings and is not reclassified to profit or loss. Past service cost is recognised in profit or loss in the period of a plan amendment. Net interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net defined benefit plan at the start of the reporting period, taking account of any change in the net defined benefit plan during the year as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Defined benefit costs are categorised as follows:

- service cost (including current service cost, past service cost, as well as gains and losses on curtailments and settlements);
- net interest expense or income; and
- remeasurement

The Group presents the first two components of defined benefit costs in profit or loss in the line item 'Employee benefits expense'. Curtailment gains and losses are accounted for as past service costs.

The retirement benefit obligation recognised in the Restated Consolidated Statement of Assets and Liabilities represents the actual deficit or surplus in the Group's defined benefit plans. Any surplus resulting from this calculation is limited to the present value of any economic benefits available in the form of refunds from the plans or reductions in future contributions to the plans.

3.8.2 Short-term and other long-term employee benefits

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and sick leave, bonus etc. in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of other long-term employee benefits are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows expected to be made by the Group in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

3.9 Taxation

3.9.1 Current tax

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the restated consolidated statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years, items that are never taxable or deductible and tax incentives. The Group's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

3.9.2 Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which the benefits of the temporary differences can be utilised and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

3.9.3 Presentation of current and deferred tax:

Current and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

The Group offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. In case of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities, the same are offset if the Group has a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the Group.

3.10 Property, plant and equipment

An item of property, plant and equipment (PPE) that qualifies as an asset is measured on initial recognition at cost. Following initial recognition PPE are carried at cost, as reduced by accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any.

The Group identifies and determines cost of each part of an item of property, plant and equipment separately, if the part has a cost which is significant to the total cost of that item of property, plant and equipment and has useful life that is materially different from that of the remaining item.

Cost comprises of purchase price / cost of construction, including non-refundable taxes or levies and any expenses attributable to bring the PPE to its working condition for its intended use. Project pre-operative expenses and expenditure incurred during construction period are capitalized to various eligible PPE. Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition or construction of qualifying PPE are capitalised.

Spare parts, stand-by equipment and servicing equipment that meet the definition of property, plant and equipment are capitalized at cost and depreciated over their useful life. Costs in nature of repairs and maintenance are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as and when incurred.

Cost of assets not ready for intended use, as on the Balance Sheet date, is shown as capital work in progress. Advances given towards acquisition of property, plant and equipment outstanding at each Balance Sheet date are disclosed as Other Non-Current Assets.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of PPE (other than freehold land and properties under construction) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The useful lives prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013 are considered as the minimum lives. If the management's estimate of the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the time of acquisition of the asset or of the remaining useful life on a subsequent review is shorter than that envisaged in the aforesaid schedule, depreciation is provided at a higher rate based on the management's estimate of the useful life/remaining useful life. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

PPE are depreciated over its estimated useful lives, determined as under:

- Freehold land is not depreciated.
- On other items of PPE, on the basis of useful life as per Part C of Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

The management believes that these estimated useful lives are realistic and reflect fair approximation of the period over which the assets are likely to be used.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

3.11 Intangible assets

Intangible assets with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses.

Intangible assets acquired in a business combination and recognised separately from goodwill are initially recognised at their fair value at the acquisition date (which is regarded as their cost). Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets acquired in a business combination are reported at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses, on the same basis as intangible assets as above.

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Estimated useful lives of the intangible assets are as follows:

- Software 6 years

3.12 Impairment of tangible and intangible assets other than goodwill

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets (other than goodwill) to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. If it is not possible to measure fair value less cost of disposal because there is no basis for making a reliable estimate of the price at which an orderly transaction to sell the asset would take place between market participants at the measurement dates under market conditions, the asset's value in use is used as recoverable amount.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, to the extent that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

3.13 Inventories

Inventories are valued at lower of the cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using weighted average cost basis.

Cost of inventories comprises all costs of purchase, duties and taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) and all other costs incurred in bringing the inventory to their present location and condition.

Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes the cost of materials, conversion costs, an appropriate share of fixed and variable production overheads and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Closing stock of imported materials include customs duty payable thereon, wherever applicable. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

3.14 Provisions and contingencies

The Group recognizes provisions when a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event exists and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle such obligation and the amount of such obligation can be reliably estimated.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. If the effect of time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Contingent liabilities acquired in a business combination are initially measured at fair value at the acquisition date. At the end of subsequent period, such contingent liabilities are measured at the higher of the amounts that would be recognised in accordance with Ind AS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets and the amount initially recognised less cumulative amortisation recognised in accordance with Ind AS 18 Revenue, if any.

3.15 Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group member becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

A] Financial assets

a) Initial recognition and measurement:

Financial assets are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. On initial recognition, a financial asset is recognised at fair value, in case of financial assets which are recognised at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL), its transaction costs are recognised in the statement of profit and loss. In other cases, the transaction costs are attributed to the acquisition value of the financial asset.

b) Effective interest method:

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a debt instrument and of allocating interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the debt instrument, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Income is recognised on an effective interest basis for debt instruments other than those financial assets classified as at FVTPL. Interest income is recognised in profit or loss and is included in the "Other income" line item.

c) Subsequent measurement:

For subsequent measurement, the Group classifies a financial asset in accordance with the below criteria:

- i. The Group's business model for managing the financial asset and
- ii. The contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset.

Based on the above criteria, the Group classifies its financial assets into the following categories:

i. financial assets measured at amortized cost:

A financial asset is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- a) The Group's business model objective for managing the financial asset is to hold financial assets in order to collect contractual cash flows, and
- b) The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

This category applies to cash and bank balances, trade receivables, loans, certain investments and other financial assets of the Group. Such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

The amortized cost of a financial asset is also adjusted for loss allowance, if any.

ii. Financial assets measured at FVTOCI:

A financial asset is measured at FVTOCI if both of the following conditions are met:

- a) The Group's business model objective for managing the financial asset is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- b) The contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Investments in equity instruments, classified under financial assets, are initially measured at fair value. The Group may, on initial recognition, irrevocably elect to measure the same either at FVTOCI or FVTPL. The Group makes such election on an instrument-by-instrument basis. Fair value changes on an equity instrument are recognised as other income in the Statement of Profit and Loss unless the Group has elected to measure such instrument at FVTOCI.

The Group does not have any financial assets in this category.

iii. Financial assets measured at FVTPL:

A financial asset is measured at FVTPL unless it is measured at amortized cost or at FVTOCI as explained above. This is a residual category applied to all other investments of the Group. Such financial assets are subsequently measured at fair value at each reporting date. Fair value changes are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Dividend income on the investments in equity instruments are recognised as 'other income' in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

d) Derecognition:

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognized (i.e., removed from the Group's Balance Sheet) when any of the following occurs:

- i. The contractual rights to cash flows from the financial asset expires;
- ii. The Group transfers its contractual rights to receive cash flows of the financial asset and has substantially transferred all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset;
- iii. The Group retains the contractual rights to receive cash flows but assumes a contractual obligation to pay the cash flows without material delay to one or more recipients under a 'pass-through' arrangement (thereby substantially transferring all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset);
- iv. The Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all risk and rewards of ownership and does not retain control over the financial asset.

In cases where Group has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the financial asset, but retains control of the financial asset, the Group continues to recognize such financial asset to the extent of its continuing involvement in the financial asset. In that case, the Group also recognizes an associated liability.

The financial asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Group has retained.

On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain or loss that had been recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity is recognised in profit or loss if such gain or loss would have otherwise been recognised in profit or loss on disposal of that financial asset.

e) Impairment of financial assets:

The Group applies expected credit losses (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of loss allowance on the following:

- i. Trade receivables
- ii. Financial assets measured at amortized cost (other than trade receivables)
- iii. Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI)

In case of trade receivables, the Group follows a simplified approach wherein an amount equal to lifetime ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance.

In case of other assets (listed as ii and iii above), the Group determines if there has been a significant increase in credit risk of the financial asset since initial recognition. If the credit risk of such assets has not increased significantly, an amount equal to 12-month ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, an amount equal to lifetime ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance.

Subsequently, if the credit quality of the financial asset improves such that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Group reverts to recognizing impairment loss allowance based on 12-month ECL.

ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the entity expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate.

12-month ECL are a portion of the lifetime ECL which result from default events that are possible within 12 months from the reporting date. Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial asset.

ECL are measured in a manner that they reflect unbiased and probability weighted amounts determined by a range of outcomes, taking into account the time value of money and other reasonable information available as a result of past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

As a practical expedient, the Group uses a provision matrix to measure lifetime ECL on its portfolio of trade receivables. The provision matrix is prepared based on historically observed default rates over the expected life of trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates. At each reporting date, the historically observed default rates and changes in the forward-looking estimates are updated.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as expense/income in the Statement of Profit and Loss under the head 'Other expenses'/'Other income'.

B] Financial liabilities and equity instruments

Debt and equity instruments issued by a Group member are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

i. Equity instruments: -

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by a Group member are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Group's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Group's own equity instruments.

ii. Compound financial instruments: -

Compound financial instruments issued by the Group comprise of convertible debentures denominated in INR that can be converted to equity shares at the option of the holder. The debentures will be converted into equity shares at the fair value on the date of conversion.

The fair value of the liability component of a compound financial instrument is determined using a market interest rate of a similar liability that does not have an equity conversion option. This value is recorded as a liability on an amortised cost basis until extinguished on conversion or redemption of the debentures. The remainder of the proceeds is attributable to equity portion of the instrument net of derivatives if any. The equity component is recognised and included in shareholder's equity (net of deferred tax) and is not subsequently re-measured. The derivative component is recognized at fair value and subsequently carried at fair value through profit or loss.

Interest related to the financial liability is recognized in profit or loss (unless it qualifies for inclusion in the cost of an asset). In case of conversion at maturity, the financial liability is reclassified to equity and no gain or loss is recognized.

iii. Financial Liabilities: -

a) Initial recognition and measurement:

Financial liabilities are recognised when a Group member becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Financial liabilities are initially measured at the fair value.

b) Subsequent measurement:

Financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

The Group has not designated any financial liability as at FVTPL other than derivative instrument.

c) Derecognition of financial liabilities:

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the Derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

3.16 Derivative financial instruments and hedge accounting

a) Fair value hedge:

Hedging instrument is initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and is subsequently measured at fair value at each reporting date. Gain or loss arising from changes in the fair value of hedging instrument is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Hedging instrument is recognized as a financial asset in the Balance Sheet if its fair value as at reporting date is positive as compared to carrying value and as a financial liability if its fair value as at reporting date is negative as compared to carrying value.

Hedged item is initially recognized at fair value on the date of entering into contractual obligation and is subsequently measured at amortized cost. The gain or loss on the hedged item is adjusted to the carrying value of the hedged item and the corresponding effect is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or when it no longer qualifies for hedge accounting.

Note 38 sets out details of the fair values of the derivative instruments used for hedging purposes.

b) Cash flow hedges

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of cash flow hedging reserve. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity relating to (effective portion as described above) are reclassified to profit or loss in the periods when the hedged item affects profit or loss, in the same line as the recognised hedged item. However, when the hedged forecast transaction results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or a non-financial liability, such gains and losses are transferred from equity (but not as a reclassification adjustment) and included in the initial measurement of the cost of the non-financial asset or non-financial liability.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or when it no longer qualifies for hedge accounting.

Any gain or loss recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity at that time remains in equity and is recognised when the forecast transaction is ultimately recognised in profit or loss. When a forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the gain or loss accumulated in equity is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

3.17 Assets classified as held-for-sale

Assets are classified as held-for-sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use and a sale is considered highly probable. They are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

Assets classified as held for sale are not depreciated or amortised. Interest and other expenses attributable to the liabilities of a disposal group classified as held-for-sale continue to be recognised. Assets classified as held-for-sale are presented separately from the other assets in the balance sheet. The liabilities of a disposal group classified as held-for-sale are presented separately from other liabilities in the balance sheet.

3.18 Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit for the period attributable to the equity shareholders of the Group by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

4 Critical accounting judgements and use of estimates

In application of Group's accounting policies, which are described in Note 3, the directors of the Holding Company are required to make judgements, estimations and assumptions about the carrying value of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of revision or future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that may have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

a) Useful lives of Property, Plant & Equipment (PPE):

The Group has adopted useful lives of PPE as described in Note 3.10 above. The Group reviews the estimated useful lives of PPE at the end of each reporting period.

b) Fair value measurements and valuation processes

Notes to the Restated Consolidated Financial Information

The Group measures financial instruments at fair value in accordance with the accounting policies mentioned above.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements at fair value on a recurring basis, the Group determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization at the end of each reporting period and discloses the same.

When the fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded in the Balance Sheet cannot be measured based on quoted prices in active markets, their fair value is measured using valuation techniques, including the discounted cash flow model, which involve various judgements and assumptions. Where necessary, the Group engages third party qualified valuers to perform the valuation.

Information about the valuation techniques and inputs used in determining the fair values of various assets and liabilities are disclosed in Note 38.

c) Estimation of uncertainties relating to the global health pandemic from COVID-19 (COVID-19):

The World Health Organization announced a global health emergency because of a new strain of coronavirus (“COVID-19”) and classified its outbreak as a pandemic on 11 March 2020. On 24 March 2020 the Indian government announced a strict 21-day lockdown across the country to contain the spread of the virus. This pandemic and response thereon have impacted most of the industries. Consequent to the nationwide lock down on 24 March 2020, the Group’s operations were scaled down in compliance with applicable regulatory orders. Subsequently, during the period, the Group’s operations have been scaled up in a phased manner taking into account directives from various Government authorities. The impact on future operations would, to a large extent, depend on how the pandemic further develops and its resultant impact on the operations of the Group. The Group continues to monitor the situation and take appropriate action, as considered necessary in due compliance with the applicable regulations.

The management has made an assessment of the impact of COVID-19 on the Group’s operations, financial performance and position as at and for the period/ year ended 30 June 2022, 31 March 2022 and years ended 31 March 2021 and 31 March 2020 and has concluded that there is no impact which is required to be recognised in the financial statements. Accordingly, no adjustments have been made to the financial statements.

d) Other assumptions and estimation uncertainties, included in respective notes are as under:

- Recognition of deferred tax assets is based on estimates of taxable profits in future years. The Group prepares detailed cash flow and profitability projections, which are reviewed by the board of directors of the Holding Company. The Holding Company’s tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgments are involved in estimating budgeted profits for the purpose of paying advance tax, determining the provision for income taxes, including amount expected to be paid / recovered for uncertain tax positions – see Note 8
- Measurement of defined benefit obligations and other long-term employee benefits: – see Note 40
- Assessment of the status of various legal cases/claims and other disputes where the Group does not expect any material outflow of resources and hence these are reflected as contingent liabilities. Recognition and measurement of provisions and contingencies: key assumptions about the likelihood and magnitude of an outflow of resources – see Note 42
- Impairment of financial assets – see Note 38

Further, the Group does not have any investments so the group is not subject to other price risks. Market risk comprise of interest rate risk and other price risk.

(iii)(a) Interest rate risk management

Interest rate risk refers to the possibility that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rate. For floating rate liabilities, a 50 basis point increase or decrease is used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the group's profit for the period ended 30 June 2022 ₹10.77 Millions (for the year ended 31 March 2022, would decrease/increase by ₹ 9.58 Millions, 31 March 2021 would decrease/increase by ₹ 10.96 Millions net of tax, for the year ended 31 March 2020 decrease/increase by ₹9.85 Millions net of tax). This is mainly attributable to the group's exposure to interest rates on its variable rate borrowings.

(iii)(b) Other price risks

The group's non listed equity securities as susceptible to market price risk arising from uncertainties about future values of the investment securities. Management monitors the investment closely to mitigate its impact on profit and cash flows.

38 : Financial Instrumentsb) Loans and Other Receivables

The Group applies expected credit losses (ECL) model for measurement and recognition of loss allowance on the loans given by the Group to the external parties. ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the group in accordance with the contract and all the cash flows that the Group expects to receive (i.e., all cash shortfalls), discounted at the original effective interest rate.

The Group determines if there has been a significant increase in credit risk of the financial asset since initial recognition. If the credit risk of such assets has not increased significantly, an amount equal to 12-month ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance. However, if credit risk has increased significantly, an amount equal to lifetime ECL is measured and recognized as loss allowance.

12-month ECL are a portion of the lifetime ECL which result from default events that are possible within 12 months from the reporting date. Lifetime ECL are the expected credit losses resulting from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial asset.

ECL are measured in a manner that they reflect unbiased and probability weighted amounts determined by a range of outcomes, taking into account the time value of money and other reasonable information available as a result of past events, current conditions and forecasts of future economic conditions.

ECL impairment loss allowance (or reversal) recognized during the period is recognized as income/expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss under the head 'Other income/Other expenses' respectively.

c) Other financial assets

Credit risk arising from other balances with banks is limited because the counterparties are banks.

(v) Liquidity Risk Management

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the committee of board of directors of the Group, which has established an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Group's short, medium and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. The Group manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities.

(vi) Liquidity risk table

The following tables detail the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities with agreed repayment periods. The tables have been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. The tables include both interest and principal cash flows. To the extent that interest flows are floating rate, the undiscounted amount is derived from interest rate curves at the end of the reporting period. The contractual maturity is based on the earliest date on which the Group may be required to pay.

The Company has defined benefit plan for payment of gratuity to all qualifying employees. It is governed by the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. Under this Act, an employee who has completed five years of service is entitled to the specified benefit. The level of benefits provided depends on the employee's length of service and salary at retirement age. The Company's defined benefit plan is unfunded.

There are no other post retirement benefits provided by the Company.

The actuarial valuation of the present value of the defined benefit obligation is carried out as at 30 June 2022, 31 March 2022 and 31 March 2021 by M/s Charan Gupta Consultants Pvt. Ltd. and as at 31 March 2020 is carried out by Mr. G.N. Agarwal Fellow of the Institute of the Actuaries of India. The present value of the defined benefit obligation, the related current service cost and past service cost, were measured using the projected unit credit method.

Discount rate (per annum)	7.55%	7.13%	6.70%	6.66%

Estimates of future salary increases considered in actuarial valuation take account of inflation, seniority, promotion and other relevant factors such as supply and demand in the employment market.

These plans typically expose the Company to actuarial risks such as interest rate risk and salary risk.

a) Interest risk: a decrease in the bond interest rate will increase the plan liability.

b) Salary risk: the present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of plan participants. As such, a variation in the expected rate of salary increase of the plan participants will change the plan liability.

Sensitivity analysis

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of defined obligation are discount rate and expected salary increase. The sensitivity analysis below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

Particulars	Gratuity
	As at 30 June 2022	2021-22	2020-21	2019-20
Impact on present value of defined benefit obligation:
If discount rate is increased by 0.50% (0.50% in 2021-2022, 2020-21, 1% in 2019-20)	(0.64)	(0.73)	(0.74)	(1.47)
If discount rate is decreased by 0.50% (0.50% in 2021-2022, 2020-21, 1% in 2019-20)	0.70	0.79	0.81	1.76
If salary escalation rate is decreased by 0.50% (0.50% in 2021-2022, 2020-21, 1% in 2019-20)	(0.58)	(0.66)	(0.70)	(1.43)

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumption would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated. Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years.

Unless otherwise stated, the financial information used in this section is derived from our Restated Consolidated Financial Information.

In addition to information based on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, we also present in this discussion and analysis information based on our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information, which are included in this Prospectus. Our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information show the impact of the carve-out of our previous Erection, Procurement and Commissioning (“EPC”) business, which became effective from December 31, 2021, on our Company, its financial performance for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and years ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 and its financial condition as at June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020, as if the carve-out had been completed at an earlier date selected in accordance with the SEBI ICDR Regulations. Unless stated otherwise, industry and market data used in this section has been obtained or derived from publicly available information as well as industry publications, other sources and the report titled “Renewable Power Market and O&M Services for Wind Energy in India - update” dated September 21, 2022, released on September 30, 2022, prepared and issued by CRISIL (the “CRISIL Report”) (which is a paid report and was exclusively commissioned and paid for by us in connection with the Offer). CRISIL was appointed on April 28, 2022 pursuant to an engagement letter entered into with our Company. Unless otherwise indicated, all industry and other related information derived from the CRISIL Report and included herein with respect to any particular year refers to such information for the relevant calendar year.

Our fiscal year commences on April 1 and ends on March 31 of the immediately subsequent year, and references to a particular fiscal year are to the 12 months ended March 31 of that particular year.

Overview

We are one of the major wind power operation and maintenance (“O&M”) service providers within India. Our Company is engaged in the business of providing long-term O&M services for wind farm projects, specifically the provision of O&M services for wind turbine generators (“WTGs”) and the common infrastructure facilities on the wind farm which support the evacuation of power from such WTGs. We have stable annual income owing to the long-term O&M contracts that we enter into with our customers. We are a subsidiary of Inox Wind Limited (“IWL”), a company which is listed on the National Stock Exchange of India Limited and BSE Limited, and part of the Inox GFL group of companies. Our subsidiaries are engaged in the business of power generation through renewable sources of energy with Nani Virani Wind Energy Private Limited being the only subsidiary which has commenced power generation as of the date of this Prospectus.

We enjoy synergistic benefits as a subsidiary of IWL, which is principally engaged in the business of manufacturing WTGs and providing turnkey solutions by supplying WTGs and offering a variety of services including wind resource assessment, site acquisition, infrastructure development, EPC of WTGs, and, through our Company, providing long-term O&M services for wind power projects. Pursuant to an exclusivity agreement between IWL and our Company, we provide exclusive O&M services for all WTGs sold by IWL through the entry of long-term O&M contracts between the WTG purchaser and ourselves for terms which typically range between five to 20 years. Due to this exclusivity agreement, IWL’s order book is an important indicator of future revenue and growth for our Company. As of June 30, 2022, IWL had entered into binding contracts for the supply of 2 MW capacity WTGs with an aggregate capacity of 964 MW. Further, IWL had also received letters of intent, which are non-binding and which therefore may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract, for its new 3.3 MW capacity WTGs with an aggregate capacity of 524.7 MW.

Set out below is a diagram which summarizes the general process from the manufacturing of a WTG by, for example, IWL, to the point where the provision of our O&M services commences.

As of June 30, 2022, our O&M services portfolio consisted of an aggregate 2,792 MW of wind farm capacity and 1,396 WTGs. Of the 2,792 MW capacity, 1,964 MW was attributable to our contracts for comprehensive O&M services and 828 MW was attributable to our common infrastructure O&M contracts. In general, our comprehensive O&M contracts cover the provision of O&M services to both WTGs installed on a wind farm and the common infrastructure facilities, such as electrical substations and transmission lines, which support the wind farm; our common infrastructure O&M contracts relate only to the provision of O&M services on the common infrastructure facilities.

Recent Developments

As part of a corporate restructuring exercise to hive-off our previous EPC business and concentrate on the provision of O&M services, our Company transferred our then wholly-owned subsidiary, Resco Global Wind Services Private Limited (“Resco”), to IWL on October 18, 2021 pursuant to a share purchase agreement. We also transferred our entire shareholding in Marut-Shakti Energy India Limited, Satviki Energy Private Limited, Sarayu Wind Power (Tallimadugula) Private Limited, Vinirmaa Energy Generation Private Limited, Sarayu Wind Power (Kondapuram) Private Limited and RBRK Investments Limited to Resco pursuant to similar share purchase agreements. As a final step in our corporate restructuring exercise, we entered into a business transfer agreement on December 31, 2021 (“BTA”), to divest and transfer our EPC business to Resco as a going concern and on a slump sale basis for an aggregate consideration of ₹46.98 million (the “EPC Carve-out”). Under the BTA, the EPC business including intellectual property, contracts, insurance policies, employees, business information, tangible assets, accounts receivables, fixed assets and inventories, along with its liabilities such as trade payables and certain litigation has been transferred to Resco. For more information, please refer to “History and Certain Corporate Matters – Details of material acquisition or divestments in the last 10 years” on page 180.

We have prepared and included in this Prospectus in addition to our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information to assist in illustrating the impact of the EPC Carve-out on the financial performance of our Company.

As a starting point, it is important to note that our Restated Consolidated Financial Information was prepared based on the audited special purpose interim consolidated financial statements of our Group for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and audited consolidated financial statements of our Group for the years ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020. For more information, see “-Basis of Measurement and Basis of Preparation of our Restated Consolidated Financial Information” on page 356. In our restated consolidated statement of profit and loss, we have made a distinction between the profit/loss which is attributable to our O&M business only (referred to therein as “continuing operations”) and the profit/loss which is attributable to our former EPC business only (referred to therein as “discontinued operations”).

Our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information consists of our unaudited proforma condensed carve-out consolidated balance sheet as of June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020, our unaudited proforma condensed carve-out consolidated statement of profit and loss and unaudited proforma condensed carve-out consolidated statement of cash flows for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and for the years ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 with selected notes in respect thereof.

Given that our restated consolidated statement of profit and loss for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and for the years ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 presents our results of operations for our O&M and former EPC businesses separately, the financial information contained in our restated consolidated statement of profit and loss as it relates to profit / loss for our O&M business only is the same as that in our unaudited proforma condensed carve-out consolidated statement of profit and loss for the relevant periods.

Principal Factors Affecting Our Performance

Our business, results of operations and financial condition have been, or are expected to be, affected by a number of factors, including:

- Demand for power and strength of our IWL’s order book. Changes in prices of oil, coal, natural gas and other conventional energy sources influence the demand for renewable energy sources, such as wind power. For example, the price of oil, which is a competing energy source, has increased dramatically since the middle of calendar year 2020 and has increased even further in 2022 due to the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, which, if sustained or expected to be sustained for a significant period, could potentially result in increased capital investment in the wind power industry. The demand for power in general and from wind energy in particular has been and will continue to affect our operating results and future growth.

A significant portion of our O&M contracts are derived from the sale of WTGs by IWL. Pursuant to an exclusivity agreement between IWL and us, WTGs sold by IWL are exclusively operated and maintained by us through the entry of long-term O&M contracts between us and the customer for periods ranging between five and 20 years. Owing to this, IWL’s order book is a principal factor which affects our future performance. As of June 30, 2022, IWL’s order book included orders for WTGs with aggregate capacity of 1,488.7 MW. The order book includes executed binding contracts for WTGs for an aggregate capacity of 964 MW and signed letters of intent for an aggregate capacity of 524.7 MW which are non-binding and which therefore may not lead to execution of any form of binding contract. There can be no assurance that the orders will be confirmed, that binding contracts will be executed, and that binding contracts or other orders will not be cancelled or reduced or will result in our entering O&M contracts with the customer in respect of such orders. Furthermore, such binding agreements may be subject to contingencies, such as the timing and receipt of necessary government authorizations, or financing conditions which provide that the agreements can be terminated without penalty in the event the customer cannot obtain financing for the project. Orders in IWL’s order book may be affected by cancellations or scope or schedule adjustments in the future.

- Split between comprehensive and common infrastructure O&M contracts. We provide our O&M services primarily through two types of contracts namely, comprehensive O&M contracts and common infrastructure O&M contracts. The former entails the provision of O&M services to both the WTGs on a particular wind farm as well as the common infrastructure facilities which support the wind farm such as electrical substations and transmission lines. The latter only relates to O&M services in respect of the common infrastructure facilities. In the past few years, there have been certain large independent power producers (“IPPs”) who have opted to bring the O&M of their WTGs in-house and have thus either not renewed or terminated their comprehensive O&M contracts with us. However, as such IPPs are still reliant on us to provide O&M services for the common infrastructure facilities, they have entered into common infrastructure O&M contracts with us instead. Should more of our customers internalize the O&M of their WTGs, our business and results of operations may be materially and adversely impacted.

- Competition. Our business is subject to price competition. We compete against various multi-national and Indian companies on the basis of price, reliability, technology, and the scope and quality of services, training provided to our employees and technical factors including industry experience, technical ability, past performance, reputation for quality, safety record and the size of previous and existing O&M contracts.
- Government policy and regulation towards infrastructure. The growth of the wind power sector in India is affected by the establishment of stable Government policies and regulation. The development of the power sector in India has historically been constrained by various factors including shortages of public funding. Changes in Government policies, which began in the 1990s, facilitated the entry of private capital into power generation and transmission and have led to rapid growth in some sectors. The wind energy industry has historically received fiscal benefits extended for investments in wind energy by State Governments in India and the Indian Central Government and these benefits may be extended or reduced from time to time. Changes in Government policy and support for the infrastructure sector, and renewable energy in particular, will affect demand for wind energy projects and consequently our growth prospects and results of operations. For further details please refer to “Key Regulations and Policies in India” on page 176.
- General economic and business conditions. We are affected by general global and Indian economic conditions. India’s GDP, and the GDP and economic and other conditions of the states in which we operate or intend to operate, have been and will continue to be of importance in determining our operating results and future growth. India’s GDP growth rate dropped from 6.5% in Fiscal 2019 to 3.7% in Fiscal 2020 and further plummeted to (6.6)% in Fiscal 2021 primarily due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic before recovering to 8.7% in Fiscal 2022. (Source: CRISIL Report) Furthermore, India’s monetary policy, through its effect on the availability of capital, and our customers’ cost of capital, are key factors affecting the demand for wind energy projects and consequently, our O&M services.

Basis of Measurement and Basis of Preparation of our Restated Consolidated Financial Information

Basis of Measurement

The Restated Consolidated Financial Information have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the significant accounting policies.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset, or paid to transfer a liability, in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, our Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in the Restated Consolidated Financial Information is determined on such a basis, except for leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 17, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realizable value in Ind AS 2 or value in use in Ind AS 36.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorized into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information do not reflect the effects of events that occurred subsequent to the respective dates of the board meetings on the audited consolidated financial statements mentioned above. These audited consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis.

The accounting policies have been consistently applied by our Group in preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information and are consistent with those adopted in the preparation of the Restated Consolidated Financial Information for the period ended June 30, 2022.

Any asset or liability is classified as current if it satisfies any of the following conditions:

- the asset/liability is expected to be realized/settled in our Group’s normal operating cycle;
- the asset is intended for sale or consumption;
- the asset/liability is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- the asset/liability is expected to be realized/settled within twelve months after the reporting period;
- the asset is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date; or

- in the case of a liability, our Group does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least 12 months after the reporting date.

All other assets and liabilities are classified as non-current.

For the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabilities, our Group has ascertained its normal operating cycle as 12 months. This is based on the nature of products and services and the time between the acquisition of assets or inventories for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents.

These Restated Consolidated Financial Information were authorized for issue by our Company's Board of Directors on September 14, 2022.

Significant Accounting Policies

Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the Group expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

Revenue from time and material and job contracts is recognized on output basis measured by units delivered, efforts expended, number of transactions processed, etc.

Revenue related to fixed price maintenance and support services contracts where our Group is standing ready to provide services is recognized based on time elapsed mode and revenue is straight lined over the period of performance.

Revenue from services rendered is recognized in profit or loss in proportion to the stage of completion of transaction at the reporting date and when the costs incurred for the transactions and the costs to complete the transaction can be measured reliably, as under:

Revenue from EPC is recognized on the basis of stage of completion by reference to surveys of work performed.

Revenue from operations and maintenance and common infrastructure facilities contracts is recognized over the period of the contract, on a straight-line basis with effect from the signing of contracts.

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to our Group and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Revenue is net of returns and is reduced for rebates, trade discounts, refunds and other similar allowances. Revenue is net of goods and service tax.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, service level credits, performance bonuses, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contract with the customer.

Revenue also excludes taxes collected from customers. Revenue from subsidiaries is recognized based on transaction price which is at arm's length. Contract assets are recognized when there is excess of revenue earned over billings on contracts.

Contract assets are classified as unbilled receivables (only act of invoicing is pending) when there is unconditional right to receive cash, and only passage of time is required, as per contractual terms.

Unearned and deferred revenue is recognized when there is billing in excess of revenue. The billing schedules agreed with customers include periodic performance-based payments and/or milestone-based progress payments. Invoices are payable within contractually agreed credit period.

In accordance with Ind AS 37, our Group recognizes an onerous contract provision when the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under a contract exceed the economic benefits to be received.

Contracts are subject to modification to account for changes in contract specification and requirements. Our Group reviews modification to contract in conjunction with the original contract, basis which the transaction price could be allocated to a new performance obligation, or transaction price of an existing obligation could undergo a change. In the event transaction price is revised for existing obligation, a cumulative adjustment is accounted for.

Use of significant judgments in revenue recognition

Our Group's contracts with customers could include promises to transfer multiple products and services to a customer. Our Group assesses the products / services promised in a contract and identifies distinct performance obligations in the contract. Identification of distinct performance obligation involves judgement to determine the deliverables and the ability of the customer to benefit independently from such deliverables.

Our Group uses judgement to determine an appropriate standalone selling price for a performance obligation. Our Group allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation on the basis of the relative standalone selling price of each distinct product or service promised in the contract. Where standalone selling price is not observable, our Group uses the expected cost-plus margin approach to allocate the transaction price to each distinct performance obligation.

Our Group exercises judgement in determining whether the performance obligation is satisfied at a point in time or over a period of time. Our Group considers indicators such as how customer consumes benefits as services are rendered or who controls the assets as it is being created or existence of enforceable right to payment for performance to date and alternate use of such product or service, transfer of significant risks and rewards to the customer, acceptance of delivery by the customer, etc.

Revenue for fixed-price contract is recognized using percentage-of-completion method. Our Group uses judgement to estimate the future cost-to-completion of the contracts which is used to determine the degree of completion of the performance obligation.

Contract fulfilment costs are generally expensed as incurred except for certain software licence costs which meet the criteria for capitalization. Such costs are amortized over the contractual period or useful life of licence whichever is less. The assessment of this criteria requires the application of judgement, in particular when considering if costs generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy future performance obligations and whether costs are expected to be recovered.

Borrowing Cost

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the costs of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Interest income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalization.

All other borrowing costs are recognized as expenses in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from 'profit before tax' as reported in the consolidated statement of profit and loss because of items of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years, items that are never taxable or deductible and tax incentives. Our Group's current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognized for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognized for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilized. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognized if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognized for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, except where our Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments are only recognized to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which the benefits of the temporary differences can be utilized and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which our Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Current and deferred tax are recognized in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Our Group offsets current tax assets and current tax liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. In case of deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities, the same are offset if our Group has a legally enforceable right to set off corresponding current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on our Group.

Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined on a weighted average basis.

Cost of inventories comprises all costs of purchase, duties and taxes (other than those subsequently recoverable from tax authorities) and all other costs incurred in bringing the inventory to their present location and condition.

Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes the cost of materials, conversion costs, an appropriate share of fixed and variable production overheads and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Closing stock of imported materials include customs duty payable thereon, wherever applicable. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Provisions and Contingent Liabilities

Our Group recognizes provisions when a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event exists and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle such obligation and the amount of such obligation can be reliably estimated.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. If the effect of time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance cost.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not require an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits or the amount of such obligation cannot be measured reliably. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which likelihood of outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Contingent liabilities acquired in a business combination are initially measured at fair value at the acquisition date. At the end of subsequent period, such contingent liabilities are measured at the higher of the amounts that would be recognized in accordance with Ind AS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets and the amount initially recognized less cumulative amortization recognized in accordance with Ind AS 18 Revenue, if any.

Income. Income increased by 2.12% to ₹1,902.32 million for the year ended March 31, 2022 from ₹1,862.87 million for the year ended March 31, 2021 due to the following:

- Other income. Other income increased by 28.68% to ₹180.66 million for the year ended March 31, 2022 from ₹140.39 million for the year ended March 31, 2021, primarily due to (i) our Company receiving corporate bank guarantee interest income amounting to ₹2.22 million, profit on sale of investments amounting to ₹8.16 million, profit in relation to the cancellation of certain O&M contracts amounting to ₹52.04 million and a bank guarantee refund from SECI which had been forfeited earlier amounting to ₹100.00 million and (ii) certain items from other income for the year ended March 31, 2021 such as interest income on income tax refunds amounting to ₹15.01 million, net gains on derivative portion of compound financial instrument amounting to ₹69.57 million and receipt of insurance claims amounting to ₹35.30 million being absent for the year ended March 31, 2022.

Expenses. Expenses decreased by 2.35% to ₹1,949.39 million for the year ended March 31, 2022 from ₹1,996.38 million for the year ended March 31, 2021 due to the following:

- Purchases of stock-in-trade. Purchases of stock-in-trade increased by 100.00% to ₹221.98 million in the year ended March 31, 2022 from nil in the year ended March 31, 2021 primarily resulting from EPC material amounting to ₹221.98 million being received by our Company, accounted for and booked as a purchase of stock-in-trade and thereafter transferred to Resco.
- Changes in inventories. Changes in inventories increased by 100.00% to ₹(77.65) million in the year ended March 31, 2022 from nil in the year ended March 31, 2021 primarily resulting from certain purchases made in respect of our former EPC business.

- Finance costs. Finance costs decreased by 9.46% to ₹548.02 million in the year ended March 31, 2022 from ₹605.27 million in the year ended March 31, 2021 primarily due to a decrease in the interest cost for the unwinding of compound financial instruments by ₹290.30 million, an increase in interest cost on borrowings by ₹193.90 million, an increase in interest on intercompany borrowings by ₹10.44 million and an increase in corporate guarantee charges by ₹30.72 million.
- Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expenses increased by 2.21% to ₹501.65 million in the year ended March 31, 2022 from ₹490.83 million in the year ended March 31, 2021 primarily due to the capitalization of fixed assets such common infrastructure facilities. Moreover a significant part of additions during year ended March 31, 2021 were during the course of the year, so depreciation was charged on a proportionate basis as against full year depreciation on such assets during year ended March 31, 2022.
- Other expenses. Other expenses decreased by 67.79% to ₹55.82 million in the year ended March 31, 2022 from ₹173.29 million in the year ended March 31, 2021 primarily due to a decrease in legal and professional expenses which amounted to ₹13.84 million and the absence of liquidated damages in the year ended March 31, 2022.

Tax expense decreased by 105.30% to ₹2.45 million for the year ended March 31, 2022 compared from ₹(46.13) million for the year ended March 31, 2021, primarily due to the reason that the increase in deferred tax asset on straight lining of revenue was lower during current year as against previous year and the impact is partly offset by change in amount of deferred tax liability on property, plant and equipment.

Comparison of our results of continuing operations for the years ended March 31, 2021 and 2020

Share of profit/(loss) of associates. Share of profit/(loss) of associates decreased by 8,046.03% to ₹(189.91) million in the year ended March 31, 2021 from ₹2.39 million in the year ended March 31, 2020 primarily due to operating losses in the ordinary course of business.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our liquidity requirements relate to investments in equipment and common infrastructure facilities for wind project sites; servicing our debt; funding our working capital requirements; and maintaining cash reserves against fluctuations in operating cash flows. The cash outflows on common infrastructure facilities are incurred in the initial stages of a wind project whereas the capacity sales and realization occur over a period of time. Our funding and treasury activities are conducted within corporate policies designed to minimize risk and enhance investment returns while maintaining appropriate liquidity for our requirements. We currently hold our cash and cash equivalents primarily in Indian Rupees.

Our short-term liquidity requirements relate to servicing our debt, funding working capital requirements and maintaining reserves against fluctuations in operating cash flows. Sources of short-term liquidity include cash balances, receipts from our operations and short-term borrowings. We regularly commit resources to O&M operations prior to receiving advances or other payments from clients in amounts sufficient to cover expenditures on the services rendered.

Our long-term liquidity requirements include common infrastructure facilities development and funding our organic and inorganic growth. Sources of funding for our long-term liquidity requirements include revenue from operations, long-term borrowings and issuances of equity and debt securities. For more information, please refer to “Financial Indebtedness” on page 380.

To date, we have funded our growth principally from equity funding, bank borrowings, borrowings from our parent company, IWL, and internal cash flows. Our principal uses of cash have been, and are expected to continue to be, funding our organic and inorganic growth which includes long and short term working capital investments and development of common infrastructure facilities.

The following table summarizes our contractual obligations and commitments to make future payments as of June 30, 2022 based on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information and Proforma Consolidated Financial Information, and the effect that such obligations and commitments are expected to have on liquidity and cash flow in future periods:

Note:

(1) Not including interest accrued but not due on borrowings of ₹90.46 million as of June 30, 2022.

As of June 30, 2022 we had outstanding bank guarantees in the aggregate amount of ₹1,374.57 million issued as advance bank guarantee and performance bank guarantee in connection with the business activities of our Company.

We have entered into long-term contracts with our customers to provide O&M services for WTGs and common infrastructure facilities typically for terms ranging between five and 20 years. We have also entered into an exclusivity agreement with IWL pursuant to which we, among others, provide exclusive O&M services to the WTGs sold by IWL.

There are no other off-balance sheet arrangements that have, or are reasonably likely to have, a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenue or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that we believe are material to investors.

Market Risk

Market risk is the loss of future earnings, to fair values or to future cash flows that may result from a change in the price of a financial instrument. The value of a financial instrument may change because of changes in the interest rates, inflation, commodity prices, equity prices and other market changes that affect market risk sensitive instruments. Our exposure to market risk is a function of interest rates movements and other price risk.

Interest Rate Risk

We are exposed to interest rate risk because many of our customers depend on debt financing to purchase, install, operate and maintain their WTGs. Although the useful life of a WTG is considered to be approximately 20 to 25 years, end-users of WTGs must pay the entire cost of the system at the time of installation. As a result, many of our customers rely on debt financing to fund their up-front capital expenditures and on-going operations and maintenance of their WTGs. An increase in interest rates could make it difficult for WTG end-users to secure the financing necessary to purchase, install, operate and maintain a system.

In addition, we believe that a significant percentage of our customers install WTGs as an investment, funding the initial capital expenditure through a combination of equity and debt. An increase in interest rates could lower an investor's return on investment in a WTG or make alternative investments that are less capital intensive and more attractive relative to WTGs, which, in each case, could cause these customers to seek alternative investments that promise higher returns. In addition, certain of our borrowings are subject to floating rates of interest based on changes in the prime lending rate of the respective lenders. If the interest rates for our existing or future borrowings increase significantly, our cost of funds will increase. This may adversely affect our results of operations, planned capital expenditures and cash flows. Based on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information and Proforma Consolidated Financial Information as of June 30, 2022, we had outstanding long-term borrowings, short-term borrowings (including the current maturities of long-term borrowings) and interest accrued but not due on borrowings of ₹2,976.32 million, ₹6,122.83 million and ₹90.46 million, respectively. If interest rates increase, our interest payments would increase and obtaining additional debt in the future may be more difficult.

Components Price Risk

We are exposed to price risks for the components and energy costs used in the O&M of WTGs and common infrastructure. A failure by a key supplier could disrupt the supply chain, which could result in higher prices for the components and even a disruption in our parent company's or supplier's manufacturing process for spare parts and components. While we typically have an annual fee escalation mechanism built into our service contracts to account for increases in the general costs of doing business and inflation, this mechanism is not designed to specifically account for price changes in the components. As a result, we may be unable to pass along changes in the cost of such components to our customers.

Credit risk

We are exposed to credit risk arising from the failure of our customers to make contractual payments to us in full in a timely manner. Under our agreements with customers, we typically require our customers to pay us on a quarterly basis in advance with varying credit terms, however customers often do not meet this payment schedule. Our customers typically have substantial indebtedness and may have difficulty making payments to us in a timely manner or at all. Furthermore, pursuant to our revenue recognition policy we may record revenue, and a corresponding trade receivable, prior to the time that our customer is required to remit payment. As the scale of our business has grown, so have our trade receivables. Based on both our Restated Consolidated Financial Information and Proforma Consolidated Financial Information, our revenue from operations for the three months ended June 30, 2022 and for the years ended March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 was ₹617.88 million, ₹1,721.66 million, ₹1,722.48 million and ₹1,653.15 million, respectively. Based on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information, our trade receivables as of June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 were ₹585.88 million, ₹680.47 million, ₹2,232.00 million and ₹2,498.60 million, respectively. Based on our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information, our trade receivables as of June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 were ₹585.88 million, ₹680.47 million, ₹466.59 million and ₹422.52 million, respectively. We do not have, nor have we had in the past, made any provision for uncollectible trade receivables on our statement of assets and liabilities nor have we written off any trade receivables as uncollectible. As per our policy, a provision for expected credit loss is made based on ageing of receivables and any uncollectible amount is knocked off against such provision.

Inflation

Inflation and deflation in India have not had a material impact on our results of operations in the past three years in part due to our continuous effort to increase efficiencies which provides us with buffers to accommodate increasing costs.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures and Other Data

EBITDA, net working capital, net debt and others below (together, “Non-GAAP Measures”) presented in this Prospectus are supplemental measures of our performance and liquidity that are not required by, or presented in accordance with, Ind AS, IFRS, Indian GAAP or U.S. GAAP. We calculate EBITDA as revenue from operations minus total expenses, excluding depreciation and amortization expense, finance costs and total tax expense/(credit). EBITDA includes gains/(losses) from foreign exchange rate fluctuations where applicable. We calculate net working capital as inventories plus the sum of trade receivables, short-term loans and advances (less inter-corporate deposits to group companies) and other current assets, minus the sum of trade payables, other current liabilities and short-term provisions. We calculate net debt as total debt minus the sum of cash and bank balances and current investments, and we calculate total debt as the sum of long-term borrowings and short-term borrowings (including the current maturities of long-term borrowings).

These Non-GAAP Measures are not measurements of financial performance or liquidity under Ind AS, IFRS, Indian GAAP or U.S. GAAP and should not be considered as an alternative to performance measures derived in accordance with Ind AS, IFRS, Indian GAAP or U.S. GAAP. In addition, these Non-GAAP Measures are not standardized terms, hence a direct comparison of these Non-GAAP Measures between companies may not be possible.

We believe that EBITDA facilitates comparisons of operating performance from period to period and company to company by eliminating potential differences caused by variations in capital structures (affecting interest expense and finance charges), tax positions (such as the impact on periods or companies of changes in effective tax rates or net operating losses), and the age and booked depreciation and amortization of assets (affecting relative depreciation and amortization of expense). We believe that net working capital facilitates comparisons of our Company's liquidity by subtracting the sum of expected short-term payments from the sum of expected sources of short-term liquidity. We believe that net debt facilitates comparisons of our Company's potential debt position assuming all bank balances and current investments had been applied to reduce total debt.

These Non-GAAP Measures have been presented because we believe that these measures are frequently used by securities analysts, investors and other interested parties in evaluating similar companies, many of whom present such non-GAAP financial measures when reporting their results. Nevertheless, these Non-GAAP Measures have limitations as analytical tools, and you should not consider them in isolation from, or as a substitute for analysis of, our financial condition or results of operations as reported under Ind AS. In particular, EBITDA should not be considered as a measure of discretionary cash available to us to invest in the growth of our businesses.

The following are reconciliations of our revenue from operations under Ind AS to our definition of EBITDA; our current assets under Ind AS to our definition of net working capital; and our total debt under Ind AS to our definition of net debt, based on our Restated Consolidated Financial Information and our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information. The information presented in the tables below as of and for the period/years ended June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 are presented on a consolidated basis.

Residual Duration of the O&M Contracts (years)

The residual duration of our O&M contracts as of June 30, 2022, March 31, 2022, 2021 and 2020 was 6.07 years, 6.15 years, 6.60 years and 7.61 years, respectively. We calculate the residual duration of our O&M contracts for a relevant period as the sum of the weighted average remaining duration of each O&M contract divided by the total number of O&M contracts in that period. The weighted average remaining duration of each O&M contract is calculated by taking the number of years remaining on a specific O&M contract multiplied by the number of WTGs under that contract.

Net Working Capital Days based on our Proforma Consolidated Financial Information

We calculate net working capital days as net working capital divided by revenue of operations and multiplied for the number of days within the period.

Competitive Conditions

The Indian wind O&M sector is highly competitive and sees competition between OEM WTG manufacturers, renewable energy developers such as independent power producers and third party / independent service providers. LITIGATION INVOLVING OUR GROUP COMPANIES

- Except as disclosed in “Litigation involving our Company- Civil proceedings against our Company”, on page 385, there are no pending civil proceedings involving our Group Companies the outcome of which, irrespective of the amount involved in such litigation, could have a material adverse effect on the business, operations, performance, prospects, financial position or reputation of our Company.

OTHER PENDING LITIGATION

1. Inox Renewables Limited (“IRL”) executed seven business transfer agreements (“BTA”) and Inox Renewables (Jaisalmer) Limited (“IRJL”) executed one BTA with Leap Green Energy Private Limited, along with its subsidiaries, Ivy Ecoenergy Private Limited and Vanilla Clean Power Private Limited (“Claimants”). Post the execution of the BTA, IRL and IRJL amalgamated pursuant to an NCLT order as a result of which, IRJL ceased to exist and was struck off from the records of RoC. Subsequently, IRL merged with GFL Limited and the entire renewable energy business was transferred to Inox Wind Energy Limited (GFL Limited and Inox Wind Energy Limited, together “Group Companies”). In 2020-21, certain disputes arose between the Claimants and our Group Companies regarding the BTAs which led the Claimants to invoke arbitral proceedings dated March 4, 2021 and April 1, 2021 and an arbitral tribunal was accordingly constituted to settle the disputes, the proceedings for which are underway. The Claimants filed their statement of claims against our Group Companies and Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited (“Respondents”) on January 2, 2022 praying for restitution and also claimed damages along interest for inter alia loss of reputation. The matter is currently pending.
2. Our Promoter (“Corporate Debtor”) engaged Hyundai Forging Company Limited (“Operational Creditor”), to supply and deliver certain goods from Korea (“Shipment”). It was alleged by the Operational Creditor that the Corporate Debtor failed to make the undisputed payment for the Shipment (“Claim”). Thereafter, the Claim in respect of certain invoices was assigned to Korea Trade Insurance Corporation (“K-Sure”), which is one of the official export credit agencies wholly operated by the Korean Government. K-Sure reimbursed the Operational Creditor and acquired all its rights against the Corporate Debtor in respect of invoices amounting to ₹87.00 million. Subsequently, K-Sure issued a demand notice dated February 4, 2020 under Section 8 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016. Thereafter, K-Sure filed a Form-5 application dated February 17, 2020, before the National Company Law Tribunal, Chandigarh (“NCLT Chandigarh”) to initiate corporate insolvency resolution process against the Corporate Debtor (“NCLT Proceedings”). Thereafter, a settlement agreement was also executed between the parties according to which the Corporate Debtor was to pay to K-Sure, an amount of ₹75.00 million as a full and final settlement towards the outstanding invoices. Pursuant to the settlement agreement, the NCLT Proceedings were dismissed as withdrawn by K-Sure. However, due to alleged non-compliance of the settlement agreement, K-Sure filed an application dated April 18, 2022, before NCLT Chandigarh for re-initiation of the NCLT Proceedings. The matter is currently pending.
3. Our Promoter received a demand notice dated April 16, 2022 from Hyundai Forging Company Limited (“Hyundai”) in respect of an alleged unpaid operational debt amounting to ₹447.00 million due in relation to the products that were delivered to our Promoter for use in wind turbine generators. Our Promoter replied to the demand notice on August 30, 2022.

As a development in the said matter, pursuant to an order dated October 21, 2022, as available on the website of the National Company Law Tribunal (“NCLT”), the NCLT, Chandigarh while referring to a petition filed by Hyundai, directed Hyundai to send a notice of the petition along with a copy of the petition to our Promoter within a period of two weeks. As on date of this Prospectus, our Promoter has not received the notice of the petition or copy of the petition or any other document in this regard. The matter is currently pending.

4. Gujarat Fluorochemicals Limited (“GFL”), a Group Company of our Company intended to sell electricity from its wind farm in Jaisalmer to a trader for which it needed the concurrence of Rajasthan Rajya Vidyut Prasaran Nigam Limited (“RRVPNL”) for the open access. The matter was escalated to Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (“CERC”) when RRVPNL failed to grant the open access. CERC, vide its order dated August 27, 2008, directed RRVPNL to compensate GFL for the commercial losses suffered due to the unfair and illegal action of RRVPNL in rejecting the open access application of GFL without any justification. It was further directed that the payments should be made at the applicable rate specified by the Rajasthan Electricity Regulatory Commission for wind generation (“CERC Order”). Subsequently, on April 27, 2009, RRVPNL granted a no objection for open access to GFL. However, RRVPNL appealed to the Appellate Tribunal for Electricity (“Appellate Tribunal”) against CERC Order alleging that GFL was misusing the open access. The Appellate Tribunal disposed off the said appeal. Currently, the CERC Order is pending for execution.

On May 19, 2011, a petition was filed by RRVPNL before CERC seeking directions to, inter alia, penalise GFL for alleged indulgence in gaming and alleged violation of Regulation 7(2) of the Central Electricity Regulatory Commission (Unscheduled Interchange Charges and Related Matters) Regulations, 2009 (“UI Regulations”). In 2012, GFL and Inox Renewables Limited (“IRL”), a Group Company of our Company, entered into a business transfer agreement pursuant to which, GFL sold, transferred, assigned, and conveyed to IRL, its wind energy business and all of its assets, liabilities, employees, licenses, contracts in relation thereto. Subsequently, CERC vide its order dated May 9, 2013 (“CERC Order 1”), ruled in favour of RRVPNL by directing IRL to pay an amount of ₹ 87.00 million (“Compensation”) towards violation of the UI Regulations. The CERC Order 1 was concurred by the Appellate Tribunal which vide its order dated November 26, 2014, held that IRL was liable to pay the Compensation (“Appellate Order”). Subsequently, on February 24, 2015, an appeal was filed by IRL against the impugned Appellate Order before the Supreme Court of India (“Appeal”). Meanwhile, IRL was amalgamated with GFL Limited with effect from April 1, 2020 and the renewable energy business and the strategic investment of GFL Limited was transferred to Inox Wind Energy Limited with effect from July 1, 2020. While the Appeal before the Supreme Court was pending, RRVPNL issued a notice dated August 10, 2021 to The Chief Engineer (LD), RVPN, Jaipur to: (i) recover an amount of ₹87.00 million in the matter relating to IRL for violation of the UI Regulations; and (ii) disconnect the temporary connectivity for 152 MW wind power project of IRL (“WPP”) which was provided due to the inadequate power evacuation from their Dangri pooling sub-station (“Dangri PSS”) and was also connected to RVPN’s 400 KV GSS Akal. RRVPNL, vide its letter dated February 8, 2022, allotted a bay to IRL in the Jaisalmer2 grid sub-station (“Jaisalmer2 GSS”) for connecting the line from the Dangri PSS for the above-mentioned WPP. IRL was required to complete the line work and connect the WPP with the Jaisalmer2 GSS by June 8, 2022 which has been further extended by RRVPNL up to September 15, 2022. Further, Inox Wind Energy Limited vide its letter dated September 12, 2022 has sought an extension from RRVPNL for laying the connecting line till December 31, 2022. The matter is currently pending.

Blocking more amount than the Bid Amount	1. Phased implementation of UPI as per the UPI Circulars

SEBI has issued UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of equity shares and convertibles by introducing an alternate payment mechanism using UPI. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, UPI has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under the ASBA) for applications by RIIs through intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to three Working Days. Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI payment mechanism, the UPI Circulars have introduced and implemented the UPI payment mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

- (a) Phase I: This phase was applicable from January 1, 2019 until March 31, 2019 or floating of five main board public issues, whichever was later. Subsequently, the timeline for implementation of Phase I was extended until June 30, 2019. Under this phase, an RII also had the option to submit the ASBA Form with any of the intermediary and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public issue closure to listing continued to be six Working Days.
- (b) Phase II: This phase has become applicable from July 1, 2019 and was to initially continue for a period of three months or floating of five main board public issues, whichever is later. SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019 had decided to extend the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II until March 31, 2020. Under this phase, submission of the physical ASBA Form by an RII through Designated Intermediaries (other than SCSBs) to SCSBs for blocking of funds has been discontinued and is replaced by the UPI payment mechanism. However, the time duration from public issue closure to listing continues to be six Working Days during this phase. Subsequently, SEBI vide its circular no. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020 extended the timeline for implementation of UPI Phase II till further notice.
- (c) Phase III: The commencement period of Phase III is yet to be notified. In this phase, the time duration from public issue closure to listing would be reduced to be three Working Days.

Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Circulars include, appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints, the relevant SCSB as well as the post – Offer BRLM will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

The Offer has been made under UPI Phase II of the UPI Circular. All SCSBs offering facility of making application in public issues provided facility to make application using UPI.

Our Company has appointed the Sponsor Banks to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchanges and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the UPI Investors.

The processing fees may be released to the remitter banks (SCSBs) only after an application is made by the SCSBs to the BRLMs with a copy to the Registrar, and such application shall be made only after (i) unblocking of application amounts in the bank accounts for each application received by the SCSB has been fully completed, and (ii) applicable compensation relating to investor complaints has been paid by the SCSB in accordance with April 20, 2022 Circular.
